Publisher's Note

The footnotes in all the earlier volumes began and ended with a part (Pārā) of the Holy Qur'ān. As, however, the third volume was terminated with the Sūrah Fātir, a portion of Sūrah Yāsīn which is included in Part XXII, had to be brought into this volume. Consequently the footnotes begin with the Sūrah Yāsīn and continue into Part XXIII. In subsequent parts the usual practice of giving the footnotes by Quranic Pārās has been followed. Care has been taken to correct the references to the footnotes of Part XXIII wherever they are cited subsequently.

Sūrah Yā-sin

Ya-Sin. XXXVI

(Makkan, 5 Sections and 83 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

SECTION I

- 1. (يسين) Yā-Sin.
- 2. (والغران الحكيم) By the Qur'an full of wisdom,
- 3. (انك . . . الدرسلين) verily thou art of the sent ones,2
- 4. (على . . مستقيم) upon the straight path.*
- 5. (تنزيل الرحم) This is a revelation of the Mighty, the Merciful,
- 6. (لنندر . . . غنارن) that thou mayest warn¹ a people whose fathers were not warned,⁵ so they are neglectful.⁵
- 7. (القد . . . يؤمنون) Assuredly the word? has been justified against most of them,* so they shall not believe.
- 8. (اتا . . . متمجون) Surely We have placed on their necks shackles which are up to the chins; so that their heads are forced up.9
- 9. (رجملا ما ) And We have placed before them a barrier and behind them a barrier, so We have covered them; 2 so that they do not see. 13
- 10. (وسراه... يؤمنون) It is alike to them, whether thou warnest them them not; they will never have faith. 16
- 1. The chapter is regarded with special reverence by the faithful, and is usually loudly recited on the approach of death. The word بالمبان is said to be an abbreviation of نالمبان 'O man!'
  - 2. (O Prophet).

- 3. (towards God, so that anybody who would follow thee could become sure of his salvation).
  - 4. (primarily, and in the first instance).
- 5. (in the near past by a prophet directly). The reference is to the Arab nation and does not preclude the possibility of their having received prophetic messages indirectly or through other nations and peoples.
  - 6. (of the commandments of God).
  - 7. t. e., the sentence of God.
- 8. The sentence of punishment hath become necessitated as suitable to the requirements of justice, or as being just or right, to take effect upon the greater number of them.' (LL)
  - 9. i, e. they cannot lower their heads and cannot see.
  - 10. (to prevent their looking forward).
  - 11. (to prevent their looking backward).
  - 12. (with darkness).
- 13. The whole passage is a vivid description of utter blindness and unshakeable obstinacy on the part of the perverse and wilful opponents of truth and light.
  - 14. (in point of futility).
  - 15. (as is obviously thy duty, O Prophet!)
  - 16. Because they have no will to believe.

مَنْ الْغَيْبُ فَبَشِدُهُ يِمِغَفِرَةٍ وَآجُورُ كِرِيْمِ ۞ إِنَّا تَحْنُ شُئِي الْمُونِّ وَنَكَنْبُ كَا فَتَكَمُوْا وَاثَارَهُمْ أَوْكُلُّ شَكُمُ ۗ إِلَا غَيْنَ أَعُورِيَةٍ وَاجْورِ كِرِيْمِ ۞ إِنَا تَحْنُ شُئِي الْمَوْنِيَ وَنَكَنْبُ كَا الْمُوسِلُونَ ۞ وَاضَّرِبُ لَهُمْ مَّفَدُلَا آضَعٰ الْقَرْبِةِ وَالْوَامَا آئِنُونَ الْكُوسِلُونَ ۞ وَافْرِبُ لَهُمْ مَّفَدُلَا آلِيَكُمْ مُّرْسِلُونَ ۞ وَالْوَامِنَ الْمُعْنَى اللَّهُ وَالْمَا الْعَلَمُ اللَّهُ الْمُنْ اللَّهُ اللللَّهُ اللَّهُ

- 11. (ريال (ريال ) Thou canst warn<sup>17</sup> him only who follows the admonition and fears the Compassionate, Unseen.<sup>18</sup> Bear thou to him the glad tidings of forgiveness<sup>19</sup> and a generous wage.<sup>20</sup>
- 12. (نبيت) Verily We I We shall rise the dead;<sup>21</sup> and We write down<sup>23</sup> what they have forwarded<sup>23</sup> and what they have left behind.<sup>21</sup> And everything<sup>23</sup> We have counted up in a luminous Record.<sup>26</sup>

- 13. (داضرب . . المرسلون) And recount thou to them $^{27}$  similitude of the residents of a town, $^{28}$  when there came thereto the sent ones; $^{29}$
- 14. (اذ . . . رسلون) When We sent to them two. Then they belied the twain; so We strengthened them with a third, and they said : we are envoys unto you.
- 15. (قالوا . . . تكسفيون) They said: you are but human beings like ourselves, 30 the Compassionate has not sent down aught. 31 you are only lying.
- 16. (قالوا . . . لرسلون) The envoys said: our Lord knows that surely we are envoys<sup>32</sup> to you.
  - 17. (وما . . . المبين) and on us is naught but manifest preaching.33
- 18. (قالرا . . . . الرم) They said: surely we augur ill of you; and if you do not desist, we shall certainly stone you, and there will befall you from us an affictive chastisement.
- 19. (قالوا . . . مسرنون) The envoys said; your evil augury be with you. 36 What I do you call it ill luck because you are admonished? Aye I You are a people extravagant. 37
- 20. (وجاد ۱۰۰۰ الرسلين) And there came a man running from the end of the town.<sup>38</sup> He said;<sup>39</sup> my people, follow the envoys——

- 21. (اتَبَوا مِهُون) follow those who do not ask any wage of you,<sup>40</sup> and who are rightly guided.
  - 17. (with effect).
- 18. It was the indifference of the Arab pagans that was the root cause of infidelity. They never gave a scrious thought to the after-life.
  - 19. (from sins).
  - 20. (for good works).
  - 21. (on the Day of Resurrection).
  - 22. (in angelic records).
  - 23. i. e., their own works, good or bad, which they shall find.
- 24. i. e., their good or evil example which they shall have left behind them.
  - 25. (which is yet to happen) i. e., every future event.
- 26. i. e., the Book of Divine decrees: the Preserved Tablet, is not only 'a leader,' or 'an exempler' but also 'a book, or written record.' (LL)
  - 27. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
- 28. i. e., a certain town peopled with pagans. Several commentators have identified the town, though not on very strong grounds, with Antakiya or Antioch, the capital of Syria under the Romans, and a very important city in the annals of early Christianity. 'The squalid village of Antakiyah marks the spot of Antioch 'the great' and 'the beautiful.' The city occupied as honourable places as the mother-church of Gentile Christianity and the centre of the missionary enterprise which carried the new faith to Europe. Here, too, Jesus' followers were first called "Christians." (New Standard Bible Dictionary, p. 51) 'Josephus calls her the third city of the Empire, next to Rome and Alexandria.' (DB. I. p. 104)
  - 29. i. e., several apostles of God.
- 30. (and not supermen or demi-gods, so you cannot be the messengers of God).
  - 31. (by way of Revelation).
  - 32. i. e., the apostles of God.
  - 33. (of the Message).
- 34. i. e., you are harbingers of ill-luck. Omens and portents, so important and potent with the polytheistic peoples everywhere, have not been without their influence even with the Christian nations. 'It was to be expected that some at least of the superstitions of heathenism would survive in the church. In fact they did survive, and none more vigorously than the observation of omens and portents, which Christianity has never been able to extinguish.' (DCA. II p. 1461)
  - 35. (from your preaching).
- 36. i. e., whatever ill-luck there is in consequence of your own male-volence.
  - 37. i. e., a people given to transgression.
  - 38. (who had already embraced the true faith).
  - 39. (addressing his fellow-citizens out of the sincerity of his heart).
  - 40. (for themselves) i. c., who are not moved by self-interest.

PART XXIII

- 22. (دیا می And why should I not worship Him alone Who has originated me,41 and to Whom you shall be returned.42
- 23. (العندية) Shall I take, besides Him gods when, the Compassionate intends me any harm, their intercession will not avail me at all, nor would they save me?
  - 24. (نی مین) Verily then 1<sup>14</sup> should be in clear error.
  - 25. (اني . . . ناحمرن) Verily now I believe in your Lord,45 so listen to me.48
- 26. (آبل . . يعلون) It was said:47 enter thou the Garden. He said:48 would that my people knew——
- 27. (يا مين) that my Lord has forgiven me, and has made me of the honoured ones 50
- 28. (ربا ... منزاین) And We sent not against his people<sup>51</sup> after him,<sup>52</sup> a host<sup>53</sup> from heaven, and We have not been sending down any such
  - 29. (ان . . . خبدون) It was but one shout,54 and lol they were extinct.55
- 30. (بحسرة . . يستروون) Ah the misery of Our bondmen<sup>55</sup>! there comes not to them any messenger of Ours but him they have been mocking.
- 31. (الم يرجمون) Do they<sup>57</sup> not see how many of the generations<sup>58</sup> before thom We have destroyed? Surely to them they shall not return.
- 41. i. e., it is manifestly reasonable on my part to believe in and worship my Maker.
  - 42. (after death, for final judgment).
- 43. (so that the 'gods' have no power either in themselves or through their influence with Almighty).
  - 44. i. e., if I were still to practise polytheism.
  - 45. (to the exclusion of all false deities).
  - 46. (and follow my Lord).

- 47. (to him at his death, after he had been stoned by his unbelieving community).
  - 48. (after entering the Paradise),
  - 49. (my sinful past).
- 50. All this he felt impelled to utter by his sheer love for his people and his devotedness to them.
  - 51. (to avenge his death).
  - 52. i. e., after he had been slain.
  - 53. (of angels).
  - 54. The punishment came in this form.
  - 55. Literally 'became extinguished ashes.'
  - 56. i. e., such of them as are infidels.
  - 57. i. e., the later-day infidels.
  - 58. (of rejecters and scoffers).

32. (وان . . . محضرون) And surely all, every one of them, shall be brought to Us.

- 33. (رآية من اكارن) And a sign<sup>59</sup> unto them<sup>60</sup> is dead land. We revive it and therecut We bring forth grain, so that they eat of it.
- 34. (نجملنا ... العين) And We place therein the gardens of date-palms<sup>61</sup> and vines,<sup>62</sup> and therein We cause springs to gush forth——
- 35. (ليا كيلوا . . . يشكرون) that they may eat the fruit thereof. And their hands worked it not.63 Will they not, therefore, give thanks?
- 36. (سبحن الذى ملون) Hallowed be He, Who has created all the pairs<sup>61</sup> of what the earth grows and of themselves,<sup>65</sup> and of what they know not.
- 37. (رَايَة ... عَالِين) And a sign<sup>66</sup> with them is night,<sup>67</sup> We draw off the day therefrom, and lo! they are darkened.
- 38. (والشمس . . . البام) And the sun runs<sup>68</sup> to its assigned term; that is the disposition of the Mighty,<sup>69</sup> the Knowing.<sup>70</sup>
- 39. (دالتدم) And the moon! for it We have decreed mansions<sup>71</sup> till it reverts<sup>72</sup> like<sup>73</sup> the old branch of a palm-tree.<sup>71</sup>
- 40. (لالشمس . . . يسبحون) It is not permitted to sun to overtake the moon,<sup>75</sup> nor can the night outstrip the day;<sup>76</sup> each in an orbit, they float.

<sup>61. &#</sup>x27;Among the Arabian flora the date-palm tree is the queen. It bears the most common and esteemed fruit: the fruit par excellence. Together with milk ovides the chief item on the menu of the Bedouin, and except for camel flesh, is his only solid food. Its crushed stones furnish the cakes which are the everyday meal of the camel. To possess 'the two black ones' i. e., warter and dates, is the dream of every Bedouin.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 19).

- 62. In Arabia 'among the domestic plants the grape-vine, introduced from Syria, after the fourth Christian century, is well represented in al-Ta'if.' (Hitti, op. cit. p. 19).
  - 63. i. e., fruit and grains are the handiwork of God, not of man.
- 64. One of the recent scientific discoveries is that everything in nature exists in pairs as male and female. Not only the vegetable and animal life but even the rock crystals and electricity have their sets of opposites. See also P. XXVII. n. 23.
  - 65. Such as men and women.
  - 66. (of Our majesty and providence).
- 67. Which is not a deity to be adored or worshipped. In the Hindu mythology Ratri (night), the sister of Dawn, is conceived of as a goddess.
- 68. (in its daily rotation as well as annual revolution). This may refer to the apparent motion of the sun and to its path among the stars. The apparent annual path of the sun lies through twelve constellations as groups of stars, and the zone which these stars occupy is called the zodiac. Within this zone is also found the orbit of the moon. Or the reference may be to the rotation of the sun above its axis and its actual motion in space. The solar system, like all the other systems of bodies in space, is in motion. Not only the system as a whole is rushing bodi y through the space but each individual member of the system has spinning motion of its own.
  - 69. i. e., One who has power over even the biggest of heavenly bodies.
- 70. i. e., One whose every decree is governed by His all-pervading wisdom and knowledge.
  - 71. (to traverse).
- 72. (at the end of the lunar month after passing through the 28 constellations, one every night).
  - 73. (in respect of slenderness and curvature).
- 74. (withered and shrunken). 'When a palm branch grows old, it shrinks, and becomes crooked and yellow, not ill representing the appearance of the new moon,' (Sale).
- 75. (in its course). The sun and the moon both traverse the belt of the zodiac, yet they never catch up each other.
  - 76. Each one is subject to God's laws.

- 41. (وَلَهْ . . . المُصون) And a sign<sup>77</sup> unto them is that We bear their offspring in a laden ship.<sup>78</sup>
- 42. (دخلتنا مرکون) And We have created for them of the like thereunto<sup>79</sup> so on them they ride.
- 43. (دان . . . نشتون) And if We will, We shall drown them, and there will be no shout<sup>80</sup> for them, nor will they be saved,
- 44. (الا مين) unless it be a mercy from Us, and as an enjoyment for a season.
- 45. (و اذا مرن) And when it is said to them: fear what is before you<sup>81</sup> and what is behind you,<sup>82</sup> that perchance you may find mercy, they withdraw.
- 46. (رما . . . مرضين) And not a sign of the signs of their Lord comes to them, but they are ever backsliders therefrom.
- 47. (و اذا . . . . . . . . . ) And when it is said to them: expend<sup>83</sup> of that with which Allah has provided you, those who disbelieve say to the faithful: shall we feed those whom Allah Himself would have fed, had He willed?<sup>84</sup> You are but in error manifest.
- 48. (ريقرلون . . مدةين) And they say: ** when will the Promise ** be fulfilled, if you say sooth?
- 49. (ما . . . يخصبون) They await not but a single shout<sup>87</sup> which shall seize them while they are yet wrangling.<sup>88</sup>
- 50. (نلا . . . يرجيعون) And they will not be able to make a disposition, so nor to their family they will return. so

- 79. i. e., other articles for conveyance and transport, which may include not only the railways, motor-cars, and lorries but also the entire aircraft.
  - 80. (of help).
  - 81. i. e., the punishment of this world.
  - 82. i. e., the punishment of the Hereafter.
  - 83. (in alms and charity).
  - 84. Thus the richer Quraish spoke of the indigent Muslims.
  - 85. (jeeringly to the Muslims).
  - 86. (of Resurrection).
  - 87. i. e., the first blast of the Trumpet.
  - 88. (among themselves).
  - 89. (of their affairs).
- 90. Death and extinction would be instantaneous, affording them no respite whatsoever.

- 52. (قالوا . . . البرسلون) They will say: <sup>93</sup> Ah woe to us! who has roused us from our sleeping-place? <sup>94</sup> This is <sup>95</sup> what the Compassionate had promised, and truly spake the sent ones. <sup>96</sup>
- 53. (ان عضرون) ال<sup>97</sup> shall be but one Shout; and lo! they shall all be brought together before Us.<sup>98</sup>
- 54. (نالِوم . . . تعلون) Today no soul shall be wronged at all; nor shall you be requited but for what you have been doing.
- 55. (ان نکهرن) Verily the dwellers of the Garden Today shall be happily employed.
- 56. (م . . . عكزن) They and their mates shall be reclining on couches in shade.
- 57. (الم , , , يدعون) Theirs shall be fruit<sup>101</sup> therein, and theirs shall be whatsoever they ask for.
  - 58. (سلم . . . رحيم) Peace shall be the word 102 from the Lord Merciful.
- 59. (وامتا زواً أَنَّ البجرمونُ) And separate yourselves, البجرمونُ) And culprits ا
- 60. (الم . . . بين) Children of Adam! did I not enjoin you, that you shall not serve Satan; verily he is your manifest foe?
- 61. (ران . . . مستقم) And that, you shall worship MeI this is the straight path.
  - 91. (for a second time which will be a signal for general Resurrection).
  - 92. (to witness the Judgement).
  - 93. (frightened at the extreme horrors of the Judgment Day).
- 94. Or 'sepulchres.' Thus they would refer to their probationary lives in the interval between their death and resurrection.

- 95. ——a voice will proclaim——
- 96. ——whose warnings seemed to you incredible——
- 97. i. e., the second blast of the Trumpet.
- 98. So that no merit shall go unrewarded, nor shall any penalty be exacted unmerited.
  - 99. (O wicked ones!).
  - 100. (in whatever they do).
  - 101. i. e., enjoyment of every sort.
  - 102. (of greeting addressed to the righteous).
  - 103. (from the men of faith).
  - 104. i. e., those guilty of infidelity and blasphemy.

- 111. (but as nothing of the sort has happened, and their sight and power of motion are unimpaired, they have the choice of their own way, and great is their responsibility).
- 112. i. e., in nature and constitution, so that he is made to go back to weakness after strength.
  - 113. i. e., the Prophet.
- 114. i. e., the thing is much beneath him. This is said in answer to the pagan Arabs who held the holy Prophet to be a poet. Now, a poet in their parlance, did not mean a versifier. Poetry according to them, as according to most primitive peoples, was not a fine art, but a sort of magical utterance, inspired by powers from the Unseen; and the poet in their estimation was more allied to a soothsayer than to a literary composer. 'The Arabian poet (Sdhā'ir), as the name indicates, was originally one endowed with knowledge hidden from the common man, which knowledge he received from a demon, his special shaytān (satan). As a poet he was in league with the unseen powers and could by his curses bring evil upon the enemy. Sataire (hijā') was therefore a very early form of Arabic poetry.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 94) · · · his disavowal does not refer primarily to the poetic art, but rather to the person and character of the poets themselves. He, the divinely inspired Prophet, could have nothing to do with men who owed their inspiration to demons and gloried in the ideals of paganism which he was striving to overthrow.' (Nicholson, op. cit. p. 159). See also P. XIX. n. 368.
- 115. (from God summoning mankind to piety and devotion, and not allowing them to indulge in vain fancies and superstitions).
  - 116. i. e., who possesses a living conscience.
  - 117. (of damnation in the Hereafter).
  - 118. Who do not choose to profit by the clear Divine admonitions.
  - 119. i. e., the polytheists.
  - 120. i. e., mankind.
- 121. (so that the cattle are to serve man, and not man to serve them). This emphasises the fact that all cattle, however much some varieties of whom may be sacred to the polytheists, are no more than created beings. Pastoral communities such as those of India and Egypt have been noted for cow and bull cults.
  - 122. i. e. the cattle.

- 136. It would be interesting at this juncture to recall a passage from the Zoroastrian scriptures. 'Zaratushi questions Ormazd in this connection... regarding the question of forming again the bodies of the dead, inasmuch as the material frames of the dead have perished and been reduced to dust. Ormazd, thereupon, tells the prophet that even as it was possible for him to have created something from nothing, when nothing at all existed, and as he was able to create the sky and the earth, the sun and the moon, and the stars, fire and water, clouds and wind, grain and mankind, in fact everything that formerly had no existence, it would not be difficult for him at the Resurrection to form anew something that had already existed. The spirit of the earth, the water, the plants, and the fire will at that time restore the bones, blood, hair, life and other materials which had been committed to them by God in the beginning, and in this manner the bodies will be formed anew. (Dhalla, Zoroastrian Theology, pp. 284-90).
  - 137. (whether it be original creation or restoration).
- 138. The Arab method of producing fire was by rubbing two pieces of wood. The verse may also imply a condemnation of fire-worship——so general in the Aryan religions——by making it plain that fire is as much a created object as other things of the world.
- 139. (your own fires). 'These two methods, percussion and friction, have always been the chief ways of making fire... Friction has been by far the most widespread method among primitive people.' (EBr. IX. p. 263). See also P. XXVII. n. 400.
  - 140. (once again).
  - 141. (out of His mere Will, without needing any material or helper).
- 142. i. e., unto the thing proposed, and as yet non-existent except in His knowledge.
- 143. (by a single act of His all-powerful Will). His word of command is all that is needed to bring it into existence according to His Plan; and this is the clearest evidence of His absolute omnipotence.
  - 144. (on the Judgment-Day, O mankind!).

مَنَّفَتِهُ مَنَّ الْمُتَّالِقُ وَالْمُنْ الْمُنْ الْمُنْ الْرَحْ مِنِ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الرَّحِيْمِ الْمُنْ الْمُن

The Ranks. XXXVII

(Makkan, 5 Sections and 182 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (والمفت صنا ) By the angels ranged in ranks الم
- 2. ( فالزجرت زجرا ) By the angels driving away 145,
- 3. (ا فالتلبت ذكرا ) By the angels reciting the praise الماليت ذكرا ).
- 4. (انالهكم لواحد) Verily your God is One 117.
- 5. (رُب . . المارة) Lord of the heavens and the earth 118, and what is inbetween 119, and Lord of the easts 150.
- 6. (الكراكب) Verily We! We have adorned the nearest 151 heaven with adornment——the stars——
- 7. (رحنظا مارد) and have placed therein a guard against any devil froward.
- 8. (لايسمىرن...جانب) They $^{152}$  cannot listen to the exalted assembly $^{153}$ , and $^{154}$  they are darted at from every side $^{155}$ ,
- 9. (دحرراً . . . واصب) with a driving fusillade, and theirs shall be a perpetual torment!
- 10. (الآ ... ناني) except him who snatches away a word by stealth and then pursues him a glowing flame 156,

<sup>145. (</sup>devils). Or, 'By the angels who are the drivers of the clouds.' (LL) 146. (of God).

- 147. Not One in Three, and Three in One; nor One in Many and Many in One; but an absolute Unity.
  - 148. (and there are no such monstrosities as Heaven-god and Earth-god.
- 149. Which completely uproots the threefold division of Vedic gods into the Celestial gods (such as Dyaus, Varuna and Surya). Atmospheric gods (such as Indra, Vayu and Apah), and Terrestrial deities (such as Agni, Prithvi and Sarasvati). Cf. ERE, XII. pp. 693 ff.
- in the plural signifies the different points of the horizon from whence the sun rises in the course of the year. The reference here is to the rising of the stars (Th). See also P. XXIX. n. 225.
- is 'The nearest heaven: i. e., the lowest: the heaven that is the nearest to us.' (LL)
  - 152. i. e., those devils.
- 153. (of angels in the heaven, who are everready to execute God's commandments).
  - 154. ——when they dare——
  - 155. (to repel them). See P. XIV. n. 31.
- 156. See P. XIV. n. 32. 'Prior to the mission of the Prophet, the genii and devils or rather spirits of the air, had access to the outskirts of heaven, and by assiduous cavesdropping secured some of the secrets of the upper world, which they communicated to soothsayers and diviners upon the earth. But on the advent of Muhammed they were driven from the skies, and, whenever they dared to approach, flaming bolts were hurled at them, appearing to mankind like falling stars.' (Muir, op. cit., pp. 52-53).

- 11. (نامنتهم الازب) Ask them<sup>157</sup> thou<sup>158</sup>: are they stronger in structure or those others<sup>159</sup> whom We have created? Verily We I We have created them<sup>160</sup> of a sticky clay<sup>161</sup>.
  - 12. (بيل . . . ويسخرون) Verily thou marvellest162, and they scoff163.
- 13. (داذا . . . يذكرون) And when they are admonished, they receive no admonition.
  - 14. (راذا . . . يستخرون) And when they see a sign<sup>164</sup>, they turn to scoffing.
- 15. (دقالوا . . . مین) And they say : this Qur'an is naught but a manifest magic. 166
- 16. (داذا من لبعوثون) When we have become dead and become dust and bones, shall we then verily be raised?
  - 17. (ادآبازنا . . . ادارن) And also our forefathers?
- 18. (قىل . . . داخرون) Say thou اقط : yea : and verily then you shall be despicable.
- 19. (قابا . . . ينظرون) It shall be a single shout 168, and to 1 they 169 shall be staring.
- 20. (وقالوا . . . الدين) And they will say 170: woe unto us this is the Day of Requital.
- 21. (مذا . . . تَكذبِرن) This is the Day of Judgement<sup>171</sup>, which you were wont to belie.

- 22. (احشروا ميدون) Gather together those who did wrong and their companions 174, and what they were wont to worship 175,
- 23. (من . . . الجسيم) beside Allah, and lead them on to the path of Flaming Fire;
  - 24. (رننوم . . . مسؤلون) and stop them, verily they are to be questioned; 176
- 25. (ماليكم ماليكم) what is the matter with you that you do not succour one another 177?

- 26. (بىل . . . مــــلبون) Nay<sup>178</sup>! on that Day they will be entirely submissive<sup>179</sup>.
- 27. (داقیل . . . يتسايلون) And they will advance towards each other mutually questioning.
- 28. (قالوا . . . عن اليمين) They will<sup>180</sup> say<sup>181</sup> : verily you! you were wont to come to us imposing.<sup>182</sup>
  - 157. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
  - 158. (O Prophet!).
  - 159. (mentioned in the foregoing verses).
  - 160. i. e., mankind.
  - 161. (the weakness of which material is evident).
  - 162. (at their denial of the power of God in regard to Resurrection).
  - 163. (at the arguments advanced to convince them).
  - 164. (by way of miracle).
  - 165. i. e., its charm and effectiveness are due to its being a work of magic.
  - 166. (O Prophet!).
  - 167. (who deny the doctrine of Resurrection to-day).
  - 168. The reference is to the second blast of the Trumpet.
  - 169. (made alive once more).
  - 170. (in utter despair).
- 171. i.e., the Day of Deciding judicially between what is true and what is false.
  - 172. (O angels!).
  - 173. i. e., the ringleaders of infidelity and impiety.
- in addition to its other meanings is also: 'A consociate, an associate, or a comrade . . . And a fellow, or like.' (LL)
  - 175. i. e., idols and devils.
- 176. (and called to account before God's tribunal). This will be further said to the angels.
  - 177. (as you promised to do each other while in the world, O offenders!).
  - 178. i. e., nothing of mutual help will ensue.
  - 179. (to the judgment of God).
  - 180. i. e., the seduced ones.
  - 181. (to those who were their seducers).
- 182. i. e., with force, to compel us. عنالين literally is 'from the right hand'; and the right hand is symbolic of power and authority.

المتفت الذي المؤومِنِين هُومَا كَان كَنَاعَتَكُمْ مِّن سُلْطُونْ بَلْ كُنْنُهُ وَوْمًا طَغِيْن هَ فَحَنَّ عَلَيْنَا فَوْلُهُ رَبِّنَا أَوْالُهُ مِنْ الْعُنْدُ وَوْمَ اللهُ مَنْ اللهُ وَالْهُ مَنْ اللهُ ا

- 29. (زقارا . . . مرمنين) Tney<sup>183</sup> will say : nay ! you y*ourselves* were unbelievers :
- 30. (ويا . . . طنين) and we had over you no authority<sup>184</sup>, but you were a people exorbitant.
- 31. (نحق الناتفون) So on us has been justified the sentence of our Lord: surely we are to taste 185.
- 32. (ناغوینکم من غاوین) We seduced you astary ; verily we were ourselves the seduced ones.
- 33. (قانهم . . . مشترکون ) So on the Day they all will be sharers in the torment.
  - 34. (ا المرمين) Verily We, We in this way deal with the culprits.
- 35. (انهم . . . يستكرون) Of a surety, when it was said to them : there is no god but Allah, they ever grew stiff-necked.
- 36. (ريستورلون , , مجنون) and said : are we going to abandon our gods on account of a poet distracted 196?
- 37. (بل . . . الرساين) Aye ! he has come with the truth and he confirms the sent ones  $^{187}$ .
  - 38. (انكم . . . الالم) Verily you 188 are going to taste a torment afflictive.
- 39. (رَمَا ... تَسَلَّرَنُ) And you shall be requited not except for what you have been working.
  - 40. الأحين) But the bondmen of Allah, the sincere ones-
  - 41. (رادلك . . . معلرم) those! theirs shall be a provision known 189.
  - 42. (نواک مونّ) fruits100; and they shall be honoured.
  - 43. (ن...النم) in Gardens of Delight,
  - 44. (ملى متباين) on couches, facing one another.
- 45. (طان . . . سين) Round shall be passed a cup unto them<sup>191</sup>, filled with limpld drink,
  - 46. (بيضا. . . . للشربين) white ; a pleasure to the dinkers.

<sup>183.</sup> i. e., the seducers.

Part XXIII

- 184. (to compel you).
- 185. (the consequences of our sins).
- 186. 'The Koran was denounced at times, as the effusion of a frenzied poet. (Muir, op. cit., p. 78).
  - 187. (before him).
  - 188. (both the seducers and the seduced).
  - 189. (to them as promised in several parts of the Holy Quran).
- 190. (delicious and juicy) is not only 'Fruit, of any kind,' but also 'Sweetmeat,' and 'A thing, or things the eating whereof is enjoyed.' (LL)
  - 191. (by the heavenly attendants).

استند. والمنه المنه الم

- 47. (لا ... بازفرت) No headiness there shall be in it, nor shall they be inebriated with it.
- 48. (وعدم . . . مين) And with them shall be damsels of refraining looks<sup>192</sup> large-eyed<sup>193</sup>,
  - 49. (کانون . . . مکرن) as though they were eggs 195 preserved 196.
- 50. (نَاتِل . . . يَسَايُون) Then they¹٩٦ will advance towards one another, mutually questioning¹٩٨.
- 51. (قال . . . قرين) And a speaker from among them will say : verily there was<sup>100</sup> a mate<sup>200</sup> of mine,
- 52. (يقول . . . الصدقين) who said : art thou of them who confess to the doctrine of Resurrection :
- 53. (د اذا  $\dots$  الميزن) are we, when We are dead and have become dust and bones, going to be requited ?
  - 54. (قال . . ، مطلمرن) Allah will say : will you look down<sup>201</sup> ?
- 55. (مَا البحيم) Then he  $^{202}$  will look down and see him  $^{203}$  in the midst of the Flaming Fire.
- 56. (قال . . . لتردين) And he will say : by Allah, thou hadst what causedst me to perish,
- 57. (داولا . . . المعترين) and but for the favour of my Lord, I would have been of those brought forward<sup>201</sup>.
  - 58. (انیا . . . بیتین) Are we<sup>205</sup> then not to die any more<sup>204</sup> ?
  - 59. (الا سنين) save our first death207, and are we not to be chastised?
  - 60. (ان . . . المظري) Verily this<sup>208</sup>! that is the supreme achievement.
  - 61. (ثال . . . المارن) For the like of it209 let the workers work.
- 62. (اذالك . . . الزقرم) Is this better as an entertainment or the tree of Zaqqūm²¹º?
- 192. Supremely modest and chaste as these maidens would be, they shall restrain their glances from beholding any besides their spouses.

- 193. i. e., big with grace and beauty.
- 194. i. e., the heavenly maidens.
- 195. (of an ostrich). The likeness of a modest maiden with an egg is in respect of her colour as well as in her being closely guarded and protected as beneath the wing. 'This may seem an odd comparison to an European; but the Orientals think nothing comes so near the colour of a fine woman's skin as that of an ostrich's egg when kept perfectly clean.' (Sale).
  - 196. i. e., guarded by fe athers from dust and stain.
  - 197. i. e., the inmates of Paradise.
  - 198. i. e., (as to the memories of the world).
  - 199. (on the earth).
  - 200. Evidently a materialist and a sceptic like many of the pagan Arabs.
- 201. (O men of Paradise!) i.e., would you like to look at the man who had spoken thus? The phrase is equivalent with يخيبونان تطالعا.
  - 202. i. e. the narrator of the above incident.
  - 203. i. e. his former associate or mate.
  - 204. (to eternal doom like thee).
  - 205. i. e., the dwellers of Paradise.
- 206. (any more). This he shall say to his companions in the Paradise in an ecstasy of delight and joy.
- 207. (which we have already met, and which has brought us to this abode of delight).
  - 208. i. e., the realisation of our highest aspirations.
  - 209. i. e., for the achieving of such bliss.

المناف الطلب في المنا المناف المناف

- 63. (نا العلامين) Verily We ! We have made it a temptation  $^{211}$  for the ungodly  $^{212}$ .
- 64. (انها ... البصريم) Verily it is a tree that springs forth in the bottom of Flaming Fire<sup>213</sup>.
- 65. (طلها . . . الشياطير) the fruit of it is as though it were the hoods of the serpents $^{214}$ .
- 66. (نانهم من البطون) And verily they must eat of it and must fill their bellies from it.
- 67. (ج... حجم) And on the top of it thereafter<sup>215</sup> they shall have a draught of boiling water<sup>216</sup>.
- 68. ( غم . . . المحرم ) And thereafter their return is verily to the Flaming Fire.
  - 69. (نتم . . . متآلين) Verily they217 found their fathers gone astray;
  - 70. (نهم . . . بهرعون) so they are rushing in their footsteps.
- 71. (ولنَد . . . الأولين) And assurdly many of the ancients went astray before them.
  - 72. (دلتد . . . مندرين) And assuredly We sent warners among them.
- 73. (نانَطْر . . . المنذرين) So behold what has been the end of those who had been warned<sup>218</sup>,
  - 74. (الا مناصين) save the sincere bondmen of Allah<sup>219</sup>.

- 75. (ولقد . . . المجيبون) And assuredly N $\overline{u}$ h cried unto Us²²٥ and We are the Best of the answerers.
- 76. (رنجینه . . . المطایم) And We rescued him and his people<sup>221</sup> from the great affliction<sup>222</sup>.
  - 77. (وجعلنا . . . البقين) And his offspring ! them We made the survivors 123.
  - 78. (دركنا . . . الاخرين) And for him We left among the posterity<sup>224</sup>.

- 79. (سلام . . . الملمين) peace be on Nüḥ among the worlds.
- 80. (المسنين Verily We ! We thus recompense the well-doers.
- 211. is a 'trial whereby the condition of a man may be evinced . . . or a means whereby the condition of a man is envinced, in respect of good and of evil; hence it often means a temptation.' (LL)
  - 212. (to see which of them rejects and which of them believes).
- 213. As the word ¿ in another sense means 'fresh butter with dates,' the Makkan pagans had mockingly said, 'well, we will enjoy these foods with the greater relish.' The verse answers such scoffers.
  - 214. so hideous to behold!
  - 215. i. e., to make it even more hideous.
  - 216. (to drink).
  - 217. i. e., the present-day infidels.
  - 218. (but who heeded not).
  - 219. (who were on the other hand rewarded for their merits).
  - 220. (for help).
- 221. اهل ! here stands for 'those who followed him,' and does not signify Noah's family.
  - 222. (while the rest perished).
- 223. Who peopled the earth. It is from Noah that the genealogies of the present races of mankind make their start.
  - 224. (the following salutation).

مَعُكُنَّ مِنْ عِبَادِنَا الْمُؤُمِنِيْنَ ۞ ثُمَّ اَغُرَقْنَا الْاخْرِيْنَ ۞ وَإِنَّ مِنْ شِيْعَتِهُ لِاِبْرِهِيْمَ۞ إِذْ جَآءَرَبَهُ بِقَلْبٍ ﴿ إِنَّهُ مِنْ عِبَادِنَا الْمُؤُمِنِيْنَ ۞ ثُمَّ اَغُرَقْنَا الْاخْرِيْنَ ۞ وَإِنَّ مِنْ شِيْعَتِهُ لِابْرِهِيْمَ۞ إِذْ جَآءَرَبَهُ بِقَلْبٍ ﴿ إِنَّهُ مِنْ اللّهِ تُورِيُنُ وَنَ ۞ فَهَا ظَنْكُمْ بُرَتِ اللّهِ تُورِيُنُ وَنَ ۞ فَطَرَنَظُرَةً فِي النَّبُونِيِ ۞ فَوَاخُ عَلَيْهِمْ فَوَلَا إِنِّي سَقِيْمُ ۞ فَتَوْلَوَا هَنُهُ مُنْ اللّهُ مِنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ أَنْ اللّهُ مُنْ أَنَّا اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ مِنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ أَنْ إِلَالْيَهِ مِنْ ۞ فَاقَالُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَقَالَ النّهُ اللّهُ مُنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مُنْ أَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ وَعَلَيْهِ ﴾ وَقَالَ النّهُ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مَنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مُنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مُنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْهُ مُنْ اللّهُ عَلَيْنَ ۞ وَقَالَ إِنْ اللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ الللللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ ال

- 81. (انه . . . المرمنين) Verily he was of Our believing bondmen.
- 82. (ثم . . . الأخرين) Then We drowned the others.
- 83. (وانْ . . . لابراهم) And of his sect225 was Ibrāhīm.
- 84. (اذ جاء . . . سليم) Recall when he came to his Lord with a whole heart<sup>226</sup>.
- 85. (اذ قال . . . تسدون) Recall when he said to his father and his people<sup>227</sup>; what is it that you worship?
- 86. (اننکا . . . تریدون) Is it a falsehood —— gods besides Allah —— that you seek ?
- 87. (نيا . . . الملين) What then, is your opinion of the Lord of the worlds ?228
  - 88. (ننظر . . . النجوم) Then229 he cast a glance on the stars230.
  - 89. (مقال... سقم) And he said<sup>231</sup>: I am about to be sick<sup>232</sup>.
  - 90. (نزلوا . . . مدرين) Then they departed from him turning their backs.
- 91. (نراخ . . . ناکارن) Then he slipped to their gods<sup>233</sup> and said<sup>234</sup>: do you ot eat<sup>235</sup>?
  - 92. (مالكم . . . تنطقون) What is the matter that you do not speak ?
- 93. (نراخ . . . باليدين) Then he slipped to them striking them with his right hand<sup>236</sup>,
  - 94. (ناتبلو . . . يرنون) Then they237 advanced toward him238, hastening.
  - 95. (نال . . . تنحتون) He said<sup>239</sup> : do you worship what you carve<sup>240</sup>
  - 96. (رالله . . . تسمارت) Whereas Allah has created you and what you make.
- 97. (قالوا . . . المحجم) They said  $^{241}$ : build for him a building and cast him into the flaming fire  $^{242}$ .
- 98. (نارادوا . . . الاسفاين) And they devised a plot for him<sup>213</sup>, but We made them the humble<sup>214</sup>.
- 99. (دقال . . . يهدين) And he said : verily I am going to my Lord<sup>245</sup> Who will guide me<sup>248</sup>.

- 226. i. e., free from all taint of vice.
- 227. Who were polytheists of the most degraded type——worshippers of idols as well as of stars. 'Mesopotamian religion was the worship of these high gods, clearly associated with a fertility cult: but no less prominent in the beliefs of the people were the innumerable evil spirits whose attentions had to be warded off by incantations and charms.' (Gregory, op, cit., p. 13).
- 228. i. e., do you realise or not that He, the Creator of the universe, is One and Unique?
  - 229. (on a certain occasion).
- 230. (as if to gather some future knowledge from the aspect of the heavens). As a pastoral people chiefly occupied with the cultivation of the land and the care of flocks and hens, and also as a people addicted to divination the Chaladaens were constrained to have a constant look at the stars and planets.
- 231. (to his people who were asking him to accompany them to a great festival they were celebrating).
  - 232. (and so I shall not be able to accompany you).
  - 233. i. e., idols.
  - 234. (unto them scoffingly).
  - 235. (of the offerings that are set before you).
  - 236. i. e., with might and main, and demolished them.
  - 237. i. e., the worshippers.
  - 238. (after they were informed of what had happened).
  - 239. (an order to put them to shame).
- 240. (with your own hands). The reference is to the stone images and idols of the Babylonians. Compare the exhortation of a Christian addressed to the idolaters:—'O vain and blind! can you believe in images of wood and stone? Do you imagine that they have eyes to see, or ears to hear, or hands to help ye? Is your mute thing carved by man's art a goddess?——hath it made mankind'?——also! by mankind was it made. Lo! convince yourselves of its nothingness—of your folly.' (Lytton, The Last Days of Pompeii, p. 343). See also P. VII. nn. 526, 527; P. XVI. nn. 153, 158 P. XVII. n. 137.
- 241. (among themselves). 'They' refers to the counsellors of the king and the wise men of the state. Worsted in argument they think of resorting to the extreme penalty of law. See P. XVII. n. 147.
- 242. 'A building' here means a furnace. 'The furnace was heated to a great and consuming heat...The women, carrying their children with them, ascended to the roofs of their houses, and the men gathered in great numbers: but all stood far off, for none dared approach the great heat to look into the furnace; (Polano, op. cit., p. 38).
- 243. A. Cf. the Talmud:—'And both Abram and Charan were brought before the king, and in the presence of all the inhabitants their robes were removed from them, their hands and feet were bound, and they were cast into the flaming furnace. Now the heat of the fire was so great that the twelve men who cast them therein were consumed by it.' (Polano, op. cit., p. 39).

244. (and delivered him). Cf. the Talmud:—'God has compassion upon his servant Abram, and though the ropes which bound him were burned from off his limbs, be walked upright through the fire, unharmed.... And the servants of the king called out to their master: Behold Abram walks unhurt through the flames, the ropes with which we bound him are consumed, yet he is uninjured... The king was lost in amazement, and commanded his officers to take Abram out of the fire. They were not able, however, to execute his order, for the forks of flame blazed in their faces and they fled from the great heat... Their second attempt was fruitless as the first and in it eight men were burned to death. Then the king called to Abram, saying: "Servant of the God of Heaven, come forth from the fire and stand before me." And Abram walked out of the fire and the furnace and stood before the king. And when the king saw that not even an hair of Abram's head was singed by the flames, he expressed wonder and amazement... And the princes of the king bowed before Abram.' (Polano, op. cit., pp. 39-40). See also P. XVII. nn. 149, 151.

245. i. e., I am leaving my people and my land for the sake of my Lord.

246. (to the place where He has commanded me to go).

- 100. (رب. . . الصلحين) Lord $^{247}$ ! bestow on me a son who will be of the righteous $^{248}$ .
- 101. (نِشْرَنَه . . . علم) Wherefore We gave him the glad tidings of a gentle boy<sup>249</sup>.
- 102. (نليا . . . المبرين) And when the boy<sup>25</sup> attained the age of running with him<sup>251</sup>, he said : son! I have seen in a dream<sup>252</sup> that I am slaughtering thee<sup>253</sup>; so look, what considerest thou? He said : father! do what<sup>254</sup> thou art commanded : thou wilt find me, Allah willing, of the patient.
- 103. (نلجين) Then when the twain submitted themselves, and  $^{255}$  he had prostrated him $^{256}$  on the temple $^{257}$ .
  - ! We cried to him : Ibrāhīm (وثادیته . . . یابراهم)
- 105. (نَـد . . . اَلْحَسَيْنُ) of a surety thou hast fulfilled the vision<sup>258</sup>. Verily We I thus do We recompense the well-doers.
  - 106. (ان . . . المبين) Verily that I that was a manifest trial258.
  - 107. (ونديت . . . عظم) And We ransomed him<sup>260</sup> with a mighty victim<sup>261</sup>.
  - 108. (وتركنا . . . أخرين) And for him We left among the posterity 262 :
  - الله . . . ابر امري peace be upon Ibrāhīm<sup>263</sup>.
- 110. (كذالك أ. المحنين) Verily We I thus do We recompense the well-doers.
  - 111. (انه . . المرمنين) Verily he was of Our believing bondmen.
- 112 (ربشرنه . . الملحين) And We gave him the glad tidings of Is-ḥāq, a prophet, and of the righteous.
- 113. (دبرکا مین) And We blessed him and Is-hāq<sup>264</sup>; and of their offspring some are well doers, and some who wrong themselves manifestly<sup>265</sup>

<sup>248.</sup> Notice that Abraham prays not only for a son but for a son who would grow up in righteousness and piety; and the great prophet's prayer was sure to be granted.

þ

- 249. (and mild-tempered). The epithet contradicts the ferocity of temperament attributed to Ismā'il by the Jews and Christians.
  - 250. Ismā'īl, the son of promise and the first-born of Abraham.
- 251. 'And when he attained to working with him: or, and when he was able to assist him in his working.' (LL) The first son born to the father occupied a prominent place in the Hebrew family.' (JE. III. p. 222).
- 252. And the dreams of prophets must come true and be fulfilled. منام literally is the time of sleep, and this state of partial consiousness, in the case of the prophets, is one of the moments chosen for divine communications to man.
  - 253. i. e., am offering thee as a sacrifice to God by His command.
  - 254. (as a matter of course).
  - 255. i. e., Abraham.
- 256. i, e.. Ismā'īl, who was for 14 years, the only son of Abraham. Cf. the OT:—And he said, 'Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac...' (Ge. 22:2) The word 'Isaac' in the context is clearly an interpolation, since he was never 'the only son', of his father. For a repetition of the epithet 'only son' see verse 12 of the same chapter of Ge. 'For now I know that thou fearest God seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.'
- 257. (and was on the point of drawing knife across his throat). 'And Abraham stretched his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.' (Ge. 22:10).
  - 258. Taking the intention for the deed.
- 259. According to the Bible, it was in the 'the land of Moriah.' (Ge. 22:2) which took Abraham three days to reach (22:4), where this 'tremendous trial' took place. The Biblical scholars are not unanimous at all in locating this region. 'What was originally denoted by this designation is very obscure.' (DB.III. p. 437). 'Great obscurity hangs about this name.' (EBi. c. 3200). To an unsophisticated mind the 'Moriah' seems to be a very close approximation to 'Marwa'—a hill near Makka.
  - 260. i. e., Ismā'il.
- 261. i. e., a fine ram from Heaven. is 'An animal prepared for slaughter or sacrifice, i. e., intended victim.' (LL)
  - 262. (the following salutation).
- 263. That Abraham (peace be on him!) holds to this day a unique place of veneration not only among the Muslims of the world but also among the Christians and Jews is in part a fulfilment of this prophecy.
- 264. (with abundant progeny, and with a multitude of prophets among them).
  - 265. (by their ungodly ways).

- 267. (against the Egyptians).
- 268. i.e., unto Moses primarily and principally, and unto Aaron as his lieutenant.
  - 269. (the following salutation).
- 270. Identified both by the Jews and the Christians with Elijah of the Bible, who 'was a prophet in Israel in the first half of the ninth pre-Christian century, under king Ahab.' (JE. V. p. 121). He 'came from the land east of the Jordan, to wage war, in the name of the God of his fathers, against the worship of Baal.' (ib) He 'was among the greatest and most original of the Hebrew prophets .....and is not unworthy of a place by the side of Moses.' (EBi.c. 1270) 'The loftiest prophets of the OT, raised up by J'' at a crisis in the history of Israel to save the nation from lapsing into heathenism.' (DB. I.p.687) Foremost prophet of the Northern Kingdom, whose activity......falls chiefly in the reign of Ahab (876-853). He is known as the Fishlite, probably because he was a native of Fishlite in Gibad... He performed some miracles, among them the restoration to life of a poor widow's son... Elijah like Enoch, is said to have been translated to heaven—apotheosis due no doubt to his great zeal for God and his insistence upon the spiritual and ethical value of Hebrew monotheism.' (VJE. p. 201)
  - 271. i. e., the people of Samaria.
- 272. 'B'al is a primitive title of divinities, which is found in all branches of the Semitic race.' (ERE. II. p. 283). Hence the use of the name in the Qur'ān with an indefinite article ham. The particular Baal mentioned in connection with Elijah is the Baal of Tyre. 'And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him,...and went and served Ba-al and worshipped him. And he reared up an altar for Ba-al in the house of Ba-al which he had built in Samaria.' (1 Ki. 16: 30-32). 'When the Israelites invaded Western Palestine and passed over from a nomadic to an agricultural life, they learned from the older inhabitants not only how to plough and sow and reap but also the religious rites which were a part of Canaanite——the worship of the Baals who gave the increase of the land, the festivals of the husbandman's year.'(EBi.c.402-3). 'The Baalim were mainly active gods of fertility (the bull served as a holy animal) and their worship was connected with ecstatic frenzy and lewdness...The Hebrew prophets combated the worship of Baal that had become prevalent among the Israelites.' (VJE. p. 64).
- 273. 'And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long halt ye between two opinions? if the Lord be God, follow him: but if Ba-al, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word.' (1 Ki. 18:21; Also JE. II. p. 380). For 'the best of creators' see P. XVIII. n. 15. The phrase allows the existence of the other 'creators than God'. This suggests the teachings of modern thinkers, such as Bergson and Iqbal, who hold that the universe is not yet a completed act, but is still in the course of becoming. 'The process of creation is still going on and man too takes his share in it, inasmuch as he helps to bring order into at least a portion of the chaos.'

274. Perhaps under Jezebel, when the prophet had to flee for his life, see 1Ki. 19:2, 3. 'Particularly dangerous was the cult of the Phonecian Baal (Melkart) introduced by Jezebel, and against which Elijah and Elisha inveighed.' (VJE. p. 64) 'Elijah forced on the popular mind the conviction that Jehovah and Melkart were mutually exclusive.' (DB. I. p. 210).

- 283. (like a slave from his master's captivity, angry with his people, because the punishment wherewith he had threatened them did not fall upon them). is 'A slave ranaway, or fled, or went away, from his master, without being induced to do so by fear, or severity of work......In the Kuran it is said of Jonah, because he fled from his people without the permission of his Lord.' (LL)
- 284. (and that ship, after he had embarked, was seized by tempest in the midst of the sea). 'But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.' (Jon. 1:4)
- 285. The sailors, thinking that the ill-luck was caused by there being on board the ship some fugitive slave, wanted to discover him by casting lots. Then the mariners were afraid. And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us.' (Jon. 1:5, 7)
- 286. i. e., one of them, upon whom the lot fell. 'So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.' (Jon. 1:7)
- 287. (after he had been cast into the sea, according to the custom of the country, as the result of being found guilty by lots). 'So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging.' (Jon. 1:15)
- Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.' (Jon. 1:17) According to the Jewish rabbis, 'this fish had so large a mouth and throat that Jonah found it as easy to pass into its belly as he would have found it to enter the portals of a very large synagogue.' (JE. VII. p. 227). According to the Bible, Jonah 'went down to Joppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish.' (Jon. 1:3), which voyage suggests the Mediterranean. Our commentators mention the river Tigris, on the right bank of which stood the city of Ninevah; and this 'river contains great numbers of fish.' (JE. XII. p. 145) Sharks and other fish of very large size have even recently been known to swallow human beings. During the last World War, in July 1942, a certain captain G. D. Hodges' ship was torpedoed and sunk north of Cuba. In the month of November a shark was caught off the coast of Cuba, and in its stomach was found a signet ring which bore the initials 'G. D.' The circuit court admitted it as a piece of evidence of the captain's death in the belly of the shark.
- 289. (for having gone to the sea, and embarked on the ship, without the expres spermission of his Lord).

290. 'Then Jonah prayed unto the Lord his God out of the fish's belly.'
(Jon. 2:1)

291. i. e., mankind.

292. 'And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.' (Jon. 2:10)

293. (to shade him).

294. The number of adult population. The reference is to Ninevah, the ancient capital of the Assyrian empire, which lay opposite the modern city of Mosul. Assyria was at the height of its power and Ninevah was the metropolis of the world (VJE, p. 325).

295. (that number). Taking in view the total population. 'Now Ninevah was an exceeding great city of three days' journey' (Jon. 3:3): 'that great city wherein are more than six score thousand persons.' (Jon. 4:11) 'The actual extent of Ninevah proper is about 1,800 acres, or about two-thirds the size of Rome within Aurelian's Wall. It would contain a population of 175,000 on the allowance of 50 sq. yds. to a person.' (EBi. c-3421) 'Captain Jones, who made a trigonometrical survey of the city in 1853, estimates that allowing 50 square yards to each inhabitant, the population may have amounted to about 174,000 souls.' (DB. III. p. 554)

296. (on the approach of the punishment wherewith they had been threatened).

297. i. e., until the expiration of their terms of life.

298. i. e., the Arab pagans, O Prophet!

299. i. e., while they are ashamed of having daughters for themselves they feel no shame in attributing them to God. The emotional side of Semitic heathenism was always very much connected with the worship of female deities partly through the associations of maternity, which appealed to the purest and tenderest feelings, and partly through other associations connected with woman, which too often appeals to the sensuality so strongly developed in the Semitic race.' (Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites, p. 59). 'In point of fact, goddesses play a great part in Semitic religion, and that not merely in the subordinate role of wives of the gods.' (ib. p. 52)

  - 330. (their plight in the Hereafter and also in this world).
- 331. (to Him). i. e., such crude and superstitious doctrines as that He has got a peer, or a 'Son', or a 'Mother', or a 'Daughter,' etc. In many cults and myths, as, for instance, in the religion of Greece, the God-Father, the Goddess-Mother, and the Son or the Daughter 'are all assumed as essential to the drama of Divine life.' (DB. V. p. 122)
  - 332. (who are to be followed and obeyed).

Sūrat-us Sād

Sad. XXXVIII

(Makkan, 5 Sections and 88 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

SECTION 1.

- الذكر ) Sād. By the Qur'an full of admonition<sup>353</sup>.
- 2. (بل ... شقائ) Verily<sup>334</sup> those who disbelieve are in vainglory<sup>336</sup> and schism<sup>336</sup>.
- 3. ( کم . . . مناص ) How many a generation We have destroyed before them<sup>337</sup> and they cried<sup>338</sup>, but the time to flee<sup>339</sup> was past<sup>340</sup>.
- 4. (رمبرا . . . گذاب) And they³⁴¹ marvel that there should come to them a warner from amongst them³⁴². And the infidels say : this is a magic³⁴³ and a lie³⁴⁴
- 5. (اجل . . . مجاب) Does he make the gods, One God<sup>345</sup> ? Surely that is a thing extraordinary<sup>346</sup>.
- 6. (دانطاق مراده) The chiefs among them departed saying<sup>347</sup> : go and perseve in your gods; surely this<sup>348</sup> is a thing designed<sup>349</sup>.
- 7. (ما دیندن) We have not heard of it in the later faith<sup>350</sup>; this is naught but an invention<sup>351</sup>
  - 333. (that the infidels are entirely in the wrong).
  - 334. يل, a particle of digression, is here synonymous with ان (LL).
  - 335. (and obstinacy).
  - 336. i. e., opposition to the truth.
  - 337. i. e., before the time of the present-day infidels.
  - 338. (for mercy).
  - 339. (and petitioning).
  - 340. لات is only an indeclinable form of لات

- 311. i. e., the Arab pagans.
- 342. i. e., a mere mortal tike themselves.
- 343. (in his aspect of a miracle-worker).
- 344. (in his claims of inspiration and Divine revelation).
- 345. So that was the only real 'offence' of the Prophet of God!—his preaching of the One True God in place of so many separate godlings!
- 346. (and therefore must be rejected unheard and condemned forthwith). In the realm of polytheism the number of gods, higher and lower, and sub-deities is such that one is, in fact, overwhelmed by their vast medley. 'Starting from the theology of savage tribes, the student arrives at the polytheistic hierarchies of the Aryan nations. In ancient Greece, the cloud-compelling Heaven-god reigns over such deities as the god of War and the goddess of Love, the Sun-god and the Moongoddess...In modern India, Brahma, Vishnu, Siva reign pre-eminent over a series of divinities...such figures as Indra of Heaven and Surya of the Sun, Agni of the Fire...the divine Rivers, and below these the ranks of nymphs, elves, demons, ministering spirits of heaven and earth.' (PC. II. p. 251)
  - 347. (to one another). ان is here explicative used in place of بفولوں (LL).
  - 348. i. e., the preaching of this new prophet.
  - 349. (against us to draw us from their worship).
- 350. i. e., whatever may have been the practice in the remote past, we have never come across this strange doctrine of the unity of God in the religion of our immediate ancestors.
  - 351. (on his part).

مِنْ بَيُنِنَا لَا بَلْ هُمْ فِي شَكِّ مِنْ ذِكْرِئْ بَلْ لَكَايَكُو وَوُاعَنَ ابِ ۞ اَمْ عِنْدَهُمُ حَزَا بِنُ وَحَدَرِتِكَ الْعَزِيْزِ
مِنْ بَيْنِنَا لَا بِلْهُمْ فِيْ شَكِّ مِنْ ذِكْرِئْ بَلْ لَكَايَكُو وَوُاعَنَ ابِ ۞ اَمْ عِنْدَهُمُ حَزَلَ بِنَ كَاعْدُنْ فِي الْعَنْ فَيْ الْعَنْ الْعَالُمُ وَوَلَمُ وَالْمَوْمِ وَمَا بَيْنَهُمُ اللَّهُ فَا الْعَنْ اللَّهُ مَا لَكُوْرُونِ وَ الْمَوْمِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمُومِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمَوْمِ وَالْمُومِ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومِ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومِ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُؤْمُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُؤْمُ وَالْمُؤْمُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُومُ وَالْمُؤْمُ وَالْمُ

- 8. (انول . . . عذاب) What, has out of  $us^{352}$ , upon him<sup>353</sup> been sent down the admonition? Yea! they are in doubt concerning My admonition<sup>354</sup>. Yea! they have not<sup>355</sup> yet tasted My chastisement<sup>356</sup>.
- 9. (ا منا الرماب) Or is it that with them there are treasures of the mercy of thy Lord<sup>357</sup>, the Bestower?
- 10. (ام . . . الاسباب) Or is it that theirs is the dominion of the heavens and the earth and what is in-between  $^{358}$ ? If so, let them ascend  $^{359}$  by steps.
- 11. (جند . . الاحزاب) Here<sup>300</sup> there is a host of the confederates only to be defeated<sup>301</sup>.
- 12. (كَذِبَ . . . الأَرْتَاد) Before them there have belied the people of Nūḥ and the 'Aād and Fir'awn, the owner of the stakes 363,
- 13. (رغرد. الاحراب) and the Thamūd, and the people of  $L\bar{u}t$ , and the dwellers of the wood<sup>364</sup>, these were the confederates<sup>365</sup>.
- 14 ( ان . . . عناب ) There was not one but did not belie the messengers; so My wrath was just 1857.

- 15. (وما . . . فواق) And these wait but for one cry<sup>388</sup> which will not be deferred.
- 16. (وقالوا . . . يرم المساب) And they say: our Lord I hasten our portion to us before the Day of Reckoning 370.
- 17. (اامبر الراب) Bear thou<sup>371</sup> with what they say, and remember Our bondman Dāūd, endued with strength<sup>372</sup>; verily he was oft-returning to  $Us^{373}$ .
- 18. (الأشراق) Verily We so subjected the mountains that they hallowed Us with him<sup>374</sup> at nightfall and sunrise.

عالد بمومة and ماالد بمومة, and means 'not yet.' (WGAL. II. p. 41)

356. Which is sufficient to open the eyes of the most perverse and obstinate of the rejectors.

357. (so that they may honour and exalt whomsoever they like).

358. i. e., are they the masters of the physical worlds of God?

359. (to heaven).

360. i. e., in the city of Makka.

361. (and vanquished, so their opposition, however vehement, need not alarm thee). The passage is prophetic of Muslim victory of Badr.

362. (the apostles of their times).

363. See P. XXX, n. 336.

364. (near Madyan) See P. XIV, n. 91.

365. (against the messengers of God).

366. (of them).

367. (on them).

368. i. e., the second blast of the Trumpet.

369. i. e., the scoffers.

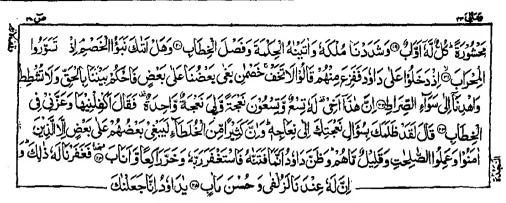

370. i. e., bring our punishment here and now, immediately; why postpone it to the Day of Judgment?

371. (O Prophet!)

372. 'He was a man of valour in a very extraordinary degree.' ("Ant." VII. 15: 2) 'His military capacity is proved by the uniform success he achieved as a commander... To these qualities he added astute diplomacy and far-seeing statemanship.' (EBr. VII. p. 78). He was the real founder of the Hebrew empire. 'Israel rallied to David...and under David's leadership the supremacy of the Hebrew kingdom was decisively established.' (UHW. I. p. 677: see also II. p. 817). 'David was brave, generous and magnanimous. He was a master-spirit who drew others to him and for whom they would gladly lay down their lives.' (NSBD. p. 173).

373. That David's was a deeply religious personality is admitted even by unfriendly critics. 'David himself was sincerely loyal to Jehovah, Israel's God. His battles were fought and his victories won in the name of Jehovah. None of his public acts was marked by any disloyalty or unfaithfulness to Jehovah...Through David the popular conception of the power of Jehovah must have been greatly strengthened.' (NSBD. p. 172) 'He was a sincerely religious man, a devout worshipper of Yahweh' (EBr. VII. p. 78) 'David's piety was so great that his prayers were able to bring things from heaven down to earth' (JE. IV. p. 455).

374. See P. XVII. n. 171.

- 19. (دالطير) And so did the birds also, gathering<sup>375</sup>; all oft returning to Him on his account<sup>376</sup>.
- 20. (وشد د تا ، الخطاب) And We strengthened<sup>377</sup> his dominion and vouchsafed to him wisdom<sup>378</sup> and decisive speech<sup>379</sup>.
- 21. (رمل . . . المحراب) And has the news of the contending parties<sup>380</sup> reach.ed thee<sup>381</sup>, when they walled his apartment<sup>382</sup>?
- 22. (اذ دخارا . . . الصراط) When they went in to Dāūd, he was frightenst at them them said: have no fear; we are two contending parties 4. One of us has oppressed the other; so judge between us with truth and be not iniquitous, and guide us to the even path.
- 23. (ان . . . الخواب) Verily $^{380}$  this my brother $^{387}$  has ninety-nine ewes while I have a solitary ewe, and he says: entrust it to me, and he has overcome me in argument $^{318}$
- 24. (بال ... اثاب  $D\bar{a}\bar{u}d$  said: assuredly he has wronged thee in demanding thy ewe in addition to his ewes and surely many of the partners oppress each other save such as believe and work righteous deeds, and few are they And Dāūd imagined that We had tried him 51. So he asked forgiveness of his Lord, and he fell down bowing 392 and turned in penitence 303.
- 25. (ننفرنا . . . مآب) So We forgave him that; and verily for him is an access to Us<sup>394</sup> and a happy retreat.
  - 375. (round him for the purpose).
  - 376. i. e., all of them hymned the praise of God in unison with him.
- 377. 'David raised the land to the highest state of prosperity and glory, and by his conquests made the united kingdom the most powerful state of the age. To do this other qualities than mere military capacity were required...His talent enabled him to weld together the mixed southern clans which became incorporated under Judah, and to build up a monarchy which represented the highest conception of national life possible under the circumstances.' (EBr. VII. p. 858. 11th. Ed.)

'His real monument was the united kingdom which he established, its influence stretching right up into Syria: it was the most powerful Empire that Palestine ever produced.' (EBr. VII. p. 78) 'Greatly loved in his day, deeply revered by those who came after him. David was perhaps the most winsome character in Hebrew A great warrior, and a great story, lovable, because so human, even in his faults. statesman, his importance as the real constructor of the Hebrew kingdom can hardly be overestimated.' (ib) 'It is no easy task to gather into one view the various traits of character which the history of David's life has displayed before us. One feels so petty beside this great man: one's own feebleness is in such marked contrast to his strength, that, however one may strive to appreciate his many excellences. one is conscious of being unable to do justice to them.' (Deane, David: His Life and Times, p. 205). David's work for Israel was of greatest importance... His fame will endure as Israel's greatest ruler after Moses. He not only reunited Israel and gave it for the first time a strong, well-organised, and well-administered government but he gave it a new national consciousness..... Under him for the first time Israel had a capital city, a central government, a standing army, a court, and a supreme court of justice.' (NSBD. p. 172).

- justice, in judgment or judicial decision.' (LL) 'We may safely assert that... no ancient Israelite exercised such a personal charm as David, and that he owed this not merely to his physical but also to his moral qualities. In him the better elements of the Israelitish character start at once into a new life.' (EBi. c. 1033) 'He knew well how to wait his opportunity, and instead of snatching at the kingship in haste allowed the fruit to ripen until it fell into his hands, all the while strengthening his hold upon his fellow countrymen. His choice of Jerusalem as capital is an excellent example of his wisdom.' (EBr. VII. p. 78) 'He was a discerner of men and knew how to use each in the place for which he was best fitted. As a king he showed a kingly dignity and bearing, but was withal affable and approachable. Politically he was shrewd and far-seeing, and his military skill gave him victory in all his wars. His people trusted and loved him as a just ruler'. (NSBD. p. 173).
- 379. David 'was also of very great abilities in understanding, and apprehensive of present and future circumstances, when he was to manage any affairs.' ('Ant.' VII. 15:2). 'Heading a kingdom which he had made, and giving to it institutions, military, civil, religious—he is energetic, laborious, unsparing of trouble, fertile in expedients, courageous in danger, self-relying, sufficient, in all transactions competent.' (Deane, David: His Life and Time, p. 211)
  - 380. (in the reign of David).
  - 381. (O Prophet!)
- 382. i. e., the oratory of David, which was well-guarded, and meant for prayers and devotion. They were perhaps prevented from going in to him by the door, because of his being engaged in devotion.

- 383. (for their having invaded his privacy in this peculiar manner).
- 384. (and have come to seek redress at thy hands).
- 385. (and equity).
- 386. Thus one of them proceeded.
- 387. (in faith).
- 388. Or 'in dispute.'
- 389. Here 'L is redundant, denoting vagueness and wonder, or a corroborative of fewness.' (LL)
  - 390. (in his righteousness, after the parties had gone).
  - 391. (through this incident).
  - 392. (in thanksgiving.) Or 'prostrating himself.'
- 393. (for what he, judging himself by his own standard, considered himself guilty).
  - 394. (in Paradise).

- 27. (رما . . . . ن النار) And We have not created the heavens and the earth and what is in-between in vain<sup>399</sup>. That<sup>400</sup> is the conjecture of those who disbelieve<sup>401</sup>. And woe unto those who disbelieve——the Fire<sup>102</sup>!
- 28. (ام . . . كا لفجار) Shall We make those who believe and work righteous deeds like unto the corrupters in the earth <sup>101</sup>? Or shall We make the pious like unto the ungodly <sup>104</sup>?
- 29. (צֹיִי וּצְעַוִי) This is a Book blessed<sup>405</sup>, We have sent down unto thee<sup>405</sup> that they<sup>407</sup> may ponder the revelations thereof, and that there may be admonished men of understanding.
- 30. (ررمنا . . . اراب) And We vouchsafed to Dā ūd Sulaimān<sup>408</sup>. An excellent bondman<sup>408</sup>! he was oft-returning<sup>418</sup>.
- 31. (اذعرض البياد) Recall when there were presented to him<sup>411</sup> at eventide<sup>412</sup> coursers swift-footed<sup>413</sup>.
- 32. (نقال . . بالحجاب ) He said<sup>114</sup>: verily 1 have loved earthly good above the remembrance of my Lord<sup>415</sup> until the sun has disappeared behind the veil.

<sup>396. (</sup>to execute and enforce His laws). 'David was not only a warrior but also a wise and energetic ruler.' (JE. IV. p. 455) 'This man was of an excellent character, and was endowed with all virtues that were desirable in a king, and in one that had the preservation of so many tribes committed to him.' ('Ant.' VII. 15:2) 'We can readily understand that the Jews of later days looked back to David as the ideal king and pictured the ruler of the happy day for which they hoped as a second David.' (EBr. VII. p. 78, 11th Ed.)

- 397. (and justice) 'To the chief civil duty of a king—the administration of justice—David paid the utmost attention.' (EBi. c. 1031) 'In after-times his name became the symbol of a rightcous rule.' (c. 1034) 'He was prudent and moderate, and kind to such as were under any calamities: he was rightcous, and humane; which are good qualities, peculiarly fit for kings: nor was he guilty of any offence in the exercise of so great an authority.' ('Ant.' VII. 15: 2)
- 398. (of thy heart). David's character 'should be judged by his habitual recognition of a generous standard of conduct, by the undoubted purity and lofty justice of an administration which was never stained by selfish considerations or motives of personal reasons, and finally by the calm courage which enabled him to hold an even and noble course in the face of dangers and treachery.' (EBr. VII. p. 858. 11th Ed.) 'Further criticism of records has only confirmed the eulogy given to David by Robertson Smith in 1877—that the administration of justice was never stained by selfish considerations or motives of personal rancour.' (EBi. c. 1034)
  - 399. i. e., without a serious purpose.
- 400. i. e., the doctrine that there is no purpose behind the universe, or that it is the outcome of a mere fortuitious concourse of atoms.
  - 401. i. e., of the materialists.
  - is here only explicative.
  - 403. Which negatives the very purpose of creation.
  - 404. Which is tantamount to a negation of the moral government.
  - 405. i. e., abounding in advantage or ability.
  - 406. (O Prophet '!)
  - 407. i. e., mankind.
- 408. 'And the wealth accumulated under his long rule has become proverbial.' (UHW, I. p. 677).
  - 409. (of God). See P. I. nn. 442, 443.
- 410. This repudiates altogether the charges of idolatry brought against Solomon by the Bible. (1. Ki. 11: 4-9).
  - 411. (on the occasion of a holy war).
- 412. i. e., after the sun had set, and the hour of his prayer was rather delayed.
- 413. 'And Solomon gathered together chariots and horsemen; and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the cities for chariots.' (1. Ki. 10:26) 'Solomon's traffic in horses, and the sums for which he procured them for the kings of the Hittites and of Syria were among the most memorable features of his land commerce.') (Farrar, Solomon: His Life and Times, p. 140) For large importation of horses by Solomon in Palestine see also JE. VI. p. 470: EBi. c. 2125.
  - 414. (grieving at the prayer delayed).
  - 415. i. e., the performance of my prayer.

- 33. (دوما . . الأعان) Bring them<sup>416</sup> back to me<sup>417</sup>, and<sup>418</sup> he set about slashing their legs and necks<sup>419</sup>.
- 34. (رلند . . . اثاب) And assuredly We tried Sulaiman 420, and set upon bis throne a mere body  $^{121}$ . And then he was penitent  $^{422}$ .
- الوماب) He said,<sup>423</sup> Lord! forgive me<sup>121</sup>, and bestow on me a dominion<sup>425</sup> which no one may obtain besides me<sup>426</sup>. Verily Thou! Thou art the Bestower<sup>427</sup>.
- 37. (والشيطين . . غواص ) And We subjected to him the evil ones<sup>429</sup>: every builder<sup>430</sup> and diver<sup>431</sup>.
  - 38. (وأخرين . . الاصفاد) And others abound in fetters432.
- 39. (مذا حساب) This is Our gift<sup>133</sup>, so spend thou or withhold, without rendering an account<sup>134</sup>.
- 40. (بان ماب) And verily for him is an approach to Us<sup>435</sup>, and a happy end.

- 41. (راذکر عناب) And remember thou of Our bondman Ayyūb when he cried to his Lord verily Satan has touched me with affliction and suffering 440.
- 42. (ارکنن . . . شراب) Stamp thou the ground with thy foot<sup>441</sup>; yonder is water<sup>442</sup>, to wash in, cool, and to drink.
- 43. (رر مبنا . . الالباب) And We bestowed on him his household and along with them the like thereof out of mercy from Us, and a remembrance to men of understanding.

- 419. i. e., slaughtering them as a sacrifice to God.
- 420. (in another way).
- 421. On a certain night, it is related, Solomon said that he would go in to his seventy wives, and thus would beget seventy sons, every one of whom would be a warrior in God's cause. Unhappily he omitted to add 'if God will,' which omission, though no sin in itself, was unworthy of a prophet of God. The consequence was that instead of 70, he had only one son, and that also a misshap, undeveloped invalid.
- 422. (of that slight negligence, as befitted a man of his deep spiritual susceptibilities).
- 423. The desire in Solomon's heart for begetting a number of sons was not for its own sake, but in order to obtain recruits for God's army. Now on reflection he prays for a state of things when need for an extremely efficient army should no longer exist, so that his entire time and attention should be devoted to acts of prayer and worship.
  - 424. (for the past).
- 425. Which worldly power was evidently intended to be used for God's service.
- 426. (in my life-time, so that I may have no occasion for such negligence in future). 'History, Poetry and Legend combine to magnify the splendour of Solomon... He filled an unusually large space in the eyes of his contemporaries.' (Farrar, Solomon: His Life and Time, p. 129) For the greatness and splendour of Solomon's empire see P. XIX. n. 420.
  - 427. (see that it is not difficult at all for Thee to grant this prayer).
  - 428. See P. XVII. v. 81: P. XXII. nn. 175, 177.
  - 429. See P. XVII. n. 177.
  - 430. (of wonderful structures). See P. XVII. n. 179.
  - 431. (that brought up pearls from the sea). See P. XVII. n. 178.
  - 432. (by way of punishment for their unruly behaviour).
  - 433. Thus God said to Solomon.
  - 434. i. e., thou art owner and master in the full sense.
  - 435. (in the Hereafter).
  - 436. (O Prophet!).
- 437. 'There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God and eschewed evil.' (Job. 1:1) 'And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?' (Job. 1:8). The land of Uz lay on the eastern borders of Palestine, near the desert of Arabia. Repeatedly in the Bible, he is classed with such personages as Noah and David. 'These three men, Noah, David, and Job.' (Ezek. 14: 14, 19): and these are mentioned as the three most righteous men. Him age and his epoch are matters of uncertainty. According to the rabbis, 'he lived in the time of Jacob's sons;... was born when Jacob and his children entered Egypt;... and died when the Israelites left that country.' Consequently he lived 210 years. (JE. VII. p. 193). 'Tradition places the home of the patriarch in the Hurān, where a monastery bearing his name exists. He is said to have been a native of Jol'an, and early Arabian authors state that he was born in the neighbourhood of Nuwā. Not far from the monastery is shown the Makam Eyy'ub, or Station of Job, his well, and the trough in which he is said to have washed after his trials were over... The currency of the tradition among both Christians and Mohammadans living in the district implies that it is of considerable antiquity.' (DB. IV. p. 842) See also P. XVII. n. 181.

- 438. (after the loss of his sons and himself being afflicted with a loathsome disease).
  - 439. i. e., mental distress.
- 440. i. e., physical diseases. Job, a prophet of God as he is, attributes, out of sheer respect, his ailments to the devil, though everything was from God.
  - 441. Thus God said to Job.
  - 442. (for thee)
  - 443, i. e., We restored to him his family.
- 444. i. e., not only were they restored but also their number was doubled. 'Also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before... So the Lord blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning.' (Job. 42: 10, 12)

- 44. (ربخل بر اراب) And $^{445}$  take in thy hand a handful of twigs $^{446}$ , and strike with it  $^{117}$  and break not thy oath $^{418}$ . Verily We! We found him patient $^{449}$ . An excellent bondman $^{450}$ ! verily he was oft-returning $^{451}$ .
- 45. (و اذكر بي الا إصار) And remember thou Our bondmen, Ibrāhīm and Is-hāq and Ya'qūb<sup>152</sup> all owners of might and vision<sup>153</sup>.
- 46. (الدار) Verily We! We distinguished them with a distinct quality: the remembrance of the Abode<sup>451</sup>.
- 47. (رائم . . الاخيار) And verily they are of the elect of the excellent ones with Us.
- 48. (د اذكر بالاخبار) And remember Ismā il and Al-Yas'a<sup>156</sup> and Zul-kifl<sup>157</sup>; all of the excellent ones<sup>158</sup>.
- 49. (مندا ماب) This is an admonition 49. And verily for the pious is a happy retreat——
- 50. (جنات . . . الابواب) Gardens Everlasting, the portals of which remain opened for them.
- 51. (متكئين . . . وشراب) Therein they will recline; therein they will call for plenteous fruit and drink.
- 52. (رعند م . . . .) And with them will be virgins of refraining looks  $\epsilon nd$  of equal age  $^{161}$ .
- 53. (مذا . . . الماب) This it is which you are promised for the Day of Resurrection 463.
- 54. (اق . . . نفاد) Verily this is of Our provision; there will be no ceasing of it.
- 55. (منا , , ماب) This for the righteous. And verily for the exorbitant there shall be an evil retreat—
  - 56. (جينم . . . المهاد) Hell, wherein they roast, a wretched couch<sup>161</sup>.

- 57. (هذا . . . وغناق) This——let them taste it, scalding water and corruption<sup>465</sup>.
  - 58, (وآخر... ا زواج) and other torments, like them conjoined.
- 445. (God said this to him further). Job, when he fell ill and had a very prolonged and loathsome illness was attended to very devotedly by his wife. Once the devil appeared to her, and taking advantage of her distracted condition reminded her of her past prosperity, and promised her that if she would worship him he would not only heal her husband, but restore to them whatever they had lost. On coming home she wanted to sound her husband on the subject. But hardly had she mentioned the proposal when the prophet Job was incensed at the very audacity of it, and swore forthwith to punish his wife with hundred stripes.
- is 'A handful of herbs;... or a handful of twigs of trees or shrubs;... or whatever is collected together, and grasped with the hand.' Here it means, 'A bundle of rushes, a hundred in number, consisting of slender stalks without leaves, whereof mats are made.' (LL)
- 447. (thy wife). She was by now restored to her former youth and beauty. Job, to satisfy his oath taken in a mood of moral indignation, is now directed by God to strike her one simple blow with a palm-branch having a hundred leaves.
- 448. (by abstaining from striking her altogether). The obligation of the oath is rescinded as a matter of special mercy.
  - 449. See P. XVII. n. 181 ff.
- 45. 'And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, to destroy him without cause.' (Job. 2:3)
- 451. (to Us). 'Then Job answered the Lord, and said....Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.' (Job. 42:116).
  - 452. All of whom resisted and overcame evil.
- 453. i. e., men of action as well as of knowledge and understanding. This is added to vindicate their character from the charges of immorality brought against them by the Biblical writers.
  - 454. i. e., they were men of true devotion and piety.
- 455. i. e., among the most honoured of the honoured ones, and not men of doubtful and mixed character as painted in the writings of the Jews and Christians.
  - 456. See P. VII. n. 569.
- 457. Prophet Ezekiel of the Bible, noted for his splendid visions and literary imagery. Very little is known of his personal history beyond the fact that he was asked and consecrated to the ministry in the fifth year of his captivity in Babylon, and that the period of his ministry lasts probably from 592 B. C. to 570 B. C.

'Ezekiel and Jeremiah were contemporary prophets, though the latter was the much older of the two.' (Dummelow op. cit., p. 489) 'One of the great literary prophets, a son of Buzi, of priestly lineage...Highly respected on account of his piety and sagacity.' (VJE. p. 219) 'He is supposed to have been born during the reign of Josiah and to have been a younger contemporary of Jeremiah.. He was carried captive with Jehoichin to Babylonia in 597... He is sometimes styled as the prophet of reconstruction. Others call him "the father of Judaism," since he placed the emphasis on love of God, need of holiness, and pre-eminence of the spiritual over the political aspect of communal life, thus comenting the real foundations of historical Judaism.' (ib). See also P. XVII. n. 188.

458. This is added to correct and contradict the darker side of their nature as depicted in the Bible.

- 459. (so that he who follows it shall fare well).
- 460. i. e., who shall refrain from looking at any besides their spouses.
- 461. i. e., of the same age as their spouses.
- 462. (O believers!).
- 463. i. e., so far with regard to the rewards of the righteous.
- 464. (to lie on).
- 465. (flowing from the bodies of the damned).

- 59. (منا ... النار) This is a crowd,466 rushing in along with you; no welcome for them; they are to roast in the Fire.
- 60. (قالرا . . . التراد) They<sup>167</sup> will say<sup>168</sup>: nay ! it is you for whom there is no welcome; it is you who have brought it upon us. Ill shall be their restingplace.
- 61. (قائرا . . . في النار) They is will say : our Lord! whosoever has brought this upon us, to him increase doubly the torment of the Fire.
- 62. (وقالوا . . الاشرار) And they<sup>170</sup> will say : what is the matter that we do not see the men whom we counted among the evil ones<sup>471</sup>.
- 63. (انحدنهم الإصار) Did we take them for a butt of mockery so unjustly, or are they deluding our eyes<sup>472</sup>?
- 64. (ان . . . اهراكـار) Verily this is very truth : this warngling $^{473}$  of the inmates of the Fire.

- 65. (قبل ... النهار) Say thou<sup>174</sup>: I am but a warner, and there is no god but Allah, the One<sup>175</sup>, the Subduer<sup>176</sup>.
- 66. (رب . . . النفار) Lord of the heavens and the earth and whatsoever is in-between them, the Mighty, the Forgiver.

  - 68. (انتم ... معرضون) You are averting therefrom 180.
- 69. (ماكان معتصون) I had no knowledge of the chiefs on high<sup>481</sup> when they were disputing.<sup>482</sup>
- 70. (ان ... مين) Naught is revealed to me<sup>183</sup> except that I am a manifest warner.
- 71. (ان تال . . . طين) Recall when thy Lord said to the angels : I am about o create a human being from clay;

<sup>467.</sup> i. e., the seduced ones; the followers.

- 468. (to the seduced, the ringleaders).
- 469. i. e., the seduced ones.
- 470. i. c., the inmates of Hell; both the seducers and the seduced.
- 471. i. e., whom we, viewing with our distorted vision, took for the erring ones.
  - 472. (while they are with us in Hell).
  - 473. i. e., this mutual incrimination.
  - 474. (O Prophet!)
- 475. (with no 'Persons' and 'Incarnations'). The number of the pagan gods is almost unthinkable. In the Hindu Pantheon 'there is often mention of thirty-three, or three times eleven, once of three thousand three hundred and thirty-nine; in the Atharva-Veda this last number is still further increased, the Gandharvas alone amounting to six thousand three hundred and thirty-three.' (Barth, op. cit.,  $\circ$ . 25).
  - 476. See P. XII. n. 496.
  - 477. (O Prophet!)
  - 478. i. e., the Message I bring.
  - 479. (worthy of being listened to with heart and soul).
  - 480. (as a mere man, and by myself).
  - 481: i. e., angels.
  - 482. (concerning Adam).
- 483. i. e., Revelation is the only source of my knowledge concerning the happenings on high, and so you ought to believe in me.

- 72. (ناذا ماجدين) Then when I have created him and breathed into him of My spirit<sup>134</sup>, fall down before him prostrate<sup>485</sup>.
  - 73. (نسجد . . . اجمعرن) The angels fell prostrate; all of them.
- 74. (الأسرين) Not so Iblis<sup>186</sup>. He grew stiff-necked, and became of the infidels.
- 75. (قال . . . المابن) Allah said: Iblis! what does prevent thee from prostrating thyself before what I have created with my both hands ?487 Hast thou been stiff-necked488, or art thou of the exalted ones489.
- 76. (قال ... طين) Iblīs said<sup>490</sup>: I am better than he<sup>491</sup>: me thou hast created of fire<sup>192</sup>, and him Thou hast created of clay<sup>493</sup>.
- 77. (قال . . . رخيم) Allah said : get thee forth herefrom 194, verily thou art driven away. 195

  - 87. (ان ... الملمن) It is naught but an admonition to the worlds.
- 88. (رئتلن . . . حين) And you shall surely come to know of its truth after a season505.
- 484. 'And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and men became a living soul.' (Ge. 2:7) Note that this spirit of God breathed into man was never withdrawn from him. Hence there is no doctrine of the 'fall of man' in Islam:
  - 485, See P. I. nn. 149, 150.
  - 486. See P. I. n. 151.
- 487. 'The Muslim mystics explain this as meaning with both the glorious and the terrific attributes of God, whereas the angels were created by the exercise of only one class of attributes.' (Pickthall)
  - 488. i. e., hast thou through arrogance an exaggerated idea of thyself?

  - 495. (from God's grace and mercy).
  - 496. (so that there is no chance whatever of forgiveness).
  - 497. i. e., the dead.
  - 498. i. e., the time of Resurrection.
  - 499. i. e., mankind; the progeny of Adam.
- 500. i. e., marked by Thy grace. 'In the Louvre there is a picture, by Guido Reni, of St. Michael with his foot on Satan's neck. The richness of the picture is in large part due to the fiend's figure being there. The richness of its allegorical meaning also is due to his being there—that is, the world is all the richer for having a devil in it, so long as we keep our foot upon his neck. In the religious consciousness, that is just the position in which the fiend, the negative or tragic principle, is found; and for that very reason the religious conciousness is so rich from the emotional point of view.' (James, Varieties of Religious Experience, p, 50).
  - 501. (O Prophet !)
  - 502. (O pagans).
- 503. i. e., for my preoching. The purport is: I have no thought of gain or any other such motive for forging the role of an apostle.
  - 504. i. e., nor am I led by nature or habit to practice deceit and falsehood.
  - 505. (but then it shall be of no avail).

The troops. XXXIX

(Makkan, 8 Sections and 75 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (تنزيل . . . الحكيم) The revelation of this Book is from Allah, the Mighty<sup>506</sup>, the Wise<sup>507</sup>.
- 2. (الدين) Verily We! We have sent down the Book to thee with truth: so worship thou Allah, making exclusion for Him in religion.
- 3. (الا . . . كنار) Lo! for Allah is the religion exclusive. <sup>510</sup> and those who take patrons <sup>511</sup>besides Him, saying <sup>512</sup>: we do not worship them save in order that they may bring us nigh unto Allah <sup>513</sup>— verily Allah will judge between them <sup>514</sup> concerning that wherein they differ <sup>515</sup>. Verily Allah does not guide him who is <sup>516</sup> a liar and ingrate.
- 4. (لر . . التبار) Had Allah willed to take a son, He would have chosen whomsoever He pleased out of what He has created<sup>517</sup>. Hallowed be He<sup>518</sup>! He is Allah, the One<sup>519</sup>, the Subduer.<sup>520</sup>
  - 506. i. e., Able to punish the opponents of His will immediately.
- 507. i. e.. One who gives respite to the transgressors in accordance with His universal Scheme.
  - 508. (O Prophet !)
- 509. i. e., sincere and exclusive obeisance is due to God and to re-establish them on the earth was the mission of the holy Prophet.
  - 510. Zeal and enthusiasm must follow true religion and piety.
- 511. (as more intimately connected with the affairs of man and more responsive to his invocations).
- 512. i.e., apologising for their cult of saints, angles, incarnations, and other gods!

- 513. i. e., the ever recurring plea of the polytheistic people. Compare and contrast with this absolute, pure, and unadulterated monotheism of Islam the palpably polytheistic attitude of Christianity, 'The faithful who belong to the Church militant upon earth, in offering their prayers to God, call at the same time to their aid the saints who belong to the Church in heaven; and these, standing on the highest steps of approach to God, by their prayers and intercessions purify, strengthen, and offer before God the prayers of the faithful living upon earth, and by the will of God work graciously and bineficently upon them.' ('Longer Orthodox Catechism,' quoted in ERE, XI, p. 51) 'We ask God to grant blessings, we ask the saints to be our advocates. To God we say; "Have mercy on us"; to the saints we commonly say: "Pray for us"...We beg of them, as they are pitiful, to take compassion on us and interpose in our behalf.' ('Roman Catechism', quoted in ERE, XI, p. 51) This mentality, perhaps, is at the root of the primitive manesworship and the Christian cults of the dead. 'A crowd of saints, who were once men and women, now form an order of inferior deities, active in the affairs of men and receiving from them reverence and prayer.' (PC. II. p. 120)
- 514. i. e., the true believers on the one hand and the polytheists on the other.
- 515. i. e., respective divine honours to be effered to those Mediators and gods and goddesses.
  - 516. (by habit and choice).
- 517. i.e., that 'Son' as a created being would have been in any case inferior to Him. The argument is: assuming that God betook for Himself a Son, is that Son an uncreated Being like Himself, or a created being inferior to Him and belonging to another class? If the former, then the clear conclusion is a doctrine of Dualism; if the latter, does it besit a Persect Being to beget one who is impersect?
  - 518. (from all such blasphemous notions).
  - 519. i. e., admitting of no duality or plurality in His person.
- 520. i. e., admitting of no partnership in His attributes. See P. XII. n. 496.

الأعنان المنظمة المنظ

- 5. (خان . . الفقار) He has created the heavens and the earth with و purpose<sup>521</sup>. He rolleth the night around the day, and He rolleth the day around the night<sup>522</sup> and He has subjected the sun and the moon<sup>523</sup>each running on for a term appointed. In I He is the Mighty<sup>524</sup>, the Forgiving<sup>525</sup>.
- 6. (خلفكم . . . تصرنون) He created you<sup>526</sup> of a single soul<sup>527</sup> and made his spouse<sup>528</sup> therefrom<sup>529</sup>; and of the cattle He sent down unto you<sup>530</sup> eight kinds<sup>531</sup>. He creates you in the bellies of your mothers, one creation after creation,<sup>532</sup> in threefold darkness.<sup>533</sup> Such is Allah, your Lord. His is the dominion, there is no god but He. Whither then turn you away<sup>534</sup>?
- 7. (ان المدور) If you disbelieve, then verily Allah is independent of you<sup>535</sup>. And he does not approve of infidelity in His bondmen<sup>536</sup>. And if you return thanks<sup>537</sup>, He approves of that in you. No burdened soul shall have another's burdened<sup>538</sup>. Your return is thereafter to your Lord, and He shall declare to you what you have been doing<sup>539</sup>, verily He is Knower of innumerate secrets.
  - 521. i. e., with a definite purpose; and not aimlessly or sportively.
- 522. 'Professor Whitehead describes the universe, not as something static but as a structure of events possessing the character of a continuous creative flow. This quality of Nature's passage in time is perhaps the most significant aspect of experience which the Qurān especially emphasizes.' (Iqbal, Reconstruction of Religious Thought in Islam, p. 61)
- 523. (to His laws). Being no deities or sub-deities, these two heavenly bodies, like all created beings, are subservient to Him and His laws.
  - 524. So He shall punish those who reject His signs.
  - 525. So He shall forgive them who repent after their rejection.
  - 526. (O mankind!) See P. IV. n. 476.
- 527. (which He originated). The Holy Quran makes it absolutely plain that all the present varieties of mankind have descended from a single undivided stock, and that the white-, the black-, and the red-skinned people of to-day, ——the typical Negrito and the typical Caucasian-have sprung from one common 'Specific unity of mankind is shown, in the words of a recent authority on anthropology, in the prevailing physical and mental uniformity of all peoples. According to E. B. Tylor all tribes of men, from the blackest to the whitest, the most savage to the most cultured, have such general likeness, in the structure of their bodies and the working of their minds, as is easiest and best accounted for by their being descended from a common ancestry, however, distant" (ERE.V,p. 522). The question of the unity of mankind has occupied a prominent position among the ethnological attempts to survey the cultural history of the non-historic peoples... World-wide distribution of similar cultural types could not possibly have taken place at early stage of human civilization, if, as some believed it to have been, the origin of humanity would not have been one, but manifold and parallel, in various regions of the globe. To this evidence, moreover, the observations of physical anthropology have still to be added. The various social, i. e., the bodily types of the human race, are different in superficial details, such as colour of skin, hair and eyes, form of nose, lips, eyelids or structure of the hair. But still, the human body is fundamentally the same among all the nations of the world,' (Ehrenfels in The Islamic Culture, for Oct. 1940, pp. 439, 440). The Quran is clear and emphatic in asserting the basic unity of mankind and in proclaiming that Man is of one kind. See also P. 1V. n. 477; IX. n. 346.

- 528. i. e., Eve the first woman.
- 529. i. e., from that soul.
- 530. i. e., four classes, male and female, of sheep, goats, camels and oxen.
- 531. i. e., for your general domestic use.
- 532. i. e., by various stages.
- 533. The embryo is covered by a membrane, which is in the womb, which again is in the belly; hence the three veils of darkness.
  - 534. (O polytheists!)
  - 535. (so you cannot harm Him possibly).
  - 536. (in their interest, as it is to their own hurt).
  - 537. (to Him, by accepting true doctrines).
- 538. (in the Hereafter). This does away with the doctrine of atonement altogether.
  - 539. (and shall recompense you accordingly).

- 9. (امن . . . اللباب) Is he who is devout in the watches of the night prostrating himself and standing, bewaring of the Hereafter and hoping for the mercy of His Lord to be dealt with like a wicked infidel? Say thou<sup>542</sup>: shall they who know and those who know not be held equal<sup>513</sup>? It is only men of understanding who receive admonition.

- 10. (قل ... حاب) Say thou<sup>514</sup>: My faithful bondmen! fear your Lord. For those who do good in this world there is good<sup>545</sup>; and Allah's earth is spacious<sup>546</sup>. Surely the steadfast will be paid their wages in full without reckoning<sup>517</sup>.
- 11. (قل ... الدين) Say thou<sup>548</sup>: verily I am bidden to worship Allah, making religion exclusive for Him<sup>549</sup>.

- 15. (قاعدوا مالين) So worship whatever you will besides Him<sup>555</sup> O pagans! Say thou: the real losers are those who shall have lost themselves<sup>556</sup> and their households<sup>557</sup> on the Day of Judgement. Lo! that will be a manifest loss<sup>558</sup>.
- 16. (لبم ... فاتقون) For them! coverings of Fire will be above them and beneath them. With this Allah frightens His bondmen. My bondmen therefore fear Me.
- 17. (والذين . . . عاد) And those who shun the devils lest they should worship them and turn to Allah in penitence, for them are glad tidings 559. So give thou 560 glad tidings to My bondmen.

22. (انس . . . مين) Shall he then whose breast Allah has expanded for Islam, so that he follows a light from His Lord be as he whose heart is hardened? Then woe to those who hearts are hardened against remembrance of Allah. 567 They are in a manifest error.

- 34. (لهم . . . المسنين) Theirs shall be whatever they will desire with their Lord'; that is the wage of the well-doers.
- 35. (ایکئر... سمارن) This will be in order that Allah may expiate from them the evil of what they may have worked, and may recompense them their wage for the best of what they have been working.
- 36. (الس ماد) Is Allah not sufficient for His bondmen ? Yet they would frighten thee with those besides Him. And whom Al ah sends astray to him there will be no guide.

They will surely say: Allah,¹⁴ Say thou¹⁵: consider you then that those whom you call upon besides Allah,——could they, if Allah intended some hurt for me, remove His hurt? Or if He intended some mercy for me, could they withhold His mercy?¹⁶ Say thou: enough for me is Allah; in Him the trusting put their trust.
- 39. (قل . . . تىلرن) Say thou: O my people! act according to your station; I am going to act in my way; presently you shall come to know——

- 41. (ا برکیل) Verily Wel We have sent down to thee of the Book for mankind with truth. Then whoever receives guidance it is for this own soul, and whoever strays, strays only to its hurt; and thou art not a guardian over them.

- 42. (نفکرون) Allah it is Who takes away the souls at the time of their death and those who do not die in their sleep then He withholds those on whom He has decreed death, and sends back the rest? for an appointed term? Verily herein are signs? for those who ponder.
- 43. (ام...مثلرن) Have they<sup>30</sup> taken others for intercessors<sup>31</sup> besides Allah? Say thou: what I even though they<sup>32</sup> own not aught and understand not?
  - 12. (O Prophet!)
  - 13. i. e., the pagans of Makka.
- 14. The Makkans believed 'in a supreme God whom they called Allah'. (I-RE.I.p. 326) 'Wellhausen cites a large number of passages in which pre-Islamic Arabs mentioned Allah as a great deity'. (p. 664). The offence of the Arabs was not that they denied the Supreme Being or the Creator; they fully recognized His existence, but they associated other deities with Him.

- 15. (to confute them).
- 16. i. e., have these associate-gods of yours any power either for good or for evil in the presence of the Almighty? In the philosophy underlying the religion of polytheism, nature is throughout divine. Everything which is impressive by reason of its sublimity is supposed to be capable of affecting man for good or evil, and therefore becomes a direct object of adoration and worship. It is this position the Quian is so merciless in assailing.
  - 17. i. e., the Arabs.
  - 18. (in this world).
  - 19. (in the Hereafter).
  - 20. (O Prophet !).
  - 21. i. e., for their benefit and instruction.
  - 22. i. e., for the benefit and advantage of his own soul.
  - 23. i. e., responsible for their actions.
  - 24. (of men in toto).
- 25. (partially). Life itself ceases at the time of death, while conscious life undergoes temporary cessation during every act of sleep.
  - 26. (souls) i. e., does not permit them again to return into their bodies.
  - 27. (to their bodies, when they are awake).
  - 28. i. e., till the time of their death.
  - 29. (of His providence).
  - 30. i. e., the pagans.
  - 31. (and therefore as objects of adoration and worship).
  - 32. i. e., images and idols.

- 44. (تل... ترجبون) Say thou: Allah's is intercession altogether<sup>38</sup>. His is the dominion of the heavens and the earth; then<sup>34</sup> to Him you shall be returned<sup>35</sup>.
- 46. (قل . . . مختلنون) Say thou<sup>40</sup>: Allah! Creator of the heavens and the earth<sup>41</sup>! Knower of the hidden and the open! Thou shalt judge between them<sup>48</sup> concerning what they have been differing in.
- 47. (ولو . . . يعتبيرن) And were the ungodly<sup>43</sup> to own<sup>44</sup> all that is on the earth, and with it as much again, they will seek surely to ransom therewith<sup>45</sup> from the torment of the Day of Judgment, and there will become apparent to them from Allah what they had not been reckoning<sup>46</sup>.
- 48. (ويدالهم . . يستهزؤن) And there will become apparent to them the evils of what they earned, and there will surround them what they had been mocking at.
- 49. (نافنا ميلون) When hurt touches a man<sup>47</sup> he calls on Us<sup>48</sup>, and afterwards when We have changed it into a favour from Us, he says<sup>49</sup>: I have obtained it<sup>58</sup> by force of my knowledge<sup>51</sup>. Ayel it is a trial<sup>52</sup>, but most of them know not.

<sup>33.</sup> i. e., none can presume to intercede with Him, unless by His permission. This strikes at the very root of Saviourhood and Mediation of Christ and others. Referring to four passages in the NT says a modern spokesman of Christianity:—'In all these passages Christ is represented as mediating between God and man. God and man have been estranged. The relation which normally subsists between them has been destroyed, and the work of the mediator is to restore it. In I Timothy this work is explicitly connected with the redemptive death of Christ; there is one mediator between God and men, Himself man, Christ Jesus, who gave Himself a ransom for all'. (ERE, VIII. p. 516). The Christians pride themselves on calling this faith the religion of Mediation. 'While the word "mediator" is rarely met with, the idea contained in it is one of the most vital and influential thoughts in religion. Nearly every religion bears witness to it...(It) is found more clearly and forcibly expressed in Christianity than in any other type of religion. So prominent and characteristic is the idea that we might define Christianity in the abstract as Theism plus Mediation...for it is this idea that most distinguishes the religion of the NT from pure Theism. (D.B. III. p. 311-12).

- 34. (after the expiry of your life in this world).
- 35. (so Him alone you are to worhip).
- 36. (as the One and Only God).
- 37. i. e., those who are not true monotheists.
- 38. Whether as independent gods, co-equal with God or as subordinate associate-gods.
- 39. Although the pagans of Makka were familier with the idea of a Creator, Allah, yet this belief 'had little significance in their lives, as in the Maker of the universe they did not see their Lawgiver and Judge, but held themselves dependant for their good and evil fortune upon all manner of beings which they rendered favourable or harmless by animistic practices.' (Hurgronje, Mohammedanism, p. 29) Not very different is the case of the Christians. Look at their invocation of the saints, their veneration of relics and their use of images. And look at their Litany of the Blessed Virgin:—'We fly to thy patronage, O holy Mother of God! despise not our prayers in our necessities, but deliver us from all dangers, O ever glorious and blessed virgin, Lord, have mercy on us. Christ, have mercy on us...God the Father of Heaven, have mercy on us. God the Son, Redeemer of the world, have mercy on us. God the Holy Ghost, have mercy on us. Holy Trinity, One God, have mercy on us...Lord of God, who takes away the sins of the world, have mercy on us. Pray for us, O holy Mother of God.' (Butler's Catechism, pp. 9-12). See also P.I.n. 523).

- 54. (وانسوا . . تنصرون) Turn penitently to your Lord<sup>63</sup>, and submit to Him<sup>64</sup>, before there comes to you the torment, and then you shall not be succoured<sup>65</sup>.
- 55. (دائبوا . . تغيرون) And follow the best of what has been sent down to you from your Lord before there comes to you the torment of a sudden, while you perceive not 7.
- 56. (ان الساخرين) lest<sup>68</sup> a soul should say<sup>69</sup>: Alas ! for that I have been remiss in respect of Allah, and I was but of the scoffers!
  - 53. Compare a saying of Korah in Surat-ul-Qasas, verse 78.
  - 54. i. e., their devices and designs.
  - 55. i. e., the evil consequences.
  - 56. (of men of this generation).
  - 57, (Our vengeance).
- 58. (in accordance with His own universal laws, and not as a consequence to the infidels' petty devices and designs).
  - 59. (of God's sole potency).
  - 60. (on My behalf, O Prophet!)

- 61. (by acts of infidelity and impiety).
- 62. (to those who since rely repent and confess His Unity). Compare and contrast with this the teaching of the NT:—'All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in the world to come.' (Mt. 12:31, 32)
  - 63. (to earn His forgiveness).
  - 64. (by embracing Islam).
- 65. i. e., if you die in the state of infidelity then there can be no escape from the inevitable.
  - 66. i. e., the Revealed religion, the whole of which is best.
  - 67. (the approach of it).
  - 68. i. e., you are invited to this course of action lest ----.
  - 69. (on that Day).

- 57. (اد تقول . . . الثنين) Or, lest it should say: had Allah but guided me<sup>70</sup>, I would surely have been of the pious!
- 58. (او تقول . . . المحسنين) Or, lest it should say when it beholds the torment: were there for me a return<sup>71</sup>! would be of the well-doers.
- 59. (بالى . . . الكثرين) Yeal <sup>72</sup> surely there came to thee My revelations, but thou beliedest them and wast stiff-necked<sup>73</sup> and wast of the infidels.
- 60. (ريوم . . . المتكرين) And on the Day of Judgment thou<sup>74</sup> shalt see those who lied against Allah<sup>75</sup>——their faces blackened<sup>76</sup>. Is not the abode of the stiff-necked in Hell?
- 61. (رینجی . . . بحزتون) And Allah will deliver them who feared Him to their place of safety. Evil will not touch them, nor will they grieve.
- 62. (الله . . . وكيل) Allah is the Creator of everything, <sup>76</sup>-A and He is a Trustee over everything  $^{76}$ -B .
- 63. (له . . . الخسرون) His are the keys of the heavens and the earth?; and those who disbelieve in the revelations of Allah——those I they are the losers.

- 64. (قل . . . الجاملون) Say thou<sup>78</sup>: is it other than Allah that you<sup>79</sup> call me to worship, O you pagans!<sup>80</sup>
- 65. (رابقد . . . الخاسرين) And assuredly it has been revealed to thee $^{81}$  and to those before thee $^{82}$ : if thou $^{83}$  joinest $^{84}$  surely of no effect shall be made thy work, and thou shalt surely be of the losers.
- 66. (بلالله . . . الشاكرين) Aye! Allah must thou worship, and be among the thankful.

<sup>72.</sup> Thus they will be answered.

- 73. The denial was due not to any lack of understanding but to sheer contumacy.
  - 74. (O Prophet!)
- 75. (denying the mission of the holy Prophet and calling the Holy Quran a human production).
  - 76. (with the scorching fire of the Hell, as also with fear and disgrace).
- 76-A. Even a thing so evident to the religious conciousness of mankind has needed special emphasis in view of the crudities and monstrosities of many a 'philosopher:' Aristotle, for example, is no believer in Divine creation. 'If the question be asked, whether Aristotle thinks of God as creator of the world, the answer must certain ly be that he does not. For him matter is ungenerated, eternal; he expressly argues against a creation of the world.' (Rose, Aristotle, p. 184)
- 76-B. (and not only the First Cause or Prime Mover, as understood by pagan philosophers). He is the supreme Director, the Provider of everything big or small, and is into the closest conceivable relation with every object of the universe. 'Aristotle, when he considers the nature of God, feels that the ascription to Him of any practical interest in the world would detract from His perfection.' (Rose, op. cit., p. 124).
  - 77. i. e., He is their sole Creator, Preserver and Ruler.
  - 78. (O men of Makka!)
  - 79. (O Prophet!)
- 80. اجاهل iterally is 'Ignorant; and, silly, or foolish, in conduct; and, wrong in conduct; characterised by in any of the senses assigned to this word above.' (LL), but in the usage of the Holy Qurān is also synonymous with a 'pagan' or 'a heathen'; and it is in this sense that the word is used here. See P. IV. n. 264.
  - 81. (O Prophet:!)
  - 82. (of the prophets).
  - 83. (O reader !)
  - 84. (aught with God).

- 67. (رما . . . يشركون) And they®3 do not estimate Allah with an estimation due to Him®6, whereas the whole earth®7 shall be His handful®8 on the Day of Judgment, and the heavens®9 shall be rolled in His right hand®9. Hallowed be He and Exalted above what they associate®1.
- 68. (رتانع بيطرون) And the trumpet shall be blown<sup>92</sup>, when all who are in the heavens and all who are on the earth<sup>93</sup> shall swoon away<sup>91</sup>, save whom Allah wills<sup>95</sup>. Then it shall be blown again, and lo! they<sup>95</sup> shall be standing, looking on<sup>97</sup>.
- 69. (دائرت بظارت) And the earth will gleam with the light<sup>98</sup> of the Lord<sup>99</sup> and the Record<sup>100</sup> will be set up,<sup>101</sup> and the prophets and the witnesses<sup>102</sup> will be brought, and the judgement between them<sup>103</sup> will be given with truth, and they will not be wronged.
- 70. (دونیت . . . يتمارن) Every soul will be paid in fuli<sup>101</sup> what it has worked; and He is the Best Knower of what they do<sup>105</sup>.

SECTION 8

71. (رسيق من الكفرين) And those who disbelieve will be driven to Hell in troops<sup>106</sup> till, when they arrive thereto, its portals will be opened, and its keepers will say to them<sup>107</sup>: did not there come to you messengers from amognst you, rehearsing to you the revelations of your Lord and warning you of the meeting of this your Day? They will say: Yea! but the word of chastisement has been justified on the infidels<sup>108</sup>.

<sup>86.</sup> See P. VII. n. 585. Compare a saying of Paul in the NT: "We ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device." (Ac. 18: 29)

<sup>87. (</sup>with all its vastness).

- 89. (with their staggering dimensions).
- 90. (like an ordinary scroll). Notice the specification of the right hand—the hand of power and majesty.
  - 91. (with Him).
  - 92. (for the first time).
  - 93. (of the living created beings).
- 94. i. e., the living will die, and the souls of the dead will become unconscious. (Th.)
- 95. (to except from the common fate). 'Who can be the subject of this exception but those in whom the ego has reached the very highest point of intensity? And the climax of this development is reached when the ego is able to retain full self-possession, even in the case of a direct contact with the all-embracing Ego. As the Qurān says of the Prophet's vision of the Ultimate Ego: His eye turned not aside, nor did it wander.' (53:17) 'This is the ideal of perfect manhood in Islam. Nowwhere has it found a better literary expression than in a Persian verse which speaks of the Prophets' experience of Divine illumination:

"Moses fainted away by a mere surface illumination of Reality: Thou seest the very substance of Reality with a smile!" (Iqbal, op. cit. pp. 163-164).

- 96. i. e., all the created living beings now dead.
- 97. (in wonder).
- 98. i. e., with full glory.
- 99. (and not with the glory of the 'Son of man'). Contrast with this Mt. 25: 31 ff.
  - 102. (of every one).
  - 101. (before him).
- 102. (including, besides prophets, angels and the Muslim community as a whole.
  - 103. i. e., between sentient beings endowed with responsibility.
- 104. i. e., neither the wicked receiving more punishment, nor the good receiving less reward than what is due.
- 105. Compare with this highly monotheistic description of the Judgment Day a similar description, essentially polytheistic, in the NT, Mt. 25:31 ff.
  - 106. Classed according to the degrees of their impiety and infidelity.
  - 107. (by way of reproach).
  - 108. (as they paid no heed to the warnings).

- 72. (نيل . . . المتكرين) It will be said : enter the portals of Hell to be abiders therein<sup>109</sup>. How ill, then is the abode of the stiff necked!
- 73. (وسيق . عالدين) And those who feared their Lord will be driven to the Garden in troops<sup>110</sup> till, when they arrive thereto, and its portals will be opened,<sup>115</sup> and its keepers will say to them<sup>112</sup>: peace be to your excellent are you, enter it as abiders<sup>113</sup>.
- 74. (رقال المالين) And they<sup>114</sup> will say<sup>115</sup>: all praise to Allah, Who has made good His promise to us, and made us inherit this land<sup>116</sup>, so that we may dwell in the Garden wherever we will!<sup>117</sup> Excellent, then, is the wage of the workers!
- 75. (رثری اللین) And thou wilt see<sup>118</sup> the angels thronging round the Throne<sup>116</sup>, hallowing the praise of their Lord. And Judgment will be given between them<sup>176</sup> with truth<sup>121</sup>; and it will be said<sup>122</sup>: all praise to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.
- 109. (for ever). Cf. the Bible:—'Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.' (Mt. 25:41)
  - 110. Classed according to the degrees of the faith and good work.
  - 111. (to receive them). See Surat-us-Sad, verse 51.
  - 112. (by way of greeting and welcoming them).
- 113. (for ever; and thus they do enter). Cf. the Bible:—'Inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.' (Mt 25: 34).
  - 114. i. e., the inmates of Paradise.
  - 115. (among themselves).
  - 116. (of Paradise for eternity).
  - 117. (in perfect security and abundance).
  - 118. (O Prophet 1)
  - 119. (with due obeisance). The particle is here partitive.
  - 120. i. s., between His creatures.
  - 121. i. e., with perfect justice and equity.
  - 122. (at the end of Judgment by all the created beings).

The Believer. XL

(Makkan, 9 Sections and 85 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (حم) Ha. Mim.
- 2. (تنزيل . . . العام) The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Knower.
- 3. (غاز . . . المير) the Forgiver of sin, Accepter of repentance 183, Severe in chastisement, Lord of Power 124. No god is there but He; to Him is the journeying,
- 4. (ما .... البلاد) None dispute concerning the revelation of Al'ah save those who disbelieve; so let not their going about in the cities beguile thee<sup>125</sup>.
- 5. (کتبت عفاب) The people of Nüh and the confederates after them, belied their messengers before these 127, and every disbelieving community advanced towards their messenger that they may seize him 128, and disputed with vain talk, that they may confute the truth thereby 129. So I seized them, and how terrible was My chastisement!

<sup>123.</sup> Note once more that the expiation of sin in Islam entirely rests, on the one hand, on the repentance of the sinner and, on the other hand, on the forgiving and merciful nature of God.

- 124. عن العاول means 'The Possessor of all-sufficiency, and of superabundance, or of bounty, or the Possessor of power, or of bounty, and beneficence.' (LL)
- 125. (into thinking that they will escape punishment, O reader !) See P. IV. n. 458.
  - 126. (of evil and infid lity).
  - 127. i. e., before the t ne of these Makkan pagans.
  - 128. i. e., that they might get him in their power.
  - 129. (perversely ignoring the merits of the Message).

آنۇنى كُفُرُوْآ اِنَهُ مُوَّا اَنَهُ مُوَّا اَنَهُ مُوَا اَنْهُ مُوَا الْمُوَا الْمَا اللَّهُ مُوَا اللَّهُ مُوَا اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ مُوَا اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ مُوا اللَّهُ مُولِعُوا اللَّهُ اللَّهُ

- 6. (رکزاك . . . النار) And thus has the Word of thy Lord been justified on them who disbelieve, that they shall be the inmates of the Fire.
- 7. (الذين . . . البحيم) Those 130 who bear the Throne, and those who are round about it, hallow the praise of their Lord and believe in Him and ask forgiveness for the faithful 131, saying: our Lord! Thou comprehendest everything in mercy 132 and knowledge 133, so forgive those who repent and follow Thy path, and protect them from the torment of the Flaming Fire.
- 8. (رباً . . . الحَجَم) Our Lord! make them enter the Everlasting Gardens which Thou hast promised them, and also such of their fathers and their wives and their offspring as are fit<sup>134</sup>. Verily Thou! Thou art the Mighty<sup>185</sup>, the Wise<sup>13</sup>.6
- 9. (رقهم من And guard them against evils<sup>137</sup>. And whom Thou shalt protect from evils an the Day, him Thou hast certainly taken into mercy: and that: it is a mighty achievement.

SECTION 2

10. (ان ... نکفرون) Verily those who disbelieve—they will be cried unto  $^{1:8}$ : surely Allah's abhorrence  $^{1:9}$  was greater than is your abhorrence toward yourselves  $^{1:0}$ , when you were called to belief  $^{1:41}$ , and you rejected.

- 130. (of the angels).
- 131. (and dwell on the earth).
- 132. (so Thou art sure to be merciful to the believers).
- 133. (so Thou art sure to have knowledge of their belief).
- 134. (to enter Paradise, but yet whose good works are not of the highest order). This shows that the faithful by their good works and prayers may cause their relatives who have died in the faith a higher degree of merit than they would be entitled to on the ground of their own works.

- 135. i. e., Able to make whomsoever Thou wilt enter the Paradise.
- 136. i. e., Full of wisdom in apportioning degrees to the immates of Hell and Heaven.
  - 137. (of every sort).
- 138. (when in the agony of Fire they will be feeling highly disguested with themselves).
  - 139. (towards you).
  - 140. (just now).
  - 141. (while in the world).

تَنافَعْتُهُ وَلِكُمْ بِأَنَّهُ إِذَا دُى اللهُ وَحْلَةُ كَفَرْتُمْ وَإِن يُشْرُكُ بِهِ تُؤْمِنُوا كَاكُمُ وَلِهِ الْحَكِيّ الْكَبُونِ هُوَالَّذِي الْمَيْدِ فِي وَلَا لَهُ عَلَا اللهُ عَلَمَ اللهُ الْحَكُمُ وَلِمَا اللهُ عَلَى اللهُ اللهُ عَلَا اللهُ عَلَى اللهُ اللهُ اللهُ عَلَى اللهُ اللهُ

- 11. (قاوا . . . بسيل) They will say: our Lord! Thou hast made us die twice<sup>142</sup>, and Thou hast made us live twice<sup>143</sup>, now we confess our sins<sup>144</sup>, is there no getting out any way ?
- 12. (زالکم . . . الکیر) That is  $^{145}$  because when Allah alone was called upon you denied; and when some one was associated with Him you believed  $^{146}$ . So the judgment is of Allah, the Exalted, the Great.
- 13. (مرالذی . . . فرالذی He it is Who shows you<sup>147</sup> His signs<sup>143</sup> and sends down provision for you from the heaven, and none receives admonition<sup>149</sup> save him who turns<sup>150</sup> in penitence.
- 14. (نادعو . . . الكفرين) Therefore call to Allah, making faith pure for Him, averse as the infidels may be.
- 15. (رئیم . . . التلاق) He is Lofty in degrees 151, Lord of the Throne. He casts the spirit of His command 152 upon whomsoever He will of His bondmen, that he 153 may warn the people of the Day of meeting——
- 16. (روم...النبال) the Day whereon they<sup>154</sup> will appear<sup>155</sup>; nothing of them will be concealed from Allah. Whose is the dominion today? It is of Allah, the One<sup>156</sup>, the Subduer<sup>157</sup>.
- 17. (اليوم . . . الحساب) Today every soul will be recompensed for what it has earned, no wrong-doing today; verily Allah is Swift at Reckoning.
- 142. (having first created us in a state of lifelessness and given life to our inanimate body, and then causing us to die a natural death).
  - 143. (first in the earthly life and then in the life after the resurrection).
  - 144. (specially the sin of denying the Resurrection).
  - 145. This will be said to them by the angels.
  - 146. See n. 39 above.
  - 147. (O mankind!)

- 148. i. e., the evidences of His uniqueness and potency.
- 149. (and guidance).
- 150. i. e., who wills to believe; who is sincerely and seriously desirous of finding guidance.
  - 151. Or, the Exalter of ranks; One who has lofty degrees to confer.
  - 152. i. e., of His Revelation.
  - 153. i. e., the recipient of Revelation.
  - 154. i. e., mankind.
  - 155. (face to face with their maker).
  - 156. i. e., admitting of no duality or plurality in His power or nature
  - 157. i. e., admitting of no partnership in His attributes, See P.XII.n. 496.

- 18. (وانذرم) Warn them thou of the Day of Portending<sup>158</sup> whereon the hearts will be in the throats, chocking<sup>159</sup>; then for the ungodly there will be no ardent friend nor an intercessor to be given heed to.
- 19. (يىلم . . . الصدور) He knows the fraud of the eyes, and what the breasts conceal.
- 20. (والله عند) Allah decrees with truth, while those whom they call upon beside Allah cannot decree anything. Verily Allah: He is the Hearer, the Beholder!

SECTION 3

- 21. ( $0, \dots, 0$ ) Have they <sup>161</sup> not travelled about in the land so that they may see how has been the end of those who were before them <sup>162</sup>. They were mightier than these in strength and in the traces <sup>163</sup> in the land. Yet Allah seized them for their sins, and from Allah they had none as protector.
- 22. (والك . . . النفاب) This, because their messengers were wont to bring them evidences<sup>164</sup>, but they disbelieved: so Allah seized them. Verily He is Strong, Severe in chastisement.
- 23. (دلقد . . مين) And assuredly We sent Mūsā with Our signs : and a clear authority:
- 24. (الى . . . گذاب) to Fir'awn¹65, Hāmān¹66 and Qārūn¹67, but they said : a magacian, a liar.

159. (with terror).

160. i.e., God is and shall be the sole Judge. This repudiates the Christian doctrine of Jesus being the Judge and Arbiter. Cf. the NT:—For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward

<sup>158. (</sup>O Prophet!) آزن applied to a man, hastening, or quick; and endeavouring to hasten, or be quick. الازنة The resurrection;...or it means, the near event, or case, of being on the brink of the fire of Hell.' (LL)

every man according to his works.' (Mt. 16:27) 'When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shephered divideth his sheep from the goats: and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.' (Mt. 25: 31-34)

- 161. i. e., the present-day infidels.

  - 173. (to protect him from me).
  - 174. (if left alive and free).
- 175. i. e., your ancient national religion, which included the Pharaoh worship. The popular religion of Egypt, at the time of Moses, was gross form of polytheism. 'The priests had invented, and maintained the outward polytheism and idolatry, as the only religion suitable to the mass of the people; they inculcated it; they administered its rites; they sanctioned its grossness, its licentiousness, its lowering and debasing materialism.' (Rawlinson, Moses: His Life and Times, p. 39)

- 177-A. Cf. the Of:—'He that feared the word of the Lord among the servants of Pharaoh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses' (Ex.9: 20) That some, at all events, of the Egyptians had come to believe in Moses seems certain.
  - 178. (to the people of the Egyptian court).
  - 179. (i.e. upon his head will be the evil consequences of his life.
- 180. Compare a similar incident, recorded in connection with the apostle Jesus, in the NT:—' When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them. Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law... And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men... And now I say unto you, Refrain form these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought: But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.' (Ac. 5: 33-39)

- 30. (وقال . . الاحزاب) And he who believed said: my people! I fear for you a fate like that of the factions of the old 187.
- 31. (مثل . . . الأجاد) Like the fate of the people of Nuh and Aad and Thamud and those after them; and Allah does not intend any wrong to His bondmen 188.
  - 32. (وياقرم . . التاد) And, my people! I fear for you a day of Mutual Calling.
- 33. (رير) A Day whereon you shall turn away retreating<sup>189</sup>; for you there will be no protector from Allah, and he whom Allah sends astray<sup>190</sup>, for him there is no guide.
- 34.   - 193. i.e., his monotheistic teaching.

- 35. (الذين عبار) those who wrangle concerning the signs of Allah without any authority that has come to them. It is greatly abhorrent to Allah and to those who believe. Thus Allah seals up the heart of every stiff-necked high-handed person.

- 37. (וציין בי יוף) the roads of the heavens so that I may mount up to the God of Mūsā, and surely I believe him to be a liar<sup>199</sup>. And thus fair-seeming to Fir'awn was made the evil of his work, and he was hindered from the path<sup>209</sup>. And the plot of Fir'awn, ended only in perdition.

- 38. (رقال . . . الرعاد) And he who had believed said: my people! follow me, and I shall guide you to the path of rectitude. 302
- 39. (یاقرم . . . ااقرار) My people! the life of this world is only a passing enjoyment, and verily the Hereafter! that is the Abode of rest.
- 40. (من عمل . . . حساب) Whosoever works an evil, he shall not be requited except the like thereof; and whosoever, male or female, works righteously, and is a believer——they will enter a Garden wherein they shall be provided for without measure.
- 41. (ریاتوم . . . النار) And, my people! how is it that I call you unto salvation, while you call me to the Fire?

and more important political factor. We recall that he was head of the sacerdotal organization embracing all the priesthoods of the country: he thus controlled a most influential political faction. Hence it was that the High Priest of Amon under Merneptah (Ramses II's son and successor) and possibly already under Ramses himself was ab'e to go further and to install his own son as his successor, thus firmly entrenching his family at the head of the most influential hierarchy in Egypt." (Breasted, History of Egypt. pp. 456-457). See also P. XX. n. 100.

- 197. In the Jewish tradition there is a dim yet sufficiently distinct mention of a castle being built for the king of Egypt 'between heaven and earth'. ( JE. I. p.288). The kings were the builders, and the high-priests carried out their directions.' (Rawlinson, Ancient Egypt. p. 290). Hāmān, or the Theban High Priest of Amon was also the Principal Architect of the empire ( ib ).
  - 198. See P. XX. n. 211.

SECTION 7

61. (الله . . . يشكرون) Allah it is Who has made the night that you may repose therein, 233 and the day enlightening. Verily Allah is the Lord of grace for mankind: yet most of mankind return not thanks. 231

<sup>224.</sup> i. e., with no plausible grounds whatever.

<sup>230. (</sup>and not unto others). Prayer is the higher medium, in Islam, whereby man can enter into communion with God. See P. II. nn. 231, 232; P. XX. n. 8.

- 231. Whether that answer be immediate, direct or indirect. Cf. the OT:— 'Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.' (Is. 55:6) And the NT:—'Watch ye therefore and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass.' (Lk. 21:36).
- 232. 'God, himself, the One, reveals himself to man through prophets and otherwise, and man, in prayer, can come directly to God. This is Muhammad's great glory. The individual soul and its God are face to face' (Macdonald, Religious Attitude and Life in Islam, p. 38)
- 233. Contrast with this such fantastic doctrines of certain polytheist peoples; 'Summer and Winter are at war with one another, exactly like Day and Night; Day and Summer gladden, as Night and Winter vex the world.' (ERE. v. p. 103)
  - 234. (by acknowledging His unity)

- 62. (دالکم , , , توفکون ) Such is Allah, your Lord, the Creator of everything; there is no god but He. Whither then are you straying away? 236
- 63. (کاخالیك . . . بجمدرن) In this wise those who were wont to gainsay the signs of Allah have strayed away.237
- 64. (الله . . . الملين ) Allah it is Who has made the earth for you a resting-place and the sky a structure;<sup>238</sup> and fashioned you<sup>239</sup> and fashioned well, and provided for you goodly things. Such is Allah, your Lord! So blessed be Allah,<sup>2,0</sup> the Lord of the worlds.
- 65. (مر . . . السلين) He is the Living; $^{24}$  no god there is but He. So call upon Him, making faith pure for Him. All praise for Allah, the Lord of the worlds.
- 66. (نل. اللهين) Say thou;  $^{242}$  verily I am forbidden that I should worship those whom you call upon besides Allah when evidences $^{243}$  have come to me from my Lord, and I am commanded that I should submit to the Lord of the worlds. $^{244}$
- 235. This strikes at the godless, childish and materialistic cosmogonies of the Greek 'philosophers.' According to Plato, 'fire and water and earth and air all exist by Nature and chance' and none of them by an action of mind, and 'the bodies which come next in order—the earth, sun, moon and stars—have been created by means of these absolutely inanimate existences. The various elements are moved by chance, and also by inherent forces according to certain affinities amongst them ......After this fashion has been created the whole of heaven and all that is therein, as well as all animals and plants and all the seasons. These come from these elements, not by any action of mind or of any god or from art but by Nature and chance only.' (EMK. I. p. 3) And, according to an Aristotelian dictum, 'nothing comes into existence out of that which is not, but everything out of that which is'; so that 'there can have been no process of creation, merely a redistribution of four elements and their four qualities.' (ib).

- 76. (ادخلوا . . . المنكبرين) Enter ye the gates of Hell, as abiders therein. Hapless is the abode of the stiff-necked.
- 77. (نامبر . . . يرجعون) Wherefore be steadfast thou; 260 verily the promise of Allah<sup>261</sup> is true. Then whether We let thee see<sup>262</sup> a portion of what we have promised them, or whether We cause them to die263 to Us261 they all will be returned.265

Not only have animals been very frequently deified and not only is there a regular cult of animal-gods among polytheistic peoples, but animals in various mythologies have also been known as Creator. 'In some cases chance seems to have caused an animal to figure as Creator.' (ERE. I. p. 485) 'Though we find cases in which the Creator is an object of worship, or at any rate of respect, we also find a share in creation assigned to animals which are not even specially sacred.   - 269. For instance, one may travel by their means.
  - 270. t. e., evidences of His might and majesty in every act of His creation.
  - 271. (O mankind!)

- 82. (انلم . . . يكبون) Have they<sup>272</sup> not travelled on the earth that they may behold<sup>273</sup> how has been the end of those before them.<sup>274</sup> They were more numerous than these, and mightier in strength and the traces<sup>275</sup> in the land. But naught availed them of what they had been earning.
- 83. (نلیا . . . یستورون) And when their messengers came to them with evidences,  $^{276}$  they exulted in the knowledge $^{277}$  they had with them, and there surrounded them what they had been mocking.
- 84. (نلما . . . مشركين) Then when they beheld Our prowess they said: we believe in Allah alone, and we disbelieve in what we have been associating with Him.
- 85. (نام . . . الكانرون) But their belief<sup>278</sup> profited them naught<sup>279</sup> when they had seen Our prowess. This is Allah's dispensation<sup>280</sup> that has been in regard to His bondmen.<sup>281</sup> And<sup>282</sup> lost were the infidels then and there.

Ha. Mim. Prostration. XLI

(Makkan, 6 Sections and 54 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (حم) Hä. Mīm.
- 2. الرحم) This is revelation from Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful——
- 3. (کتاب . . . يملون) a Book whereof the verses are detailed;<sup>283</sup> an Arabic Qur'an;<sup>284</sup> for a people who know<sup>284</sup>.
- 4. (بشيرا . . . يسمبون) a bearer of glad tidings<sup>286</sup> and a warner<sup>287</sup>. Yet<sup>288</sup> most of them<sup>289</sup> turn aside, so that they listen not.
- 5. (رقال المالون) And they say<sup>290</sup>: our hearts are under a veil from what thou callest us to, and in our ears is heaviness, and there is a curtain between us and thee; so work thou<sup>201</sup>, we are also working<sup>292</sup>.
- وال . . . المركين) Say thou<sup>293</sup>: I am only a human being like you<sup>294</sup>; only it is revealed to me that your god is but One  $Gcd^{296}$ , so take the straight path to  $Him^{296}$ , and seek forgiveness of  $Him^{297}$ , and woe be to the associators,
  - 283. i. e., made distinct : explained in detail.
  - 284. See P. XII. nn. 356. 357.
- 385. i. e., though meant for all, they alone can benefit by it who exercise their understanding, and care to know.
  - 286. (for the believers).
  - 287. (for the rejecters).
  - 288. (instead of everyone believing therein).

- 289. i. e., of the mankind.
- 290. (boastfully to the Prophet).
- 291. (in thy way).
- 292. (in our own way). The whole speech of the Arab pagans is expressive of their calculated indifference to the call of Truth.
  - 293. (O Prophet!).
- 294. i. e., a mere mortal, and therefore have no power to coerce you into guidance. See P. XVI. n. 70.
  - 295. See P. II. nn. 107.
  - 296, (for the future).
  - 297. (for what is past).

- 7. کارون ) who pay not the poor-rate<sup>298</sup>, and they! disbelievers they are in the Hereafter!
- 8. (انالذين . . . منون) Verily those who believe and work righteous deeds——to them shall be a wage unceasing.

- 9. (نل . . . اللمين) Say thou<sup>209</sup>: are you indeed those who disbelieve in Him Who has created the earth in two days<sup>300</sup>, and set up peers unto Him? That is the Lord of the worlds.
- 10. (وجعل . . . السائلين) And He placed therein mountains firmly rooted rising above it, and He blessed it<sup>301</sup>, and ordained therein the sustenance thereof<sup>302</sup>, all this in four days<sup>303</sup>, complete<sup>301</sup>; this for the inquirers<sup>305</sup>.
- الم من المعنى . . . طالعين ) He thereafter turned to the heaven and it  $^{307}$  was as smoke  $^{308}$ , and said to it and to the earth: do you twain come willingly or loth  $^{309}$ ? they said: we come  $^{310}$  willingly  $^{311}$ .
  - 298. i. e., who are so misguided in practice.
  - 299. (to the infidels, O Prophet!).
  - 300. Perhaps the first two days of the weak.
  - 301. (by many things of advantage and benefit).
  - 302, i. e., designed to meet the needs of its inhabitants.
- 303. That is, including the two former days wherein the earth itself was created.
- 304. The import of in the context is that God created all these things in so many entire and complete days. (Zm.).
  - 305. Who were, in this instance, principally the Jews.

- 306. i. e., its creation. See P. I. n. 128.
- 307. i. e., its matter which had already been created.
- 308. i. e., in the form of a smoky gas or some such substance. Cf. the OT:—There went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.'
  (Ge. 2:6)
- 309. The purport is: Obey you must Our physical laws and commandments like all others created beings; now the question is, shall ye accept the Divine rule heartily and cheerfully or only grudgingly, feeling it as a yoke?
  - 310. i. e., submit to Thy rule.
- 311. i. e., with the passionate happiness of loyal and loving servants, not in the drab discoloured way of Stoic resignation.

- 12. (نقطه الله ) Then He decreed them<sup>312</sup> as seven heavens in two days<sup>313</sup>, and revealed to each heaven the command thereof<sup>314</sup>. And We bedecked the nether heaven<sup>315</sup> with lamps<sup>316</sup> and placed therein a guard<sup>317</sup>. That is the ordinance of the Mighty<sup>318</sup>, the Knower.<sup>319</sup>
- 13. (نان . . . وتجود) Then if they³²٥ still turn away³²¹, say thou: I warn you of a calamity of the 'Aād and Thamūd.
- 14. (לֹבְּלְינְים) Recall when the messengers came to them from before them and behind them<sup>322</sup> saying: worship none save Allah. They said: had our Lord willed<sup>323</sup>, He would have sent down angels<sup>321</sup>, so verily we disbelieve altogether in what you have been sent with<sup>324</sup>.
- 15. (الله ) As for the 'Aād, they grew stiff-necked on the earth without justification, and said:326 who is mightier in strength than we? Did they not see that Allah Who created them, ——He was mightier in strength<sup>327</sup> than they? And they used to gainsay Our signs.
- 16. (قارسانا.. ينصرون) Wherefore We sent upon them a raging wind in inauspicious days<sup>326</sup>, so that We might make them taste the torment of humiliation in the life of this world, and surely the torment of the Hereafter will be more humiliating, nor will they be succoured.

<sup>312.</sup> Or, 'finished.' تعنى, He finished a thing entirely, by word, or by deed. This is the primary meaning.' (LL)

- 319. i. e., Cognizant of the needs of all.
- 320. i. e., the Arab pagans.
- 321. (from the doctrine of unity).
- 322. i. e., from everyside, persuading and urging them continually.
- 323. (to send messengers at all).
- 324. (and not mere human beings like yourselves). The fact of the prophets being mortal and mere human being has always proved a stumbling-block to the pagan nations.
  - 325. (as ye profess).
  - 326. (in reply to the warnings of the prophets).
  - 327. (and able to inflict punishment on them).
  - 328. i. e., inauspicious for them on account of the Divine visitation.

- 17. (راما . . . يكسبون) And as for the  $Tham\bar{u}d$ , We guided them<sup>329</sup>, but they preferred blindness to guidance, wherefore the bolt of the torment of abjection struck them because of what they had been earning.
- 18. (دنجينا . . . يتقون) And We delivered those who believed and were God-fearing<sup>330</sup>.

- 19. (ريوم . . . پوزعرن) And on the Day when the enemies of Allah will be gathered towards the Fire, they will be set in bands<sup>331</sup>;
- 20. (حتى . . . يساون) until when they come to it<sup>332</sup> their ears and their sights and their skins will bear witness against them of what they had been working.<sup>333</sup>
- 22. (رما . . . . تعلون) And you have not been taking cover against your-selves<sup>336</sup>, lest your ears and your eyes and your skins should bear witness against you<sup>337</sup>, and you imagined that Allah did not know much of what you were working.
- 23. (ر ذالكم . . . الخسرين) That conception of yours which you formed of your Lord has ruined you, and you have become of the losers.

- 333. To keep in view, in this connection, the modern development of the palm and finger-prints system.——the evidence of one's own limbs——would be interesting as well as instructive.
  - 334. (dazed and bewildered at this self-revelation)
- 335. i. e., the Ultimate Source and Efficient Cause of all speech has caused us also to speak, why express suprise then!
- 336. (and keeping secret from your limbs and members, while you sinned in the world). Thus will the confirmed sinners and infidels be addressed.
- 337. i. e. you were powerless from hiding your sins from your very limbs and members and could not imagine that they would rise up against you as hostile witnesses.

- 24. (قان . . . المتين) Then if they are patient<sup>334</sup>, the Fire is their very home<sup>339</sup>, and if they seek term to please Allah, then they will not be of those who are allowed to please Allah<sup>340</sup>.
- 25. (رئيمنا . عاسرين) And We have assigned to them<sup>341</sup> companions<sup>342</sup> who had bedecked to them what was before them and what was behind them<sup>343</sup>. Justified upon them was the word<sup>344</sup> pronounced on the communities of jinn and mankind who passed away before them<sup>345</sup>. Verily they were the losers.

- 26. (رتال . . . تنابون) And those who disbelieve say<sup>316</sup>: listen not to this Qur'an<sup>347</sup>, and babble therein<sup>318</sup>, haply you may overcome.
- 27. (نلذیهٔن . . . يَعْمَلُون) So We will cause those who disbelieve to taste a severe torment, and We will surely requite them the worst of what they have been working.
- 28. (ذالك , , , يجمدرن) That is the meed of the enemies of Allah —— the Fire. Therein is their home of Abidance —— a meed for their gainsaying of Our signs.
  - 338. i. e., if they bear their torment patiently.
  - 339. (and this resignation on their part would bring them no relief).
- 340. 'And if they solicit God's favour, they shall not be regarded with favour; or, if they petition their Lord to cancel their compact, or to restore them to the world, He will not do so; i. e., He will not restore them to the world; knowing that, if they were restored, they would return to that which they have been forbidden to do.' - 29. (دقال . . . الاصفاين) And those who disbelieve will say<sup>349</sup>: our Lord! show us those of jinn<sup>350</sup> and mankind who led us astray and we<sup>351</sup> will place them under our feet that they may be of the nethermost.
- 30. (ان الذين من بوعدون) Verily those who said: our Lord is Allah, and have thereafter stood by it—— on them will descend the angels352 saying: fear not, nor grieve, and rejoice at the glad-tudings of the Garden which you have been promised.
- 31. (نحن . . . تدعون) We $^{353}$  have been your friends in the life of the world $^{351}$ , and are such in the Hereafter; herein $^{355}$  whatsoever you desire shall be yours and whatsoever you call for shall be yours.
- 32. (زلا . . . رخام) An entertainment<sup>3,6</sup> for you from your Lord, the Forgiving, the Merciful.

- 33. (رمن . . . السلمين) And who is better in speech than he who summons unto Allah and works righteously, and says: verily I am of the Muslims.
- 34. (ولا . . . . . . . . . . . . ) Good and evil cannot be equal<sup>357</sup>. Repel thou<sup>358</sup> evil with what is goodly, then behold! he, between whom and thee was enmity, will be as though he was a warm friend.
- 35. (وما . . . عظيم) And none attains that as except those who are patient and none attains that except the owner of mighty good fortune.

- 354. (to dispose your minds to good and to preserve you from temptation), Cf. the OT:—'The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him and delivereth them. O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.' (Ps. 34:7, 8)
  - 355. i. e., in that future life.
- 356. The believers in Paradise will be in the honoured position of Divine guests.
  - 357. (in their effects, or in the sight of God).
  - 358. (O reader!).
  - 359. (stage of perfection).
  - 360. i.e., those who exercise patience and self-restraint.

- 36. (رالما . . . المام) And if there stirs thee an incitement<sup>361</sup> from Satan, then seek refuge in Allah<sup>362</sup>. Verily He! He is the Hearer, the Knower.
- 37. (روني . . . تبدرن) And of His signs<sup>363</sup> are the night and the day and the sun and the moon<sup>364</sup>. So do not prostrate yourselves to the sun<sup>365</sup> and the moon<sup>366</sup>, but prostrate yourselves to Allah Who has created them, if it is Allah alone Whom you are worshipping.
- 38. (نان . . يستمرن) And if they grew stiff-necked<sup>367</sup>, then those who are with thy Lord,<sup>368</sup> hallow Him night and day, and they weary not<sup>369</sup>.
- 39. (رمن . . . قدي) And of His signs is that thou seest the earth lowly<sup>370</sup>, and when We sent down water on it, it stirs to life and grows. Verily He Who quickens it, is the Quickener of the dead. Verily He is Potent over everything.
- 40. (ان الذين . . . بهمير) Verily those who blaspheme our revelations are not hidden from Us. Is he then who will be cast into the Fire better or he who comes secure on the Day of Resurrection? Do what you will, verily He is the Beholder of what you do  $3^{74}$ .
  - 361. (of anger and revenge).
  - 362. (at the moment of greatest provocation).
  - 363. i. e., the signs of His power.
  - 364. All of which are mere created objects, and not deities to be worshipped.
- 365. One of the most popular of all 'natural' deities. 'Rivalling in power and glory the all-encompassing Heaven, the Sun moves eminent among the deities of nature... It is no exaggeration to say, with Sir William James, that one great fountain of all idolatry in the four quarters of the globe was the veneration paid by men to the sun.' (PC. 11. pp. 285-86.) 'To men who could thus look on the sky, earth, and sea as animated, intelligent beings, the Sun, giver of light and life to the world, rising and crossing the sky and descending at night into the under-world whence he arose, has the clearest divine personality,... As far back as ancient history reaches, the Sun-god appears . . .' (Tylor, Anthropology, Vol, II, p. 360) According to a modern writer, if one were to merely list the peoples who have been votaries of the Sun the list would include almost all nations, old and new, from Akkadians and Aztecs to Lapps and Zulus. 'As one of the most conspicuous and powerful objects in the physical world the sun has naturally attracted the attention and obtained the homage of many races, who have personified and worshipped it as a god . . . Whatever the reason may be, a solar religion appears to flourish best among nations which have attained to a certain degree of civilization, such as the ancient Egyptians and the Indians of Mexico ahd Peru at the time when they were discovered by the Spaniards.' (FWN. pp. 441-442) Proceeding further. Frazer gives accurate and minute details of Sun-worship in India (both ancient and modern), Persia, Greece, Rome, Egypt, Babylonia, Arabia, Japan, and other countries.

366. 'Nearly every place in early times would have a sun god or a moon god or both, and in the political development of the country the moon god of the conquering city displaced or absorbed the moon god of the conquered. (Roger, Religion of Babylonia, p. 79) 'Moon-worship, naturally ranking below Sunworship in importance, ranges through nearly the same district of culture. There are remarkable cases in which the Moon is recognised as a great deity by tribes who take less account, or none at all, of the Sun.' (PC. II. p. 299) 'The Moon-god or goddess marks the festivals of rude forest tribes who dance by the light of the full moon. It is not uncommon for the Moon to rank above the Sun, as perhaps for the astronomical reasons was the case in ancient Babylonia; but more usually the Sun stands first, as seems to us more natural; and commonly Sun and Moon are looked on as a pair, brother and sister, or husband and wife.' (Tylor, Anthropology, Vol. II. p. 361).

- 41. (ان . . . غرير) Verily those who disbelieve in the Admonition when it comes to them are themselves at fault<sup>375</sup>; verily it is a Book mighty<sup>376</sup>.
- 42. (لايا ته . . . حميد) Falsehood cannot come to it from before it or from behind it<sup>377</sup>. It is a Revelation from One Wise and Praise-worthy<sup>378</sup>.
- 43. (ما . . . اليم) Naught<sup>379</sup> is said to thee<sup>380</sup> save what was said to the messengers before thee<sup>381</sup>. Thy Lord is Owner of forgiveness<sup>382</sup> and the Owner of afflictive chastisement<sup>383</sup>.
- 44. (بر . . . بعيد) And had We made it a Recital into a foreign tongue<sup>384</sup>, they<sup>385</sup> would certainly have said: why are not the verses thereof explained to us <sup>386</sup>? A foreign tongue<sup>387</sup> and an Arab<sup>388</sup>! Say thou<sup>389</sup> to those who believe in it<sup>390</sup>, it is a guidance<sup>391</sup> and a healing<sup>393</sup>; and those who do not believe<sup>393</sup>, in their ears is a heaviness and to them it is blindness<sup>491</sup>. These are they who are<sup>395</sup> cried unto from a place far-off<sup>396</sup>.

- 381. (by the infidels of the past).
- 382. (so they can still save themselves by repentance).
- 383. (to which they are doomed if they remain unrepentant).
- 384. (and still addressed it in the first instance to the Arabs).
- 385. i. e., the Arab pagans.
- 386. (and made intelligible to us in our own tongue). The Arabic language.—in which the Arabs themselves took particular delight, for its copious vocabulary, its wealth of forms and its inherent capability of cultivation,—was peculiarly fitted to take a leading position in the world. If it is compared, for example, with the unwieldy Latin, or even with the turgid Persian, it is found to be specially distinguished by the possession of short Abstract forms——a property of great service in scientific expression. It is capable of indicating the finest shades of meaning... (De Boes, History of Philosophy in Islam, pp. 31-32). Classical Arabic is characterized by an extraodinary richness of vocabulary and the logical, systematic character of its grammatical structure. (EBr. II. p. 192). See also P. XIV. n. 342.

- 394. i.e., such wilful and inveterate enemies of truth render themselves unable to hear its voice or to see its beauties.
  - 395. (as though).
- 396. i. e., they are so far off that they neither hear nor understand the voice of him who calls to them.
  - 397. (for final judgment at a certain Hour),
  - 398. (long ago).
  - 399. i. e., between the believers and the rejectors.
  - 400. (at all).
- 401. The God of Islam, as contradistinguished from tribal or national gods of other communities, is perfectly Just and absolutely Benevolent; not vindictive or malevolent.

PART XXV

- 47. (الله . . . شهيد) To Him¹ alone is referred the knowledge of the Hour². And not a fruit comes forth from its knops, nor does a female conceive³ or bring forth but with His knowledge. And on the Day when He will call unto them⁴: where are My associates⁵? they will say: we assure Thee, none of us is a witness thereof⁵.
- 48. (رصل . . . عيص) And those whom they had been calling upon before will fail them, and they will perceive that there is no refuge for them.
- 49. (لا . . . نوط) Man is never wearied of praying for his worldly good, and if an evil visits him, he is despondent, despairing.
- 50. (ولئن . . . غليظ) And if, after an affliction has visited him, We cause him to taste of Our mercy, he is sure to say: this is my own¹º, and I do not think that the Hour will ever arise, and were I to be brought back to my Lord, surely there will be for me an excellent reward from Him. But¹¹ We shall surely declare to those who disbelieve what they have worked, and make them taste a rough torment.
  - I. (and Him alone)
- 2. (so no prophet or angel can know the exact time of its coming). This is said in answer to the pagans who sneeringly interrogated the Prophet as to its date.
  - 3. (in her womb).
  - 4. i. e., the polytheists.
  - 5. i e., the associates you ascribed to Me.
- 6. Thus at the question-time the polytheists will totally forsake their false gods.
  - 7. (as a self-evident fact).
  - 8. (in his insatiable greed).
  - 9. (due to his want of faith).
  - 10. i. e., due to me on account of my merits.
  - 11. (contrary to their fancies and false assumptions).

- 51. (واقا . . . مريض) And when We show favour to man, he turns aside and withdraws on his sides, and when evil touches him he is full of prolonged prayer.
- 52. (قل . . . ببيد) Say thou: think! if it is really from Allah and you reject it, who is further astray than one who is in schism far-off?
- 53. (سنريهم) Soon<sup>15</sup> We shall show them<sup>16</sup> Our signs<sup>17</sup> in the universe<sup>18</sup> and in their own selves<sup>19</sup> until it becomes manifest to them<sup>20</sup> that it is the truth. Does it not suffice in regard to thy Lord<sup>21</sup>, that He is Witness over everything?
- 54. (الا . . . عبط) Lo! they are in doubt concerning their meeting with their Lord<sup>22</sup>. Lo! He is the Encompasser of everything.
  - 12. (from Us, instead of returning thanks to Us).
- 13. (And even that prayer is not in the proper prayerful mood, but is an outcome of his intense greed and insatiable avarice).
  - 14. i. e., the Holy Quran.
  - 15. i. e., in the near future.
  - 16. i. e., the Arabs pagans, the first rejectors of the Quran.
  - 17. i. e., evidence of Our might and majesty.
- 18. (of the earth) i. e., in places further from Makka by the surrender of distant and powerful nations to Islam.
- 19. (by the wholesale defeat of the Makkans at Badr). The words are also of general application. If we only care to reflect on the marvellous structure of the atom and on the still more marvellous nature of the human mind, we are inevitably, inescapably led to the truth of an All-Designing, Omnipotent, Omniscient Being.
  - 20. (whether they will it or not).
  - 21. (for thee, O Prophet!).
- 22. (and this want of faith in Resurrection is at the root of their entire conduct).

The Counsel XLII

(Makkan, 5 Sections and 53 Verses)
In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (حم ) Hā. Mīm.
- 2. (عسق ) 'Ain. Sīn. Qāf.23
- 3. (کدالک . . . الحکم) Thus $^{24}$  reveals to thee $^{25}$  and to those before thee $^{26}$  Allah, the Mighty, the Wise.
- 4. (له . . . العلام) His is whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth, and He is the Exalted, the Grand.
- قاد . . الرحم) Well-nigh might be rent the heavens from above them<sup>27</sup>. And the angels hallow the praise of their Lord and ask His forgiveness for those on the earth. Lo! verily Allah; He is the Forgiver, the Merciful.
  - 23. (by His knowledge, and so, He is sure to requite them for their deeds).
  - 24. i.e., as He has revealed this chapter.
  - 25. (other chapters, O Prophet!),
  - 26. (other Books).
  - 27. (by the awfulness of His glory and majesty).

And of mankind a party will be in the Garden, and a party in the Blaze.
- 8. (ولر من من And had Allah willed, He would have made them all a single community. But He causes whom He will to enter into His mercy. And the ungodly! for them there shall be no patron or helper.
- 9. (ام نسر) Have they<sup>36</sup> taken patrons besides Him? But Allah! He is the Patron. He quickens the dead, and He is Potent over everything.

- 10. (وما . . . انيب) And whatsoever it be in which you differ<sup>37</sup>, the decision thereof is with Allah; such is Allah, my<sup>29</sup> Lord. In Him I put my trust, and to Him I turn in penitence<sup>39</sup>.
  - 28. Sufficient to requite them for their deeds.
  - 29. (so do not be grieved over their fate, O Prophet!).
- 30. (primarily, and in the first instance). The 'mother of towns' is the city of Makka, so called because it is the greatest of towns in dignity, whither all the believing peoples on the earth repair, and also because it was held by ancient geographers to be in the middle of earth. The inter-continental location of Arabia, and its central position in the midst of the three continents of the Old World are facts of very great significance. The wide diffusion of Islam is an instance in point. This religion has been singularly fortunate in the land of its birth.....The central position of its birth-place has been a powerful geographical factor in its wide dissemination to the remotest corners of the world, the importance of which factor has rarely been recognized, much less emphasized, by investigators.' (Inayatullah, op. cit. p. 37). See also P. VII. n. 598.

- 31. i. e., dwellers of other places.
- 32. i. e., mankind.
- 33. i. e., followers of the one and true religion.
- 34. (in His universal scheme),
- 35. (by predisposing him to faith and belief).
- 36. i. e., the infidels.
- 37. (regarding matters of faith, O infidels!). The Prophet is commanded to address the infidels thus.
  - 38. The speaker in the sentence is the Prophet.
  - 39. (and so am unafraid of you).

- 12. (4) His are the keys of the heavens and the earth, He expands the provision for whomsoever He will and also straitens<sup>43</sup>. He is the Knower of everything.
- 13. (شرع . . . ينبو) He has ordained for you<sup>44</sup> in the faith what He had enjoined upon Nūh<sup>45</sup> and what We have revealed to thee<sup>46</sup>, and what We had enjoined upon Ibrāhīm and Mūsā and īsā, saying: establish the faith, and be not divided in it<sup>17</sup>. Grievous unto the polytheists is that<sup>48</sup> to which thou callest them<sup>49</sup>. Allah choses for Himself whom He will<sup>50</sup>, and Allah guides to Himself him who turns in penitence.
  - 40. i. e., of your own kind, O mankind!
- 41. ——far from having any affinity with Him——. The God of Islam, though intimately concerned in all things that are, is Himself absolutely distinct from them as their Creator.
- 42. (in person, nature or attributes) i. e., He is the Unique, the Absolute, the Incomparable. This strikes at the root of anthropomorphism and all forms of polytheism, overt or covert. It accounts of deep admiration and wonder. Gibbon speaks of the Islamic conception of Godhead:—'A creed too sublime perhaps for our present faculties. What object remains for the fancy, or even the understanding, when we have abstracted from the unknown substance all ideas of time and space, of motion and matter, of sensation and reflection? (GRE, V. p. 339)
  - 43. (it for whomsoever He will).
  - 44. (O Muslims!).
- 45. i. e., the one true religion revealed from the beginning to all true prophets,—the religion of monotheism, the oldest religion known to humanity.

Ethnological investigation into cultural history shows that the first religion of mankind was monotheistic, and that the ethical and moral level of the oldest jungle-tribe-civilizations (though very poor materially) has been an extremely high one. (Ehrenfels in the Islamic Culture. Oct. 1940, p. 446). See also P. II nn. 384, 385; IX. n. 280.

- 46. (O Prophet!).
- 47. There is nothing to dispute about in the fundamentals of religion.
- 48. i. e., the doctrine of the unity of God.
- 49. (O Prophet!) i. e., the doctrine of the unity of God.
- 50. So that in the language of a modern psychologist, 'there are forces seemingly outside of the conscious individual that bring redemption to his life.' (James, Varieties of Religious Experience, p. 211).

- 15. (نادالك . . . الصر) Sum on thou $^{59}$  therefore $^{60}$  to that $^{61}$ , and be steadfast $^{62}$  as thou hast been commanded, and follow not their desires $^{63}$ . And say thou: I believe in whatsoever Allah has sent down of the Book $^{64}$ , and I am commanded that I should do justice between you; Allah is our Lord and your Lord. Unto us our works and unto you your works; let there be no contention between us all, and to Him is the return $^{66}$ .
- 16. (رالذين . . . شديد) And those who contend<sup>67</sup> in respect of the religion of Allah after it <sup>68</sup> have been acknowledged<sup>69</sup>; their contention is void in the sight of their Lord, and upon them shall befall His wrath and theirs shall be a severe chastisement.
- 17. (الله . . . قريب) Allah it is Who has sent down the Book with the truth and the balance<sup>70</sup>. And what shall make thee know?<sup>71</sup> Haply the Hour may be nigh.

- 68. i. e., the religion of Islam.
- 69. (by a large number of persons)
- 70. 'by which we can weigh all moral issues, all questions of right and wrong in conduct.' (AYA) The balance here may refer, according to the best commentators, either to sense of justice innate in human nature, by which we can weigh all moral issues, or to the 'Law of Islam' (Shari'at) as a whole which is the ultimate criterion in our hand of all questions of right and wrong.

- 18. (بستجل . . . ببيد) It is only those who do not believe therein seek to hasten it<sup>72</sup>, and those who believe therein are fearful thereof, and know that it is the truth. Lo! verily those who debate concerning the Hour are in error far-off.
- 19. (الله من العريز) Allah is Gentle<sup>73</sup> to His bondmen<sup>74</sup>. He provides for whomsoever He will, and He is the Strong, the Mighty.

- 20. (من . . . نصب) Whosoever seeks the tillage of the 'Hereafter's, to him We shall give increase in his tillage; and whosoever seeks the tillage of this world's, We shall give him somewhat thereof, and in the Hereafter his shall be no portion's.
- 21. (رأ . . . الرأ) Have they associate-gods who have instituted for them a religion which Allah has not approved? And had there not been a decisive word<sup>78</sup>, the affair would have been judged between them<sup>79</sup>. And verily the ungodly! theirs shall be afflictive torment.
- 22. (رَحْ الْكِبَر) Thou shalt see<sup>80</sup> the ungodly fearful on account of what they have earned, and it<sup>81</sup> is sure to befall them. And those who believe and work righteous deeds will be in meadows of the Gardens. Theirs will be whatsoever they desire with their Lord. That! that is the supreme grace.

<sup>71. (</sup>O Prophet!) The reference is to the constant questionings of the pagans regarding the exact time and date of Resurrection.

- 24. (ام. . . العدور) So they say<sup>90</sup>: he<sup>91</sup> has fabricated a lie concerning Allah? Now if Allah willed He could seal thy heart<sup>92</sup>; and Allah<sup>98</sup> abolishes falsehood<sup>94</sup> and establishes truth<sup>95</sup> by His words<sup>96</sup>. Verily He is the Knower of what is in the breasts.
- 25. (رمَز . . تَعْدَلُون) And He it is Who accepts repentence from His bondmen<sup>97</sup>, and pardons evil deeds and knows what you do.
- 26. (دينجب . . شديد) He answers those who believe and work righteous deeds and increases to them of His grace. And the infidels! theirs shall be a severe torment.
  - 82. i. e., the above-mentioned great felicity.
- 83. Note once again that it is the delights of the Hereafter that are the real reward to the faithful.
  - 84. (to the Arab pagans, O Prophet!).
  - 85. i.e., for my preaching.
- 86. (so universally displayed, and on that account give me at least a patient and tolerant hearing). Remember that the holy Prophet is here appealing to those who, though alienated from him in religion and theology, were united to him with the closest ties of blood relationship. That this was the strongest appeal that could possibly be made to the Arabs is a fact well-known to the Arab history.
  - 87. i.e., We shall add there to the merit of other good actions.
- 88. i.e., One who overlooks and forgives the signs and short-comings of the faithful.

- 89. i.e., One who gracefully accepts and appreciates even small services of the faithful. See P. XXII. n. 384.
  - 90. i. e., the Arab pagans.
  - 91. Pointing to the Prophet.
- 92. (like a false man's heart, O Prophet! and would strike all the revelations out of thy heart). But it is clear that He did nothing of the kind; so it is also clear that the holy Prophet never merited any such penalty.
  - 93. (in accordance with His immutable law).
  - 94. i. e., false claims of Messengership.
  - 95. i. e., the claims of a true Messenger of God.
  - 96. i. e., by arguments as well as miracles.
  - 97. See P. XXIV. nn. 62, 123.

- 27. (ولو . . . بصير) And had Allah expanded the provision for His bondmen<sup>98</sup> they surely would have rebelled in the earth, but He sends down<sup>99</sup> by measure as He wills<sup>100</sup>. Verily He is in respect of His bondmen, the Aware<sup>101</sup>, the Beholder<sup>202</sup>.
- 28. (رمو . . . الحديد) And He it is  $^{103}$  Who sends down the rain after men have despaired, and spreads abroad His mercy $^{104}$  and He is the Patron, the Praiseworthy.
- 29. (ومن . . . قدير) And of His signs<sup>105</sup> is the creation of the heavens and the earth and of the moving creatures which He has dispersed in both<sup>106</sup>. And He is Potent over their assembling whenever He will.

- 30. (رما کایی) And whatever of affliction befalls you is owing to what your hands have earned; and He pardons<sup>107</sup> much<sup>108</sup>.
- 31. (رما . . . نصير) And you can not frustrate Him in the earth<sup>109</sup>; and you have, besides Allah, neither a protector nor a helper.
- 32. (ניני ... אצאלק) And of His signs are ships in the sea like high mountains<sup>110</sup>.
- 33. (1,2,2,3) If He wills He causes the wind to cease, so that they stand still on the back thereof<sup>111</sup>; verily therein are signs for every one patient and grateful.

- 35. (ربيلم . . . عبص) And those who dispute in respect of Our revelations may know<sup>114</sup> that there is for them no place of shelter.
- 36. (نيا بَوكلون) So whatsoever things are vouchsafed to you<sup>115</sup> are but a passing enjoyment for the life of this world; and what is with Allah, better<sup>116</sup> and more lasting<sup>117</sup> is for those who believe and put their trust in Allah;
- 37. (دالذين . . . يغترون) and those who avoid heinous sins and indecencies and forgive when they are wrathful 119;
- 38. (دالذين . . . ينقرن) and those who answer the call of their Lord and establish prayer and whose affairs being matter of counsel among themselves and who spend of that wherewith We have provided them;
- 39. (رالذين . يتصرون) and those who vindicate themselves when they are oppressed<sup>120</sup>.
- 40. (دجزاؤ . . الظلمين) The meed of an ill-deed is an ill like thereunto, but whosoever pardons and is reconciled<sup>121</sup>, his wage is on Allah: verily He does not approve the wrong-doers.
- 41. (د ان محيل) And whosoever vindicates himself<sup>122</sup> after wrong done to him; these! against them there is no way of blame.
- 42. (الله . . . اللم) The way of blame is only against those who wrong mankind, and rebel on the earth without justification; these for them is an afflictive torment.

- 119. Inculcation of virtues like those of kindliness and forgiveness meant ever so much to a nation given to haughtiness and revenge.
- 120. Valour and courage being not inconsistent with clemency, they make use of the means which God has put into their hands for their own defence.
  - 121. i. e., is reconciled to his enemy.
- 122. (without infringing the proper limits). This negatives self-sufficiency of the doctrine of non-violence. Non-resistance may not necessarily prove a protection and melt the heart of the aggressor. Consider the classical example of the attempted, and almost accomplished, crucification of Jesus Christ——perfect non-violence on one side and wanton aggressiveness on the other.

- 44. (وبن . . . . . . . . . . . ) And whomsoever Allah sends astray<sup>127</sup> for him there will no protecting friend to take His place. And thou will see<sup>128</sup> the ungodly when they will face the torment<sup>129</sup>, saying : is there any way to return?
- 45. ( $abla_{i}$ ) And thou wilt see them set up before it<sup>129</sup>-A down-cast with ignominy, looking with stealthy glance<sup>130</sup>. And those who believe will say<sup>131</sup>: surely the losers are those who have lost themselves<sup>132</sup> and their housefolk<sup>138</sup> on the Day of Resurrection. Lo I the ungodly will be in a lasting torment.
- 46. (رماکان... سبیل) And they will have no patrons succouring them besides Allah. Whosoever Allah sends astray, there will be for him no way.
- 47. (استجبوا) Answer the call of your Lord<sup>131</sup> before there comes to you a Day on which there is no averting from Allah. You will have no place of refuge on that Day, nor will be there for you any denying of your guilt.

(Makkan, 7 Sections and 89 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (حم ) Hā. Mīm.
- 2. ( والكتاب المبين ) By this luminous Book.
- 3. (ا نا . . . تىقلون) Verily We! We have made it an Arabic Qurān that haply you may reflect<sup>168</sup>.
- 4. (دانه . . . حکم) And verily it 159 is in the Original Book 160 before Us, indeed exalted 161, full of wisdom 162.
- 5. (انثمترب ... مسرئين) Shall We take away from you the Admonition because you are a people extravagant 164?
- 6. (و کم . . . الاو این) And how many a prophet We have sent among the ancients 165.
- 7. (دیا . . . یستهزؤن) And not a prophet came to them but him they used to mock.
- 8. (ناملكا ... الادلين) Therefore We destroyed peoples mightier than these in prowess; and there has gone forth the example of the ancients 167.
- 9. (رالتن . . . اللم) And if thou questions them the heavens and the earth? they will surely say: created them the Mighty, the Knower.
  - 158. (on it the more easily, O Makkans!)
  - 159. i. e., the Holy Quran.

- 160. i. e., the Preserved Tablet, the eternal fountain-head of all Divine decrees and revelations.
  - 161. i. e., full of dignity.
  - 162. i. e., full of wisdom.

(of life) i. e., we have found our ancestors following a particular set of beliefs and practices. it is primarily 'A way, course, mode, or manner, of acting, or conduct, or the like; a way, course, or rule, of life or conduct.' (LL) The use of the word it here instead of its very significant. The pagan Arabs had, strictly speaking, no creed at all. They simply and blindly followed certain ancestral customs and ceremonial usages.
- man did not choose his religion or frame it for himself; it came to him as part of the general scheme of social obligations and ordinances laid upon him, as a matter of course, by his position in the family and in the nation...Religion did not exist for the saving of souls but for the preservation and welfare of society and all that was necessary to this end every man had to take his part, or break with the domestic and political community to which he belonged.... Thus a man was born with a fixed relation to certain gods as surely as he was born into relation to his fellow-men; and his religion, that is, the part of conduct which was determined by his relation to the gods, was simply one side of the general scheme of conduct prescribed for him by his position as a member of society.' representatives of heavenly powers to God.' (Muir, op. cit. p. 147) The pre-Islamic Arabic Christianity itself was a fusion of Christianity and paganism. A modern scholar, F.V. Winnett, of the University College, Toronto, after examining a number of old inscriptions has come to the following conclusion in regard to the ancient Arabic Christianity:—'Jesus has not displaced the old gods. He has simply been added to the pantheon. In Syria he seems to have occupied a more unique position...In the South, he has sunk even lower...Attention has been drawn above, too, to the indications that animal sacrifices were offered to Jesus. The petitions addressed to him are the same as those addressed to all the other gods.' (The Moslem World, New York, Oct. 1941, p. 353).

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (حم ) Hä. Mīm.
- 2. (والكتبالين) By the luminous Book.
- 3. (نا مندرين) We have sent it 339 down340 on a blessed night s41; verily We were to become warners342.
  - 4. ( نیا . . . کم ) Therein<sup>348</sup> is decreed<sup>344</sup> every affairs of wisdom<sup>345</sup>—
- 5. (اُدرا ... رسلین) as a command from before Us. Verily We were to become senders
- 6. (منه . . . البلم) a mercy from the Lord. Verily He! He is the Hearer, the Knower.
- 7. (رب . . . موقمنين) Lord of the heavens and the earth and whatsoever is in-between, if only you would be convinced<sup>34?</sup>.
- 8. (لا اله . . الاولين) There is no god but He. He quickens and causes to die: your Lord and Lord of your forefathers.
  - 9. (يار ما الميون) Aye! they<sup>848</sup> are in doubt<sup>349</sup> sporting<sup>350</sup>

- المرتقب . . . مبين) So wait thou<sup>351</sup> for a day when the sky will bring forth a manifest smoke<sup>352</sup>.
- 11. (ينشى . . . اليم) covering the people<sup>353</sup>, this shall be a dreadful scourge.
- 12. (ربنا . . . مزمنون) Our Lord انتظ lift up from us this scourge; verily we shall become believers.
- 13. (انی . . . مین) How can there be an admonition unto them $^{355}$ , when there came to them a clear messenger $^{356}$ ,
- 14. (څ . . . مخنون) yet they turned away from him and said $^{357}$ : one tutored $^{358}$ , one distracted $^{359}$ !
- 15. (نا مالدون) Verily We shall remove the chastisement for a while; but verily you shall revert.
- 16. (يوم . . . منتقبون) On the Day when We assault them with the greatest assault, verily We shall take vengeance<sup>362</sup>.
- 17. (رائد . . . کریم) And assuredly before them We tried Fir'awn's people, and there came to them an honoured messenger, saying:
- 18. ( ان . . . امين ) restore to me the bondmen of Allah $^{363}$ , I am unto you a trusted messenger $^{364}$ ,
- 19. (ن بنين . . . ببين) and saying: exalt not yourselves against Allah, verily I have come to you with a manifest authority<sup>363</sup>,
- 20. (و أتى . . . ترجون) and verily I have sought refuge in my Lord and your Lord lest you stone me<sup>366</sup>.
- 21. (د ان . . . . فاعثراون) and if you will not believe in me, then let me alone  $^{367}$ .

<sup>352. &#</sup>x27;Or Dearth, or drought.' 'It is said that the hungry once saw smoke between him and the sky: or hunger is thus called because of the dryness of (دخان)

the earth in drought, and the rising of the dust, which is likened to properly so termed.' (LL).

- 353. (Of Makka). A famine of very great severity visited the pagans of Makka after the Prophet's emigration from that city. The whole population was surrounded by dust at the time of the drought. The 'smoke' here predicts the haze of this dust. Abu Sufyan, on behalf of the Makkans, approached the holy Prophet to pray for the removal of the famine.
  - 354. ——thus they will cry——
  - 355. i. e., how can this penalty serve as an admonition to them.
- 356. i. e., an apostle with evident signs and credentials. The 'smike' referred to in verse 10 may well hint at the torment of modern warfare the chief ingredients of which are the gas, the gunpowder and the dynamite (all of them smoke-like substances) to be let loose in the 20th century of the Christian era on nations by those priding themselves on their learning, civilisation and culture, and accusing the true apostle of God of being a 'tutored one', a 'distracted one'.
  - 357. (of him).
  - 358. i. e., a man taught by others, Christians or Jews. See P. XIV. n. 341.
  - 359. See P. IX. n. 328.
- 360. (taking you at your words, and on the intercession of the Prophet at the imploring of the Makkans and their promise of believing in him)
  - 361. (to your old ways, O Makkans!).
  - 362. i. e., exact full retribution.
  - 363. i. e., let the Israelites go with me to worship their true God.
- 364. Moses was to address his mission both to the Egyptians and the Israelites.
  - 365. i. e., aided with evident signs.
- 366. Or 'slay me' Cf. the OT:—'And Moses said:... Io. shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and will they not stone us?' (Ex. 8:26)
- 367. (on equal terms) i. e., at any rate, do not add to your record of sinfulness by opposing me.

- 22. (ندعا . . . مجرمون) Then³६६ he called upon his Lord : these are a guilty people.
- 23. (فاسر . . متبون) Allah said: So depart thou with My bondmen by night<sup>369</sup>; surely you will be pursued<sup>370</sup>.
- 24. (دائرك . . . منرقون) And leave thou the sea parted<sup>371</sup>; verily they are a host to be drowned.
- 25. ( کم . . . عيرن ) They<sup>871-</sup>A left<sup>872</sup>——how many——of gardens and springs.

- 13. (دسخر . . . بنکرون) And He has subjected to you whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is on the earth, the whole from Himself 121. Verily herein are signs 125 for a people who ponder.
- 14. (قلی . . یکسیون) Say thou<sup>426</sup> to the faithful, let them forgive<sup>127</sup> those who hope not for the days of Allah<sup>428</sup>, that He may recompense<sup>429</sup> a community for what they have been working.
- 15. (من . . . . ترجون) Whosoever works righteously, works for himself<sup>430</sup>; and whosoever does evil, does against himself; then to your Lord you will be made to return<sup>434</sup>.
- 16. (ولله And assuredly We vouchsafed to the Children of Isrāīl the Book and the wisdom and the prophethood<sup>432</sup>, and We provided them with good things<sup>133</sup>, and preferred them above the worlds<sup>433</sup>.
- 17. (وآئينهم . يخانون) And We vouched to them the evidences<sup>435</sup> of the affairs<sup>436</sup>. And they differed not except through spite among themselves<sup>437</sup> after the knowledge had come to them<sup>438</sup>. Verily the Lord will decide between them on the Day of Judgement concerning what they have been differing in.
  - 423. (to His laws).
  - 424. There being no associate-god or sub-Deity whatsoever.
  - 425. (of His unique authority).
  - 426. (O Prophet!).
  - 427. (and bear patiently with).
- 428. i.e., who have no faith in His law of requital and in His victories. Says Sale:—'Some are of opinion that this verse is abrogated by that of War.' But the two verses are not at all in conflict, and hence there arises no question of abrogation. What the Muslims are asked to refrain from is the infliction of punishment as a measure of personal vengeance or retaliation: whereas Jihād or holy war is prescribed to exalt and glorify God's religion, irrespective of personal like or dislike. (Th.)

Cf. the OT:—'To me belongeth vengcance, and recompense; their foot shall slide in due time; for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.' (Dt. 32:35)

- 429. (justly and equitably).
- 430. i. e., for his own benefit.
- 431. (O mankind!).
- 432. (by raising many prophets among that nation).
- 433. (of the world).
- 434. See P. I. nn. 198, 199.
- 435. i. e., evidences and arguments.
- 436. i. e., of the true religion.
- 437. (and not through any ambiguity or obscurity in the Divine messages),
- 438. (by Revelation),

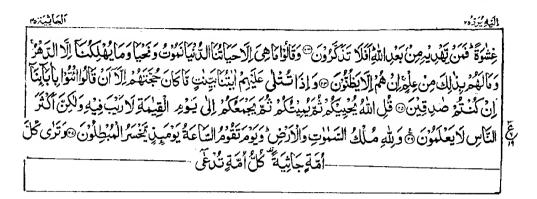

- 18. (ثم . . . يىلمون) And thereafter<sup>439</sup> We have placed thee<sup>440</sup> upon the law of the religion<sup>441</sup>; so follow it thou<sup>442</sup>, and follow not the vain desires of those who do not know<sup>413</sup>.
- 19. (اثبم . . . الشقين) Verily they cannot avail thee  $^{414}$  at all against Allah. And the wicked! friends are they one to another  $^{145}$ , and Allah is the friend of the God-fearing.
- 20. (منا ب يُوتون) This Book is an enlightenment and a guidance to mankind, and a mercy to people who are convinced.
- 21. (ام . . . يحكبون) Do those who commit ill-deeds<sup>446</sup> imagine that We shall place them<sup>447</sup> as those who believed and worked righteous works<sup>418</sup>? Equal is their life and death<sup>449</sup>! How ill they judge!

SECTION 3

22. (دخان . . . يغلبون) Allah has created the heavens and the earth with purpose<sup>450</sup>, and that every soul may be recompensed for what it has earned<sup>451</sup>. And they will not be wronged.

- 439. i. e., after Israel have fallen from grace.
- 440. ——an Ismailite——
- 441. غربت is not only 'a law or ordinance' but also a religion, or way of belief and practice in respect of religion.' (LL.)
  - 442. (both in regard to practice and preaching).
- 443. i. e., the ungodly pagans who urged on the Prophet a return to the religion of his forefathers.
  - 444. (or anybody else).

- 445. Witness, for intance, to-day the Christian's enthusiasm for Jewish Zionism.
  - 446. i. e., their acts of infidelity and impiety.
  - 447. (ia the Hereafter).
  - 448. Who, though in suffering here, are sure to receive their full reward.
  - 449. Denial of Resurrection amounts to this belief.
  - 450. (and this implies meeting out to every one his due).
- 451. (and a fulfilment of these ends of justice necessitates general Resurrection).

- 23. (افریت نیزین) Hast thou seen him who takes for his god<sup>152</sup> his own vain desire, and Allah has sent him astary despite his knowledge<sup>153</sup>, and has sealed up his hearing and his heart<sup>154</sup> and has set up a covering on his sight? Who will guide him after Allah<sup>455</sup>? Will you not then be admonished?
- 24. (وقالوا . . يَطْشُون) And they  $^{456}$  say: naught is there but the life of this world  $^{457}$ , we die and we live  $^{458}$ ; and none kills us save Time  $^{159}$ . And they have no true knowledge of it  $^{460}$ , they only conjecture.
- 26. (نول . . . يالمون) Say thou<sup>465</sup>: Allah keeps you alive<sup>466</sup>, then He will cause you to die<sup>467</sup>; then He will assemble you on the Day of Resurrection, of which there is no doubt; but most of mankind do not know.

- 27. (ولله علم ) Allah's is the dominion of the heavens and the earth; and on the Day when the Hour arrives, the followers of falsehood shall lose.
  - 452. i. e., who follows the dictates of his own lust and lower self.
  - 453. (so that he has knowingly and deliberately chosen the path of error).
  - 454. (in consequence of his own contumacy). See P. I. n. 47 ff.
- 455. i. e., after God has withdrawn His grace and left him to wander perplexedly.
- 456. i. c.. the deniers of Resurrection, disbelievers in Final Judgment and consequently in man's accountability to the Almighty for his deeds and misdeeds.
- 457. i. e., no other life. 'The South Arabians believed as little in a life after death as in spiritual blessings.' (Hell, The Arab civilization, p. 7).
  - 458. (of ourselves; with no reference to a Creator). The Arab pagan, carefree materialistic and indifferent to spiritual impulses, had little if any religion at all. To him, it was the immediate present which was full of meaning and of real consequence. He cared little for the past and showed even less interest in the future. Undisturbed by any serious thought or care for the morrow, his life was one emotional orgy, like most of the modern Europeans. 'The hedonistic Arabian character was too much absorbed in the immediate issues of life to devote much thought to the hereafter. In the words of an old bard;

We spin about and whirl our way through life. Then, rich and poor alike, at last seek rest Below the ground in hollow pits slate-covered; And there we do abide.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 102)

- is, literally, 'Time from the beginning of the world دهر 'Fortune.' دهر to its end . . . Hence because, in one sense, time brings to pass events, good and evil, was applied by the Arabs to Fortune, or fate; and they used to blame or revile it.' (LL) 'Time' as an abstract deity was personified by the Arabs, and formed perhaps a regular part of their pantheon. 'Time in the abstract was popularly imagined to be the cause of all earthly happiness and especially of all earthly misery . . . The poets are continually alluding to the action of Time (dahr, Zaman), for which they often substitute 'the days,' or the nights.' Time is represented as bringing misfortune, causing perpetual change, as biting, wearing down, shooting arrows that never miss the mark, hurling stones, and so forth. In such cases we are often obliged to render 'time' by 'fate' which is not quite correct, since time is here conceived as the determining factor, not as being itself determined by some other power, least of all by a conscious agent.' (ERE. I. pp. 661, 662), 'The people of Central Arabia, to judge from the poetical and other remains, were indifferent to religious ideas. The utmost they could attain to was a vague deism or belief in Fate.' (El. I. p. 999).
- 460. i. e., no real true, knowledge; no proof. either in reason or of fact, to support them; their denial of Resurrection and Final Judgment is based on sheer ignorance and superstition, and not on any canons of reason, logic or knowledge. The idea of responsibility to his Creator is perhaps, next to Monotheism, the greatest gift that Islam has bestowed on a negligent and forgetful humanity. Its importance in the history of human beliefs and morals cannot be overrated.
  - 461. (affirming, inter alia, Resurrection).
  - 462. (to the believers).
  - 463. (back to life).
- 464. As if any Muslim had ever asserted that he could raise the dead when and where he pleased!
  - 465. (O Prophet!).
  - 466. (so long as He will).
  - 467. (when He will).

الهائة من المنافئة المنافئة والمنافئة والمناف

- 28. (وتراح ... تسلون) And thou shalt behold every community kneeling every community shall be summoned to its Book to Day to Shall be recompensed for what you had been working.
- 29. (مذا . . . تمارن) This Book of Ours speaks against you with truth<sup>472</sup>; verily We have been setting down<sup>473</sup> whatsoever you had been working.
- 30. (ناما اللبين) Then, as for those who believed and worked righteous deeds, their Lord will cause them to enter into His mercy; that is a manifest achievement.
- 31. (واما . . . بحرمين) And as for those who disbelieved 174: were not My revelations rehearsed to you? but you were stiff-necked and you were a people guilty.
- 32. (ردانا مستقین) And when it was said  $^{175}$ : verily Allah's promise  $^{476}$  is true, and no doubt is there about the Hour, you said  $^{177}$ : we do not know what the Hour is; we do not imagine it but as a conjecture  $^{478}$ , and we have no faith therein  $^{479}$ .
  - 468. (on that Day, O Prophet!).
  - 469. (with fear).
  - 470. (of record, for the purpose of reckoning).
  - 471. This shall be said.
  - 472. i. e., is an exact record of your doings.
  - 473. (through Our angels recording in this Book of records).
  - 474. To them it shall be said.
  - 475. (to you by men of God in the world).
  - 476. (of requital and final judgment).
  - 477. (in scornful rejection of the doctrine).
  - 478. i. e., only a matter of hearsay.
  - 479. (of its coming at all).

- 33. (ربدالهم . . بستهزون) And the evils<sup>480</sup> of what they had worked shall become apparent to them, and there will surround them that at which they had been mocking.
- 34. (رئيل . . . نصرين) And it will be said: This Day We shall ignore you<sup>481</sup> as you ignored the meeting of this Day; your abode will be the Fire, and none you will have as helpers.
- 35. (ذاکم . . . بستمبّرن) That is because you took the revelations of Allah in mockery, and there deluded you the life of this world. To-day therefore they will not be taken forth therefrom, and nor will they be allowed to please Allah<sup>482</sup>.
- 36. (نلك . . . المامين) All praise, then, to Allah, the Lord of the heavens<sup>483</sup>, and the Lord of the earth<sup>484</sup>, the Lord of the worlds.
- 37. (وله ... الحكم) And His alone is the Majesty in the heavers and the earth, and He is the Mighty, the Wise 185.
  - 480. (on that Day in their stark nakedness).
  - 481. i. e., ignore you deliberately and deprive you of Our mercy.
  - 482. See P. XIV. n. 291.
  - 483. i. e., their Creator and Preserver.
- 484. i. e., its Creator and Preserver. Even so simple a truth as that the earth is a created being stood in need of special emphasis in view of the widely-spread worship of the 'Mother-World.' The significant fact, says a distinguished archaeologist. about the ancient Indus civilization is that 'it was based on a religion precisely characteristic of present-day Hinduism. Numerous effigies of the great Mothergoddess have been found...That same devotion which Indians are now showing to Mother India they have for at least 5000 years shown to the Mother-World——the Mother Universe——which has brought both Mother India and themselves into existence and sustained and inspired them through life. This Mother-World they personified in the time of the ancient Indus civilization as the Mother-Goddess, and in more recent times as Kali.'

485. This unqualified and unreserved assertion of God's sole sovereignty in Islam has been noted and admiringly commented upon by many a non-Muslim observer. Contrast with God's absolute sovereignty and majesty the helplessness of man. From the very beginning the slave of nature and fighting for his own preservation, he finds himself still, after his creation of 'culture', 'nations', 'states' and 'sciences', enslaved by his own creations.

PART XXVI

Surat-ul-Ahgāf

The Sandhils XLVI

(Makkan, 4 Sections and 35 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful

- 1. (حم ) Hā. Mīm.
- 2. (تنزيل . . . الحكم ) The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise<sup>1</sup>.
- 3. (ما ... معرضون) We created not the heavens and the earth and what is in-between save with a purpose<sup>2</sup> and for a term determined<sup>3</sup>. And those who disbelieve backslide from what they are warned of.
- 4. (نل ... مدتین) Say thou 4: think! whatsoever you call upon besides Allah show me whatsoever they have created of the earth? Or, have they any share in the creation of the heavens 6? Bring me a Book before this 7 or some trace of knowledge 8, if you say sooth.
  - 1. (and therefore its contents are worthy of being carefully pondered over).
  - 2. i. e., with serious purpose and just end.
  - 3. i. e., designed to last for a certain period of time, and not for ever.
  - 4. (to the infidels, O Prpohet!).
  - 5. (and thus assume that those objects are co-partners with God).
  - 6. i. e., in their creation.
- 7. i. e., have you any Scriptural authority, howsoever ancient, for the doctrine of polytheism?
- 8. i. e., if no written Revelation is preserved, then produce any oral traditions transmitted from any prophet or man of God to countenance your idolatry.

- 5. (رمن . . . غنارت) And who is more misguided than he who calls besides Allah such as will not answer him till the Day of Resurrection<sup>9</sup>, and who are even unaware of their call<sup>10</sup>?
- 6. (وافا من كفرين) And when mankind are gathered they<sup>11</sup> will become enemies unto them<sup>12</sup>, and will become deniers of their worship.
- 7. (و اذا مربين) And when Our manifest revelations are rehearsed to them, those who disbelieve say of the truth when it is come to them: this is magic manifest<sup>18</sup>.
- 8. (ام...الرحيم) Do they say<sup>14</sup>: he has fabricated it<sup>15</sup>? Say thou: if I have fabricated it, you cannot avail me against Allah in aught<sup>16</sup>. He is the Knower of what you utter<sup>17</sup> respecting it<sup>18</sup>. He suffices as witness<sup>19</sup> between me and you and He is Forgiving, Merciful<sup>20</sup>.
- 9. (تل . . . بين) Say thou<sup>21</sup>: I am not an innovator among the messengers<sup>22</sup> nor I know what would be done with me or with you<sup>28</sup>; I only follow<sup>24</sup> what is revealed to me, and I am but a manifest warner.
  - 9. (and on that Day they will disown their worshippers).
  - 10. (even now),
  - 11. i. e., the so-called gods.
  - 12. i. e., unto their worshippers.
  - 13. See P. VII. n. 164
  - 14. (of the Prophet).
- 15. Is it that the pagans attribute something worse than sorcery—forgery—to the Prophet?
- 16. (while His wrath is sure to overtake me for this piece of abominable forgery).
  - 17. (so glibly).
  - 18. i. e., respecting the Quran.
  - 19. (here and now).

- 20. (so that His wrath is not overtaking the blaspheming pagans in this world).
  - 21. (O Prophet!).
  - 22. (and my claim to prophethood is not a thing unheard-of).
- 23. i. e., I lay no claim to omniscience at all; in fact I am not in my personal capacity sure of my own future.
  - 24. (in practice and in preaching).

- 11. (وقال . . . قديم) And they who disbelieve<sup>35</sup> say of those who believe<sup>36</sup>: had it<sup>37</sup> been good<sup>38</sup> they<sup>38</sup>-A would not have preceded us thereto. And when they have not let themselves guided<sup>39</sup> by it, they say<sup>40</sup>: this is an ancient falsehood.
- 12. (و من . . . المحسنين) And prior to it there has been the Book of Mūsā——a guidance<sup>11</sup> and a mercy. And this is a Book confirming it in Arabic speech, that it may warn those who have done wrong and as glad tidings to the well-doers.
- 13. (ان الذين . يحزثون) Verily those who say 12: our Lord is Allah, and then stand fast to it, no fear shall come upon them, nor shall they grieve 13.
- 14. (اد لئك . . . يسمار ن) Those are the inmates of the Garden, abiders therein44: a recompense for what they have been working.
  - 25. (O Makkans!)
  - 26. (as is evident to every impartial, unbiassed truth-seeker).
  - 27. (furthermore).
  - ?8. (learned and reliable).
  - 29. So well-known for their learning and knowledge of the Scriptures.
  - 30. i. e., to the Book of Moses.
  - 31. (in the Divinity of that Book).
  - 32. (who are steeped in paganism and ignorance).
  - 33. (and in your arrogance refuse to believe in the Book that is before you).
  - 34. (in consequence of their contumacy).
  - 35. (from among the arrogant and conceited pagans of Makka).

- 36. (and whom the arrogant Quraish held in contempt). The first converts to Islam were mostly poor.
  - 37. i. e., the Holy Quran, or the religion of Islam.
  - 38. i. e., really revealed.
  - 38-A. i. e., the first converts to Islam who were mostly poor.
  - 39. (due to their arrogance and contumacy).
  - 40. (as if to save their face).
  - 41. Or 'a pattern.'
  - 42. (in all sincerity).
  - 43, (in the Hereafter).
  - 44. (for ever).

- 15. (ربوسا المالية ) And We have enjoined upon man kindness to the parents , with hardship bears him his mother , and with hardship she brings him forth , and the bearing of him and the weaning of him is thirty months , until, when he attains his full strength and attains the age of forty years, he says: Lord! grant me that I may give thanks for the favour which Thou hast done me and my parents and that I may work righteously such as Thou mayest approve. And be Thou good in my progeny, verily I have turned to Thee penitent; verily I am of those who submit.
- 16. (ارتك . . يوعدون) Those are they from whom We shall accept the best of what they have worked, and their misdeeds We shall pass by. They will be among the inmates of the Garden a true promise this, what they have been promised.
- 17. (والذى . . . الأدل ) And he who<sup>53</sup> says to his parents: fie upon you both! do you threaten me that I shall be taken forth<sup>54</sup>, whereas generations have passed away before me<sup>55</sup>. And the twain implore Allah's assistance<sup>56</sup>; woe to thee! come to believe, verily the promise of Allah<sup>57</sup> is true. Yet he says: this is naught but the fables of the ancients<sup>58</sup>.
  - 45. See P. XV. nn. 65 ff.
- 46. 'Nature establishes in her body a pitiless dictatorship of the ripening foetus, concentrates all her forces for the protection of this tiny lump of new living matter, and mercilessly demands for the latter the most complete self-abnegation on the part of all the organs and tissues of the mother. Everything for the foetus, all for the "genius of the race", and for the mother nothing but nausea, toothache, and physiological discomforts of every kind.' (Nemilov. op. cit., p. 72) 'In case of the fertilization of her gamete by the male sex cell, woman is robbed of entire periods of her own individual life in which the biological processes are absorbed by the "physiological altruism," '(p. 86). 'Even during an "easy" pregnancy the woman never feels entirely well. At best an observing woman will discover many unexpected ailings and symptoms of that complicated physiological process which is going on in her body tissues.....All energy of maternal organism is directed to the creation of a favourable environment for the growing embryo......Even more than during menstruation, the organism of a pregnant woman is constantly on the borderline between the normal and the pathological. Here we find such functional irregularities which, if they occurred apart from pregnancy or in a man, would be considered absolutely pathological.' (pp. 154-156) 'Though a physiological state, pregnancy imposes a strain on the efficient working of every system of the body......Apart from those who have some organic weakness and may break down as under the strain, there are disorders of function that may develop in those previously of sound physique.' (EBr. XVI. p. 677) See also p. XXI n. 270 ff.

- 47. 'In no other living creature is the birth of a new individual accompanied by so much suffering as in the human race.' (Nemilov, op. cit., p. 164) 'Birth-giving pains are the most unbearable and owing to the construction of woman's body, are absolutely unavoidable. Every woman who has permitted conception to take place has doomed herself to suffer after nine months an overwhelming physical disturbance from which there is no way of escape. This is the inexorable biological decree. Every child-birth also carries with it a certain amount of hazard. Aside from the possibility of fatal hemorrhage which at times can neither be foreseen nor checked, the birth wounds, like any other wound, are liable to become infected and lead to fatal poisoning.' (p. 169)
  - 48. (in the womb).
  - 49. i. e., the utmost period of weaning.
- 50. (at the least). The minimum period of human gestation in six months, and the maximum period of sucking is 24 months. See also P. XXI. n. 272.
  - 51. i. e., the normal age of the maturity of intellectual faculties.
  - 52. (they shall be).
  - 53. (in his extreme ungodliness).
  - 54. (from my grave after I am dead).
  - 55. (and no such thing has ever happened).

- 18. (اولتك . . خسرين) Those are they upon whom has been justified the saying<sup>59</sup> about the communities of Jinn and mankind who have passed away before them; verily they are ever the losers.
- 19. (ولكل . . يظلبون) And for all are ranks  $^{60}$  according to what they have worked  $^{61}$ , that He may repay them in full  $^{62}$  for their work, and they shall not be wronged.
- 20. (ريوم . تفسفون) And on the Day when those who disbelieve shall be placed before the Fire: you<sup>63</sup> made away with your good things in your life of the world, and you enjoyed yourselves therewith<sup>64</sup>, so To-day you shall be requited with torment of ignominy because you have been growing stiff-necked on the earth<sup>65</sup> without justification, and because you have been transgressing.

SECTION 3

21. (واذكر معلم) And remember thou<sup>68</sup> the brother of the 'Ād<sup>67</sup> when We warned his people in the sandhills<sup>68</sup>——and surely there have passed away warners before him and after him<sup>69</sup>——saying: worship none save Allah, verily I fear for you the chastisement of an awful Day.

- 59. i. e., the sentence of destruction.
- 60. (arranged with perfect precision),
- 61. (of good or ill).
- 62. (i. e., proportionate to the magnitude of their righteousness and ungodliness).
  - 63. Thus they will be addressed.
- 64. (paying no heed to Our commands). See for an apposite parable in the NT. Lk. 16: 19-25.
  - 65. (though being a mere earthly creature).

- 66. (to thy people, O Prophet!).
- 67. i. e., the Prophet Hūd. See P. VIII. n. 523.
- 18. الاحقاد applies particularly to certain oblong tracts of sand in the region of Esh-shihr: to the country of 'Aād. (LL). Ad-Dahnā' (the red sand), a surface of red sand, extends from the great Nufūd in the north to al-Rab al-Khāli in the south, describing a great arc to the south east and stretching a distance of over six hundred miles. Its western part is sometimes, distinguished as al-Ahqāf (dune land.) (Hitti, op. cit., p. 15). This "red land" is a comparatively hard plain, covered at intervals with long and winding sand-belts.' (Inayatullah, op. cit., p. 16).
  - 69. Hūd was not the only warner preaching this doctrine of Unity.

- 22. (قالوا . . . الصديةين) They said: art thou come to us that thou mayest turn us aside from our gods? Then bring thou upon us that with which thou threatenest us, if thou art truthful.
- 23. (قال . . . نَجُهِلُون) He said: the knowledge<sup>70</sup> is only with Allah, and I preach to you that wherewith I am sent<sup>71</sup>, but I see you are a people given to ignorance.
- 24. ( الله . . . الله ) And when they saw it  $^{72}$  as an overpeering cloud tending towards their valleys they said: that is an overpeering cloud bringing us rain. Nay $^{73}$ ! it is what you sought to be hastened: a wind wherein is an afflictive torment,
- 25. (تدس. المجرمين) it shall annihilate everything by the command of its Lord. Therefore they became such that nothing could be seen their dwellings. We thus requite a nation of the guilty.
- 26. (ولند . . يستهرون) And them We had assuredly established in that flourishing condition wherein We have not established you<sup>77</sup> and We had assigned for them hearing and sight and hearts<sup>78</sup>; yet their hearing and sight and hearts availed them not at all. They used to gainsay the revelations of Allah, and then encompassed them what they had been mocking at.

- 71. i. e.. only this much I know that punishment is sure to visit you, but I cannot tell at what particular time it would come.
  - 72. i. e. the punishment.
  - 73. Thus spoke their prophet Hud.
  - 74. (after the violent wind had done its fatal work).
  - 75. (of men and their possessions).
  - 76. (desolate and in ruin).
  - 77. (O Makkans!).

So when they came in the presence thereof<sup>87</sup> they said<sup>88</sup>: give ears<sup>89</sup>. Then when it was ended, they returned back to their people as warners<sup>90</sup>.
- 30. (وقالوا ... مستقيم) They said: O our people; verily we have hearkened to a Book sent down after Mūsā, confirming what was before it, guiding to the truth and a straight path.
- 31. (يقرمنا . . . اليم) O our people! answer Allah's summoner<sup>91</sup>, and believe in him; He shall forgive you your sins<sup>92</sup> and shall shield you from an afflictive chastisement.

  - 93. (in the Hereafter to protect him).
  - 94. i. e., the Makkan pagans who rejected the doctrine of Resurrection.
- 95. This is to emphatically deny the idea of fatigue and weariness to God implied in the Bible. Cf. the OT:—'And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Ge. 2:2, 3) 'For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.' (Ex. 31:17) 'For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day.' (Ex. 20:11) And the NT:—'And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.' (He. 4:4) The idea of God needing rest at the end of His ereative activity, as if the Creator was also worn out with worrying toils and struggled under burdens too heavy for Him, is preposterous to the Muslim mind, but the fact is there that the Bible clearly inculcates so curious a doctrine.

- 96. (Thus they will be asked).
- 97. (of which reality you persistently denied while you were in the world).
  - 98. (it is terribly real).

  - 100. (of old),
  - 101. (the injuries of their peoples).
  - 102. (Divine vengeance).
  - 103. (in extreme constraint and bewilderment).
  - 104. (in the world).
  - 105. (after this plain warning from God).

Sūrah Muhammad

Muhammad, XLVII

(Madinian, 4 Sections and 38 Verses)
In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (الذين . . . اعمالهم) Those who disbelieve and hinder others from the path of Allah——their works He shall send astray<sup>1.6</sup>.
- 2. (والذين . . . يا لم ) And those who believe and work righteous deeds and believe in what has been revealed to Muhammad<sup>107</sup>——and it is the truth from their Lord——their misdeeds<sup>108</sup> He shall expiate from them and shall make good their state<sup>109</sup>.
- 3. (دَاك . . . المَّالِم) That is because those who disbelieve follow false-hood<sup>110</sup> and those who believe follow the truth from their Lord<sup>111</sup>. And thus does Allah propound to the mankind their similitudes<sup>112</sup>.
- 106. i. e., deeds which seemed highly righteous in their own eyes will be found void of all merit in the Hereafter.
- 107. 'That most successful of all prophets and religious personalities.' (EBr. XV. p. 898 11th Ed). 'The only man mentioned by history, who was at once legislator and poet, the founder of a religion and of an empire.' (Gilman, The Saracens, p. 207) See also P. IV. n. 212, and n. 333 below.
  - 108. (and shall forgive them).
  - 109. (both in this world and the Next).
  - 110. (which inevitably leads to perdition).
  - 111. (which inevitably leads to peace and prosperity),
  - 112. i. e., their states and conditions by similitudes.

- 4. (ماذات اعبالهم) Now when you meet 113 those who disbelieve, smite their necks until when you have slain them greatly 114, then make fast the bonds 115, then 116 thereafter 117 let them off freely or by ransom 118, until 119 the war lays off its burden 120. That you shall do 121. And had Allah 122 willed, He would have vindicated Himself against them 123; but He ordained fighting in order that He may test you one by the other 124. And those who are slain in the cause of Allah, He shall not let their works go astray 125.
- 5. (میلاییم ) Soon He will guide them  $^{126}$  and make good their state  $^{127}$ .
- 6. (وید خلیم ) And He will make them enter the Garden and will make it known to them<sup>128</sup>.
- 7. (با يهاالذين . . . اقدامكم) O you who believe I if you succour Allah<sup>129</sup>, He will succour you<sup>180</sup> and make your feet firm<sup>181</sup>.
- 8. (والذين . . اعبالهم) And those who disbelieve<sup>132</sup>, theirs shall be the downfall<sup>133</sup>, and their work He will send astray<sup>134</sup>.
- 9. (ذلك . . . اعالهم) That is because they detest what Allah has sent down, and so He will make their works of non-effect.
- 10. (اللم . . . المثاليا) Have they not journeyed on the earth so that they might see<sup>135</sup> how has been the end of those before them? Allah annihilated them; and for the infidels<sup>136</sup>, theirs shall be the like fate therefor.
- 11. (روا . . . نك) That is because Allah is the Patron of those who believe, and the infidels I no patron is theirs!

<sup>114. (</sup>so that they are entirely subdued and thoroughly crushed, and their power for mischief completely curbed).

- 116. (according to the discretion of your leader and exigencies of the situation).
  - 117. (after you have taken them prisoner).
- 118. i. e., liberate them out of kindness or in return for ransom. أنه is here synonymous with تفرون فعالم with تفرون فعالم with تفرون منا (WGAL. II. p. 73).
  - 119. i. e., this injunction holds good until-
  - 120. (and terminates).
  - انعارا ذالك is here synonymous with ذالك
  - 122. (in consonance with His universal Scheme).
  - 123. (without your participation in the struggle at all).
- 124. i. e., in order that He may test the believers by the amount of their willing sacrifices and the infidels by the lengths to which they would go in rebellion.
  - 125. (and shall not let their service and sacrifices go in vain).
  - 126. (to the goal of Eternal happiness and bliss).
- 127. (at the hour of their death, in Burzakhish life and on the Day of judgement).
- 128. (so that they will know the places assigned to them beforehand). This knowledge will come either intuitively or through the attending angels.
  - 129. (by fighting for His religion),
  - 130. (against your enemy).
- 131. As was demonstrated at the battle of Badr and later on many other occasions. The army of the Faithful was borne forward by an enthusiasm which the half-hearted warriors opposite were unable to withstand.' (Muir, op. cit., pp. 225-26). The first companions of Mahomet advanced to battle with a fearless confidence; there is no danger where there is no chance; they were ordained to perish in their beds; or they were safe and invulnerable amidst the darts of the enemy.' (GRE. V. p. 361) A new spirit was now infused into the Arabian armies; and the implicit obedience which the troops of the Prophet paid to his commands, rendered their discipline as superior to that of the imperial forces, as their tactics and their arms were inferior.' (Finlay, Greece under the Romans (p. 450).
  - 132. (and array themselves against the ordinances of God).
  - 133. (in this world also).
  - 134. (in the Hereafter) i. e., render them void of merit.
  - 135. (by observing the ruins of powerful ancient infidels).
  - 136. (of the present-day).

SECTION 2

- 12. (pt . . . . dibil) Verily Allah will cause those who believe and work righteous deeds to enter the Garden whereunder rivers flow. And those who disbelieve enjoy themselves<sup>137</sup> and eat even as the cattle eat<sup>138</sup>, and the Fire shall be the abode for them.
- 13. (رکاین) And many a city, mightier in strength than the city which drove thee forth<sup>139</sup>!——We destroyed, and there was no helper of theirs<sup>140</sup>.
- 14. (انمن . اهراء مم) Is he then who stands on an evidence from his Lord like him whose evil of work is bedecked to him<sup>141</sup>, and those who follow their lusts<sup>142</sup>?
- 15. (مثل. السادم) A likeness of the Garden which has been promised to the God-fearing is this, therein are rivers of water incorruptible, rivers of milk of unchangeable flavour<sup>143</sup>, rivers of wine, a joy to the drinkers<sup>144</sup>; and rivers of honey clarified<sup>145</sup>; therein theirs shall be every manner of fruit, and forgiveness from their Lord. Shall persons enjoying such bliss be like those who are abiders in the Fire, and are given to drink boiling water so that it mangles their entrails<sup>146</sup>?
  - 137. (in this world exclusively).

138. (heedless of the future).

139. (O Prophet!) i. e., the city-state of Makka.

140. This conveyed to the idolatrous Makkans clear prediction of their utter rout and annihilation.

141. (by the devil).

142. i. e., is the final end of the godly ones to be ever similar to that of the ungodly ones?

143. Quite unlike the earthly milk.

144. (and free of all intoxicating and injurious proportions).

145. i. e., free of all foreign substances.

146. Which punishment is suggestive of the unspeakable agony of the damned ones.

- 16. (رمنهم . . اهراء هم) Of them<sup>147</sup> are some who listen to thee<sup>148</sup>, until, when they go forth from before thee, they say<sup>149</sup> to those who are vouchsafed knowledge<sup>150</sup>: what is that he said just now? Those are they whose hearts Allah has sealed up, and they follow their lusts.
- 17. (والذين من تقواهم) And those<sup>151</sup> who are guided, He adds their guidance<sup>152</sup>, and gives them protection against evil<sup>153</sup>.
- 18. (نهل . . . ذكرام) Do they only await<sup>154</sup> the Hour, that it should come upon them of a sudden<sup>155</sup>? Portents thereof<sup>156</sup> are already come, so how will it be with them when there comes to them their admonition?
- 19. (واعلم . . ومثواكم) So know thou<sup>157</sup> that there is no God save Allah, and ask forgiveness for thy fault<sup>158</sup> and for faithful men and women. And Allah knows well your moving about and your place of rest<sup>159</sup>.
  - 147. 'Them' refers to the hypocrites.
  - 148. (to all appearance, but really pay no heed to them, O Prophet!).
  - 149. (out of mischief).
  - 150. i. e., to the learned companions of the Prophet.
  - 151. (of their own race and people) i. e., the true believers.
  - 152. (by each fresh Revelation).
  - 153. i. e., helps them to practise piety or giveth them its recompense.
  - 154. i. e., the hypocrites.
  - 155. (when repentance will be futile).
  - 156. Such as the very advent of the Final Prophet),
  - 157. (and remain perfectly sure of it).
  - 158. (and thus setting an example to thy followers). See P. XXIV. n. 223.
  - 159. (O mankind!). So that nothing is ever hidden from Him.

- 20. (دينرل... لهم) And those who believe say<sup>160</sup>: why has a Surah not been revealed? Then when there is revealed a Surah firmly-constructed<sup>161</sup> and fighting is prescribed therein, thou seest those in whose heart is a disease<sup>163</sup> looking at thee with a look of one who is fainting unto death<sup>163</sup>: so alas for them<sup>164</sup>!
- 21. (طاعة... المجار) The hypocrites' obedience and speech are known<sup>165</sup>. Then when the affair is resolved<sup>166</sup>, if even then they gave credence to Allah<sup>167</sup>, it would have been better for them.
- 22. (نهل . . . ارحامکم) Then if you turn away<sup>168</sup>, you are likely to cause corruption on the earth and to sever your kinship<sup>169</sup>.
- 23. (أولك . . ابصارهم) Those are they whom Allah has cursed and then has deafened them and blinded their sights.
- 24. (انلا . . . اقتالها) Do they not ponder the Qurān<sup>171</sup>, or are there locks upon their hearts<sup>172</sup>?
- 25. (ان الذين ) Verily those who have apostated on their backs after the guidance had become manifest to them, Satan has embellished this apostasy to them, and has given them false hopes.
- 26. (ذ'لك . . اسرارم) That is because  $^{173}$  they  $^{174}$  said  $^{175}$  to those who abhor  $^{176}$  what Allah has revealed  $^{177}$ ; we shall obey you in part of the affair  $^{178}$ ; and Allah knows their talking in secret  $^{179}$ .

- 164. Pitiable will be their plight.
- 165. God and His messenger will know the magnitude of the hypocrites' pretensions.
- 166. i. e., when after the ordinance of the holy war, preparations for actual fighting have already started.
  - 167. i. e., if they gave proof of their loyalty to God and His messenger.
- 168. (from observing such a salutary ordinance as Jihad, O coward and timorous people!).
- 169. The meaning is: if the evil is not stifled, it is sure to spread all over the world and prevalence of violence is sure to respect no ties of blood.
  - 170. (by depriving them of His special mercy).
  - 171. (whose teachings are so clear),
  - 172. (so that they have become impervious to every argument and evidence).
  - 173. i. e., this catastrophe of apostacy has befallen them because—
  - 174. i. e., the hypocrites.
  - 175. (in confidence).
  - 176. (out of envy).
- 177. The reference is to the leaders of Israel in Hejāz—the arch-enemies of Islam.
- 178. i. e., We shall follow you in part of what you desire of us, by staying at home and by not joining the believers in their wars, and by secretly combining against them.
  - 179. (so their plots shall not succeed).

- 202. (on such occasions).
- 203. i. e., he deprives himself of His grace.
- 204. i. e., free of all wants.
- 205. God is the real owner of everything; man is only dispenser, who will have to render account of every gift. Wealth is but a trust and a test.
  - 206. (and are lukewarm in the propagation of the true faith).
  - 207. (to work out His Design).
  - 208. (in timidity and want of faith).

The Victory. XLVIII

(Madinian, 4 Sections and 29 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (ال سينا) Verily We ! a victory<sup>209</sup> We have given thee<sup>210</sup>, a manifest victory<sup>211</sup>,
- 2. (لِغَنْر . . منتيا) that He may forgive thee of thy sins, past<sup>112</sup> and future<sup>213</sup>, and may accomplish the more His favour<sup>214</sup> on thee<sup>215</sup>, and may keep thee guided on the straight path<sup>216</sup>;
- 3. (دینصرك. . عزیرا) and that Allah may succour thee with a mighty succour<sup>217</sup>.
- 4. (مراأذى . . . عكيا) He it is Who has sent down tranquillity<sup>218</sup> into the hearts of the believers<sup>219</sup> that they might increase belie: to their belief<sup>220</sup>. And Allah's are the hosts of the heavens and the earth<sup>221</sup>, and Allah is ever Knowing, Wise<sup>228</sup>.
  - 209. (moral as well as political)
  - 210. (O Prophet!)
- 211. The reference is to the truce of Hudaibiya, which, though at the time it seemed a set-back to the Muslims, proved in fact the greatest victory for Al-Islam. In the sixth year of the Hijra, the Prophet set-out with some 1400 Muslims from Al-Madinah and the country round, in the garb of piligrims, not for war but to visit the Ka'bah. When they drew near to Mecca, they were warned that Qureysh had gathered their allies against them, and that their cavalry under Khalid ibn Al-Walīd was on the road before them. Making a detour through gullies of the hills, they escaped the cavalry and coming into the valley of Mecca, encamped at Al-Hudeybiyeh below the city. The Prophet resolutely refused to give battle and persisted in attempts to parley with Qureysh who had sworn not to let him reach the Kabah...Qureysh at length agreed to a truce of which the terms were favourable to them. The Prophet and his multitude were to give up the project of visiting the sanctuary for that year, but were to make the piligrimage the following year when the idolaters undertook to evacuate Mecca for three days to allow them to do so. Fugitives from Ourevsh to the Muslims were to be returned, but not fugitives from the Muslims to Qurevsh; and there was not to be hostility between the parties for ten years' (Pickthal). The people, led by vision to anticipate an unopposed visit to the Ka ba, were crestfallen at the abortive result of their long journey. But, in truth, a great step had been gained by Mohammad. His political status, as an equal and independent Power, was acknowledged by the treaty: the ten year's truce would afford opportunity and time for the new religion to expand, and to force its claims upon the conviction of Koreish; while conquest, material as well spiritual, might be pursued on every other side...Above all, it was a great and manifest success that free permission was conceded to visit Mecca in the following year, and for three days to occupy the city undisturbed,' (Muir op. cit., p. 360). This was for the first time that the Muslims were treated on equal terms by the Makkans, and the treaty practically ended the Makkan wars.

- 212. For is faults as distinct from sin, see P. XXIV. n. 223.
- 213. See P. XXIV. n. 223. 'The privilege of unconditional pardon for his sins refers to mistakes which he might have committed or would commit in future, and not to intentional omission of duties imposed on all the Faithful...Erring is human, and none is above error except God. But the mistakes of the Prophet were always, and immediately, corrected by Divine Revelation: and this is the difference between the Prophets and other mortals.' (ASB. I. p. 47)
  - 214. (which is already great).
- 215. (by affording thee still great opportunities of serving the religion of God).
  - 216. (untrammelled by the wiles of infidels).
  - 217. (by making thee powerful and thy cause triumphant).
  - 218. i. e., Divine calm overshadowing the heart.
- 219. (when it was natural for them to be discontented and agitated at the apparent inequality of the peace terms).
  - 220. (by seeing their faith justified and fulfiled).
  - 221. (so why be afraid of the pagan hosts?).
  - 222. (so He prescribes war only when it becomes beneficial).

- 5. (لِدَ عَلَى ... عَظَيا) He has prescribed war in order that He may admit the believing men<sup>223</sup> and women into Gardens, whereunder rivers flow as abiders therein, and that He may expiate from them their misdeeds<sup>224</sup>. And that<sup>225</sup> is with Allah ever a mighty achievement.
- 6. (ريمذب مصيرا) and that<sup>226</sup> He may chastise the hypocritical men and women and the polythiest men and women, and the thinkers of evil thought concerning Allah. To them shall befall the evil turn of fortune<sup>227</sup>, and Allah shall be indignant with them<sup>228</sup>, and shall curse them<sup>229</sup>, and He has prepared for them Hell, an ill-destination!
- 7. (مکید) And Allah's are the legions of the heavens and the earth. And Allah is ever Mighty<sup>230</sup>, Wise<sup>231</sup>.
- 8. (ای ندرا) Verily We I We have sent thee as a witness<sup>232</sup> and a bearer of glad tidings<sup>235</sup> and a warner<sup>234</sup>,
- 9. (ترمنوا . . أصيلا) that you people<sup>235</sup> may believe in Allah and His messenger, and may assist Him<sup>236</sup> and honour Him, and may hallow Him morning and evening.
  - 223. (by their observing the ordinances of war).
  - 224. (by the preponderance of good over evil).
  - 225. i. e., the expiation of sins).
  - 226. (He has deprived the infidels of the tranquillity of mind in order——).
  - 227. (in this world).
  - 228. (in the Hereafter).
  - 229. i. e., shall deprive of His grace and mercy.

- 230. i. e., Able to inflict destruction on them without human intervention.
- 231. i. e., using human agency in His wisdom.
- 232. (against mankind on the Day of the Judgement).
- 233. (unto the righteous believers).
- 234. (unto the ungodly sinners).
- 235. (O mankind!).
- 236. i. e., His religion.

- 12. (بيل . . . بيراً) Yea! you imagined<sup>251</sup> that the messenger and the believers would never return to their families<sup>252</sup>, and that<sup>253</sup> became bedecked in your hearts<sup>251</sup>, and you bethought an evil thought<sup>255</sup>, and you became a people doomed<sup>256</sup>.
- 13. (رمن . . . . . . . . . ) And whosoever does not believe in Allah and His messenger——then verily We have prepared a Blaze for the infidels.
  - 237. (that they would hold together and fight to death).
- 238. i. e., it was the hand of God Himself, not the hand of His apostle merely, which then was struck. He beheld them from above, and was witness to the solemnity of their giving their faith to His apostle. The holy Prophet was the vicegerent of God, par excellence. Without a standing army, without a bodyguard, without a palace, without a fixed revenue, if ever any man had the right to say that he ruled by a right Divine, it was Mohammad; for he had all the power without its instruments and without its supports.' (Bosworth Smith, op. cit., p. 341).
- 239. The believers, according to the Arab custom, placed hand on hand when solemnly affirming fidelity.
  - 240. (by giving his word to His prophet).

- 241. (because of their want of firmness in the faith).
- 242. (during this holy journey which turned out to be Hudaibiya expedition).
- 243. ——now that thou hast triumphantly returned to Madina——.
- 244. (O Prophet!),
- 245. (and not any deliberate revolt on our part).
- 246. (so that we could not accompany thee).
- 247. (for this apparent dereliction of duty).
- 248. i. e., they are affecting regret and remorse, with only lukewarm belief in the Prophet's mission.
- 249. (in your possessions and families) i. e,, He is the absolute Author of your fates, so why be remiss in your duty towards Him, putting as an excuse the fear of loss to life and property? (TH).
  - 250. (and He has apprised His prophet of your real and secret motives).
  - 251. (prompted as you were by your wavering faith).
  - 252. (and would be overpowered and annihilated by the Makkan pagans).
  - 253. i. e., the thought of the Muslims being wiped out.
  - 254. i. e., the thought corresponded with your desire.
  - 255. See n. 251 above.
  - 256. (to perdition on account of your malice towards the Prophet and Islam).

- 14. (رت ) And Allah's is the dominion of the heavens and the earth. He forgives whomsoever He will<sup>257</sup>, and chastise whomsoever He will<sup>253</sup>; and Allah is ever Forgiving, Merciful<sup>259</sup>.
- 15. (عنول . . . ألكا) Those who lagged behind will<sup>260</sup> when you<sup>261</sup> march forth to take the spoils<sup>262</sup> presently say<sup>263</sup>: leave us, we shall follow you. They were to change the word of Allah<sup>264</sup>. Say thou: you shall by no means follow us<sup>265</sup>; thus has Allah said<sup>260</sup> before. Then they will say<sup>267</sup>: Aye! you envy us<sup>268</sup>. Aye! little it is you are wont to understand<sup>269</sup>.
- 16. (نا . . . البا) Say thou to those of the desert Arabs who lagged behind: surely you shall be summoned<sup>270</sup> to fight against a people endued with exceeding violence<sup>271</sup>, then you will fight them or they will surrender<sup>272</sup>. Then if you obey<sup>273</sup>, Allah will give you a goodly wage<sup>274</sup>; but if you turn away, as you turned away before<sup>275</sup>, He will chastise you with an afflictive chastisement.
  - 257. (and He has willed forgiveness for the believers).
  - 258. (and He has willed torment for the infidels).
  - 259. So He shall forgive also the infidels provided they turn back and repent.
  - 260. i. e., in a few weeks' time.
  - 261. (O Muslims!).
- 262. (in the expedition of Khaiber). The Prophet soon after his return from Hudaibiya was to proceed against the Jews of Khaiber, and he was to take with him only those who had accompanied him to Hudaibiya.
  - 263. (out of their fondness for booty).
- 264. i. e. the Divine decree to the effect that none should accompany the Prophet except those who had been with him in the expedition to Hudaibiya.
- 265. (in the Khaiber expedition). As the penalty for malingering, the Bedouins were forbidden to join, or partake in the booty of any excursion for some time——a penalty so hateful to them.

- 266. (and ordained on us). 'Many of the citizens and the Bedouin who had neglected the former summons, would gladly now have joined the tempting expedition; but, according to the divine injunction, they were not permitted, and their mortification was great at being left behind.' (Muir. op. cit., p. 374).
  - 267. (to the believers).
  - 268. (share of booty).
- 269. 'The desert Arabs loved fighting and plunder, and understood such motives for war. The higher motives seemed to be beyond them. Like ignorant men they attributed petty motives of jealousy if they were kept out of the vulgar circle of fighting from plunder.' (AYA).
- 270. (to fight, after some little time when you will have learnt the lessons of discipline and self-sacrifice, and when your brave words will be tested).
- 271. The reference is to formidable and will-equipped Persian and Byzantine armies.
  - 272. (to Islam in the meantime).
  - 273. (at that time, and respond to the call to arms).
  - 274. (in the Hereafter).
  - 275. i. e., as at the time of the Hudaibiya expedition.

17. (ليس . . . اليا) No blame there is upon the blind and no blame upon the lame and no blame upon the sick<sup>276</sup>. And whosoever obeys Allah and his messenger he will admit him into Garden whereunder rivers flow; and whosoever turns away, him He shall torment with an afflictive torment.

- 18. (لقد . . . قريباً) Assuredly well-pleased was Allah with the faithful<sup>277</sup> when they sworn fealty to thee<sup>278</sup> under the tree<sup>279</sup>, and He knew what was in their hearts<sup>280</sup>; so He sent down on them tranquillity<sup>281</sup>, and rewarded them with a victory near at hand<sup>282</sup>.
- 19. (و منانم . . . . حکیا) and abundant spoils that they are taking<sup>248</sup>. And Allah is ever Mighty<sup>284</sup>, Wise<sup>285</sup>.
- 20. (رعدكم . . . منتب) Allah has promised you abundant spoils<sup>256</sup> that you shall take<sup>287</sup>, and these<sup>288</sup> He has hastened to you<sup>259</sup> and has restrained the hands of the people from you<sup>290</sup>, that it may be a sign to the believers<sup>291</sup>, and that He may guide you to<sup>292</sup> a straight path.
- 21. (راَخرط. . . تديرا) And another victory<sup>293</sup> He promised, over which as yet you have no power; Allah has surely encompassed it<sup>294</sup>, and Allah is ever Potent over everything.
- 22. (دلو . . . نصيرا) And<sup>295</sup> had those who disbelieve<sup>296</sup> fought against you<sup>297</sup>, surely they would have turned their backs and then they would have found no patron nor helper<sup>298</sup>.

<sup>276. (</sup>if such persons do not go forth to the war).

and surrounded by the whole body of the piligrims, he required a pledge from them of faithful service, and that they would stand by 'Othmān to the death...Their fears were suddenly relieved by the reappearance of 'Othmān. But the Pledge of the Tree is a scene to which the Prophet ever after loved to revert; for here the strong feelings of devotion and sympathy between him and his followers had found fitting and ardent expression. Their martial spirit and religious fervour had been excited to the highest pitch; and they were prepared at once to rush upon the enemy with resistless onset.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 358)

- 279. (under which the holy Prophet set when he took an oath from them to be faithful to him unto death). 'According to Sprenger, the tree having been mentioned in the Korān, Omar had it cut down, lest it should become an object of worship.' (Muir,  $op_{\tilde{n}}$  cit., p. 361).
  - 280. (of devotion and sincerity).
  - 281. Which made them firm and resolute.
- 282. (at Khaiber). 'The victory was decisive, for the Jews lost 93 men; while of the Muslims, only 19 were killed throughout the whole campaign.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 376)
- 283. 'The plunder of Khaiber was rich beyond experience. Besides vast stores of dates, oil, honcy and barley, flocks of sheep and herds of camels, the spoil in treasure and jewels was very large.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 380) 'A large and permanent reward was thus secured for all who had given proof of their faith and loyalty by accompanying Mohammed to Al-Hudaibiya, and the promise made on that expedition thus amply redeemed.' (ib) The loss of so enormous a booty must have particularly aggravated the chagrin of the Bedouin.
  - 284. i. e., Able to reward anyone and everyone.
  - 285. i. e., Rewarding only in accordance with His infinite Wisdom.
  - 286. (elsewhere, O Muslims!)
  - 287. (in the course of time).
  - 288. i. e., the spoils of Khaibar.
  - 289. (by way of earnest).
- 290. The Jews could offer but feeble resistance. The rapidity of the approach cut off all hope of timely aid from the Bani-Ghatafan. The rich vale of Khaiber was studded with villages and fortresses rudely built...One by one, before any opposition could be organised, these forts were attacked and carried...From the villages first attacked, which were gained with little loss, Mohammed proceeded to the strong fortress of Al-Kamus...The citadel of Al-Kamus surrendered, on condition that the inhabitants were free to leave the country, but that they should give up all their property to the conqueror...After the victory of Al-Kamus the only remaining strongholds, Al-Watib and Sulalim, were invested, and seeing no prospect of relief, capitulated... Fedak, a Jewish town, not far from Khaibar, profited by the example, and, having tendered a timely submission, was admitted on the same terms.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 374-376, 380).

- 291. (comfirming their faith still more in the promises of God).
- 292. ——with such happenings serving as signposts——
- 293, (of yet greater significance). The reference is to the conquest of Makka. "Two years later, towards the end of January 630 (A.H. 8), the conquest of Makka was complete. Entering its great sanctuary, Mohammad smashed the many idols, said to have numbered three hundred and sixty, exclaiming: "Truth hath come, and falsehood hath vanished!" The people themselves, however, were treated with special magnanimity. Hardly a triumphal entry in ancient annals is comparable to this." (Hitti. op. cit., p. 118)
  - 294. (in His power; letting it to you at its proper time).
  - 295. —to revert to the Hudaibiya episode——
  - 296. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
  - 297. i. e., offered you a battle instead of making truce with you.
- 298. i. e., the infidels were sure to have met with a crushing and ignominious defeat

- 23. (سنة الله ... نسيلا) That has been the dispensation of Allah with those who passed away before; and thou shalt not find any change in the dispensation of Allah 801.
- 24. (رهر الذي . . . . بعيرا) And He it is Who restrained their hands from you and restrained your hands from them<sup>302</sup>, in the vale of Makka<sup>308</sup> after He had made you victorious over them, and Allah is ever a Beholder of what you do.
- 25. (الم الذين اليا) They were those who disbelieved and debarred you from the Sacred Mosque<sup>304</sup>, and prevented the detained offering<sup>305</sup>, that it should arrive at its goal<sup>306</sup>. And had it not been for the believing men and women you know not<sup>307</sup> and that you might have trampled on them and thus might have been guilty on their account unwittingly<sup>308</sup>. This He did<sup>309</sup> that He might abide with His mercy whomsoever He will<sup>310</sup>. Had they<sup>311</sup> been distinguished one from another<sup>312</sup>, surely We had chastised those who disbelieved among them with a painful chastisement<sup>313</sup>.

<sup>302. (</sup>during the course of events at Hudaibiya, so that both sides refrained from bloodshed).

<sup>303.</sup> i. e., at Hudaibiya; a place so close to Makka. 'The name Makka, the Macoraba of Ptolemy, comes from Sabaean Makuraba, meaning sanctuary, which indicates that it owes its foundation to some religious association long before Muhammed was born.' (Hitti. op. cit., p. 103). See also P. IV. n. 19.

<sup>304.</sup> The intent of the holy Prophet in his projected visit to Makka was entirely peaceful——to circumambulate the Ka ba and to offer a sacrifice in Mina.

- 305. i. e. the animals for sacrifice that the Muslims, in accord with their well-established practice, had brought with them from Madina.
  - 306. i. e., at Mina.
- 307. i. e., the believers, unknown to you, were intermingled with the pagan population in Makka at the time.
- 308. i. e., the Madina Muslims would thus have been unconsciously guilty of sheddding Muslim blood.
- 309. It was with a view to prevent the Madina Muslims from shedding Muslim blood, unconsciuosly though, that God held back the Prophet from attacking Makka at the time.
- 310. So that He preserved the lives of the Makkan Muslims and the virtue of the Madina Muslims.
  - 311. i. e., the population of Makka.
  - 312. i. e., the believers from the infidels.
- 313. i. e., in that case We would have caused the destruction of the pagans by the Muslim hands.

  - 315. i. e., the representatives of the Ouraish.
- 316. (by their objecting to the words 'The Compassionate', and 'the apostle of God', and over which it was quite natural for the Muslims to be excited and infuriated). 'Koreish deputed Suheil and other representatives, with power to conclude a treaty of peace... At last the terms were settled... Mohammed summoned Ali to write from his dictation. And thus he began, "In the name of God, most Gracious and Merciful." 'Stop", said Suheil. "As for God, we know Him; but this new name, we know it not. Say as we have always said, In Thy name. O God!" Mohammed yielded. "Write'" he said, "In Thy name. O God! These are the conditions of peace between Mohammed the Prophet of God and—." 'Stop again!" interposed Suheil, "If thou wert what thou sayest, I had not taken up arms against thee. Write, as the custom is, thine own name, and thy father's name." "Write, Then," continued Mohammed calmly, "between Mohammed son of 'Abdullah. and Suheil son of 'Amer' (Muir, op. cit., p. 359). This haughty spirit of Paganism refers to 'the tribal pride and the endless tribal feuds, the cult of revenge, the implacability and all the other pagan characteristics which Islam was destined to overcome.' (Goldziher's Muhammadanische Studien I, p. 225). For ALLI see P. IV. n. 264.

- 317. i. e., God specially appeased and calmed the believers when they were on the point of breaking off the negotiations and falling on the pagans.
- 318. Which consisted, on this occasion, in implicit obedience to the Prophet's dictation, however great the provocation might be.
  - 319. i. e., the true believer's.
  - 320. (in the world) i. e., they deserved to stick to the dictates of piety.
- 321. (in the Hereaster i. e., they shall surely get its recompense in the Hereaster).
- 322. Wherein he dreamt that he and his companions entered Makka peacefully for Haj. 'Pollowed by his people, he dreamed that he entered Mecca in security, and having made the circuit of the Ka'ba, and slain the victims, completed thus the ceremonics of the pilgrimage,' (Muir, ep. cit., p. 354) The believers were, naturally, led by this vision to anticipate an immediate unopposed visit to the Ka'ba.
- 323. The passage confirms the vision positively, consoles the believers and asks them not to be perturbed at all if the dream is not fulfilled immediately.
  - 324. (the next year, O Muslims)!

The obvious allusion is to the teligion 'which still claims the adherence of no less than four hundred and thirty millions of people, representing nearly all the races and many different climes. Every eighth person in our world today is a follower of Muhammad, and the Moslem call to prayer rings out through most of the twenty-four hours of the day, encircling the large portion of the globe in its warm belt.' (Hittl, op cit., p. 3). (The Muslims now number one thousand million).
  - 331. (and make it the universal religion for all mankind)
- 332. (thereof). So be not dejected and downhearted at the rejection of thy mission by the pagans which is due to their malice perversity, or 'Zeal of Paganism.'

- 29. (محمد رسول الله . . مطبة) Mohammad<sup>333</sup> is the messenger of Allah<sup>331</sup>. And those who are with him<sup>335</sup> are stern<sup>336</sup> against the infidels and merciful<sup>337</sup> among themselves<sup>338</sup>. Thou seest them<sup>339</sup> bowing down and falling prostrate, and seeking grace from Allah and His goodwill<sup>340</sup>. This mark is on their faces, a trace of prostration<sup>341</sup>, such is their description in the Taurāt<sup>342</sup>. And their description in the Injīl<sup>343</sup>: like a seed that puts forth its shoot and strengthens it, and grows and rises straight upon its stalk delighting the sowers<sup>344</sup>. Such are the early Muslims described that He may enrage the infidels with them. To those among them who believe and work righteous deeds, Allah has promised forgiveness and a splendid wage.
- 333. Subject for many centuries to vilification, vituperation and ridicule by so-called 'scholars' of the West, it is only now that light has begun slowly and gradually to dawn upon Europe and America. 'Shall we speak of this man with disrespect? His precepts are, at this day, the religious guide of one-third of the human race.' (Draper, Conflict between Religion and Science, p. 84). 'It is only in recent years that we have come to think differently of Muhammed and his religion of Islam. It is acknowledged now that he was an inspired man, and that his religion rescued many millions of men from a shameful idolatry, and gave them a noble idea of One God.' (Bk. IV. p. 2282) see also P. IV. n. 212; n. 107 above, P. XXX. nn. 425, 429, 580.
- 334. (and the Book of God shall ever testify to this truth; so why worry over the trifling fact that the pagans at Hudaibiya objected to append the words 'apostle of God' to his name). Surely no other prophet's personal habits...have been so faithfully recorded and followed by his followers or his decrees invested with such divine authority.' (Bhattacharya, Foundations of Living Faith, p. 45). 'The profession of faith, shahadah, the first pillar, is summed up in the Kuranic double formula la ilāh illa-l-lāh: Muhammadun rasulul-lāh (no god whatever but Allah: Muhammad is the messenger of Allah). These are the first words to strike the ear of the new-born Moslem babe: they are the last to be uttered at the grave. Between these two episodes no other words are more often repeated.' (Hitti, op. cit.. p. 130).
- 335. i. e., his companions in general, and those who accompanied him in the Hudaibiya expedition in particular.

- 336. i. e., unyielding; unbending; firm of heart.
- 337. i. e., kind, mild and considerate.
- 338. i. e., towards each other; to their brethren in faith. Formidable to the enemies of God they were meekness itself to His friends.
  - 339. (O readers)!
- 340. 'These men were the true moral heirs of the Prophet, the future apostles of Islam, the faithful trustees of all that Muhammad revealed unto the men of God...They had really changed for the better from every point of view, and later on as statesmen and generals, in the most difficult moments of the war of conquest they gave magnificent and undeniable proof that the ideas and the doctrines of Muhammad had been seed cast on fruitful soil, and had produced a body of men of the very highest worth. They were the depositories of the sacred test of the Qurān, which they alone knew by heart; they were the jealous guardians of the memory of every word and bidding of the Prophet, the trustees of the moral heritage of Muhammad.' (Caetani, quoted in Arnold's Preaching of Islam, pp. 41-42)
- 341, (and frequency of worship. The purport is; the saintliness of these devotees of God is evident from their faces).
- 342. Even in the modern corrupt version of the Book of Moses one of finds something tallying with this description. 'He came with ten thousands of saints.' (Dt. 33: 2). The apostle of God did in fact enter Makka with ten thousand men. 'Muhammad now found himself at the head of between eight and ten thousand men' (Muir, op. cit., p. 403). ['From his right hand went a fiery law for them.' (Dt. 33: 2). 'Stern against the infidels' (The Holy Qurān). 'Yea: he loved the people'. (Dt. 33: 2). 'Merciful among themselves.' (The Holy Qurān). 'All his saints are in thy hand: and they sat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words' (Dt. 33: 3). 'Mark of them is on their faces from the effect of prostration.' (The Holy Qurān)].
- 343. 'The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field; which indeed is the least of all seeds; but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.' (Mt. 13:31,32) 'Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.' (Mk. 4:31, 32) Cf. also Lk. 13:18, 19.
- 344. The seed in the parable is, of course, the religion of Islam, the growth of which, both in strength and numbers, simply amazed the onlookers; and by sowers' are meant the holy Prophet and his companions.

The Apartments. XLIX

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 18 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (رَابِهَا الَّذِينَ . عَلَّمِ) O you who believe<sup>345</sup>! do not be forward<sup>346</sup> in the presence of Allah and His messenger, and fear Allah<sup>347</sup>. Verily Allah is Hearing<sup>348</sup>, Knowing<sup>349</sup>.
- 2. (بایهاالذین مسرون) O you who believe<sup>350</sup>! do not raise your voice above the voice of the prophet<sup>351</sup>, nor shout loud to him in discourse<sup>362</sup>, as you do to one another, lest your works may be rendered fruitless<sup>358</sup>, while you perceive not<sup>364</sup>.
- 3. (ز الذن بر عظم) Verily those who lower their voices in the presence of the messenger of Allah<sup>355</sup>!——those are they whose hearts Allah has disposed towards plety; theirs will be forgiveness and splendid wage.
- 345. (who love to be mannerly and decorous in the presence of the holy Prophet).
- 346. (in word or deed) i. e., do not presume to give your advice in any matter before the Prophet asks you to do so.
  - 347. (in every matter, great or small; in the whole conduct of your life).
  - 348. (in reference to your words).
  - 349. (in reference to your deeds).
  - 350. (who love to shed off every trace of bad manners).
  - 351. (while addressing one another in his presence).
  - 352. (while addressing him direct).
  - 353. (by your offending the Prophet of God).
  - 354. (that you are doing anything wrong).
  - 355. Which is mark of sound breeding and good manners.

- 4. (ان الذبن . . يعقارن) Verily these who call aloud to thee<sup>356</sup> from without the inner apartments<sup>357</sup>, most of them are foolish<sup>358</sup>.
- 5. (رحم) And had they waited till thou comest out unto them, it had surely been better for them<sup>359</sup>; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful<sup>366</sup>.
- 6. (يَا الَّذِينَ . نَدَمِينُ O you who believe! if a mischief-maker came to you with a report<sup>361</sup>, then<sup>362</sup> make a strict inquiry<sup>363</sup>, lest you may hurt a people unwittingly and thereafter repent of what you have done.
- 7. (راعلوا . . . الراعدون) And know that verily among you<sup>361</sup> there is the messenger of Allah<sup>365</sup>. If he were to obey you<sup>366</sup>, you would surely be in trouble<sup>367</sup>, but Allah has endeared faith to you and has bedecked it in your hearts and has made infidelity and wickedness and disobedience<sup>368</sup> abhorrent to you. These! they are the men of rectitude,
- 8. (نصلا . . . حکیم) through grace from Allah and His favour. And Allah is Knowing<sup>369</sup>, Wise<sup>370</sup>.
  - 356. (O Prophet!).
  - 357. (in disregard of the respect due to thee).
- 358. (that they are by their unseemly behaviour showing positive disrespect to the holy Prophet).
- 359. Certain ill-mannered persons had at noon-time the rudeness to knock at the door of the Prophet's private apartments and to shout out: 'Muhammad, come forth to us.'
  - 360. (to the repentant). So they can easily make amends.
  - 361. i. e., evil report about someone, a tale damaging somebody's reputation.
  - 362. (instead of giving immediate credence to it).
  - 363. (unto the truth thereof). نين الأمر is 'He sought, or sought leisurely repeatedly, to obtain knowledge of the thing, until he knew it, he examined, scrutinized, or investigated. (LL)

- 364. (O Muslims of the Prophet's time!)
- 365. i. e., you are fortunate indeed in having the living Prophet of God in your midst.
  - 366. (instead of your obeying him).
- 367. i. e., if the Prophet followed you in your wishes, instead of your following his advice implicitly, the result would be simply disastrous.
- 368. (so that by the grace of God you yourselves love to follow the Prophet's precepts implicity instead of thrusting your counsel upon him).
  - 369. i. e., Aware of your needs and requirements.
  - 370. i. e., Enacter of wise ordinances.

المنك المنك المنك المنكوري و المنكوري المنكوري

- 9. (وان من القصاين) And if two parties of the faithful fall to mutual fighting<sup>371</sup>, then affect reconciliation between them<sup>372</sup>. But if one of them rebels against the other<sup>373</sup>, then fight the party which rebels till it reverts to the commandment of Allah<sup>374</sup>. Then if it reverts<sup>375</sup>, affect reconciliation between them justly<sup>376</sup> and be equitable,<sup>377</sup>, Allah loves the equitable.
- 10. (انها من موسون) The faithful<sup>378</sup> are but brethren<sup>379</sup>; so affect reconciliation between your brethren<sup>380</sup> and fear Allah<sup>381</sup> that haply mercy may be shown to you<sup>382</sup>.

- 11. (بايهاالذين . . الطلون) O you who believe! let not one group scoff at another group; perchance they<sup>383</sup> may be better<sup>384</sup> than they are, nor let some women scoff at other women, perchance the latter may be better than they are. And do not traduce one another, nor revile one another by odious appellations<sup>385</sup>; ill is the name of sin after belief<sup>386</sup>. And whosoever will not repent<sup>387</sup>, then those are the wicked.
- 371. Which, in ordinary circumstances, is itself a heinous crime. Observe a saying of the holy Prophet: 'If two Muslims meet with their swords, then the slayer and the slayed (both of them) will go into the Fire.' (Bu. 2: 22).
  - 372. The address is to the collective community of the Muslims.
  - 373. (and your efforts at composing their differences have failed).
  - 374. (and desists from fighting).
  - 375. (to cessation of fighting).
- 376. i. e., have their differences composed permanently and on the basis of Divine ordinances.
  - 377. i. e., do not allow your self-interest to come in.
  - 378. i. e., all those who have the faith of Islam in common.
- 379. (however different they may be from one another in other respects). This is neither nationalization nor Arabicization but humanization in the true sense of the word. It means that community of faith as a bond of union is superior to. and more fundamental than, any other bond at all, merging all colours, ranks and races in consciousness of a common brotherhood. 'This was the first attempt in the history of Arabia at a social organisation with religion, rather than blood, as its basis... Thus by one stroke the most vital bond of Arab relationship, that of tribal kinship, was replaced by a new bond, that of faith; a sort of Pan-Islamica was instituted for Arabia.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. p. 120-121). 'It must be admitted that Mohammedans have, from whatever causes, acted up to their creed in this respect more fully than have Christians' (Bosworth Smith, op. cit., p. 246). "A Musalman is first and a Turk. an Afghan, or an Arab afterwards", is no mere formula or figure of speech with that vast assemblage of peoples and of tongues to whom the Prophet of Arabia, by teaching them to worship the one true God, has given a bond of union stronger than any tie of blood or nation,' (P. 306) 'A religious theory that is very strikingly realised in Muhammadan society and seldom fails to express itself in acts of kindness towards the new convert. Whatever be his race, colour or antecedents he is received into the brotherhood of believers and takes his place as an equal among equals.' (Arnold, Preaching of Islam, p. 416)

- 380. The Prophet has said: 'None of you hath faith until he desireth for his brother what he desireth for himself (Bu, 2:6). 'To abuse a Muslim is an evil deed, and to fight him, an act of unbelief.' (2:36)
  - 381. i. e., be observant of the Divine injunctions in effecting this reconciliation.
- 382. 'The equality in Islam of all believers and the common brotherhood of all Muslims, which suffered no distinctions between Arab and non-Arab. between free and slave, to exist among the faithful, was an idea that ran directly counter to the proud clan-feeling of the Arab, who grounded his claims to personal consideration on the fame of his ancestors, and in the strength of the same carried on the endless blood-feuds in which his soul delighted.' (Arnold. Preaching of Islam. pp. 42-43) 'In India . . . . Mohammedans make converts by hundreds from among the Hindus, while Christians with difficulty make ten, and this partly at least because they receive their converts on terms of entire social equality, while Europeans. in spite of all the efforts of missionaries to the contrary, seem either unwilling or unable to treat their converts as other than inferiors' (Bosworth Smith, op. cit., p. 247). In the words of Rev. Canon Issac Taylor uttered at a meeting of the Church congress (England), 'Islam preaches a practical brotherhood——the social equality of all Muslims.... The convert is admitted at once to an exclusive social caste: he becomes a member of a vast confraternity of 105,000.000. A Christian convert is not regarded as a social equal, but the Muslims brotherhood is a reality.
  - 383. i, e., the latter.
  - 384. (in the sight of God).
- 385. (all these acts are as many deviations from the Muslim's prescribed life-chart, and are therefore to be counted as sins).
  - 386. i. e., it ill becomes a Muslim even to be associated with such sins.
  - 387. (and desist from these sins).

- 13. (يابها الناس . خير) Mankind<sup>395</sup>! verily We! We have created you<sup>496</sup> of a male<sup>397</sup> and a female<sup>898</sup>, and We have made you nations and tribes<sup>399</sup> that you might know<sup>400</sup> one another<sup>101</sup>. Verily the noblest of you with Allah<sup>402</sup> is the most pious of you<sup>403</sup>. Verily Allah is Knowing, Wise<sup>404</sup>.
- - 388. (involving as it does cruel injustice to innocent men and women).
- 389. (into other man's failings or their private circumstances to find fault with).
- 390. (even if the imputations made be true). The essence of is is to speak of a person what would grieve him. When it is false, it is termed of It is this great social vice, the habit of slandering an absent person that has caused untold misery in the world and has poisoned the atmosphere of almost every household.
- 391. Backbiting is here compared to feasting upon the corpse of a dead brother
  - 392. Likewise is backbiting loathsome.
  - 393. (and desist from all these sins).
  - 394. (to the repentant)
  - 395. (consisting of various races and nations and peoples of different cultures).

- 396. i. e., all of you; entire mankind. Which means, in plain speech, that all races of men, Europeans, Asiatics and Africans, white, brown and black are equally His creations. He has made them to vary in colour, language and mode of life, and has placed them in different lands, but he takes thought for all alike.
- 397. (and not begotten by different ancestors). Thus the Holy Book of Islam directly preaches specific unity of mankind, and favours what in the language of Anthropology is called 'monogenism'—man being one genus with one species—as opposed to the rival theory of 'polygenism' which affirms different groups as originating independently in different geographical areas as separate units. 'Although the existing races of man differ in many respects, . . . . yet if their whole structure be taken into consideration they are found to resemble each other closely in a multitude of points . . . . Now when naturalists observe a close agreement in numerous small details of habits, tastes, and dispositions between two or more domestic races or between nearly-allied natural forms, they use this fact as an argument that they are descended from a common progenitor who has thus endowed; and consequently that all should be classed under the same species. The same argument may be applied with much force to the races of man.' (Darwin. Descent of Man, pp. 276-278)
- 398. Referring to the Christian habit of attributing the inferior status of woman to the religion of Islam or to the holy Prophet says a modern Christian writer; - 'Mohammed is supposed to have inspired her docile acquiescence to faith, to have denied her self expression in competition with men, and to have closed to her all doors which made spiritual and mental development possible. But this idea is conttrary to fact . . . . On the advent of Mohammad the position of woman was not enviable. He found her to be little more than a chattel---a condition which was due in large part to the teaching of the Hebrew rabbis. The Hebrew religion, which was practised throughout the area into which Mohammed carried his teaching, had placed a decided stamp of inferiority upon her. She was inherited like any piece of furniture, and the heir could do with her as he pleased. She had no protection, no recourse to law, no right of inheritance. That to the Prophet was a state of affairs no longer to be tolerated. He believed woman to be the "equal sister of man" and determined to strengthen the Moslem State by forcing a recognition of her equality... He limited polygamy and abolished infanticide. He instituted the marriage contract, inheritance right, and the privilege of divorce for woman, while he discouraged divorce at the behest of one or the other where differences could reasonably be dissolved. He established the principle of dowry and provided for the inviolable maintenance of part of it for the woman's protection. He safeguarded her further by decreeing religious favour to those who would assist in the support of widows and orphans. He recognized woman's earlier as well as contemporary contribution to civilization, and urged her highest development spiritually and morally as an asset to the State. This was indeed a single advance in the thinking of that period, and a transformation in social custom which would be remarkable in any age.' (Miss Flory in the Moslem World, New York, January 1940, pp. 16-17).

399. This strikes at the root of the caste system which maintains that mankind are not born equal, but in different stages of spiritual development. 'The orthodox Hindu holds that his gods have ordained a social state at whose top everlasting sits the Brahmin, endowed with all privilege; below the Brahmin descend by steps some three to four thousand inferior castes and sub-castes, each inescapably fettered as to every concern in life, within its own compartment; whilst beneath them all wallow helpless and hopeless millions of outcasts——humanly born so low that they possess no rights of any sort and their very shadow defiles whatever it falls upon.' In the words of a modern non-Muslim philosopher, 'the colour of the skin is of no consequence; the quality of the heart is of every consequence. The racial or national label matters nothing; the character matters everything.' See P. IV. n. 477; IX. n. 346.

The verse equally well demolishes the myth of a Master Race, and completely supports the scientific finding that racial discrimination has no foundation in biological fact.

- 400. (and not despise or dominate).
- 401. So the doctrine of a biologically chosen people, as a race apart, designed by Nature to rule the world is not only positively mischievous but also mythical. And this puts an end to the vast pseudo-science of "racial biology" seeking to justify political ambitions, economic ends and class prejudices.
  - 402. i. e., the most honourable among you in the sight of God.
- 403. (in the conduct of his daily affair, and not the high-born of you). Here indeed is a re-classification of humanity—promulgation of a new order of nobility—the division of mankind not between the princes and the peasants, nor between the touchables and the untouchables, but between the more moral and the less moral. 'It is this absence of class prejudices which constitutes the real strength of Islam in India and enables it to win so many converts from Hinduism.' (Arnold, Preaching of Islam, p. 291). 'The equality of all men before God was a principle which Mohammad everywhere maintained, and which, taking, as it did, all caste feeling from slavery, took away also its chief sting.' (Bosworth Smith, op. cit., p. 246). 'No considerations of birth, or race, or colour, or money, have prevented a man rising to the post for which it had been recognised that he was best fitted. Zaid, the Prophet's freedman led his armies in war... A dynasty of Circassian slaves ruled Egypt for a century before its conquest by the Othoman Turks, and it is said that Christians from the Caucasus were glad to be carried off as slaves to Egypt because each one felt that he might rise to be sultan.' (p. 250).
  - 404. i. e.. well acquainted with the degree of piety everyone possesses.
- 405. The reference is to certain Arabs of the tribe of Asad, who in a year of scarcity came to Madina to obtain a part of the alms, and with out being sincere beliefs. surrendered themselves to the Islamic State.

- 406. (and like other Muslims are entitled to get relief).
- 407. (O Prophet!).
- 408. Belief or faith is not synonymous with lip-profession. It is something deep, inward, a living assurance of the heart.
  - 409. (to the outward dominance of Islam).
- 410. Mere conformity with, and obediance to, certain formal rules is not faith, or imān. It is only when sincerity (tasdīq) is joined to it, that a man becomes a true believer.
  - 411. (sincerely and with all your heart).
  - 412. (of the reward).

- 15. (الها . . . المدنون) The faithful are those only who have faith in Allah and His messenger, and have not doubted thereafter, and have striven hard with their riches and their lives in the cause of Allah. Those: they are the truthful<sup>43</sup>.
- 16. (قل . . . علم) Say thou<sup>414</sup>: what! will you instruct Allah about your religion<sup>416</sup>? Whereas Allah knows whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth, and Allah is Aware of everything<sup>416</sup>.

- 418-A. 'Islam' here is not in its technical sense, meaning the faith of Islam, but only in a literal sense, signifying surrender or submission.
  - 419. (and has made you the possessors of so proud a privilege).
- 420. (in your profession of faith). The purport is: if you are real converts to Islam, as you imply, then remember that it is Allah who has conferred this great boon and benefit upon you.

Sūrah Qāf

The Qaf. L

(Makkan, 3 Sections and 45 Verses)
In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 7. (ق . . . المجيد) Qāf. By the glorious Qurān, We have sent thee as a warner.
- 2. (باید محبت) Aye! they<sup>422</sup> marvel that a warner has come to them from among themselves<sup>423</sup>, and so the infidels<sup>424</sup> say: this<sup>425</sup> is a thing wonderful<sup>426</sup>;
- 3. (الأبنا . . . الأبنا . . . . shall we be brought back when we are dead and have become dust? That is a return remote<sup>427</sup>!
- 4. عنيظ) Surely We know<sup>428</sup> what the earth consumes of them<sup>429</sup>, and with Us is<sup>430</sup> a Book preserved<sup>431</sup>.
- 6. (اقلم . ي. فروج) Have they not looked up to the sky above them; how We have constructed it<sup>434</sup>, and adorned it<sup>435</sup> and that there is no rift therein<sup>436</sup>.
  - 422. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
  - 423. i. e., a mere man; a mortal like themselves.
  - 424. Who denied Resurrection as well as Revelation.
  - 425. (conception of Resurrection and Revelation).
  - 426. i. e., unheard of and therefore unbelievable.
- 427. i. e., far removed from the range of possibility. The Resurrection of the body was derided by his fellow-citizens as an idle imagination. When Mohammed sought to illustrate the raising of the dead by the analogies of Nature, and the power of God in creation, he was scouted as a sorcerer or magician, who would pretend that a living body could be reproduced from dust and dead men's bones.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 78).

- 428. (in Our all-pervading knowledge).
- 429. i. e., how much of the body moulders away in the grave.
- 430. (from all eternity).
- 431. (containing a full account of everything). The reference is to the Preserved Tablet.
  - 432. (announcing the fact of Resurrection).
  - 433. At times doubting and at times denying altogether.
  - 434. So lofty and so grand!
  - 435. (with stars). So beautiful!
  - 436. So strong!

- 7. (والارض . . . بيج) And the earth! We have spread it forth, and have cast upon it firm mountains, and have caused to grow in it every manner of beautiful plant——
- 8. (نیمرة . . منیب) an insight and admonition<sup>437</sup> for every penitent bondman.
- 9. (و نرانا . . . الحصيد) And We have sent down water from the heaven and blessed with it We have caused the gardens to grow, and the grain reaped,
  - 10. (دالنخل . . نضيد) and tall date-palms laden with ranged clusters المنافل . . نضيد)
- 11. (رزة . . . الخروج) as a provision for Our bondmen; and with it We made the dead land alive. Such will be the coming forth<sup>110</sup>.
- 12. (کذبت مرد) Denied before them<sup>411</sup> the people of Nūh<sup>448</sup> and the dwellers of Rass<sup>448</sup> and the Thamūd,
- 13. (رعاد . . . لوط) and the 'Aād, and Fir'awn and the brethren of
- 14. (د اصحب . . . و اصحب) and the dwellers of the wood414, and the people of Tubba445. Each one belied the messengers, and so My judgement was fulfilled.
- 15. (انسينا . . . جديد) Are We then wearied with the first creation<sup>446</sup>? Aye! they are<sup>447</sup> in doubt regarding a new creation<sup>448</sup>.

SECTION 2

16. (رائند . . . الرريد) Assuredly we have created man, and We know<sup>449</sup> what his soul whispers within him<sup>450</sup>, We are nearer to him than his jugular vein<sup>451</sup>.

<sup>437.</sup> i. e., serving as an argument and evidence of Our might and uniqueness.

<sup>438.</sup> i. e., rain charged with blessing, full of benefit. 'Life of every kind is dependent upon water, and terrestrial life upon rain-water.' (HHW. I., 44).

<sup>439. &#</sup>x27;The date-tree produces three or four large clusters, which rise from the summit of the tree, and hang round. They are formed of small branches, long and flexible, from which hang the dates.' (Savary, quoted by Sale).

- 440. (of the dead from their graves).
- 441. i. e., before the present-day pagans.
- 442. (their prophets).
- 443. Sec P. XIX. n. 31.
- 444. See P. XIV. n. 91.
- 445. See P. XXV. n. 388.
- 446. (and unable now to bring about Resurrection).
- 447. (out of sheer perversity).
- 448. i. e., about raising of the dead.
- 449. (even better than man knows himself).
- 450. (of evil suggestions). He is by virtue of His creatorship aware of man's inherent weaknesses.
- 451. i. e., are even more minutely conscious of his innermost feelings than is his own self. That is the exact relationship, in Islam, between God and man. Of course there is no identity between the two; we remain ourselves, and He the great Other. Yet His communion with us is of even more intimate nature than is that of ourselves with us. The verse also does away entirely with the idea of God being remote and unapproachable, and stresses His all-pervading character and His intimacy with His creatures.

- 17. (اذ . . . نسيد) Behold! when the two receivers<sup>452</sup> receive<sup>453</sup>—— one on the right hand and the other on the left, a sitter.
- 18. (عيد . . . له) Not a word he utters but there is a watcher ready<sup>454</sup>.
- 19. (رجارت ، محید) And the stupor of death will come in truth<sup>455</sup>; this is what thou hast been avoiding<sup>156</sup>.
- 20. (رنفح . . . الوعيد) And the Trumpet will be blown 457; this is the Day 458 of Threat.
- 21. (رجارت . . . شميد) And there shall come every soul<sup>459</sup>, with whom will be a driver<sup>460</sup> and a witness<sup>461</sup>.
- 22. محدید) Assuredly thou hast been heedless thereof<sup>462</sup>; now We have lifted off from thee<sup>463</sup> thy veil, so thy sight<sup>164</sup> To-day is piercing<sup>465</sup>.
- 23. (مقال . . . عتبد) And his companion 466 will say : this is what with me is ready 467.
- 24. (القيا . . . عنيد) Cast you twain<sup>468</sup> into Hell every person, rebellious, contumacious,
  - 25. (ماع . . . ربي) hinderer of good, trespasser, doubter ;
- 26. (الذي . . . الفديد) who set up with Allah another god, so cast him you twain in the severe torment.
- 27. (قال ... بعيد) His Companion<sup>459</sup> will say<sup>470</sup>: "Lord! I did not cause him to transgress<sup>471</sup>, he was himself in error far-off<sup>472</sup>.
- 28. (قال . . . يالرعيد) Allah will say $^{473}$ : do not wrangle in My presence $^{474}$ , and I had already proferred you the warning $^{175}$ .
  - 452. i. e., the two recording angels attending man every moment of his life.
  - 453. i. e., take an account of man's behaviour.
- 454. (to note it). Every little word uttered by human mouth is noted by the recording angels. The angelic record must be full and complete.
  - 455. Or "of necessity." حق, in addition to its other meanings, also means.

- "A necessary, or requisite, thing. A thing, or an event, that is decreed, or destined." (LL). The stupor of death referred to means the loss of cosciousness immediately before the onset of death. Consciousness, according to the latest biological opinion, is the first function which the dying man loses.
  - 456. (with fear, O man!).
  - 457. (on the Judgement Day).
  - 458, (the fulfilment of).
  - 459. (before the Divine tribunal).
- 460. i. e., an angel, prepared, acting as a sergeant, to bring every person before the tribunal.
- 461. i. e., an angel, prepared as a witness, to testify either for or against him.
  - 462. (ignoring this Day; rejecting it, O infidel !).
  - 463. (and thou art face to face with reality).
  - 464. i. e., mental perception.
- 465. (and sharp, so that thou perceivest therewith what thou didst not know or what thou deemest improbable, in thy life on earth).
  - 466. i. e., the recording angel.
  - 467. (of thy full and complete record).
  - 468. (O recording angels!).
  - 469. i. e., the devil chained to an infidel in life.
  - 470. (protesting his own innocence).
  - 471. (by force) i. e., I did dot have power over him.
- 472. The devil possesses no power of compulsion at all. At most it suggests evil ways, but man adopts his suggestions owing to his own corrupt inclinations.
  - 473. (to the sinners and the devil).
  - 474. (as it is futile).
- 475. (that everybody who disobeys Me, whether of his own accord or as seduced by others shall meet with grievous punishment).

29. (ما . . . السيد) The word<sup>476</sup> shall not be changed in My presence<sup>477</sup>, nor am I an oppressor at all to My bondmen<sup>478</sup>.

- 30. (یوم... مزید) Mention thou the Day when We shall say to Hell: art thou filled<sup>179</sup>? and it will say: is there yet any addition<sup>480</sup>?
- 31. (وأزلفت . . بسيد) And to the godly the Garden will be brought nigh, not far-off<sup>451</sup>?
- 32. (مذا منا ) This is what you were promised 182: for every oft-returning heedful one,
- 33. (من ... منیب) who fears the Compassionate, in the Unseen and comes to Him with a penitent heart;
  - 34. (ادخارها من الخارد) Enter it in peace. This is the Day of Abidence.
- 35. (نهم . . . مرید) Theirs therein will be whatever they wish<sup>488</sup> and with Us will be yet more<sup>484</sup>.
- 36. (و کم . . . . عبد ) And how many a generation 485 We destroyed before them 486 who were mightier in power than they, and they traversed the cities 487! And no place of refuge could they find.
- 37. (ان . . . . . . . . . . . ) Verily herein<sup>488</sup> is an admonition to him who has a heart<sup>469</sup>, or<sup>490</sup> gives ear while he is heedful<sup>191</sup>.
- 38. (ولقد . . لفرب) And assuredly We created the heavens and the earth and what is in-between in six days<sup>492</sup>, and naught touched Us of weariness<sup>493</sup>.

<sup>478.</sup> i. e., all My creatures. This punishment will be only an inevitable outcome of sin. See also P. XXIV. n. 401.

- 480. i. e., if there are yet any more condemned to this place; I am capacious enough to receive them.
  - 481. (from them).
  - 482. (by Our messengers in the world).
  - 483. (of pleasure and happiness).
- 484. (of Bliss and Beatitude). 'The joys of the Mahometan paradise will not be confined to the indulgence of luxury and appetite; and the Prophet has expressly declared that all meaner happiness will be forgotten and despised by the saints and martyrs, who shall be admitted to the beatitude of the divine vision.' (GRE. V. p. 351)
  - 485. (of rejecters).
  - 486. i. e., before the present-day pagans.
- 487. (in quest of wealth). As commercial people they journeved through the land frequently.

- 40. (ومن . . السجود) And hallow Him in the night-time<sup>493</sup>, and also after the prescribed prostration<sup>499</sup>.
- 41. (راست من من And hearken thou<sup>500</sup>: the Day when the caller<sup>501</sup> will call<sup>502</sup> from a place quite near<sup>503</sup>——
- 42. (وم ... الغروج) the Day, when they will surely hear the Shout<sup>504</sup> that is the Day of coming forth<sup>505</sup>.
- 43. (المصر) Verily We! it is We Who give life and cause death<sup>506</sup>, and to Us<sup>507</sup> is the journeying<sup>508</sup>.
- 44. (ربر ... بسير) That shall be the Day when the earth shall be cleft from off them<sup>509</sup>, as they hasten forth<sup>519</sup>. That shall be a gathering unto Us easy.
- 45. (غن . . . وعيد) We are the best Knower of what they say; and thou art not a tyrant over them sine. So admonish thou by the Quran him who fears My warning sine.
- 494. (in rejecting thee and the doctrine of Resurrection. O Prophet!). His message and his warnings received from them nothing but scoffing and contempt.... They adopted all possible means, threats and promises, insults and offers of worldy honour and aggrandisement, to induce Muhammad to abandon the post he had taken up.' (Arnold, Preaching of Islam, p. 13-14)
  - 495. (at all times in general, and particularly---)
  - 496. Which is the time of Fajr prayers.
  - 497. Which time includes both Zulir and 'Asr prayers.
  - 498. (also). This includes the Maghrib and 'Isha prayers.
- 499. The reference is to the supererogatory prayers after the prescribed ones, and to the exercise of contemplation and remembrance of God.
  - 500. (O reader!)
  - 501. i. e., the archangel Israfil.
  - 502. (men to judgement, by means of his trumpet).

- 503. i. e., from a place whence every creature will equally hear the call.
- 504. (of the trumpet).
- 505. (from the grave).
- 506. i. e., We are the sole Creator and the sole Destroyer without any partner whatsoever.
  - 507. (alone). And not to any co-God, Son-God.
  - 508. (of all creatures).
  - 509. i. e., the dead bodies.
  - 510. (to the judgement-seat).
  - 511. i. e., the rejecters.

PART XXVII

- 31. (قال . . المرسلون) And he said : what is your errand<sup>1</sup>, O envoys?
- 32. (قالوا . . . بجرمين) They said : we are sent to a guilty people2,
- 33. (اترسل . . . طین) that we may send down upon them stones of baked clay.
  - 34. (سومة . . السرنين) marked from before thy Lord for the extravagant3.
  - 35. (ناخرجنا . . . المومنين) Thus We brought forth from therein the faithful4.
- 36. (نيا . . المسلمين) But We found not there but one household of the Muslims. .
- 37. (دتركنا . . الألم) And We left therein a sign for those who fear an awful chastisement.
- 38. (ننی . . . مِین) And in Mūsā also was a lesson, when We sent him to Fir'awn with manifest authority<sup>8</sup>.
- 39. (نتولی . . . بخبرن) He turned away* with his court, and said : a magician or a madman<sup>10</sup>!
- 40. (ناخذه . . . ملم) Then we seized him and flung him and his hosts into the sea and he was reproachable<sup>11</sup>.
- 41. (ر نی . . المقرم) And in 'Aad also was a lesson when we let loose on them a blighting wind.
  - 42. (ما . . . كالرميم) It left naught it came upon but blew it into spreads.
    - 1. i. e., on what special mission are you proceeding?
    - 2. i. e., the people of Lut. See P. XII. n. 241.
    - 3. i. e., for their destruction.
    - 4. (and delivered them).

- 5. i. e., the house of the Prophet Lut. See P. XII. nn. 248. 249.
- 6. (after overthrowing and completely destroying the city).
- 7. (of Our judgement and requital) i. e., an abject lesson; a warning.
- 8. i. e., evident miracles.
- 9. (indignantly from the true faith).
- 10. See P. XIX. n. 180.
- 11. Only justice was meted out to Pharaoh after he had been given many chances to repent.
  - 12. i. e., destructive.

اَلْدُرِيْتِ او عَثَىٰ حِيْن ۞ فَعَتَوْاعَنُ آمْرِرَبِّهِمْ ۚ وَٱخَذَٰتُهُمُ قُا مُنْتَصِيرِينَ ٥ وَوَهُمْ نُوْجِ مِّنْ قَبَلُ أَيْهُمْ كَانُوا قَوْمًا فِي نِعْمَ النَّهِ مُ وَنَ ﴾ وَمِنْ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ خَلَقْنَا زُوْجَيْنِ لَعَكَمُ لَمْ تَأْ مَلُوَامَعَ اللهِ الْكَالْحَرِ أَلِيِّ لَكُمْ يَتِنْدُرُنِيْرٌ مُّبِينٌ ۞كَانِكَ مِّنْ تَسُولِ إِلَّا عَالَوْاسَاحِرُ

- 43. (ونی . . . حین) And in Thamud¹³ also was a lesson, when it was said to them14 enjoy yourselves for a while15.
- 44. (ننترا . . ينظرون) They¹6 disdained the command of their Lord; so the bolt laid hold of them while they looked on.
- 45. (نیا ، . ، متصرین) So they were neither able to stand17, nor could they help themselves18.
- 46. (و قوم ، ، ، نستين) And the people of Nuh We destroyed before; verily they were a sinful people.

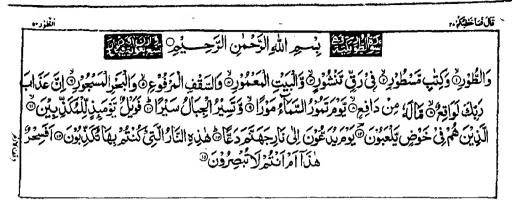

- 47. (دالسال... لموسعون) And the heaven191 We have built it with might, and verily We are Powerful<sup>20</sup>.
- 48. (والارض . . المهدرن) And the earth! We have stretched it forth21; an excellent Spreader are We22 !
- 49. (رمن . . . تذكرون) And of everything We have created pairs23, that haply you might remember<sup>24</sup>.
- 50. (نفروا . . . مبين) Then flee to Allah<sup>25</sup>; verily<sup>26</sup> I am a manifest warner to you from Him.
- 51. (ولا . . . بين) And do not set up²٬ another god with Allah; verily I am a manifest warner to you from Him.
  - See P. VIII. nn. 542ff.
- (by their prophet, after they had defied the laws and commandments of God).
- 15. (after which you are sure to perish if you do not desist from your infidelity).
  - 16. (unhecding the warning).
  - 17. (on their feet). See P. VIII. n. 555ff.
  - 18. (against the Divine decree of destruction).
  - 19. Which is not a thing uncreated and self-existing.

- 20. i. e., it is We who created a thing so stupendous as the heaven, and there is no such monstrosity as a 'heaven-God.' 'Through endless transformations and disfigurements (mythological or functional) the sky-god is found to be at the base of all the systems of the great civilized religions of the classical Mediterranean and Oriental worlds. He occupies the same place in the great systems of Asia and semicivilized religions of pre-Columban America.' (ERE. XI. p. 591).
  - 21. See P. I. n. 91.
- 22. And there is no such monstrosity as an 'earth-God' or 'earth-Goddess.' See ERE. V. p. 129.
- 23. Such as light and darkness, subject and object, wet and dry, active and passive, male and female, the living and the non-living. The verse may also well hint at the universality of the law of sex. See also P. XXIII. n. 23.
  - 24. (Our might, majesty and unity).
  - 25. (to the exclusion of all else).
  - 26. ——His prophet——
  - 27. (O mankind!)

الدَّنِهُ اللَّهُ الللْلِلْمُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ الللْلِلْمُلِمُ اللللْلِلْمُلِمُ الللْل

- 52. (کوالک کا Likewise<sup>28</sup>, there came not a messenger to those before them<sup>29</sup> but they<sup>20</sup> said<sup>31</sup>: a magician or a mad man!
- 53. (اتراصوا , طاغرن) Have they handed over this to one another? Nay I they are a people contumacious 4.
- 54. (نتول... بارم) So turn away thou from them<sup>25</sup>; for thou<sup>35</sup> are not blameworthy<sup>27</sup>.
- 55. (د ذکر ... المرمين) And admonish thou, for admonition benefits the faithful<sup>28</sup>.
- 56. (وما . . . ليبدون) And I have not created the jinn and mankind but that they should worship Me<sup>39</sup>,
- 57. (ما . . . يطمون) I seek not any provision from them¹0, nor I desire that they should feed Me⁴¹.
- 58. (انات . . . المتين) Verily Allah! He is the Provider 12, Owner of Power 43, Firm 44.
- 59. (قان . . يستجارن) So verily unto them who do wrong, there is a portion of their fellows 45; so let them not ask Me to hasten on 46.
- 60. (نویل . . . بوعدون) Woe, then, to those who disbelieve when their Threatened Day arrives.
- 28. The reference is to the pagans' calling the holy Prophet a madman or a wizard.
  - 29. i. e. the present-day pagans.
  - 30. i. e., the ancient infidels.
  - 31. i. e., (of their prophet).
  - 32. i. e., this traditional obstinate opposition to God's messenger.
  - 33. i. e., the infidels of different of ages.
- 34. i. e., the real reason for their common enmity to their prophets is their common contumacy.
  - 35. (and be not disheartened, O Prophet!)
  - 36. (in any way).
  - 37. (for their behaviour).
  - 38. (and serves as a warning to the unbelievers).

- 39. 'In these days of scientific enlight nment, very little is said of the reason why we do pray, which is simply that we cannot help praying. It seems probable that, in spite of all that "science" may do to the contrary, men will continue to pray to the end of the time... The impulse to pray is a necessary consequence of the fact that whilest the innermost of the empirical self of a man is a self of the social sort, it yet can find its only adequate socius in an ideal world.' (James, Principles of Psychology, I. p. 316). But the conception of worship in Islam is far more comprehensive. Here it is not restricted to the purely devotional practices but extends over the whole of man's practical life, individual and social. If the object of our life on the whole is the worship of God, then we necessarily must regard this life, in the totality of its aspects, as one complex moral responsibility. Thus all our actions, even the scemingly trivial ones, must be performed as acts of worship, that is, performed consciously as constituting a part in God's universal plan.' (ASB, I, p. 39).
- 40. i. c., My creatures. The allusion is to the food offerings presented by the polytheistic peoples to their various gods. The gods of the Vedas, for instance, are not only anthropomorphic in appearance but also require food. Their favourite food consists of 'milk, butter, grain, and the flesh of sheep, goats and cattle. It is offered to them in the sacrifice; this is either conveyed to them in heaven by the god or fire, or they come in their cars to partake of it on the litter of grass prepared for their reception. Their favourite beverage is the exhibarating juice of the soma plant." (ERE, XII p. 603). The worshipper refreshes his gods with the food and drink of which he himself partakes, in order thereby to make them strong and willing to carry out his ends.' (II. p. 41). 'In the grossest sense, sacrifice is a mere bargain. Man needs things which the god possesses such as rain, light, warmth, and health, while the god is hungry and seek offerings from men: there is giving and receiving on both sides'. (Barth, op. cit., pp.35-36). In the pre-Islamic Semitic sacrifices also the God and his worshippers partake of a common meal... The deity is periodically fed by the gifts of his children and thus is kept continually favourable towards them,' (ERE, XI, p. 33). See also P. VII, n. 277.
- 41. (being myself the supplier of the means of subsistence to all). In Egypt, as in many other polytheistic countries, the relation between Divinity and humanity was thought of...as reciprocally conditioned. Man dedicates to the Deity food, drink, clothing, a dwelling-place——the things which the Deity shares in all earthly qualities and needs, requires for comfort.' (DB, V, p. 177).
  - 42. (of food to all creatures).
  - 43. (and Independent of all needs).
  - 44. (and requiring nothing for His support and subsistence).
  - 45. (in the past).
  - 46. (the judgement).

  - 81. i. e., well go on waiting for my ruin.
  - 82. (for the coming judgement)
- 83. (of which they are so proud). The reference is to the boasted powers of management of the Quraish.
  - 84. (by nature)
  - 85, i, e,, the Quran. See P. XVII, v, 5, n. 14.
  - 86. ——perverse as they are——
- 87. (in respect of the surpassing excellence of its contents or the grandeur of its language and style). See P. XI, n. 258.
  - 88, (in respect of the Quran being a human production)
- 89. i. e., do they think that they are uncreated beings and needed no God to create them?
  - 90. (themselves) i. e., do they think that they are self-created beings?
  - 91. —averse as they are to acknowledge His unity—
  - 92. i. e., the special gifts.
  - 93. (of Divine gifts, such as prophethood).

- 38. (ام...مبين) Have they a stairway whereby<sup>94</sup> they overhear<sup>95</sup>? Then let their listener<sup>96</sup> bring a clear authority<sup>97</sup>.
  - 39. (ام . . . البنون) Has He daughters and you sons ?
- 40. (ام ... بثناون) Or askest thou a wage from them 100, so that they are laden with debt?
  - 41. (ام . . . بكتبرن) Is with them the Unseen, and they write it down101?
- 42. (ام . . . المكبدرن) Do they seek to lay a plot<sup>102</sup>? Then those who disbelieve —— it is they who shall be plotted against<sup>103</sup>.
- 43. (ام . . . يشركون) Is theirs a god beside Allah? Hallowed be Allah from what they associate 104!
- 44. (وان . . . مرکوم) And even if they<sup>105</sup> should see a fragment of the sky falling down<sup>106</sup>, they would say<sup>107</sup>: it is only clouds amassed.
- 45. (نفرهم . . . مِحفون) So let thou them alone, till they meet their Day whereon they shall swoon<sup>108</sup> -----
- 46. (يوم . . . ينصرون) a Day when their plotting 100 shall not avail them at all nor will they be succoured.
- 47. (دان . . . يىلرن) And for those who are ungodly<sup>110</sup> there is a chastisement before that<sup>111</sup> but most of them know not.
- 48. (راصير . . . تقرم) And wait thou the judgment<sup>112</sup> of thy Lord patiently; verily thou art ever before Our eyes<sup>113</sup>. And hallow the praise of thy Lord before thou arisest.
- 49. (ومن . . . النجوم) And hallow Him in the night and at the declining of the stars 114.

<sup>94. (</sup>ascending the heaven).

- 98. Whom the pagan Arabs worshipped as goddessess.
- 99. See P. XXIII. n. 299.
- 100, (for thy preaching).
- 101. i. e., have they knowledge of futurity which they preserve in writting?
- 102, (against thee, O Prophet!).
- 103. i. e., all the efforts of thy enemies to injure thee shall be frustrated, O Prophet! كد الله اكتار God's practising an artful device towards the unbelievers, means his taking them unawares, so that they do not reckon upon it.' (LL).
- 104. (with Him). With this hard doctrine of the unity of Allah, intermediaries were swept away. The whole polydaemonistic scheme with one God somewhere in the background, to which the Arabs seem to have attained, vanished. There was left no interceder with the one God; no beings from whom revelations might come. When an angel spoke with him—Gabriel or the Holy Spirit, or whatever the term might be—there was no semi-divine personality there. On the one hand, there was Allah, on the other, His creation, including angels, Jinn, devils, men. Not even such a conception of a unity of nature with God as we find among the Hebrews in the Beni Elohim—that is their only distinction. Allah is throned alone—the Creator, Ruler, Destroyer—unto Him there is none like. (Macdonald, Religious Attitude and Life in Islam, p. 38).
  - 105. i. e., the idolatrous Makkans.
- 106. (upon them). This was one of the miracles which the Makkans pagans demanded of the Prophet. A similar challenge was addressed to another man of God, the Prophet Shuaib. See P. XIX. n. 314.
  - 107. (in the extremity of their denial and defiance).
  - 108, (with terror. O Prophet!).
  - 109. (of which they are so fanciful).
  - 110. I. e., the idolatrous Makkans.
- 111. (in this very world; such as famine, or the crushing defeat at Badr, or the fall of Makka). عن عنه signifies also غن أ غن i. e., 'Before in respect of time.' (LL).
  - 112. Which is sure to befall them at the proper time, O Prophet !.
  - 113. i. e., under Our protection and so they cannot injure thee.
  - 114. i. e., in the early dawn.

The Star. LIII

(Makkan, 3 Sections and 62 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- ال (دالنجم . . . هرى) By the star<sup>116</sup> when it goes down.
- 2, (ما د. . . فری) Your companion<sup>11,6</sup> has not gone estary<sup>11,7</sup>, nor has he erred<sup>11,8</sup>.
  - 3. (دما . . . الهرى) And he speaks not of his own desire119,
  - 4. (ان . . . يوطن) It is but a Revelation Revealed 120.
  - 5. (مله . . النوس) One of mighty powers121 has taught /t to him122.
  - (ذور . المشرعي) One of mighty make<sup>128</sup>. Then<sup>824</sup> he stood straight<sup>125</sup>;
  - 7. الأعلى) While he 186 was on the uppermost horizon.
- 8. (غ . . نندل) Thereafter<sup>127</sup> he drew nigh<sup>128</sup> then he let himself down<sup>129</sup>.
  - 9. (نكان . . اوني) Till he was<sup>130</sup> two bows' lenghth<sup>131</sup> off or yet nearer<sup>132</sup>.
- 10. (قار عَلَى . . . الرحَلَى) Thus<sup>133</sup> He Revealed<sup>134</sup> to His bondman<sup>135</sup> whatever He Revealed<sup>136</sup>.
  - 11. (ماكذب . . . راي) The heart<sup>13†</sup> lied not in what he saw<sup>138</sup>.
- 12. (انترونه ما Will you then dispute with him<sup>139</sup> concerning what he saw<sup>140</sup>?
  - 13. (رائد. . . اخرى) And assuredly he<sup>14</sup> saw him<sup>142</sup> at another descent<sup>148</sup>.
  - 14. (عند . . . المنتهلي) nigh unto the lote-tree at the boundary 144.
  - 15. (عندما . . . الماري) nigh thereto is the Garden of Abode.

- 16. (نفشی). ... When that covered the lote-tree which covered it 145.
- 115. The word is used in generic sense, and means the stars as a class.
- 116. i. e., the Prophet, with whom you are associated in everyday life, O Makkans!
  - 117. (from the right course).
  - 118. (in the life-time).
- 119. (while uttering God's truth) i. e., he only speaks when God commands him to do so; and therefore both the Qurān and the Prophet's Sunnah are to be implicitly followed.
- 120. Revelation as distinguished from mere inspiration, always comes from outside, and is never envolved from within——an outcome of the seer's own spiritual awakening. And in order to receive a 'revelation,' the prophet must be a purely passive, receptive, instrument of God, eliminating his own personality altogether.
  - 121. i. e., the revealing angel Garbiel.
  - 122. (direct from God).
  - 123. i. e., whom God has created and endowed with great strength; powerful.
  - 124. ——once it so happened that—
- 125. (and appeared to the Prophet in his original shape and form). The holy Prophet in the early days of Revelation once saw the angel Gabriel in his natural form in which he is created by God.
  - 126. i. e., the said angel.
  - 127. i. e., when he saw the Prophet swooning and fainting.
  - 128. (to the Prophet, after assuming human form).
  - 129. i. e., he drew still nearer.
  - 130. (in flesh and bone).
  - is indicative of extreme nearness. قاب قوسين
  - 132. (in spirit).
  - 133. i. e., after the Prophet had recovered.
  - 134, (through that angel).
- 135. i. e., the Prophet Muhammad (on him be peace!) See P. I. n. 98; P. XV. n. 2.
- 136. Note that the nature of the prophetic experience (the consciousness of Revelation) is incommunicable and utterly incomprehensible to one who is not himself a prophet.
  - 137. (of the Prophet).
- 138. i. e., do not be incredulous of his prophetic experience; he was not the subject of any illusion; he saw the whole thing in reality, without any possibility of doubt or mistake.

- 139. (in your ignorance, O infidels!).
- 140. i. e., concerning a thing which to him is a thing of direct and positive sense-experience and of which you have but the faintest and vaguest idea.
  - 141, i, e., the holy Prophet.
  - 142. i. e., the angel Gabriel in his natural shape.
- 143. (on the occasion of the Prophet's ascension to the heavens, just before his migration to Madina). 'He was swiftly carried by Gabriel on a winged steed past Madina to the temple at Jerusalem, where a conclave of the ancient prophets met to welcome him... From Jerusalem he mounted upwards, ascending from one heaven to another, till at last, reaching the seventh, he found himself in the awful presence of his Maker, and was dismissed with the behest that his peop'e were to prostrate themselves in prayer five times in the day.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 121)
- 144. Beyond which neither angels nor prophets can pass, and which is the ultimate point of access for created beings.
- 145. i. e., hosts of adoring angels. 'A peculiar manner of expressing the general terms somebody, something, certain ones, etc., is to use the relative pronouns and be with repetition of the verb.... according to circumstances. It is specially employed التعظيم والتكثير to magnify and multiply, if an impression of something important or mysterious is to be conveyed (WGAL. II. pp. 267-268).

- 17. (ما . . . طغاي) The eye<sup>146</sup> did not wander<sup>147</sup>, nor did it turn aside<sup>148</sup>.
- 18. (لَقَدُ . . . الْكَرِيُّ ) Assuredly he beheld of the greatest signs of his Lord.
- 19. (افرمتم . . . والعزى) Have you<sup>151</sup> then<sup>152</sup> considered the Lāt<sup>153</sup> and the 'Uzza<sup>154</sup> ?
  - ? •and the Manāt<sup>155</sup>, the other third<sup>156</sup> (رمنوة . . الاخراق) 20
- 21. (الكم . . . الانتان) What I for you the males and for Him the females 157.
  - ا That<sup>159</sup> indeed is an unfair division<sup>160</sup> (نلك . . . منبزي)
- 23. (ان . . . الهدائ) They are but names which you have named<sup>161</sup>, you and your fathers, for which Allah has sent down no authority<sup>162</sup>. They follow but their fancy<sup>163</sup> and what pleases their souls<sup>164</sup>, whereas there has come to them assuredly the guidance from their Lord.

  - 25. (ناله . . . الأولى) Allah's is the last and the first 166.

- 26 (وکم . . . رضل) And many an angel there is in the heavens  $^{167}$ , whose intercession will not avail at all save  $^{168}$  after Allah's leave  $^{169}$  for whomsoever He wills  $^{170}$  and is well-pleased  $^{171}$
- 27. (ان . . . الانتي Verily those who believe not in the Hereafter<sup>178</sup> name the angels with female names<sup>178</sup>.

<sup>147. (</sup>even in this unique experience). i. e., he remained firm and self-possessed; was neither dazzled nor confounded, understanding his own position perfectly.

<sup>148. (</sup>the proper limits) i. e., he retained full and comp'ete self-possession even at the climax of Divine illumination and when in direct contact with the All-High.

- 149. (in his night journey).
- 150. i. e., wonders both of sensible and the intellectual worlds).
- 151. (O idolaters I).
- 152. i. e., after the truthfulness of the Prophet is established.
- mentioned along with al-'Uzza... and among the Kuraish. she. along with this goddess and Manat, was held in such high esteem ... '(El. III. p. 18) 'References to Al-lat are found in several Nabataean inscriptions; in one of them she is called 'the Mother of the gods'... Among the later Arabs this goddess was no less venerated '(ERE, I. p. 661). 'The Arabian Lat was worshipped by the Nabataeans as mother of the gods, and must be identified with the virgin-mother, whose worship at Petra is described by Epiphanius.' (Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites, p. 56) Among the great "mothers" is Lat or rather Allat. Apparently a sun-goddess, in Palmyra she is found coupled with the Shamash.' (p. 520) 'Al-Lat had her sacred tracts (hima and haram) near al-Taif, whither the Makkans and others flocked for pilgrimage and sacrifice. Within such an enclosure no trees could be felled, no game hunted and no human blood shed.... Herodotus mentions this goddess under the name Alilat among the Nabataean deities.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 99).
- 154. Far more important, at least in historical times was the cult of the planet Venus, revered as a great goddess under the name of the al-Uzza, which may be rendered "the Most Mighty." The Syriac poet Isaac of the Antioch, who lived in the first half of the 5th century, bears witness to the worship of Ozza by the Arabs of that period; in other passage he identifies Ozza with the planet Venus. (ERE. I. p. 660). 'The goddess Al-'Uzza was believed to reside in the sacred acacia at Nakhia', (Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites, p. 185) 'Al-Ozza with Allat and Manat, the three daughters of Allah, in the Coran, is the "lady 'Ozza" to whom a man in a South Arabian inscription offers a golden image on behalf of his sick daughter Amat-al-Uzzai. Human sacrifice and licentious practices distinguish her cult Isaac of Antioch identified her with Beltis, and calls her the "Star" (p. 521). 'Al-'Uzza (the most mighty, Venus, the morning star) had her cult in Nakhlah, east of Makkah...Her sanctuary consisted of three trees. Human sacrifice characterized her cult...Abd-al-·Uzza was a favourite proper name at the rise of Islam' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 99). An officer was commissioned by the prophet to destroy the sanctuary of this goddess in Nakhlah. (Hitti. op cit., p. 33),
- 155. 'An old Arabian goddess.... a goddess of fate, especially of death. Her main sanctuary was a black stone among the Hudhailis in Kudaid..... She was however worshipped by many Arab tribes..., In Mecca she was very popular along with the goddesses al-Lat and al-'Uzza.' (El III. p. 231) 'A number of proper names compounded with Manat prove that her cult extended over a great part of Arabia.' (ERE 1. p. 662) 'Manat (from Maniyah, allotted fate) was the goddess of destiny and as such represented an earlier phase of religious life. Her main sanctuary consisted of a black stone in Qudayd on the road between Makkah and Yathrib (laler al-Madinah) and she was especially popular with the Aws and the Khazraj.' (Hitti, op. cit. p. 99).

- 156. (whether these inanimate created beings could at all be goddesses of worship).
  - 157. (as sons).
- 158. (as daughters). This refers to the Arabian belief in goddesses as daughters of Allah. See P. XXIII. n. 299.
- 159. i. e., this attribution, according to the pagan notions, of the inferior sex to God See P. XIV. n. 223.
  - 160. (in addition to its being absurd in itself).
- 161. (regardless of truth and reality). Empty, meaningless and unreal names, only creations of your fancy. Cf. a poem by Zaid, one of the Hanifs who dissatisfied with the prevailing idolatory, were trying to find out the true, monotheistic religion:—
  - 1. Should I worship One God or thousands when even the duties of religion have been divided by the people?
  - I have forsaken One God 'Uzza', and such is always done by a keen and partial man,
  - 3. And I do not worship Ghanan though I regarded him as my Lord when I had little wisdom.
  - 4. With Thee, O God. I am contented and I do not see, save Thee, any one whose religion I should adopt.
  - 162. (either in reason or in revelation).
  - 163. (deprived of all reason).
  - 164. (with no reference to facts and realities).
- 165. (and his wishes are dedicated by his whims and fancies). So shall man dictate to God, and name whom he pleases for his intercessors or for his prophet?
- 166. Shall man, then choose a religion according to his own fancy, and prescribe the terms on which he may claim the reward of this life and the next?

  الأخ and الأخ ا refer to the periods of after-life and life.
- 167. The expression 'in the heavens' hints at the high rank and dignity of such angels. (TH).
  - 168. See P. XVII, nn. 56, 59; and nn. 161 above.
  - 169. (that there may be intercession on their behalf).
  - 170. (in accordance with His universal Scheme).
  - 171. (out of His own free choice, not due to any pressure from outside).
  - 172. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
- 173. In the religious imagination and devotion of the Arabs the angels were females, and daughters of God. See P. XXV. n. 177.

Her name associated with dhu-al-Shara 'appears in the Nabataean inscriptions of al-Hijr'. (ib. p. 99) Sirius was also worshipped among the Egyptians, the Greeks and the Romans. In astronomy, Sirius is the highest in all the sky. Also called Day Star, it is one of our nearest stellar neighbours, and is really a double star, or binary, consisting of a very bright member and a very fine companion.

Sūrat-ul-Qamar

The Moon. LIV

(Makkan, 3 Sections and 55 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (اقتربت . . القمر) The Hour<sup>217</sup> has drawn nigh, and the moon has been rent in sunder<sup>218</sup>.
- 2. (ران . . . مستمر) And if they<sup>219</sup> behold a sign, they turn away, and say<sup>220</sup>: magic continuous<sup>221</sup>.
- 3. (رکذبرا مستفر) And they belied<sup>222</sup>, and they followed their lusts<sup>228</sup>, and every affair comes to a final goal<sup>224</sup>.
- 4. (ولفد . . . مزدجر) And assuredly there has come to them tidings $^{225}$  wherein is a deterrent $^{226}$ ,
  - 5. (حكنة من Wisdom consummate. But warnings avail not227.
- 6. (نترل . . . نكر) So withdraw thou from them<sup>228</sup>. The Day when the summoner<sup>229</sup> will summon mankind to a thing unpleasant<sup>230</sup>.
- 7. (خشما متشر) they<sup>23</sup> will come forth with the downcast looks<sup>282</sup> from the tomb as if they were locusts<sup>233</sup> scattered
- 8. (مهطمين . . . عسر) Hastening towards the summoner. The infidels will say: a hard Day this!
  - 217. Which the Arab pagans were denying.
- 218. (as a sign of the Hour's approach). The allusion is a famous miracle of the Prophet recorded in several authentic traditions of the Companions performed at the insistent demand of the pagans for a sign in the early days of his ministry.

The moon in the sky appeared cloven in two, one part vanishing and other remaining: at which the Makkans were greatly astonished. The passage may also be expounded in another way. Many commentators think that the past tense is here used, as so often in the Qurān, for the future. So the phrase should be rendered the moon shall be rent in the sunder,' signifying that this sign will happen at the approach of the Resurrection.

- 219. i. e., the Makkan pagans; the inveterate enemies of Islam,
- 220. (disdainfully of that miracle).
- 221. i. e., one bit of magic after another. ستس may also mean 'passing away, and vain or ineffectual.' (LL)
  - 222, (this very miracle conforming to their usual practice).
  - 223. (to the exclusion of truth).
- 224. So the effects of an illusion or magic are but transient and momentary, while those of a miracle are permanent and lasting.
  - 225, (of the ruin and chastisement of ancient rebellious nations).
- 226. i. e., lessons that should sufficiently deter the present-day pagans from obstinate infidelity,
  - 227. (a people so obdurate).
  - 228, (and grieve not over their fate, O Prophet!).
  - 229. i, e., the angel Israfil.
  - 230, i. e., to the Reckoning of account,
  - 231. (through terror).
  - 232, i. e., the infidels.
- 233. (in sheer numbers). Perhaps no living creature is comparable to the locust in largeness of its numbers, 'Locust' breeding-grounds are estimated to contain millions upon millions of the insects and on one occasion in flight in East Africa measured sixty miles by three miles and it was reckoned by experts that it consisted of a million million locusts, and even larger swarms have been observed and recorded.
  - 234, (with fear),

- 9. (کنبت . . رازدجر) There belied before them<sup>235</sup> the people of Nūḥ. So they belied Our bondman Nūḥ, and said<sup>236</sup>: a madman; and he was reproved<sup>237</sup>.
- 10. (ندعا . . . فاتصر) Thereupon he prayed to his Lord: verily I am overcome, so vindicate me.
- 11. (نفتحنا . . . منهس) Then We opened the portals of heaven with water poured out.
- - 13. (وحيك . . و دسر) And We borne him<sup>241</sup> on a thing of planks and nails.
- 14. (بجرى . . . كثر) Moving forward under Our eyes<sup>242</sup>: a vindication of him who had been rejected.
- 15. (د لند . . مدکر) And assuredly We left it<sup>243</sup> for a sign<sup>214</sup>. Is there, then, any one who would be admonished ?
- 16. (نکیف . . ونذر) So how dreadful have been My chastisement and My warnings;
- 17. (رلقد . . . مدکر) And assuredly We have made the Quarn<sup>245</sup> easy for admonition<sup>246</sup>; is there, then, any one who would be admonished?
- 18. (کذبت . . . دندر) And there belied the ' $Ad^{247}$ ; so how dreadful have been My chastisement and My warnings!
- 20. (تروع . . . منقرر) Carrying men away<sup>249</sup>, as if they were trunks of uprooted palm trees<sup>250</sup>.
- 21. (نکیف . . . ونذر) So how dreadful has been My chastisement and My warnings.

- 237. (and threatened with violence).
- 238. See P. XII. n. 115.
- 239. (of heaven and earth),
- 240. (in the presence of God).
- 241. (together with his followers).
- 242. i. e., under Our protection.
- 243. i. e., this story, in human memory and documents.
- 244. (to the succeeding generations).
- 245. Which is replete with such discourses and historical allusions.
- 246. Note the qualifying words 'for admonition,' Not 'easy' in the absolute sense; not easy in the sense that it contains no profundities of thought or subtleties of meaning; but only easy in so far as lessons of meekness, humility and willing surrender to God can be deduced from it.
  - 247. (their prophet).
  - 248. Which lasted seven nights and eight days.
  - 249. i. e., tearing them away violently and throwing them down dead.
- 250. 'How graphic is the description of the tornado that uprooted them! It must indeed be a dreadful tornado that plucks up the palm-trees by their deep tap-roots. The "Day" is an indefinite period of time.' (AYA).

المندون المناعظة المنافرة المنكرة والمنكرة المنكرة ال

22. (ولفت مدكر) And assuredly We have made the Qurān easy for admonition; is there, then, any one who would be admonished?

- 23. (كنبت . . . يالذر) And the Thamud belied the warnings<sup>25i</sup>.
- 24. (نقالوا . . سعر) And they said<sup>252</sup>: a mere human being from<sup>253</sup> amongst us, and alone<sup>254</sup>——shall we follow him? Then indeed we should be in error and madness.
- 25. *(مالتي . . اشر) Has the Admonition been laid upon him<sup>255</sup> from amongst يُ us ? Ave: he is an insolent liar !
  - 26. (سيملون . . الأشر) They shall learn tomorrow<sup>256</sup> which<sup>257</sup> is an insolent liar!
  - 27. (اتا . . . رامطبر) Verily We are sending a she-camel<sup>253</sup> as a test for them<sup>259</sup>, so watch them thou and have patience<sup>260</sup>.
  - 28. (دنیهم . . مختر) And declare thou to them that water has been divided between them<sup>26</sup>, every drinking shall be by turns.
  - 29. (نادوا . . . نعقر) Then they called their comrade, and took the sword and hamstrung her,
  - 30. (نکیف . . . ونذر) So how dreadful have been my chastisement and my warnings I
  - 31. (انا ، المنظر) Verily We I We sent upon them one shout<sup>264</sup>, and they became as the stubble of a fold-builder<sup>265</sup>.
  - 32. (رلفد . . . مدکر) And assuredly We have made the Quran easy for admonition; is there, then, any one who would be admonished.
    - 33. (کنبت . . . بالذر) Then belied the warnings266 the people of Lūt.
  - 34. (بسر.) Verily We! We sent upon them a gravel storm<sup>267</sup> save the family of  $L\bar{u}t^{268}$ . Them We delivered at early dawn.

<sup>251. (</sup>of their prophet).

- 252. (of their prophet, slightingly).
- 253. i. e., neither angel nor demi-god.
- 254 (unattended by hosts of heaven).
- 255, (of all the persons!).
- 256, i. e., immediately at their death. This was said by God to the prophet of the time.
  - 257. (of the two, either the prophet or his opponents).
- 258. (in a miraculous way, in response to their incessant demands for a miracle).
  - 259. i. e., to test which of them believes and which of them denies.
  - 260, (at their insults and provocation).
  - 261. i. e., between the Thamudites and the she-camel, See P. VIII. n. 546 ff.
- 262. In order to slay her; the reference is to Qidar bin Salif. who was a stranger dwelling among the Thamudites.
  - 263. Or 'he emboldened himself.'
  - 264. i. e., cry of an angel.
  - 265. i. e., became completely dead and extirpated.
  - 266. (of their prophets).
  - 267. (which killed them all).
  - 268. 1, e., such of them as were his followers.

- 35. (نسة . . . نكر) as a favour from Us. Thus do We recompense him who gives thanks<sup>269</sup>.
- 36. (رلقد . . . بالندر) And assuredly he had warned them of Our grasp, but they doubted the warnings.
- 37. (ولند . . . ونذر) And they solicited him for his guests<sup>270</sup>; then We deprived them of their sight<sup>271</sup>, taste then My chastisement and My warnings.
- 38. (رلفد . . . مستقر) And thus met them early in the morning a settled chastisement<sup>272</sup>.
  - 39. (ننوتوا . . . ونذر) Taste then My chastisement and My warnings.
- 40. (ولند . . . مدکر) And assuredly We have made the Quran easy for admonition; is there, then, anyone who would be admonished?

- 41. (رلفد . . . الأذر) And assuredly there came the warning unto the household of Fir'awn.
- 42. (کثیرا . . . مخدر) They belied Our signs<sup>273</sup>, every one thereof. Then We seized them with the grip of the Mighty, the Powerful.
- 43. (اکثارکم . . . الزیر) Are you infidels better than those<sup>274</sup>? Or, is there an immunity<sup>275</sup> for you in the Writs?
  - 44. (ام . . . متصر) Or is it that they say: we are a people prevailing 276?
- 45. (سيهزم . . الدبر) Soon will this multitude vanquished vanquished vanquished will turn their backs<sup>279</sup>.
- 46. (بل . . . واحي) Aye: the Hour is their appointed term<sup>250</sup> and the Hour will be far more grievious and far more bitter<sup>281</sup>.
  - 269. i. e., who believes in Our Revelation.
  - 270. Who were angels in human shape. For مراددة see P. XII. nn. 421, 448.
  - 271. i. e., blinded them; deprived them of their sight.
  - 272. (and beginning at their death).
- 273. i. e., they persisted in denying that the miracles of Moses were evidences of his truth.

- 274. (so that you would remain immune from His chastisement. O Makkans!)
- 275. (promised and prescribed).
- 276. (against our opponents, and shall never be overcome).
- 277. The word جمع is used as the Quraish presumed too much on their numbers.
  - 278. As it did at the battles of Badr, Ahzab etc.
- 279. (in flight) i. e., they will meet with reprisals in this very world at no distant date. The holy Prophet repeated these words as he was putting on his coat-of-mail on the day of Badr. الدير is here used in the collective sense meaning الادبار.
- 280. The time when they shall receive this full sentence is the Day of Judgement. What they suffer in this world is only an earnest of what they shall have to face in the Hereaster.
  - 281. (than their punishment in this world).

- 47. (ان . . . سمر) Verily the culprits are in great error and madness<sup>283</sup>.
- 48. (یوم . . سفر) On the Day when they shall be dragged on their faces into the Fire, it will be said to them: taste the touch of the Scorching.
  - 49. (نا . . . بقدر) Verily We have created everything by a measure<sup>288</sup>.
- 50. (رما . . بالصر) And Our commandment is but one as the twinkling of an eye.
- 51. (رلند . . . مدکر) And assuredly We have destroyed<sup>286</sup> your likes<sup>287</sup>; is there, then, any one who would be admonished<sup>283</sup>?
  - 52. (ركل . . في الزير) And everything they have done is in the writs<sup>289</sup>.
  - 53. (ركل . . مستطر) And everything, small or big, has been written down.
  - 54. (ان . . . نهر) Verily the pious will be amid Gardens and rivers290,
  - 55. (نی . . . متدر) in a good seat<sup>291</sup>, near a Sovereign Omnipotent.
  - 282. (in denying the occurrence of that Great Day),
  - 283. So that every event occurs at its proper, appointed time,
  - 284. (for the advent of that Day).
- 285. (commandment) i. e., the execution of Our purpose shall be but a single act executed at a moment.
  - 286. (in the past, O Makkans!).
  - 287. i. e., men of the same persuasion.
  - 288. (by their example).
  - 289. (kept by the attending angels)
- 290. يَ is here used in a plural 'sense; standing for يَر : انْهَار also signifies 'Amplitude; or, light and amplitude.' (LL)
- a garment, or piece of cloth, of good quality.' (LL)

The Compassionate. LV

(Makkan, 3 Sections and 78 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. ( الرحمن ) The Compassionate<sup>292</sup>.
- 2. (علم النرآن) He taught293 the Quran.
- 3. (خلق الانسان) He created man<sup>294</sup>.
- 4. (علمه اليان) He taught him distinctness295.
- 5. (الشس . . . عسان) The sun and the moon are in recknoning296.
- 6. (د النجم . . . يسجدن) And herbs and trees do obeisance<sup>297</sup>.
- 7. (والساد . . الميزان) And the sky! He has elevated it and set the balance.
- 8. (الأ . . . البُران) that you should not trespass in respect of the balance the balance.
- 9. (دائيوا . . . الميزان) And observe the weight with equity, and do not make the balance deficient<sup>299</sup>.
  - 10. (والارض . . . للائام) And the earth: He has laid it for the creatures 300.
  - 11. (نیا . . . الاکام) Therein are fruit and palm-trees sheathed.
  - 12. (والعب . . . الريحان) and grain chaffed and other food301.
- 13. (نبای . . نکذین) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain<sup>302</sup> deny?
  - 14. (خلق . . . كالنخار) He created man اخلق . . . كالنخار)

<sup>292. (</sup>Whose acts of compassion and beneficence are numberless). For see P. I. n. 14.

<sup>293. (</sup>His apostle and then through him, mankind in general).

- 294. (with capacity to receive inspiration and Divine guidance).
- 295. (of speech, whereby he can diffuse the knowledge of the Quran).
- 296. i. e., they follow a calculable path in their motion.
- 297. (to His will and disposition.) This strikes at the root of the universally prevalent plant-lore and tree-cult. 'Trees have been objects of worship in all parts of the world.... They were worshipped among the Semites and the Hebrews were no exception to this.' (JE. XII. p. 239). 'The worship of sacred trees is one of the most widely religious phenomenon in the early Greek world' (DB. V. p. 113). 'There is... abundant evidence that in all parts of the Semitic area trees were adored as divine.' (Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites, p. 185). 'In fact, the evidence for tree-worship is almost unmanageably large.' (EBr. XXVII. p. 236, 11th Ed.)
  - 298. i. e., that you may observe equality and justice in your dealings.
  - 299. (by diminishing the weight).
  - 300. Or, 'mankind.'
- 301. Or 'fragrance.' ربحان in addition to its other meanings is 'A bounty, or gift, of God, such as the means of subsistence; syn. جزي (LL).
- 302. (O men and genii!). The two species of rational creatures accountable for their acts.
  - 303. i. e., the first human being: Adam.

- 15. (رخان من الر) And has created the Jinn304 from a flame of fire.
- 16. (نبای . تکدین) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain deny<sup>304</sup>-A ?
  - 17. (رب. المفربين) He is Lord of the two easts and the two wests305.
- 18. (نبای . . . ککدبن) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain deny?
  - 19. (مرج . . . بلنفين) He has let loose the two oceans 306.
  - 20. (ينها . . . يغين) In-between them is a barrier they cannot pass<sup>367</sup>.
- 21. (بای . . . تکذین) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain deny?
  - 22. العرجان) There come forth from the two the pearl and the coral.
- 23. (نبآی . . . کذبن) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain deny?

- 29. (بنله . . . ثان) Of Him begs whosoever is in the heavens and the earth<sup>312</sup>, Every day<sup>313</sup> He is in a new state<sup>314</sup>.
- 30. (نبای . . . تکذین) Which, then, of the benefits of your Lord will you twain deny?
- 31. (سنفرغ . . . التقلن) Soon<sup>915</sup> We shall direct Ourselves to you<sup>316</sup>, O two classes<sup>817</sup> !

304. i. e., the first of their species.

304-A. Compare for the constant recurrence, like a refrain in poetry, of this verse a verse in the OT:— For his mercy endureth for ever.' (Ps. 136: 1-26).

This has 26 repetitions while the Quran has 31.

305. The dual number of the east and the west signifies the different points of the horizon at which the sun rises and sets at the summer and winter solstice, or the extreme points of the rising and setting of the sun during the year; or it may refer to the rising and setting-points of both the sun and the moon.

306. (of salt and fresh water) See P. XIX. n. 73.

307. (so the saltish does not everpass its bounds and mix itself with the sweet). Also see P. XIX. n. 75.

308. (of the living creatures).

309. i.e., on the earth.

- 310. i. e., everyone of the creatures is mortal.
- 311. i. e.. He alone is Immortal, Everliving.
- 312. i. e., everyone of the creatures, even among the great ones, is entirely dependent on Him, and of Him seeks its needs.
  - 313, i.e., every moment of the time.
- 314, (creating and re-creating the world and ever renewing His activities). God is thus not only the Creator of the universe but also its Sustainer at every moment of its existence. The entire cosmic order is ever dependent on His will, incapable of sustaining and developing itself and performing its work, without His aid, in virtue of its own inherent energies, and creation is not an act of the past combining automatically; His creative activity is incessant. This refutes the Hindu doctrine that Brahma, having performed his legitimate part in the mundane evolution by his original creation of the universe, has retired into the background' (EBr. XI. p. 577). This also repudiates the mechanistic conception of the deism, which limits the divine activity to creation of the world and denies to Him any direct contact with His creation and also the Greek idea that God is static, and aloof from the world. A Christian scholar sums up the position of the orthodex Muslim theologian thus:- He regards the world and all the events in the world as a perpetual miracle—always and constantly going on. It is not only that, by a creative miracle, the world was brought into existence; .... but all through the existence of the world--from moment to moment-there is this miraculous creation going on . . . . When fire burns or when a knife cuts, that is not by any nature in the fire or quality in the knife. The cutting and the being cut, the burning and the being burned are all by Allah.' (Macdonald, Aspects of Islam, pp. 137-139).
  - 315. i. e., in the Hereafter.
  - 316. (exclusively, for judgement).
- 317. (of mankind and the jinn) with is 'Anything held in high estimation, in such request, and preserved with care.' And by with are meant 'Mankind and jinn or genii; because, by the discrimination that they possess they excel other animate beings.' (LL)

For in the system of Christian morals sex life is conceived as something inherently evil. at best only to be tolerated. This morbid attitude to life has appeared only with the advent of the black Christian era.' Islam has reversed this diseased outlook. It holds, freely and frankly, with modern scientific knowledge that sexual life is the source of the highest joys for which there is no substitute. It is the supreme and incomparable physiological happiness, which should be nursed and treasured, and not persecuted... Sex life is not at all a tolerated evil, difficult to escape, but... a great blessing, without which life is colourless. The sexual element in human existence must be valued and treasured.' - 349. This description of physical pleasures in paradise, says Gibbon, 'has provoked the indignation, perhaps the envy, of the monks: they declaim against the impure religion of Mahomet; and his modest apologists are driven to the poor excuse of figures and allegories. But the sounder and more consistent party adhere, without shame, to the literal interpretation of the Koran; useless would be the resurrection of the body, unless it were restored to the possession and exercise of its worthiest faculties; and the union of sensual and intellectual enjoyment is requisite to complete the happiness of the double animal, the perfect man.' - 349-A. Cf. the Bible:—Behold thou art fair, my beloved, Yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.' (So. 1:16). 'Green is a colour pleasant to most people; but it is particular by welcome and refreshing to the parched eyes of the sun-burnt Arabians for whom it possesses a special appeal, probably because of its association with grass and vegetation in general, which are the basis of pastoral life. Hence the dominant role it plays in the colour 'scheme of the Quranic Paradise.' (Inayatullah, p. 122).

- 390. (of man therefrom).
- 391. (and its appointed time). The purport of this passage and the preceding one is: We are the sole Creator, Preserver and Destroyer. On the universality and inevitability of death compare the observations of Seneca, the noted Roman philosopher—'To suffer death is but the law of nature, and it is a great comfort that it can be done but once. In the very convulsions of it we have this consolation, that our pain is near an end, and that it frees us from all miseries of life.... What Providence has made a necessity human prudence should comply with cheerfully. As there is a necessity of death, so that necessity is equal and invincible.'
- 392. (in Our Purpose). i. e., none can frustrate Divine decrees. Death is not in the nature of punishment; it is not the result of some initial disobedience on the part of man. It is a cardinal condition of existence. This lends no support whatever to the Biblical conception of death, that it is the result of an act of disobedience. 'But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.' (Ge. 2:17). 'Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.' (Ro. 5:12). 'For the wages of sin is death.' (Ro. 6:23) 'And sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.' (Ja. 1:15). See also P. IV, n. 288.

Part XXVII

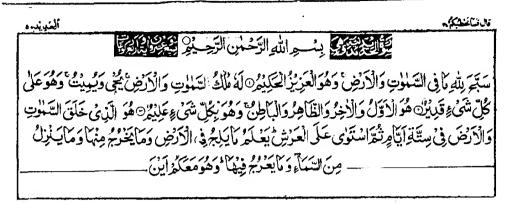

- 'Among barbarous people of to-day the frictional is the most used.... In Borneo, Sumatra, and part of Eastern Asia, fire is occassionally made by striking together two pieces of split bamboo.' (ERE. VI. pp. 26, 27). See also P. XXIII. n. 138.
- 401. (and is there any such thing as a fire-god or fire-deity?) See also P. XXIII. n. 138.
- 402. (to put in the minds of men the fire of Hell, and also to point out that fire is not to be taken as an object of worship). 'In the ancient Jewish religion and many others fire is the means whereby offerings are transmitted to the deity or to departed souls as among the Greeks. In many cases fire itself is worshipped, and often the worship of the sun can scarcely be distinguished from that of fire. The ancient Mexicans had a fire-god Xinbenctli . . . Among more civilized people the ancient Assyrians, Chaldeans, and Phoenicians practised fire-worship . . . . Among the ancient Aryans, if we use so indefinite a term, Agni (Latin ignnis) was the chief god. Even to-day fire-worship is a notable feature of Hinduism, . . . and is the dominant factor in the religion of the Zoroastrians or Parsees.' (EBr. IX. p. 263). 'The god Agni is the most perfect instance of a divinized personification of fire. He is the giver of immortality, and purges from sin. After death he burns away the guilt of body and carries the immortal part to heaven . . . . Whereas the worship of Agni and the ancient ritual has degenerated in Hinduism, the modern Parsees practise a very conservative form of the ancient fire-ritual.' (ERE. VI. pp. 29, 30).
- 403. (and travellers in particular, and to mankind in general). 'A fire, or light, or beacon in many places directs a traveller on the way. Lighthouses at sea and beacons in modern aerodromes serve the same purpose for mariners and airmen.' (AYA).
  - 404. (O Prophet!).
- 405. النم does not convey a negative meaning. In accordance with a curious idiom of the language, whereby an oath or execration seems to be regarded as a virtual negation, the negative particle may be omitted in denial by oath, and, on the contrary, be inserted in affirmation.' (WGAL, II, p. 305). An oath when uttered by God means His calling to witness some of the great and special objects of His creation.
- 406. 'Through all the vicissitudes of thirteen hundred years', observes a Christian scholar of twentieth century, 'the Koran has remained the sacred book of all the Turks and Persians and of nearly a quarter of the population of India. Surely such a book deserves 'to be widely read in the West, more specially in these days when space and time have been almost annihilated by modern invention, and when public interest embraces the whole world.' (Sir Denison Ross in Sale's Translation of the Koran, Intro. p. VII).

  - 88. (ناما ... المتربين) Then418 if he be of the brought-nigh419
- 89. (زوج . . . انج) For him shall be repose<sup>420</sup> and fragrance<sup>421</sup> and a Garden of Delight.
  - 90. (واما . . . اليمين) And if he be of the fellows on the right hand 192,
- 91. (نسام . . . البين) then $^{423}$ : peace unto thee, for thou art of those on the right hand.
  - 92. (واما . . الضالين) And if he be of the rejectors, the erring,
  - 93. (نتول . . . حمم) then, an entertainment of the boiling water,
  - 94. (وتصلية جحيم) and roasting in a Blaze.
  - 95. (ان . . . الغين) Verily this! this is the very truth.
  - 96. (نسبح . . . المظيم) So hallow thou 124 the name of thy Lord, the Mighty.
- 412. i. e., We in our all-encompassing, all pervading knowledge, are more aware of his true condition than you, mere men, can possibly be.
  - 413. i. e., are not even aware of Our close proximity.
  - 414. (for your deeds). i. e., if final Requital is not to take place.
  - 415. i. e., the departing soul.
  - 416. (into the body).
- 417. i. e., if you are right in respect of your denial of the Resurrection. The purport is: if there is to be no Resurrection of the dead, as you maintain with such vehemence, and which implies that you are able to prevent God from resuscitating souls, then cause the soul of the dying person, on whose account you are so anxious, to return into his body; for you may do that more easily than avoid the resurrection.

- 418. i. e., to sum up.
- 419. See n. 360 above.
- 420. Or 'evening breeze'.
- 421. See n. 301 above.
- 422. See n. 356 above.
- 423. Thus he will be greeted.
- 424. (O Prophet!).

The Iron. LVII

(Madinian, 4 Sections and 29 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. الحكم) Hallows Allah whatsoever is in the heavens and the earth 425, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.
- 2. (له ... الدير) His is the dominion of the heavens and the earth<sup>426</sup>; He gives life and causes death; and He is Potent over everything.
- 3. (مو . . . علم) He is the First<sup>427</sup> and the Last<sup>428</sup>, and the Evident<sup>429</sup> and the Imminent<sup>430</sup> and He is the Knower of everything.
  - 425. (in its own language).
- 426. He is their sole Creator and Ruler, and there are no such absurd things as heaven-gods or earth-deities.
- 427. i. e., Prior to every other existing entity; the Eternal; without beginning.
  - 428. 1. e., surviving all existing entities; the Everlasting; without end.
- 429. i. e., Self-evident in respect of the fact of His existence. (Th). Or, Manifest in regard to His attributes.
- 430. i. e., subtle in respect of the nature of His existence. (Th). Or, Transcendent in regard to His person.

- 4 (هرالذي . . بعير) He it is Who created<sup>431</sup> the heavens and the earth in six days<sup>431-A</sup>; then he established Himself on the Throne<sup>432</sup>. He knows<sup>423</sup> whatso-ever plunges into the earth<sup>434</sup>, and whatsoever comes forth therefrom<sup>435</sup>, and whatsoever descends from the heaven<sup>426</sup> and whatsoever ascends thereto<sup>437</sup>; and He is with you<sup>438</sup> wheresoever you be<sup>189</sup>. And Allah is Beholder of whatever you do.
- 5. (لا مرر) His is the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and to Allah will a// affairs<sup>440</sup> be brought back<sup>441</sup>.
- 6. (یولج . . . المدور) He plunges the night into the day, and plunges the day into the night<sup>441</sup>, and He is the Knower of whatsoever is in the breasts.
- 7. (آخوا . . . کیر) Believe in Allah and His messenger and spend of that whereof He has made you successors to<sup>443</sup>. Those of you who believe and spend—theirs shall be a great wage<sup>444</sup>.
- 8. (مرمانکم مرمنین) And why is it that you<sup>445</sup> believe not in Allah<sup>446</sup> whereas the messenger<sup>447</sup> is calling you to believe in your Lord, and He has already taken your bond<sup>448</sup>, if you are going to be believers?
- 9. (مرالتی . . . رحم) He it is Who<sup>449</sup> sends down to His bondmen<sup>450</sup> clear signs<sup>451</sup> that he<sup>458</sup> may bring you forth from darkness<sup>458</sup> into the light<sup>454</sup>, and verily Aliah is to you Tender, Merciful.

- 438. (in His permeating knowledge and awareness).
- 439. (and in whatsoever condition of existence). He is independent of all conditions of space and Time. Speaking of the modern desert Arabs. observes T. E. Lawrence:—'....Just heaven above and unspotted earth beneath; and the only refuge and rythm of their being is in God... He alone is great, and yet there is a homeliness, and every-day-ness of this Arab God who rules their eating, their fighting and their lusting; and is their commonest thought, and companion... He is the commonest of their words.' (Doughty. Travels in Arabia Deserta, I. p. 23).
  - 440. Whether material or spiritual.
  - 441. (for disposal and judgement).
  - 442. See P. III. n. 327.
- 443. Notice the essential impermanence of wealth implied in the words 'successors to.' All wealth really belongs to God; men are only stewards as trustees succeding one another.
  - 444. (in the Hereafter).
  - 445. (O infidels!).
  - 446. i. e., in His Religion.
  - 447. (whose veracity is fully admitted by you).
- 448. (in the begining of Creation). So that the stronger arguments and motives for believing in Him are ingrained in your nature. See P. IX. n. 280.
  - 449. (out of His solicitude).
  - 450. i. e., the Prophet Muhammad. See P. I. n. 98.
  - 451. Or 'revelations'.
  - 452. ——that special and final envoy of God——
  - 453. (of infidelity and unbelief).
  - 454. (of faith and belief).

10. (مالكم . . . خبير) And how is it that you spend not in the cause of Allah when Allah's shall be the inheritance of the heavens and the earth <sup>435</sup>? Those of you <sup>456</sup> who spent and fought <sup>457</sup> before the victory <sup>458</sup> shall not be held equal <sup>459</sup>. They are greater in rank than those who spent and fought <sup>460</sup> afterwards; unto each <sup>461</sup> Allah has promised good <sup>462</sup>; and He is Aware of whatsoever you do.

- 11. (رئ...کری) Who is he that will lend Aliah a goodly loan<sup>463</sup>, so that He may multiply it<sup>464</sup> for him? and his will be an honourable wage<sup>465</sup>.
- 12. (رير الطاع) Mention the Day whereon thou see the believing men and women, their light sefore them them, and on their right hands glad tidings to you To-day: Gardens with running water beneath them, they will abide therein. That; it is a mighty achievement.
  - 455. (when all else will die and He Alone will live).
  - 456. (O new converts to Islam!).
  - 457. (in defence of faith).
  - 458. i. e., before the conquest of Makka.
  - 459. (with those who will contribute and fight for the same afterwards).
  - 460. (for the propagation of the faith),
  - 461. i. e., both the former and the latter.
  - 462. (according to the merits),
  - 463. See P. H. nn. 627, 628,
  - 464. i. e., increase its reward in quantity.
  - 465. (in quality).
  - 466. (O Prophet!).
  - 467. Symbolic of their true faith.
  - 468. (and leading them on the right way to Paradise).
- 469. This light will emanate from the book wherein their actions are recorded and which they will hold in their right hand.

- 13. (ربر من المذاب) It shall be the Day whereon the hypocrites, men and women<sup>470</sup>, will say<sup>472</sup> to the faithful<sup>473</sup>: wait for us<sup>473</sup> that we may borrow some light from you. It will be said: go back and seek a light elsewhere. A high wall, will then be set up between them<sup>474</sup>, wherein will be a door, of which the inside has mercy and the outside of which is toward the torment.
- 14. (يادونهم من الفرور) They<sup>475</sup> will call to them: have we not been with you<sup>476</sup>? They will say: yes<sup>477</sup>: but you tempted your souls<sup>478</sup> and you waited<sup>479</sup> and you doubted<sup>480</sup> and your vain desires beguiled you until there came the affair of Allah<sup>481</sup>, and in respect of Allah the beguiler<sup>482</sup> beguiled you.
- 15. (نا ليوم . . . المصير) To-day therefore will no ransom be accepted of you, nor of those who openly disbelieved; your abode is the Fire; that sis your companion 185. A, a hapless destination.
- 16. (المنفون, . . أسفون) Is not the time yet come<sup>484</sup> for those who believe<sup>485</sup>, that their hearts should humble themselves<sup>456</sup> to Allah's admonition and to the truth which has been revealed<sup>487</sup>, and that they do not become as those who were given the Book before<sup>488</sup>, and the time<sup>489</sup> was extended to them, and so their hearts were hardened<sup>480</sup>? And many of them were ungodly<sup>491</sup>.
  - 470. (who resembled only outwardly the Muslims in this world).
  - 471. (in utter anguish, realising the hopelessness of their position).
  - 472. (who will be hastening to Paradise with extreme swiftness).
  - is here synonymous with انتظرونا (LL).
  - 474. i. e., between the believers and hypocrites.
  - 475. i. c., the hypocrites.
  - 476. (in the world, O believers!).
  - 477. i. e., outwardly you certainly were with us.
  - 478. (by your hypocrisy).
  - 479. (for our ruin).

- 480. (in respect of Islam).
- 481. (and you died).
- 482. i. e., the arch-deceiver; the Devil.
- 483. Hell-fire, not the Muslims.
- 483-A. (and is fitting for you).
- 484. The alif I here denotes the deeming of a thing slow or hardy. (LL)
- 485. (and yet are not perfectly obedient).
- 486. (and became perfectly obedient).
- 487. (from Him).
- 488. (but who remained ignoring and defying its teachings, e. g., the Christians and the Jews).
  - 489. (of their wilful defiance and persistent disobedience).
- 490. So they did not repent, and from mere sinners, in course of time, became actual unbelievers.
  - 491. (so this day). ناسق is here used in the sense of كافر (Th).

- 20. (اعلمود...الترور) Know that the life of this world<sup>489</sup> is but a sport and a play<sup>500</sup>, and an adornment and a self-glorification among you and a rivalry in riches and children<sup>501</sup>. It is as<sup>502</sup> the vegetation after rains the growth of which pleases the husbandmen, then it withers and thou seest it becoming yellow, then it becomes chaff<sup>503</sup>. And in the Hereafter<sup>504</sup> there is both a grievous torment<sup>505</sup> and forgiveness from Allah and. His pleasure<sup>506</sup>; and the life of this world<sup>507</sup> is but a vain bauble<sup>508</sup>.
- 21. (مابغوا . . . المعلم) Strive with one another in hastening towards forgiveness from your Lord and towards a Garden of which the width is as the width of the heavens and the earth<sup>509</sup>, prepared for those who believe in Allah and His messengers. This<sup>510</sup> is the grace of Allah! He vouchsafes it to whomsoever He will; and Allah is the Owner of mighty grace.
- 22. (ما . . . يسير) Naught of affliction befalls the earth or your persons but it is inscribed in the Book<sup>511</sup>, even before We have created them<sup>512</sup>. Verily that<sup>513</sup> is easy with Allah<sup>514</sup>.
- 23. (نکیلا . . . نخور) This is announced lest you feel sorry for what you miss, or exult over what He has vouchsafed to you. And Allah loves not any vainglorious boaster sie
- 24. (الذين . . . الحميد) they who are niggardly<sup>517</sup> and<sup>518</sup> enjoin others to be niggardly. And whosoever turns away<sup>519</sup>, then verily Allah! He is the Self-Sufficient<sup>520</sup>, the Praiseworthy<sup>521</sup>.
  - 499. (in comparison with the life Hereafter).
  - 500. See P. VII. nn. 344-346.
- 501. The three aspects of the worldly life mentioned here correspond broadly with the three periods of man's life. As a boy he is enamoured of sport and play, in adult age he is seized with feelings of self-display, and in old age he is dominated by pride of wealth and offspring.

- 502. i. e., comparable in the ephemeral nature of these worldly aims.
- 503. Compare the NT;—'Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.' (Mt. 6: 19, 20).
  - 504. Which alone is real, substantial, and worth striving after.
  - 505. This is for those who covet the life of this world.
  - 506. This is for those who aim at the life of the Hereafter.
  - 507. (with all its snares and delusions).
  - 508. See P. IV. n. 417.
  - 509. So unimaginable is its vastness!
  - 510. (forgiveness).
  - 511. (of Divine decrees).
- 512. i. e., persons, The verb إن relates both to substances and accidents, The pronoun الم may therefore also refer instead of الأرض 10 الأرض 10 الأرض 11 this case, the rendering would be 'it', not 'them.'
  - 513. (the All-Knowing; the Omniscient).
- 514. i. e., the pre-ordaining of every affair, great or small, in His fore-knowledge.
  - 515. (excessively and immoderately).
  - 516. (desiring honour for himself and refusing it to others).
  - 517. (in the cause of God).
  - 518. ——to add to their guilt——
  - 519. (from the religion of God, and specially from spending in His cause).
  - 520. i. e., needing the support of none.
  - 521. i. e., Perfect in all attributes.

25. (الله عنويز) Assuredly We sent Our messengers with evidences and We sent down with them the Book and the balance that the people might observe equity And We sent down for iron for an also advantages to mankind and that Allah may know him who succoures Allah and His messengers. Verily Allah is Strong, Mighty and the sent our messengers.

- 26. (ولقد . . . نستون) Assuredly We sent Nūḥ and Ibrāhīm, and placed in the posterity of the twain the prophethood and the Book.<sup>533</sup> Then of them are some guided ones, and many of them are ungodly.
  - 522. (to different peoples).
  - 523. i. e., Divine Books in general.
  - 524. (therein). i. e., in the Book.
- 525. i. e., rule of justice; Divine injunction of justice and equity between man and man; well-balanced polity.
  - 526. (and justice towards each other and towards God). Or 'social justice.'
  - 527. i. e., taught the use of.
- 527-A. Sending down of iron may well allude the earliest form of the metal—its meteoric origin—before it could be obtained from its ores.
- 528. (war weapons, instruments and arms being generally made thereof). The all-important character of this metal in modern civilization is too obvious to need any comment. عديد is not only 'iron' but also 'like iron is hardness', so that the word may also connote political power and military supremacy.
- 529. So that peace and order could be enforced and maintained by means thereof.
  - 530. (by fighting in His cause).
  - 531. (out of pure conviction of heart).
- 532. (needing the support and succour of nobody). So it is not to do Him any good but for our own benefit that we are asked to take up arms in the cause of faith and religion.
  - 533. Prophethood has been the special gift of the race of Noah and Abraham.

- 27. (ئے ... نسترن) And thereafter We caused Our messengers to follow in their footsteps, and We caused 'Isā<sup>524</sup>, son of Maryam, to follow them, and We vouchsafed to him the Injīl<sup>535</sup>, and We placed in the hearts of those who truly followed him<sup>536</sup>, tenderness and compassion. And asceticism<sup>537</sup>. We did not prescribe it for them<sup>528</sup>; they<sup>539</sup> innovated it<sup>540</sup>, only seeking Allah's goodwill<sup>541</sup>, but they tended it not with the tendence due to it<sup>542</sup>. So We vouchsafed to such of them<sup>513</sup> as believed<sup>544</sup> their wage; and many of them are ungodly<sup>545</sup>.
- 28. (ما الله الله الله الله الله ) O believers fear Allah fear Allah and believe in His messenger fear, He will vouchsafe to you twofold portions of His mercy and will assign to you a light fear with which you will walk fear, and He will forgive you for And Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
- 29. (کلا...النظم) This He will award that the people of the Book<sup>553</sup> may know<sup>554</sup> that they control naught of the grace of Allah<sup>555</sup>, and that the grace is in Allah's hand. He vouchsafes it to whom He will, and Allah is the Owner of mighty grace.
  - 534. (the last of the prophets before Islam).
  - 535. See P. III. n. 215.
- 536. (in the life-time). i. e., his real and true disciples, not the so-called Christians. Marks the implication of using the phrase الذين اتبوم instead of the single word.
- 537. Or, monasticism 'or monkery.' الرهبانية غلو في تحمل التمبد من فرط الربية (Rgh). The word includes all forms of detaching oneself from mankind, specially state of celibacy.
- 538. i. e., the early converts to Christianity. 'Nearly two thousand years ago Saint Paul formulated his ascetic sexual ideal. He glorified the emasculated asexual man and the anaesthetic woman. He unfurled a metaphoric banner for Christianity to march behind, on which the main emblazened and sanctified feature was the repression of all sexual desires or appetite.' (Scott, Sex Life of Man and Woman, p. 62). In a wider sense, the word 'they' may refer to all those who hold Brahmcharya Sannyās and other forms of celibate life holy and sacred.

- 539. (for their spiritual benefit under the influence of false doctrines). In the Christian Church there was from the earliest age a leaning to excessive asceticism.... One and all of the permanent institutions of society were condemned by the early enthusiasts.' (EBr. II. p. 720, 11th. Ed.). 'The ascetic principle early made way for itself in the development of the Christian Church' (ERE p. 74). 'Almost from the very commencement of Christianity ascetics are mentioned' as persons 'pre-eminent in the Christian community for self-denial and sanctity.' (DCA. II. p. 1219).
- 540. Islam, unlike Christian and many pagan philosophies, does not base its system of religio-moral perfection on the conception of the wickedness and sinfulness of the human body; and the law of Islam does not repudiate the earthly life in toto as intrinsically impure. It does not demand the suppression of fleshly impulses; it only requires that they should be curbed and controlled in accordance with the norm supplied by itself. Celibacy on a large scale is designed to defeat the very aim and purpose of nature——the replenishment of the earth.
- 541. i. e., the primary motive of the first ascetics was to earn God's-will. 'It was prompted by a passionate longing to fly from the world to escape not merely the fury of the Decian or Diocletian persecutions but the contaminations of the surrounding heathenism.' (DCA. I. p. 770).
- 542. 'With the passing of concubine, the nuns in the convents provided the "holy men" with the means of satisfying their sexual cravings (Scott. History of Prostitution, p. 112). 'Asceticism gave to sex an extravagantly important position, and the unhappy twist which the cult of celibacy gave to European morals was the natural result. There grew up a new hypocrisy, such as the old world had not troubled to practise, and at the same time the extravagant licence of medieval literature, and the squalor and degradation which have since then surrounded and accompanied prostitution' (UHW. I. p. 381). The outstanding features of these monasteries were 'that they absorbed lands which would have been more useful in the hands of the private owners, that they withdrew men from a life of active usefulness, and too often made them lazy and worthless.' (IV. p. 2627). 'The rich endowments granted by kings had brought with them, as was inevitable, the seeds of luxury and self-indulgence, and the very popularity of the "religious" life often gave occasion to unreality in professing it.' (DCA, I. p. 191)
  - 543. (living at the time of the advent of Islam).
- 544. (in the holy Prophet, and adopted the law of Islam as their own code of conduct).
- 545. i. e., wedded to false doctrines and unhealthy practices. This (ascetic) ideal has dominated the whole sexual outlook of Western civilization from that day to this.... The ethics, prejudices and taboos imposed by Saint Paul and his associates solidified and extended through the centuries of the Christian dispensation, have flourished.' (Scott, Sex Life and Man and Woman, p. 62).

- 546. (in the Message of Jesus Christ).
- 547. (in seriously considering the claims of the Quran, and do not allow yourselves to be led away by pride and prejudice).
  - 548. i. e., the Prophet Muhammad.
- 549. (one as a recompense for your believing in Islam, and the other as a recompense for your believing in your own former prophets).
  - 550. (as your constant companion),
- 551. (on the path of righteousness and piety in this world, and on the road to Paradise in the Hereafter).
  - 552. (your past acts of impiety and infidelity).
  - 553. Who presumed on their being the chosen of God.
  - 554. (On the Judgement Day).
  - 555. (and that without the true faith they counted for nothing).

PART XXVIII

Sürat-ul-Mujādalah

She Who Pleaded. LVIII

(Madinian, 3 Sections and 22 verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (قد . . . به المار) Surely has Allah heard the saying of her who pleaded with thee concerning her husband and made her plaint to Allah², and Allah has heard your mutual conversation. Verily Allah is Hearing³, Beholding⁴.
- 2. (الذين عنور) As to those among you who put away their wives by pronouncing zihār<sup>5</sup> —— their mothers they are not<sup>6</sup>. Their mothers are only those who gave them birth; and they<sup>7</sup> utter a word disreputable and false<sup>8</sup>. Verily Allah is Pardoning, Forgiving<sup>9</sup>.
- 1. (O Prophet!). The allusion is to Khūla, the wife of Aūs bin Sāmit. Her husband, in a fit of rage, divorced her by using an old formula of the pagan Arabs, viz. 'Thou art to me as the back of my mother.' She came to the holy Prophet asking his decision. He, in the absence of any revelation on the subject, ordered a separation. Thereupon she went away dissatified.
- 2. i. e., gave vent to her deep sense of grief and distress—she had small children—before God.
  - 3. So He hears the cry of everyone.
- 4. So He notices the plight of everyone, and hastens to relieve him of the distress.

- 5. See P. XXI. n. 397. Zihār 'consists in the husband expressing his dissatisfaction by comparing his wife to the back of his mother or some other female relative within prohibited degrees of marriage.' Such imprecation, in Islam, 'has not the effect of a divorce, but only makes the husband liable to make atonement (Kassārata, 'Such') for his improper behaviour.' (Abdul Rahim, op. cit., p. 338).
  - 6. Neither in law nor in fact.
  - 7. i. e., the Arab pagans.
- 8. (in attributing motherhood to such wives), i. e., they use words both iniquitous and untrue.
  - 9. (to those who recant these superstitions).

- 3. (والذين... خير) Those who put away their wives by pronouncing zihär and thereafter would retract what they have said 10, then upon them 11 is the freeing of a slave 12 before they touch each other 13. You are exhorted to that 14; and Allah is Aware of whatsoever you do 15.
- 4. (نس الرم) And whose does not find a slave to free, on him is the fasting for two months consecutively before they touch each other, and on him who is unable to do so is the feeding of sixty indigent ones. That is in order that you may believe in Allah and His messenger. These are the ordinances of Allah, and for the infidels. Is an afflictive chastisement.
- 5. (ان الذين . . عبن) Verily those who oppose Allah and His messenger shall be abased even as those before them were abased and surely We have sent down manifest signs. And for the infidels is an ignominious chastisement.
- 6. (ريم . . . شهيد) On the Day when Allah will raise them all together and declare to them what they have worked<sup>22</sup>. Allah has taken count thereof, while they forget it. And Allah is a Witness over everything.
  - 10. i. e., seek to undo the effect of their rash and unseemly pronouncement.
  - 11. (for the expiation of their sin).
- 12. (male or female). Note that the husband is here penalised to safeguard the woman's rights.
  - 13. (in the way of conjugal life).
- 14. i. e., you are sought to be cleansed by means of the penalty, prescribed. The penalty is imposed in order that the husband may show his repentance and his repudiation of iniquity and untruth.
  - 15. He knows well whether you act or not up to His commandments.
  - 16. (--in addition to other reasons---).

- 17. i. e., may come to believe the more perfectly by discarding all pagan superstitions.
  - 18. Who deny and defy these Divine ordinances.
  - 19. (and punished, by their being overcome).
  - 20. (and punished in this world for their opposing the former prophets).

- 8. (العبر) Hast thou not seen those<sup>25</sup> who were forbidden whispering<sup>26</sup>, and they returned afterwards to what they had been forbidden? And they whisper among themselves of sin, and transgression and disobedience to the messenger. And when they<sup>27</sup> come to thee, they do not greet thee with that with which Allah greets thee<sup>43</sup>, and say<sup>29</sup> within themselves: why does Allah not punish<sup>30</sup> us for what we utter? Sufficient unto them is Hell, wherein they will roast, a hapless destination!
- 9. (باليها الذين عشرون) O believers! when you whisper together<sup>31</sup>, do not whisper<sup>32</sup> of sin and transgression and disobedience to the messenger, but whisper for virtue and piety<sup>35</sup>. And fear Allah unto Whom you will be gathered.
- 10. (انها . . . المرمنون) Whispering<sup>34</sup> is only from Satan<sup>35</sup> that he<sup>36</sup> may grieve the believers; and he cannot harm them at all save with the leave of Allah<sup>37</sup>. So in Allah let the faithful trust<sup>38</sup>.

<sup>23. (</sup>O Prophet!). The allusion is to the Jews and Madinian hypocrites, who conspired together to talk in whispers among themselves when in the presence of the holy Prophet and at the sight of the believers.

- 28. i. e., they salute thee with mischievous and provocative forms of address. These enemies by twisting their words used polite forms of salutations only outwardly but really gave vent to their spite.
  - 29. (in derisive enjoyment of their trick).
  - 30. (here and now).
  - 31. Which is usually done with the motives of fear and distrust.
  - 32. (like the Jews and the hyprocrites).
- 33. i. e., with good and virtuous motives, such as modesty and self-renunciation.
  - 34. (of the infidels).
  - 35. i. e., proceeds only at his suggestion.
  - 36, (merely from his devilish nature).
- 37. (in accordance with His universal scheme). The devil in Islam is not a sort of a second God, a God of evil; he is absolutely powerless, like the rest of His Creatures. God's Will alone is supreme.
- 38. Let the believers be consoled with this thought, and let them not be disturbed with the cavils of the devil.

- 11. (بيا الذين . خبر) C believers! when it is said to you: make room in your assemblies<sup>39</sup>, then make room<sup>40</sup>; Allah will make room for you<sup>42</sup>. And when it is said<sup>42</sup>: rise up, then rise up. Allah will exalt<sup>43</sup>, in degree<sup>44</sup>, those of you who believe and those who are endowed with knowledge. Allah is Aware of whatsoever you work.
- 12. (بايها الذين . رحيم) O believers! when you come to the messenger<sup>48</sup> for private consultation, offer alms<sup>46</sup> before your whispering<sup>47</sup>. That is better for you and purer<sup>48</sup>. Then if you do not find the wherewithal<sup>49</sup>, Allah is Forgiving, Merciful<sup>36</sup>.
- 13. (ماشنتم من تسلون) Do you shrink at your spending something in charity before your whispering<sup>81</sup>? Then, when you could not do it, and Allah relented towards you<sup>82</sup>, establish prayer and pay the poor-rate, and obey Allah and His messenger<sup>83</sup>. And Allah is Aware of what you do.

SECTION 3

14. (الْمِدَّ Dost thou not see<sup>54</sup> those who take for friends a people with whom Allah is angered<sup>55</sup>? They are neither of you nor of them<sup>54</sup>, and they swear to a lie while they know.<sup>57</sup>

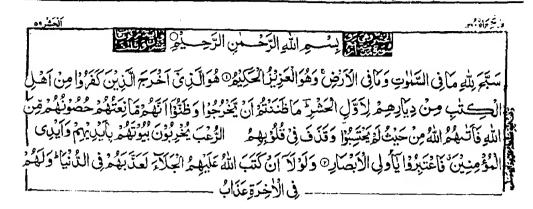

- 39. i. e., in the assemblies of the Prophet.
- 40. (willingly so, and do not press and crowd upon the Prophet).
- 41. (in Paradise).
- 42. (to you by the Prophet).
- 43. (all the more).
- 44. (for acting on this ordinance).
- 45. (thinking that you have a special case for his private audience).
- 46. (to the poor).
- 47. (as a mark of your sincerity and your respect for him).
- 48. i. e., a good way expiating your sins.
- 49. (and yet are in need of having a private discourse with the prophet).

- 50. So in case of the destitute believers He does away with this prerequisite.
- 51. (with the Prophet, lest it should impoverish you).
- 52. (and abrogated the command altogether). The command remained in force for a very little while.
  - 53. (as usual, in all other matters).
  - 54. (O Prophet!).
  - 55. i. e., the hypocrites.
- 56. The hypocrites could not be called wholly infidels, outwardly being Muslims; nor could they be called Muslims, being unbelievers at heart.
- 57. i. e., they solemnly affirm and profess Islam while in their hearts they disbelieve.

- 15. (اعد الله . . . يعمارن) Allah has prepared for them a grievous torment; verily vile is what they have been working 58.
- 16. (انجندا منه They have taken their oaths as a shield, and they have hindered others from the way of Allah, and theirs shall be a debasing torment.

- 19. (استعود الخسرون) Satan has overpowered them and has caused them to forget the remembrance of Allah<sup>66</sup>. These are the band of Satan.<sup>67</sup> Lo! verily it is the band of Satan that shall be the losers.
- 20. (ان الذين . . الاذاين) Verily those who resist Allah and His messenger, they are ** among the lowest.
  - 58. i. e., their infidelity and hypocrisy.
  - 59. (so perfidious in intention).
- 60. i. e., a screen for their misdeeds, trusting that no Muslim could harm them after their false affirmation of Islam.
  - 61. (——to add to their sins——).
  - 62. (of both of which they are so boastful).
  - 63. (before they have fully realised the Truth).
- 64. (accustomed as they are by their life habit to putting forward false oaths and excuses).
- 65. i. e., imagining that they rest upon something substantial, which will save them.
  - 66. (by disregarding His commandments).
  - 67. (in the estimation of God).
  - 68. (in His Book of Eternal Decrees).

- 69. The Irresistible is to overpower all opposition and is not to be overpowered by any opposition, howsoever ingenuously engineered.

  - 71. i. e., Able to effect His will.
  - 72. (fully and unwaveringly, O Prophet!).
  - 73. (in this world).
  - 74. i. e., has fortified them with a special degree of fortitude.

The Gathering. LIX

(Madinian, 3 Sections and 24 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (سبح قد الحكم) Whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth hallows Allah?6, and He is the Mighty 77, the Wise 78.
- 2. (خرالتي . . . الإصار) He it is Who drove forth? the people of the Book who disbelieved. from their homes at the first meeting. You did not imagine that they would go forth. and they imagined that their strongholds would defend them against Allah. Then Allah came upon theme? from whence they reckoned nct. cast terror in their hearts so that they made their houses desolate by their own hands. as well as hands of the faithful. Take warning. therefore, O you with eyes!
  - 76. Whether consciously or unconsciously.
  - 77. Who can enforce His Will in all circumstances.
  - 78. Who can work His Scheme in a way wonderfully perfect.
  - 79. (almost without a blow).
- 80. (and proved perfidious and treacherous). The reference is to the Jewish tribe of Banū Nadhīr, 'whose intrigues and treachery nearly undid the Muslim cause during the perilous days of the battle of Uhad in Shawwal A. H. 3. Four months after, in Rabi', A. H. 4, steps were taken against them. They were asked to leave the strategic position which they occupied about 3 miles south of Madina, endangering the very existence of the Ummat in Madina. At first they demurred relying on their fortresses and on their secret alliances with the pagans of Mecca and the hypocrites of Madina. But when the Muslim army was gathered to punish them and actually besieged them for some days, their allies stirred not a finger in their aid, and they were wise enough to leave.....The Banu Nadhir richly deserved punishment, but their lives were spared, and they were allowed to carry away their goods and chattels'. (AYA).

- 81. (for their treason and projected murder of the holy Prophet).
- 82. This was their first experience of such a disaster. The word 'first' may also allude to their second exile when the Caliph 'Omar, several years later, banished the Jews from the Arabian peninsula.
  - 83. (in view of the strong position of your opponents. O believers!)
- 84. (without severe hostilities). 'When the siege had lasted for two or three weeks, the unfortunate Jews, seeing no prospect of relief, sent word to say that they were now ready to lay down their arms and abandon the lands which had already lost to them their special value. Mohammad was glad to accede to the offer; for the siege might still have been indefinitely prolonged' (Muir, op. cit., p. 283).
  - 85. (in the consciousness of their power).
- 86. 'Abdullah bin Obai, the powerful ring leader of the Madina hypocrites, and an ally of the Jews, 'promised himself to stand by them with his own people and with allies from Nejd. Reassured by this hope, and trusting to the strength of their fortress, they resolved to hold fast.' (Muir, op. cir., p. 282).
  - 87. i. e., His wrath visited them.
- 88. i. e., the vengeance came at the hands of the Muslims, seemingly so weak.
- 89. To spite the Muslims and in order to leave no habitation and property for them, the Jews demolished their own houses.
  - 90. i. e., take warning, and profit by their example.

- 3. (راولا . . . السار) And had not Allah<sup>91</sup> ordained banishment for them<sup>92</sup>, surely He would have chastised them in this world<sup>93</sup>, and in the Hereafter theirs is a chastisement of the Fire.
- 4. (ذلك . . . العاب) This 94, because they opposed Allah and His messenger 95, and whoso opposes Allah 96, then, Allah is Stern in chastising.
- 5. (ما ... النسقين) Whatever fine palms you cut down<sup>97</sup> or left standing on their roots<sup>98</sup>, it was by Allah's leave<sup>99</sup> and in order that He might abase the transgressors<sup>100</sup>.
- 6. (رما بر المار) And as to what He restored to His messenger<sup>101</sup>, you rushed neither horse nor camel upon it<sup>102</sup>, but Allah gives mastery to His messenger over whomsoever He will<sup>103</sup>. And Allah is potent over everything<sup>104</sup>.
- 7. (مالغات المقاب) Whatsoever Allah may restore to His messenger from the people of the cities is due unto Allah and the messenger and his kinsmen and the orphans and the indigent and the wayfarer, so that it among you to the rich among you hatsoever the messenger gives you, and refrain from whatsoever he forbids you. And fear Allah; verily Allah is Stern in chastising 114.
  - 91. (in His fore-knowledge).
- 92. A comparatively light sentence. They escaped not only with their lives but also with their property. 'The Nadhir, having laden their property' even to their doors and lintels, upon camels, set out, with tabors and music, on the road to Syria.' (Muir op. cit., p. 283).
- 93. (by delivering them up to slaughter and captivity which they richly deserved). The sentence of exile passed upon this Jewish clan, says a Christian writer, 'was element enough. They were a turbulent set, always setting the people of Medina by the ears', indulging in forming alliances with enemies, violating the original treaty, endeavouring in every way to bring the Prophet and his rligion to ridicule and destruction and even conspiring against his life. The only question is whether their punishment was not too light.' (LSK. p. LXIV).

- 94. i.e., the punishmet in this world and the Next.
- 95. (even more by their treachery than by their unbelief). Summing up the life-work of the holy Prophet says a German Christian:—When the Jews constituted a danger to his work, he fought them unto destruction: but when they onlyd iffered from him in matters religious he was generous and tolerent enough to leave them alone. He interfered as little with the Jewish as with the Christian faith, so long as they did not collide with his politics in Arabia. (Hell, op. cit., p. 34).
  - 96. Which implies opposition to His apostle.
- 97. (round about the habitation of the Banū Nadhīr, to put pressure on the enemy, O Muslims!).
- 98. (perceiving on military necessity for the destruction of the enemy property).
  - 99. (in either case and has had His sanction).
  - .كانر is here in the sense of ناسق is here in the sense of
- 101. (of the enemy property without fighting). After the lives of the Banu Nadhīr comes the question of their property. It is rather difficult to translate; literally, 'afternoon-shade.' is also such spoil or booty as is obtained without difficulty; and therefore likened to shade.' In the language of the Islamic law, it means 'such of the possessions of the unbelievers as accrue to the Muslims without war; ... or, such as God has restored, as though it were theirs of right, to the people of His religion, of the possessions of those who have opposed them, without fighting: ... such is termed in the Kuran.' (LL).
- 102. i. e., you had to employ neither cavalry nor camelry against the enemy, nor had to undergo any other hardship in overcoming them.
  - 103. Whenever it accords with His universal scheme.
- 104. i. e., He is perfectly Able to employ whatever means He may, either of war or of peace, to achieve His purpose.
  - 105. (in future, of the enemy property).
- 106. (essentially and in principle, and none of the community have an inherent right to it).
  - 107. (to whose judgment and discretion is left its distribution).
  - 108. (to the opostle).
  - 109. i. e., the property thus obtained.
  - 1i0. (for ever or exclusively).
  - 111. This serves as the basis for the socio-economic system of Islam.
  - 112. (not only of the spoil or i, but of commandments in general).
- 113. The Prophet's 'wonderful life was a living illustration and explanation of the Kuran, and we can do no greater justice to the Holy Book than by following him who was the mouthpiece of its revelation. (Asad, Islam on the Cross-roads, p. 91). His life is to serve as the infallible model, in every little detail, to every true believer.
  - 114. (for those who oppose Him and His apostie).

She Who Trise. LX

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 13 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (العبا الذين السيل) O you who believe! do not make friends with those who are My enemies and yours showing affection towards them<sup>175</sup>, while of a surety they deny what has come to you of the truth<sup>176</sup>, and have driven forth the messenger and yourselves because you believe in Allah<sup>177</sup>, your Lord, if you have come forth to strive in My cause, and to seek My goodwill<sup>178</sup>. You show them affection in secret, while I know very well what you conceal and what you disclose<sup>179</sup>. And whosoever of you does this, he has surely strayed from the straight path.
  - 175. (for any reason whatsoever).
  - 176. An amplification of 'mine enemy.'
  - 177. An amplification of 'your enemy.'
- 178. (at all). The verse is primarily addressed to the Muslim community in Madina after the Hijrat, and it says in effect:—Seeking the goodwill of the infidels and cultivating their friendship are entirely at variance with your fidelity to God and loyalty to your community.
- 179. The immediate occasion for the revelation of this passage was a letter, secretly despatched from Madina, through a maid-servant, by Hātib, a Muhājir who had fought at Badr, addressed to the Makkans, giving them notice of the intended Muslim expedition to Makka, and asking them in return for this information to treat his family, which was still at Makka, with some kindness. Gabriel revealed the affair to the Prophet who immediately sent after her. The latter was intercepted, and Hātib, on being questioned, offered the excuse that it was solely due to his not unnatural desire to save his unprotected family at the hands of the Makkan pagans. The holy Prophet, in view of Hātib's past services, graciously accepted the plea.

- 2. (ان ... تکنرون) Should they come upon you, they will be your enemies<sup>180</sup> andw ill stretch out their hands against you<sup>181</sup> and also their tongues<sup>182</sup> with evil, and would like that you should disbelieve<sup>183</sup>.
- 3. (ان . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . ) Neither your kindred nor your children will profit you on the Day of Judgment. He will decide between you<sup>184</sup>; and Allah is the Beholder of what you do.
- 5. (ربنا . . . الحجم) Our Lord! make us not a trial<sup>194</sup> for those who disbelieve, and forgive us our Lord. Verily Thou art Mighty, the Wise.
  - 180. (open and unabashed),
  - 181. (by slaying and smiting),
  - 182. (by reviling).
- 183. So you should, as befits a righteous community, cut yourselves entirely off from them.
  - 184. (on merits, and not on relationships and material conditions),
  - 185 (in the matter of loyalty to family and religion).
  - 186. i. e., his band of believers.

- 187. (openly and frankly).
- 188. i. e., in faith and creed we have nothing in common with you.
- 189. (in so far as our behaviour and conduct in everyday life are concerned).
- 190. Which saying seemingly implies his co-operation with his father.
- 191. (by imploring Him to incline thy heart to the true faith). See Surat-ut-Tauba, verse 114 (P. XI).
  - 192. i. e., I cannot compel Him to grant what I beg.
  - 193. (in repentance).
  - 194. i. e., a target of persecution.

6. (لند . . . الحبيد) Assuredly there has been an excellent pattern for you in them<sup>195</sup> —— for him who hopes for Allah and the Last Day. And whoso-ever turns away<sup>196</sup>, then verily Allah! He is the Self-sufficient<sup>197</sup>, the Laudable.

- 7. رحم) Allah may perhaps place affection between you and those whom you hold as enemies<sup>198</sup>. And Allah is Potent, and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
- 8. (لا التسطين) Allah does not forbid you to deal benevolently and equitably with those who did not fight against you on account of religion nor drove you out from homes too; verily Allah loves the equitable  $^{201}$ .
- 9. (اتا ... الظليون) It is only concerning those who fought against you on account of religion and drove you out from your homes and helped in driving you out, that Allah forbids you to befriend them. And whosoever will befriend them, then these are the wrongdoers.
  - 195. i. e., in the Prophet Abraham and his band of believers.
  - 196. (from the right path).
  - 197. (standing is no need of anybody's devotion and worship).
- 198. (by inclining their hearts to Islam). This is what exactly happened on the taking of Makka, when the leading Quraish, who had till then been inveterate enemies of Islam, embraced the faith and became the friends and brethren of the Muslims.
  - 199. (as apart from having relations of friendly intimacy).
- 200. Such people are to be dealt with kindly and considerately according to their status in the Muslim state.
- 201. Fairness and equity in an absolute sense, are obligatory in dealing with every creature of God whatever his beliefs may be.

- 11. (دان . . . مؤمنون) And if any of your wives has been left with the infidels<sup>22</sup>1 and you have retaliated<sup>222</sup>2, then<sup>223</sup> give<sup>224</sup> to those<sup>215</sup> whose wives have gone away<sup>226</sup> the like of<sup>227</sup> what they<sup>228</sup> have expended<sup>229</sup>, and fear Allah<sup>230</sup> in Whom you believe.
- 12. (يابها النبى . . رحم) O prophet I when believing women come to thee swearing fealty, that they shall not associate aught with Allah, nor they shall steal, nor they shall commit fornication, nor they shall slay their children<sup>23</sup>, nor they shall produce any falsehood that they have fabricated between their hands and feet<sup>232</sup>, nor they shall disobey thee in anything reputable, then accept thou their fealty, and pray to Allah for their forgiveness. Verily Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
- 13. (يابها الذين . . . النبور) O you who believe I do not make friends with a people who incurred the wrath of Allah<sup>233</sup>. Surely they have despaired of the Hereafter<sup>233</sup>, as despaired are the infidels buried dead<sup>235</sup>.

<sup>204. (</sup>and find out if they are prompted by the sole desire of serving Islam and of saving their faith, and are not influenced by domestic considerations).

- 205. (and of their real, inner motives).
- 206. (so far as you are able to ascertain by your examination).
- 207. i. e. the pagans: since no believing women can lawfully be the wife of a pagan.
  - 208. i.e., the pagans.
- 209. i. e., those pagan husbands whose marriage with their believing wives is thus dissolved.
- 210. (by way of dower). The Muslims, while they were forbidden to restore the married believing women who should come over to them, were enjoined to make some sort of satisfaction by returning their dowry.
  - 211. (as they are now released from their former wedlock).
  - 212. (in addition to what is returned to their former husbands).
- 213. (who are still in Dar-ul-Harb or the pagan city of Makka, O Muslims!) Marriage with such women is now declared to be dissolved by repayment of dowries.
  - 214. (from the Makkan pagans).
  - 215. (on your pagan wives by way of dower).
  - 216. i. e., the pagan husbands.
  - 217. (from you).
  - 218. (on their believing wives by way of dower).
  - 219. (and is therefore not to be taken lightly).
  - 220. So His judgments are always replete with knowledge and wisdom.
  - 221. (and is not likely to come over to you).
  - 222. (by the coming over of any of the pagans' wives to your side).
  - 223. (instead of making payment to the pagan husbands).
  - 224. (out of the dower due to them).
  - 225. (believing husbands).
- 226. Which contingency, though unlikely, is foreseen and provided for in the immediately preceding sentence in the text. 'And if any of your wives hath been left with the infidels'.
  - 227. i. e., a sum equivalent to.
  - 228. i. e., those deserted Muslim husbands.
  - 229. (by way of dower).
  - 230. Whose every ordinance is to be taken with utmost seriousness,
  - 231. As was the general practice in the pagan Arabia.
- 232. Which means the practice of laying their spurious children to their husbands.
  - 233. i.e., the infidels in general, and the Jews in particular.
- 234. i. e., of its joys and blessings on account of their denial of and unbelief in the Promised Prophet.
- 235. i. e., infide's who are already dead and are actually experiencing the hopelessness of their condition.

The Ranks. LXI

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 14 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (سبح . . . الحكم) Hallows Allah whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth. And He is the Mighty, the Wise.
  - 2. (بايها الذين . . تفعلون) O faithful! why do you say what you do not act?
- 3. (کیر . . . تندارت) Most odious it is to Allah that you should say what you do not act<sup>236</sup>.
- 4. (ان اقد مرصوص) Verily Allah loves those who fight in His cause drawn up in ranks<sup>237</sup>, as though they were <sup>238</sup> a structure well-compacted.
- 5. (واذ . . . النستين) And re-call when Mūsā<sup>239</sup> said to his people : my people I why do you hurt me<sup>240</sup> when you know surely that I am Allah's messenger to you<sup>241</sup>? Then when they swerved<sup>242</sup>, Allah made their hearts swerve<sup>243</sup>; and Allah does not guide a transgressing people<sup>244</sup>.
- 236. These words, though of general application, are here specially directed to the faint-hearted Muslims who had talked much but shown little resolution and firmness at the battle of Ohud.
- 237. 'The recognized military formation,' in the early history of Islam, 'whether on parade, on the march, or in battle, was the ta-biya. In it the army was divided into five main divisions, namely centre, right and left wings, van (muqaddama) and rear-guard (sāqa).....The "five" formation was in use as early as the Prophet's own time, e. g., at the battles of Badr and Muta, and to its invention and introduction has been attributed much of his success against opponents who were still using the old irregular methods of attack.' (Levy, Sociology of Islam, II pp. 296, 297).

'The ordinary method of fighting in vogue' till then was that of the raid, in which a sudden charge was followed by prompt retreat and a sudden return to the onslaught' (p. 297). The Prophet, the great military leader as he was, changed this, and at the battle of Badr 'introduced the new formation of the ta 'biya for the first time, with great success. He had very few more than three hundred men, of whom only one was mounted.....He arranged them in straight, regular ranks, which he put in order himself, walking along the ranks with an arrow in order to push back any man who was out of line with the rest,' (p. 298).

- 238, (in the strength of their order, discipline and cohesion).
- 239. (vexed at the exhibition of constant rebellion and disobedience among his people).
- 240. For the constantly seditious and rebellious attitude of Israel to Moses see "Ant." pp. 59, 60, 82, 83, 84, 86, 87, 90 102.
- 241. The rebellion of Israel against the authority of Moses was deliberate and due to sheer perversity; not to ignorance.
- 242. (from the path of truth wilfully and repeatedly in the face of constant warnings and admonitions).
  - 243. (all the more in conformity with His law of cause and effect).
- 244. And it is against such confirmed trangressors hopelessly addicted to sin and rebellion that warfare is prescribed.

- 6. (رافت مبن) And re-call when 'Isā, son of Maryam, said: O Children of Isrāil! verily I am Allah's messenger to you<sup>265</sup>, cofirming the Taurāt before me and conveying the glad news of a messenger coming after me<sup>246</sup>: his name will be Ahmad<sup>247</sup>. Then when he<sup>248</sup> came to them with evidence<sup>249</sup>, they said: this is manifest magic<sup>250</sup>
- 7. (دين ) And who is a greater wrong-doer than he who, when he is summoned to Islam, fabricates a lie against Allah? And Allah does not guide an ungodly people<sup>251</sup>.
- 8. (ربدون . الكنرون) They intend to extinguish the light of Allah<sup>253</sup> with their mouths<sup>253</sup>, and Allah is going to accomplish His light<sup>254</sup>, though the infidels may be averse.
- 9. (مرالدی . . . المسركرن) He it is Who has sent His messenger with guidance and true faith, that He may make it triumph over every other faith, though the associaters may be averse.

SECTIONS 2

10. (ريايه الذين 10. اليم) O you who believe! shall ا<sup>257</sup> direct you to a trade<sup>288</sup> which will deliver you<sup>259</sup> from an afflictive torment?

<sup>245.</sup> Jesus commanded his disciples to address their appeal only to 'the lost sheep of the house of Israel'.

<sup>246.</sup> That the teaching of Jesus (on him be peace!), as a universal code of conduct, was singularly inadequate and incomplete, and necessitated the advent of another Teacher is admitted by the Christian apologists themselves, and accounted for in ways that are more amusing than convincing. The Saviour refrained from all attempt to guide His followers by rules, but gradually taught them.....that their lives were to be quickened by the Holy Spirit whose indwelling was to them their strength and inspiration for all times. In view of this prospect, we can understand why His ethical teaching was so suggestive but so paradoxical, so figurative, and incomplete. It was designed, not to save us from the trouble of thinking but to turn our thoughts to the Comforter whom He promised to send.' (ERE. XII. p. 621).

247. Which word was employed as a translation of "The Periclytos" in old Arabic versions of the NT. See Muir, p. 5, and Sale, in Loco. 'Ahmad or Muhammad the Praised One. is almost a translation of the Greek word Periclytos. In the present Gospel of John, 14: 16, 15: 26, and 16: 7, the word "Comforter" in the English version is for the Greek word Paracletos, which means "Advocate," "one called to the help of another, a kind friend," rather than "Comforter." Our doctors contend that Paracletos is a corrupt reading for Periclytos, and that in the original saying of Jesus there was a prophecy of our holy Prophet Ahmad by name. Even if we read Paraclete, it would apply to the holy Prophet, who is "a Mercy for all creatures" (xxi: 107) and "most kind and merciful to the believers, (ix: 128)" (AYA) References in the non-canonical Gospel of Barnabas are almost too numerous and too explicit to be passed over. See P. IX. n. 220 ff.

248. i. e., the Prophet Jesus.

249. i. e., wonders and miracles.

250. 'The accusation of magic is frequently brought against Jesus. Jerome mentions it, quoting the Jews..... There were even Christian heretics who looked upon the founder of their religion as a magician, and public opinion at Rome accused all Christians of magic. The apostles were regarded in the same light.' (JE. VII. p. 171). 'According to Celsus and to the Talmud, Jesus learned magic in Egypt and performed his miracles by means of it.....Different in nature is the witchcraft attributed to Jesus in the Toledot.' (ib). 'The Talmud stories allow that he did indeed work signs and wonders, but by means of magic,' (Klaurmann, op. cit., p. 19). According to a Talmudic authority, 'Yeshu practised sorcery and beguiled and led Israel astray' (p. 25). 'The Talmudic authorities do not deny that Jesus worked signs and wonders, but they look upon them as notes of sorcery'. (p. 28) 'And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and, by the prince of the devils, he casteth out devils' (MK. 3:22). 'The Pharisees said, He casteth out devils through the prince of the devils,' (Mt. 9:34) 'When the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils' (Mt. 12:24) Sec P. VII. n. 164.

- 251. (because of denying His true prophets).
- 252. i. e,, His religion.
- 253. i. e., by their vain bauble.
- 254. i. e., shall establish the truth of Islam.
- 255. i. e., the Holy Quran.
- 256. (by clear and forceful arguments).
- 257. The interrogative particle a is used to introduce a question of a lively nature.

354

258. i.e., the seeking of gain by buying and selling. It must be borne in mind that the Makkans understood the language of trade and barter as they understood no other language. Almost every one of them, old or young, was a born tradesman. 'According to Strabo, all Arabs are stock brokers and merchants. At Makka esteem was professed only for the merchants, من أيكن تاجر انايس عندم بشي . This infatuation spread even to the women. They put their wealth into banks and commercial enterprises.' (Lammens, Islam: Beliefs and Institutions, p. 15).

259. (in the hereafter).

- 11. (ترمنون . . . تمارون) It is: believe in Allah and His messenger and strive<sup>260</sup> in the cause of Allah with your riches and lives. That is best for you if you only Know!
- 12. (بنترلکم . . . النظيم) He will forgive you your sins, and make you enter the Gardens with running water, and happy abodes in the Everlasting Gardens. That is a great achievement<sup>261</sup>.
- 13. (داخری الدومنین) And also another bliss which you love<sup>262</sup>: succour from Allah and a swift victory. And bear thou the glad tidings<sup>263</sup> to the faithful.

<sup>266.</sup> i. e., for His cause: in the preaching of the true faith. Ch. the NT—'And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach.' (Mk. 3; 14). 'After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.' (Lk. 10:1).

<sup>268.</sup> i. e., a portion of the Children of Israel came to believe in the prophet-hood of Jesus. 'Celsus says there were ten or eleven apostles. A passage of the Talmud ascribes five disciples to Jesus.....The Twelve Apostles are mentioned in the other versions of the Toledot, while still other versions frequently mention a following of 300, 310, 320, 330 men.' (JE. VII. p. 171). The believers according to the NT numbered several thousands. 'Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls., (Ac. 2:41). 'Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed: and the number of the men was about five thousand.' (Ac. 4:4).

269. (by far the greater).

Friday, LXII

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 11 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (بسبح . . . المكيم) Hallows whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth Allah, the Sovereign, the Holy, the Mighty, the Wise.
- 2. (مرالنى . . . مبنه) He it is Who has raised amidst the unlettered ones<sup>271</sup> a messenger from among themselves, rehearsing to them His revelations and purifying them<sup>272</sup> and teaching them<sup>273</sup> the Book and the Wisdom, though they have been before in gross error<sup>274</sup>.
- 3. (وآخرين . . . الحكيم) And also others of them<sup>275</sup> who<sup>276</sup> have not yet Joined them<sup>277</sup>. And He is the Mighty, the Wise.
- 4. (ذلك . . . العلم) That is the grace of Allah<sup>278</sup>; He vouchsafes it to whomsoever He will; and Allah is the Owner of mighty Grace.
- 5. (نال ... العالمين) The case of those who were laden with Taurāt²²³ but who bore it not is²⁵⁰ as the case of an ass²⁵¹ bearing tomes²⁵². Hapless is the case of those who belie the sign of Allah, and Allah does not guide a wrong-doing people²ѕ².

<sup>271. (</sup>of Makka, out of His solicitude for His creatures), (See P. III. n. 564 and Appendix IV in Vol III).

<sup>273. &#</sup>x27;Teaching' includes and implies all the processes of explaining, exposing and amplifying.

274. 'Before the days of Muhammad, Arabia was steeped in idolatry; female babies were buried alive as unwanted, and other hideous atrocities were committed. Truly can it be said of the Arabian Prophet that he accomplished nothing short of a miracle in raising the country from its slough of crime and ignorance to a united nation with a deep sense of its religious obligations and duties, a nation which was shortly after his death to conquer and lead the world in culture, knowledge and scientific attainments, while the faith of Islam spread from sea to sea.' (Lady Cobbald op. cit., 105, 106)

- 275. "Of them" i. e., of their faith; of them in point of faith.
- 276. Either as yet unborn or as yet outside the pale of Islam.
- 277. (but will share their faith later on).
- 278. i. e., His free gift; not by reason of any obligation.
- 279. i.e. the Jews, as contradistinguished from the illiterate pagans of Arabia.
- 280. (in point of futility and fatuity),
- 281. An animal universally noted for its stupidity. 'The stupidity of the ass is proverbial in the East as well as in the West.' (DB. I. p. 174). JE. (II. p. 221) quotes several old proverbs depicting the ass as an example of stupidity and insensibility. See also P. XXI, n. 291-A.
- 282. (on its back, but profiting very little from the knowledge and learning contained in them). 'The ass is still the most universal of all beasts of burden in Bible lands.' (DB. I. p. 173).
  - 283. i. e. people who deliberately pursue the path of error and falsehood.

الكنفة المنفقة المنفئة المنفقة المنفق

- 6. (قل . . . مندقين) Say thou<sup>281</sup>: O those who are Judaised<sup>288</sup>: if you think you are the friends<sup>286</sup> of Allah above mankind<sup>287</sup>, then wish for death<sup>288</sup>, if you say sooth<sup>269</sup>.
- 7. (ولا . . . بالطلبين) And they will never wish for it<sup>290</sup>, because of what their hands have sent forward<sup>291</sup>. And Allah is the Knower of the wrong-doers.
- 8. (نل... تسلون) Say, thou<sup>292</sup>: the death which you flee from<sup>293</sup> will certainly meet you<sup>291</sup>, and thereafter you will be brought back to the Knower of the unseen and the seen, and He will declare to you what you have been working.

- 9. (يا يه الذين . . . تسلون) O you who believe! when the call is made to the prayer<sup>295</sup> on<sup>296</sup> Friday<sup>297</sup> hasten to the remembrance of Allah<sup>298</sup> and leave off bargaining<sup>299</sup>. That is better for you<sup>300</sup>, if you know.
- 10. (قاداً . . . تنامون) Then when the prayer is ended<sup>301</sup>, disperse on the land and seek of the grace<sup>302</sup> of Allah, and remember Allah much<sup>3(3</sup>; haply you may thrive.
- 11. (راذا . . . الرزنين) And when they behold merchandise or sport, they flocked thereto<sup>304</sup>, and left thee standing<sup>305</sup>. Say thou<sup>306</sup>: what is with Allah<sup>307</sup> is far better<sup>308</sup> than sport and merchandise, and Allah is the Best of providers<sup>308</sup>.

<sup>285.</sup> By a legal fiction persons not of the Hebrew blood were admitted to its union as members.' (JE, V. p. 336). Judging by their proper names and the Aramaean vocabulary used in their agricultural life these Jews must have been mostly Judaized clans of Arabian and Aramaean stock, though the nucleus must have been Irraelites who fled from Palestine at the time of conquest by the Romans in the first century after Christ. (Hitti, op. cit., p. 104). (See also P. I. n. 274).

<sup>287. &#</sup>x27;The whole Jewish thought may be summed up in this, that as surely as there is only one God, so surely is there only one sacred community.' (ERE. VII. p. 520). See also P. I. n. 409; P. VI. nn. 268, 271,

- 288. (which shall immediately bring you nearer to God).
- 289. (in your profession).
- 290. ——conscious as their hearts are of their guilt——
- 291. (of sins and misdeeds).
- 292. (O Prophet!)
- 293. See P. I. nn. 415, 417.
- 294. (how foolish of you then to ignore it or seek to shun it!) Literally, 'then verily it will be your meeter.'
  - 295. i. e. the mid-day congregational praver.
  - 296. ن is used in the sense of ن in the phrase من وم الجمعة is used in the sense of
- 297. Literally, 'the day of Congregation.' Friday to the Muslims is a day of religious joy, not at all like the Sabbath of the Jews and the Sunday of the Christians, a day of idleness and of abstinence from all work. To the superstitious Christians Friday is an inauspicious day. Pope Nicholas I has declared abstinence from meat on Fridays to be obligatory throughout the Church (C.D. p. 384). 'Brides have shunned Friday (and still do!) owing to superstition. Christian people have always considered it an unlucky day for weddings because our Lord was crucified on that day and tradition says that it was on Friday that Adam and Eve ate the forbidden fruit.'
- 298. is here synonymous with is. The daily prayers are not necessarily congregational..... But at midday of Friday, the service took a more public form, at which the believers as a body, unless detained by sufficient cause, were expected to attend. The usual prayers were on this occasion followed by an address or sermon pronounced by Mohammad. This weekly oration was usefully adapted to the circumstances of the day and feelings of the audience. It allowed full scope for the Prophet's eloquence, and by its frequent recurrence helped to confirm his influence and rivet the claims of Islam.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 188). In dignity, simplicity and orderliness,' says another Christian historian with reference to the Friday congregational assembly, it is unsurpassed as a manner of collective worship. Standing erect in self-arranged rows in the mosque and following the leadership of the iman with precision and reverence, worshippers present a sight that is always impressive.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 132).
  - 299. (and all temporal business).
  - 300. (both materially and spiritually).
- 301. 'The Friday prayer is obligatory upon all adult males. It is held at the mosque at noon with a congregation of at least forty of the Faithful and under the direction of a president, or imam. Before the prayer the president delivers from the pulpit two addresses (Khutba) in Arabic in which reference is made to the head of the State. He then performs two rakats with the congregation. Friday is not regarded a as weekly day of rest, this observance being unknown in Islam.' (Lammens. Islam: Beliefs and Institutions, pp. 59, 60).

- 302. (by returning to your commerce and worldly occupations). This required special emphasis in view of the Jewish and the Christian conceptions of the Sabbath. 'The Muslim Friday has nothing in common with the Jewish Sabbath or Christian Sunday. It entails no obligation of a weekly rest; the Faithful are merely obliged to attend public noonday prayer. What, apart from its publicity, distinguishes this prayer from all others is the khutba or sermon, always in Arabic, which precedes it.' (Lammens, op. cit., p. 103).
- 303. i. e. do not forget His precepts even in the midst of your worldly occupations.
- 304. It is related that one Friday, during a season of want and scarcity, while the Prophet was delivering his Friday sermon (and not leading the service), the Madina caravan happened to arrive with the usual beating of drums, whereupon the congregation, with the exception of twelve devout Muslims, ran out of the mosque to see them.
- 305. (on the pulpit). Compare the attitude of the early Christians during the Church service. 'The deacon was to prevent whispering, or sleeping, or laughing, or beckoning. And this direction, it appears, was not superfluous: for Origen complains that there were some who, while scripture was read, withdrew into corners and amused themselves with worldly conversation, even turning their backs upon the reader.' (DCA, II, p. 1684).
  - 306. (O Prophet!)
  - 307. (of His rewards and blessings).
  - 308. i. e., for more conducive to your material and spiritual welfare.
- 308-A. This required special emphasis in view of the very great preoccupation of the Arabs with money matters and financial transaction. In the moneychangers' books, men speculated on the currency exchange: they gambled on the rise and fall of foreign monies on caravan freights, on their arrival and also their lateness. The influx of Byzantine, Sasanid and Yemenite coins, the complications of the old monetary systems and the knowledge necessary for their manipulation, gave rise to an infinity of operations and to the most lucrative transactions......Given this business activity there is no cause for astonishment if we find at Makka merchants who in our day would be classed as millionai res,' (Lammens, op. cit., pp. 15, 16).

The Hypocrites. LXIII

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 11 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate the Merciful.

- 1. (انا ... الكثيرة) When the hypocrites come to thee thee say they say had bear witness that thou art Allah's messenger. Allah well knows that thou art His messenger but Allah also bears witness that the hypocrites are liars indeed.
- 2. (انخدرا . . يسارن) They have made their oaths a shield and they turn away men from the path of Allah. Vile is indeed what they have been working.
- 3. (ذلك . . . يَفْتُهُونَ) This, because they first believed and then disbelieved. , their hearts are therefore sealed 317, so that they do not understand.
  - 309. —past masters as they are in the art of deceit and dissimulation.
  - 310, (O Prophet!)
- 311. (with a view to deceiving thee with their fair exterior and plausible talk).
  - 312. Certainly it is God's own truth.
- 313. (in their profession of Islam) i. e., their hearts are giving lie direct to their tongues.
  - 314. i. e., with a view to saving their life and property.
- 315. (to all appearance). 'The word المان is sometimes employed to signify the acknowledging with the tongue only; and hence in the Koarn ذلك بانهم آمنو ثم كفروا That is because they acknowledged with the tongue, then disacknowledged with the heart.' (LL).
  - 316. i. e., rejected the faith before their men.
  - 317. (as a sequel to their habit of hypocrisy and dissimulation).

الْعَكُونَ اللّهُ مَا لَكُونُ اللّهُ اللهُ ا

- 4. (رافا من بر المحادث ) And when thou lookest at them, their persons please thee<sup>318</sup>, and if they speak<sup>319</sup>, thou list conest to their discourse<sup>319</sup>-A; they look<sup>320</sup> as though they are blocks of wood propped up<sup>321</sup>. They<sup>322</sup> imagine every shout to be at them. They are the foe; so beware of them<sup>323</sup>. Perish them Allah! whither are they deviating<sup>324</sup>.
- 5. (راذا . . . مستكبرون) And when it is said to them: come! so that the messenger of Allah may ask forgiveness for you, they twist their heads<sup>325</sup>, and thou seest them retire. while they are stiffnecked.
- 6. (موار مال النستين) It is alike to them whether thou askest forgiveness for them or not; Allah $^{327}$  shall not forgive them. Allah does not guide a transgressing people.
- 7. (م الذين . . ينقهون They are the ones who say 328: spend not on those who are with Allah's messenger 329, so that they may desert 330 him, whereas Allah's are the treasures of the heavens and the earth. Yet the hypocrites do not understand 331.
  - 318. (by their fair exterior).
  - 319. (with their ready and eloquent tongue).
  - 319-A. (charmed by their ready eloquence).
  - 320. (in the hollowness of their interior).
  - 321. (against a wall, and unable to stand upon their own).
  - 322. (with guilty conscience and under constant apprehension of exposure).
  - 323. (O Muslims!)
  - 324. (from the Path).
  - 325. (in pride and disdain, instead of showing any signs of penitence).
  - 326. (in thy kind-heartedness, O Prophet!).

364 Part XXVIII

- 327. Well aware as He is of their perfidy.
- 328 (to the citizens of Madina). The allusion is to Abdullah ibn Ubai and his band of the hypocrites.
- 329. i. e., the Muhājirs or emigrants; those who had accompanied the Prophet in exile.
  - 330. (and separate themselves from him).
  - 331. (a proposition so self-evident).

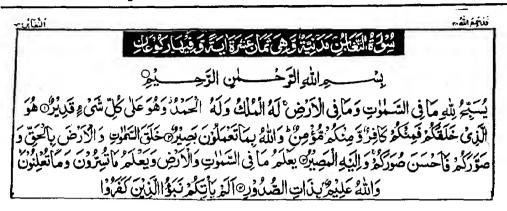

النفاقة و المنظم و المنظمة و المنظم

- 9. (يَا بِهَا الذين . الخَسر ن) O you who believe: let not your riches or your children<sup>358</sup> divert you from the remembrance of Allah<sup>3:9</sup>. And whoso does that<sup>340</sup>, verily they are the losers.
- 10. (رانفترا من الملحين) And spend of that with which We have provided you before death comes to one of you, and he says<sup>341</sup>: Lord: wouldst Thou not respite me for a short time, so that<sup>342</sup> I would spend in charity and become of the righteous.
- 11. (دان . . . تسلون) And Allah does not respite a soul when its term has arrived, and Allah is Aware of what you do<sup>343</sup>.
- 332. This they said in the course of the expedition against Banū Mustliq. 'The army having encamped for several days at the wells of Al-Moraisi, an altercation sprang up between a citizen and 'Omar's servant, a Refugee.....During the quarrel, the disaffected party gave free expression to their disloyal feelings, 'This,' said 'Abdullah ibn Obai openly, "ye have brought upon yourselves, by inviting these strangers to come amongst us. Wait till we return to Madina; then the Mightier shall surely expel the Meaner." (Muir, oq. cit., p. 296).
  - 333. Meaning thereby themselves,
- 334. Meaning the refugees or emigrants most of whom were poor and destitute.
  - 335. (immediately and directly).
  - 336. (through God).
  - 337. (through God and His apostle).
  - 338. The two most engrossing worldly occupations.

366

- 339. Which is the main object of the Muslim's life. The term of course includes every act of goodness.
- 340. i e., allows his worldly occupations to occupy him, and neglects thereby his duties to God and man.
  - 341. (in great anguish).
- 342. The signification of ف here is equivalent to that of . (WGAL. II. p. 31).
  - 343. Whether in open or in secret.

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 18 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (رسخ . . . تسر) Hallows Allah<sup>344</sup> whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is on the earth. His is the kingdom, His is the praise, and He is Potent over everything.
- 2. (مو الذى . . بمير) He it is who has created you<sup>345</sup>, so of you some are infidels and some are believers, and Allah is Beholder of what you do<sup>346</sup>.
- 3. (خات . . . المعير) He has created the heavens and the earth with truth<sup>847</sup>, and has fashioned you, and has fashioned you in a comely shape<sup>348</sup>, and to Him is the return.
- 4. (يلم . . . المدور) He knows whatsoever is in the heavens and the earth; and He knows whatsoever you conceal and whatsoever you disclose; and Allah is the Knower of whatsoever is in the breasts.

- 5. ( [] ... ] Has not the news reached you of those who disbelieved aforetime, and so tasted of the ill consequence of their affair, and theirs will be an afflictive torment 550.
- 6. (دلك . . . حيد) That was because their messengers came to them with evidences but they said<sup>351</sup>: will there guide us a mere human being<sup>362</sup>? So they disbelieved and turned away. And Allah did not need them. Allah is Seli-sufficient<sup>353</sup>, Praise-worthy.
- 7. (رغم . . . يسير) Those who disbelieved asserted that they would not be raised. Say thou shall surely be raised, and to you shall be declared what you worked. And that is easy for Allah 357.
- 8. (قانوا . . . خبر) So believe in Allah and His messenger and the light<sup>358</sup> which We have sent down. And Allah is Aware of what you work.
- 9. (روم. العلام) Remember the Day when He will assemble you, the Day of Assembly; that will be the Day of Mutual Loss and Gain<sup>359</sup>. Then whosoever believes in Allah and acts righteously He will expiate from him his misdeeds and will make him enter the Gardens whereunder rivers flow, as abiders therein for ever. That is a great achievement.
  - 349. (in this very life).
  - 350. (in the Hereafter).
  - 351. (in sheer incredulity).
- 352. This 'humanity' of the Divine messenger has always been the stumb-ling-block of polytheistic peoples. It is incomprehensible to them that a mere servant of God, who is neither a demi-God, nor an Incarnation, not yet an angel, should receive and publish Divine message. The barriers between human and divine have always seemed to them impossible to pass.
  - 353. i. e., free of all needs; absolutely Independent.
  - 354. (in Our Revelation).
  - 355. (and called to account). The reference is to those who denied the existence of Future Life and Resurrection, and therefore denied responsibility for their actions.

- 356. (O Prophet!).
- 357. i. e., the Almighty.
- 358. (of the Quran).
- 359. Loss to the stiff-necked ones, and gain to the lowly ones of this world. فان signifies Mutual غين i. e., cheating or endamaging or overcoming in selling or buying......Hence بعن الغيان, an appellation of the Day of Resurrection; because the people of Paradise will then over-reach نبن the people of Hell, by the state of enjoyment in which the former will be and the punishment which the la ter will experience.' (LL). Or بعن الغيان may be rendered 'The Day of Mutual Deceit.' when the blessed will deceive the damned, by taking the places which they would have had in Paradise had they been the believers, and vice versa.

Laski:— Probably as a result of increasing population, and consequent pressure on the means of subsistence, there develops the habit of war; the more a tribe grows rich, whether through agriculture or the progress of arts and crafts, the more it develops the habit of fighting. For riches at once prompt the instinct of defence in the possessors and of attack in those less fortunately situated. We can see from the history of Anglo-Saxon England how its wealth tempted invaders from overseas. These settled down and sought to repel further invaders like the hosts of William the Norman.' (EMK. ### Divorce LXV

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 12 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (ابا النبي النبي ) O prophet<sup>$76</sup>! when you divorce women<sup>$77</sup>, divorce them before their waiting-period<sup>$78</sup>, and count their waiting-period<sup>$79</sup>; and fear Allah, your Lord<sup>$80</sup>. And do not drive them out of their houses<sup>$61</sup>, nor should they themselves go forth<sup>$82</sup>, unless they commit a flagrant indecency<sup>$63</sup>. These are the bounds of Allah, and he who trespasses the bounds of Allah has surely wronged himself. Thou knowest not<sup>$84</sup> that hereafter Allah may bring something new to pass<sup>$85</sup>.
- 376. It is the community who are addressed here through their prophet, and not the prophet individually, as the plural number of the second person almost immediately following shows.
  - 377. (with whom ye have had sexual intercourse or 'valid retirement').
- 378. i. e., before their monthly course, when they are clean. This interpretation is according to the Hanafi law.
  - 379. i. e, have an accurate account of the waiting-period.
- 380. (Who in His wisdom and providence has ordained all these laws for your benefit). This emphasizes that matters of marital relationship are not to be treated lightly.
  - 381. i. e., the houses so far occupied by them.
  - 382. (of their own accord, until the term has expired).

- 383. i. e., any serious breach of moral discipline. is 'An excess; an enormity; anything exceeding the bounds of rectitude.' In the context it means 'The women's going out without permission, or their using foul language against their husband's relations, by reason of the sharpness of their tongues.' (LL).
  - 384. (O reader !).
- 385. (so that the chances of reconciliation between the parties may become brighter).

المعنون الله عَدْ إِن مِنْكُمْ وَ اَقِيْمُوا الشَّهَا وَ قَرَلُو لَهُ يُوْعَظُّ بِهِ مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْلهِ وَالْيَوْمِ اللهِ وَالْيَوْمِ اللهِ وَالْيَوْمِ اللهُ وَكُلُّ مَنْ يَتُوكُلُ عَلَى اللهِ وَالْمُومِ وَ الْمُومِ وَالْمُومِ وَالْمُومِ وَاللهِ وَاللهِ وَاللهِ وَاللهِ وَاللهِ وَاللهُ وَكُلُّ شَيْءٍ قَلْدًا وَ الْمُن يَضِفَى اللهُ وَيُقِلُ عَلَى اللهِ وَاللهِ وَاللهُ وَاللّهُ وَاللهُ وَاللّهُ وَاللّه

- 2. (فنا من المساعة Then 336 when they 387 have attained their term 388, either retain them reputably 389, or part with them reputably, and 380 take as witnesses two honest men 381 from among you, and set up your testimony for Allah 382. Thus is exhorted he who believes in Allah and the Last Day. And whoso fears Allah He makes an outlet for him 393.
- 3. (درزنه . . . قدرا) And He provides for him from whence he never reckons. And whose puts his trust in Allah, He will suffice him. Verily Allah is sure to attain His purpose, and has assigned to everything a measure<sup>394</sup>.
- 4. (رالتی . . . يسرا) And as to such of your women<sup>395</sup> as have despaired of menstruation<sup>396</sup>, if you be in doubt thereof, their waiting-period is three months, as also of those who have not yet menstruated<sup>397</sup>. And as to those with burdens<sup>398</sup>, their term is when they have laid down their burden<sup>399</sup>. And whoso fears Allah, He has made his affair<sup>100</sup> easy unto 1 imself.
  - 386. (in the course of revocable divorce).
  - 387. i. e., the divorced women.
- 388. (but have not yet quite completed them). الله is not only 'He reached, attained, arrived at, or came to, the place,' but also 'He was, or became, at the point of reaching it, attaining it, etc.' So the phrase in the text means, 'And when they are near to attaining, or ending, their term; or are at the point of accomplishing their term.' (LL).
  - 389. (in wedlock, by revoking the divorce).
  - 390. (in either case).
  - 391. i. e.. men of integrity.
  - 392. i. e, as giving evidence before God, O witnesses!
  - 393. i. e., a way out of all afflictions; a place of safety.
  - 394. 1. e., in His fore-knowledge every event is timed according to His will.

- 395. i. e., such of divorced wives.
- 396. (by reason of their age).
- 397. (on account of extreme youth).
- 398. i. e., pregnant women; those who carry life within their wombs.
- 399. Usually the waiting-period is the three monthly courses after separation; if there are no courses, or they are in doubt, it is three full months; in the case of pregnant women it is till after delivery.
  - 400. Whether of the world or of the Hereafter.

- 5. (الله الحرا) That is the commandment of Allah which He has sent down unto you. And whoso fears Allah<sup>403</sup>, He will<sup>402</sup> expiate his misdeeds from him, and<sup>403</sup> will magnify his wage for him.
- 6. (اکنومن اخری) Lodge them<sup>404</sup> wheresoever you are lodging<sup>405</sup> according to your means, and do not hurt them so as to straiten them<sup>406</sup>. And if they are with burden, spend on them until they lay down their burden<sup>407</sup>. Then if they suckle their children for you<sup>498</sup> give them their wage<sup>409</sup>, and take counsel together reputably<sup>410</sup>. And if you<sup>411</sup> make hardship for each other, then another woman shall suckle for him<sup>112</sup>.
- 7 (لینن . . . يسرا) Let the affluent spend<sup>413</sup> according to his means, and whoso is stinted in his subsistence, let him spend of what Allah has given him<sup>414</sup>. Allah does not task any soul except according to what He has vouchasafed it. Allah will soon appoint ease for hardship<sup>415</sup>

- 8. (اکابن . . . نکرا) And how many a city<sup>415</sup> trespassed the commandment of its Lord and His messengers. We therefore reckoned with them sternly and inflicted on them<sup>417</sup> a chastisement unheard of.
- 9. (نذانت . . خسرا) So they tasted the ill consequence of their affairs  $^{418}$ , and loss was the end of their affair.
  - 401. (in this as in other matters).
  - 402. (on the negative side).
  - 403. (on the positive side).
  - 404. (during the waiting-period).
  - 405. i. e., in the same house, but not in the same apartment.

- 406. (making their lot miserable and hard to bear).
- 407. (and not for three months only).
- 408. (in consideration of some money).
- 409. (in full, as stipulated).
- 410. i, e., in the mutual good spirit of give and take.
- 411. i. e., the parties concerned.
- 412. i. e., as engaged by the father).
- 413. (for the maintenance of the child).
- 414. (in proportion to his means).
- 415. So none should be frightened at this necessary expenditure.
- 416. i. e., its population.
- 417. (in this very life).
- 418. i. e., they were blotted out of existence ignominiously.

The Prohibition LXVI

(Madinian, 2 Sections and 12 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (بایها النی . . . رحیم) O prophet I why dost thou forbid<sup>426</sup> for thee what Allah has allowed to thee, seeking the goodwill of thy wives<sup>427</sup>? And Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
- 2. (قدرية) Surely Allah has ordained for you absolution<sup>428</sup> from your oaths<sup>438</sup>; and Allah is your Patron<sup>430</sup>, and He is the Knower, the Wise.
- 426. (by taking a vow). The allusion is to some incident in the holy Prophet's domestic life,
  - 427. (in thy over-fondness or tenderness towards them).
  - 428. (by having fixed an expiation for that purpose).
  - 429. (of such a kind).
  - 430. i. e., your friend, helper and protector.

- 3. (راذ . . . الخير ) And recall when the prophet confided a story<sup>431</sup> to one of his spouses, then she disclosed it<sup>432</sup>. Allah apprised him of it<sup>433</sup>; he made known a part of it<sup>434</sup>, and<sup>435</sup> a part he withheld<sup>436</sup>. Then when he had apprised her of it, she said: who has told thee of it? He said: the Knower, the Aware has told me.
- 4. (ان تتویا ... ظهیر) Then if you twain<sup>437</sup> turn to Allah repentant, it is well, surely your hearts are so inclined. But if you support each other against him, then verily Allah! his friend is He and Jibrīl, and so are the righteous believers<sup>438</sup>, and furthermore angels are his aiders<sup>439</sup>.
- 5. (اعين المراء) If he divorce you<sup>440</sup>, perchance his Lord will give him in exchange better wives than you<sup>441</sup>: Muslims, believers, devout, penitent, worshippers, given to fasting, both non-virgins<sup>442</sup> and virgins.
- 6. (ا يابها الذين . يورون) O you who believe! guard yourselves and your households<sup>443</sup> against a Fire the fuel whereof is mankind and stones<sup>444</sup>. Over it are angels, stern<sup>445</sup>, strong<sup>446</sup>; they do not disobey Allah in what He commands them<sup>447</sup>, and they do<sup>448</sup> what they are commanded<sup>449</sup>.
- 7. (بایها الذین . تساون) O you who disbelieve excuse not yourselves To-day; you are only being requited for what you have been working 451.
- 431. What exactly this story was is rather immaterial, and is therefore not preserved in the Holy Writ.
  - 432. (to a co-wife).
  - 433. (by a special Revelation).
- 434. (to the wife who had divulged his secret) تريف signifies, 'The making to know, syn. عامل ' (LL).
  - 435. (out of modesty and considerateness of her eelings).
- 436. (thereof from her), i.e., the Prophet told her that he had come to know of her breach of confidence, but forbore from upbraiding her in any way.

- 437. i. e., the two co-wives concerned.
- 438. (so the Prophet cannot be injured by any petty domestic intrigues).
- in a plural sense.' (LL).
- 440. (O wives of the Propbet!).

  - 445. (not gentle and tender towards the inmates of Hell).
  - 446. Who cannot be overcome or successfully resisted by anyone.
  - 447. i. e., most unflinching in their duty.
  - 448. (precisely and without fail),
- 449. The angels, in Islam, possess like all living sentient beings distinct personalities, and are neither degraded gods nor mere attributes and abstractions personified. They are perfectly obedient servents of God. This does away with the Jewish and Christian misconceptions of angels. 'The OT nowhere lays stress on the moral character of angels......Consequently, angels were divided not into good and bad, but into those who worked wholly and those who worked only partly, in obedience to God. This latter division still seems to hold its own in NT alongside of the former.' (EBi. c. 168)
  - 450. Thus will the infidels be addressed as they will be cast into Hell.
  - 451, i. e., you are only reaping the harvest of your own deeds.

- 8. (يابيا الذين . تدير) O you who believe! turn to Allah with a sincere repentance, Belike<sup>452</sup> your Lord will expiate from you your misdeeds and cause you to enter Gardens whereunder rivers flow; on the Day whereon A lah will not humiliate<sup>453</sup> the prophet and those who believe with him. Their light<sup>154</sup> will be running before them<sup>455</sup> and on their right hands, and they will say: our Lord! perfect for us our light<sup>456</sup>, and forgive us: verily Thou art over everything Potent.
- 9. (بايها التي . . الممير) O Prophet! strive hard against the infidels<sup>487</sup> and the hypocrites<sup>488</sup>, and be stern to them. And their abode is Hell: a hapless destination.
- 452. عنى 'as uttered by God, is expressive of an event of necessary occurrence in the whole of the Kuran,' (LL).
  - 453. (but on the other hand, honour and glorify),
  - 454. Symbolic of their true faith.
  - 455. (and leading them on the right way to Paradise).
  - 456. Unlike the light of the hypocrites, which will fail them in the way.
  - 457. (with arms).
  - 458. (with words).

- الح
- 10. (مترب الدخلين) Allah propoundeth for those who disbelieve<sup>459</sup> the similitude of the wife of Nūḥ and the wife of Lūt<sup>450</sup>. They were under two of our righteous bondmen<sup>461</sup>, then they defrauded them<sup>453</sup>. Wherefore the twain availed them naught against Allah<sup>463</sup>, and it was said: enter you twain the Fire with those who enter.
- 11. (وظرب . القلاين) And Allah propoundeth for those who believe the similitude of the wife the fir awn, when she said the said
- 12. (دريم . . الفنتين) And the similitude of Maryam daughter of Imrān<sup>449</sup>, who preserved her chastity<sup>470</sup>, wherefore We breathed in it<sup>471</sup> of Our Spirit<sup>472</sup>. And she testified to the words of her Lord<sup>473</sup> and His Books and she was of the devout<sup>474</sup>.
  - 459. (that they may be warned thereby).
- 460. (both of whom on account of their infidelity and impiety perished in this world and the Hereafter). See P. VIII. n. 570 ff; P. XII. n. 249 ff: P. XIX. n. 301.
- 461. (and had thus every opportunity of coming in close contact with faith and virtue). It is said of a married woman كان تحت فلان , she was under the authority of so-and-so.' (WGAL. II. p. 196) فلان تحت فلانة (Such a one has as his wife such a woman.' (LL).
- 462. (of their due as the apostles of God, and persisted in their course of impiety and unbelief),' خانة is the contrary of خاماً, and does not relate only to property but also to other things.' (LL).
- 463. So mere personal relationship or close association, without faith and virtue, can do no good.
  - 464. (that they may be consoled thereby),
- 465. Whom the Bible mistakenly calls his daughter——a believing woman who had saved the life of Moses in his infancy. See P. XX. n. 112.

Part XXVIII

- 466. Perhaps as she was being persecuted for her true faith.
- 467. Literally 'near Thee.'
- 468. i. e., the evil consequences of his acts of blasphemy.
- 469. See P. III. n. 356.

- 471. (through our arch-angel Gabriel).
- 472. Which caused her conception.
- 473. Which she received through His angels.
- 474, Neither a Divine Being to be adored as imagined by the Christians, nor an immoral woman as supposed by her Jewish culminators.

PART XXIX

Süral-ul-Mulk

The Sovereignty. LXVII

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 30 Verses)

in the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (برك ... ندر) Blessed be He¹, in Whose hand is the sovereignty, and He is Potent over everything.
- 2. (الذى . النفور) Who has created death² and life³, that He might test you⁴ as to which of you is excellent in work⁵. And He is the Mighty⁵, the Forgiver².
- 3. (الذى . . . فطور) Who has created the seven heavens in storeys. Thou shalt not find any oversight in the creation of the Compassionate. Then repeat thy look, dost thou find any crack 10?
- 4. (غم . . . حسير) Then repeat thy look twice over, and thy look will return to thee dim and drowsy<sup>10-A</sup>.
- 1. 'When used in speaking of God, the assertory (not optative) prefects عالي and بارك are examples of the reflexive signification of this form: باركانة: God has made Himself (is become of and through Himself) blessed, or perfect, above all, (WGAL. I. p. 40).
- 2. This corrects and contradicts the Jewish views: "God created man to be immortal;.....nevertheless through envy of the devil came death into the world. For God made not death." (JE. IV. p. 483).

- 3. Both life and death have been personified and deified by the pagans, who have raised temples and sung hymns of praise to them. In Islam they are no more than 'created' beings like the rest of creation.
- 4. (O mankind!) In the words of a distinguished scientist, 'death came that life may be worth living.'
- 5. So it is by action that man can make his soul grow and save it from corruption.
- 6. i. e., Able to punish the guilty and to carry out His Will and Purpose perfectly.
- 7. This corrects and contradicts the view that God is bound by the necessity of His own law to effect requital in every instance.
  - 8. Ith may also mean in harmony.'
  - 9. (of heaven, O reader!)
- 10. i. e., canst thou detect any flaw or defect in God's handiwork? The argument is from the cosmic order of the universe, 'Reason is that in us which demands sequence, regularity, and order in things. It resents mere accident and chance occurrence. It could, in fact, only exist in a cosmos, i. e., an orderly world. And such a cosmos it finds from the first in sun and moon, in plant and animal, but mixed as it appears with what is incalculable and purely capricious—that is irrational. But the more it knows, the more ground it finds for confidence that the appearance of capriciousness is due only to its ignorance. Nature, it grows to believe, is, in this sense, rational through and through, that it corresponds to this fundamental demand of reason for law and order in all things. This faith in a universal order—a faith continually more and more fully justified—is what makes science possible.'
- 10-A. The more we observe Nature, the more we realise that it is a vast, huge Unity, every part in the substantial fabric of the Universe being bound to every other part, with no rift, no lacuna whatsoever.

- 5. (رلند . . . السير) And assuredly We have bedecked the nearest sky<sup>11</sup> with lamps<sup>12</sup> and We have made them missiles for pelting devils<sup>13</sup>, and We have prepared for them the torment of the Blaze.
- 6. (دلذین . . . الممير) And for those who disbelieve in their Lord will be the torment of Hell —— a hapless destination !
- 7. (ناد . . . تفور) When they will be cast in it, they will hear a braying as it boils up;
- 8. (تکاد . . . نذیر) it almost bursts up with rage<sup>14</sup>. So often as a company<sup>15</sup> is cast in it, its keepers will ask them<sup>16</sup>: did not a warner come to you<sup>17</sup>?
- 9. (قال الله ) They will say: surely a warner did come to us but we belied him and said: Gcd has not sent down aught<sup>18</sup>; you are naught but in a great error<sup>19</sup>.
- 10. (رقال . . . السير) And they will say<sup>20</sup>: had we been wont to listen<sup>21</sup> or to reflect<sup>12</sup>, we would not have been among the fellows of the Blaze.
- 11. (ناعر نوا . . . السعبر) So they will confess their sin عام نوا . . . السعبر) the fellows of the Blaze!
- 12. (ان الذين . . كير) Those Who are in awe of their Lord unseen<sup>24</sup>, theirs shall be forgiveness and a great wage.
- 13. (وأسروا . . . الصدور) And whether you keep your discourse secret or disclose it, verily He is the Knower of what is in the breasts.
  - 11. i. e., nearest in relation to the earth.
  - 12. i. e., with radiant stars.
- 13. رجوم means 'shooting stars, which are believed to be hurled at the devils that listen by stealth, beneath the lowest heaven, to the words of the angels therein.' (LL).
- is, vehement anger, and has a more intensive signification than
  - 15. (of the infidels).

- 16. (reproachfully wondering at the incredible perversity of mankind).
- 17. i. e., are you taken unawares, or is it that you refused to profit by his warnings?
  - 18. (by way of Revelation).
  - 19. i. e., you are yourself deluded.
  - 20. (in utter anguish).
  - 21. (to the voice of the warner)
- 22. i. e., to use our own intelligence. Apart from glittering light of Revelation, there are in all nature around us and in our own conscience enough 'manifest signs' of God and His unity.
- 23. (of infidelity). The confession at this belated hour would be of no avail as the time for amendment would have long been past.
- 24. i. e., without perceiving Him with their bodily eyes they realize Him in their very being.

14. (الأ . . . الخبر) Will not He Who has created know? He is the Subtile, the Aware.

- 15. (مرالذى . . . النفور) He it is Who has made the earth subservient<sup>25</sup> to you; so go forth in the tracts thereof, and eat of His provision<sup>26</sup>. And to Him is the Resurrection<sup>17</sup>.
- 16. (مانتم . . . تمور) Are you secure that He Who is in the heaven² will not sink the earth with you, and then it should quake?
- 17. (رئی ... ندر) Or are you secure that He Who is in the heaven will not send against you a whirlwind<sup>29</sup>? Soon<sup>20</sup> you shall know how<sup>31</sup> has been My warning.
- 18. (رلتد . . . نكير) And assuredly those before them have belied, then how<sup>32</sup> has been My wrath?
- 19. (ادلم . . . بعير) Do they not see the birds<sup>33</sup> above them outstretching their wings<sup>34</sup> and also closing them<sup>35</sup>? None sustains them except the Compassionate. Verily He is Beholder of everything.
- 20. (انن . . . فرور) Who is he, besides the Compassionate, that can be an army unto you and succour you? The infidels<sup>36</sup> are but in delusion.
- 25. It is the earth that is made for man, and not man for the earth. The enunciation of this simple doctrine demolishes the polytheistic conceptions of 'Earth-Goddess' and 'Mother-Earth.'
  - 26. Which grows upon the earth.
- 27. Which reminds us that in all human activities the Hereaster is the real goal.
  - 28. i. e., Who rules the heaven as well (Th).

- 29. (driving the sands to overwhelm you)
- 30. i. e., immediately at your death.
- 31. I. e., how true and fateful!
- 32. i. e., how terrible!
- 33. Whose flight is one of the most wonderful instances of purposive adaptation.
  - 34. (continuously in their flight).
- 35. (at will; and they maintain in either case their balance in the mid-air as ordained by God's providence).
- 36. (wandering away from God's mercy and grace, the only two sources of our strength).

- 21. (امن . . . نفرر) Should He<sup>37</sup> withhold His provision, who is he that can provide for you? Aye<sup>35</sup>! they persist in perversity and aversion<sup>39</sup>.
- 22. (انس . . . مستقم) is he, then, who goes about of grovelling upon his face better directed or he who walks evenly on a straight path?
- 23. (نال . . تحکرون) Say thou<sup>43</sup>: He it is Who has brought you forth and has endowed you with hearing and sights and hearts<sup>44</sup> Little thanks it is you<sup>45</sup> give!
- 24. (نل . . . تحشرون) Say thou: He it is Who has spread you over the earth, and to Him you shall be gathered.
- 25. (ريقولون . مدتين) And they<sup>47</sup> say<sup>43</sup>: when will this promise<sup>49</sup> come to pass, if you say sooth<sup>50</sup>.
- 26. (قل ... أو) Say thou<sup>51</sup>: the knowledge<sup>52</sup> thereof is only with Allah, and I am but a manifest warner<sup>53</sup>.
- 27. (نلیا . . . تدعون) But when they will see it proximating sad will be the countenances of those who disbelieve<sup>54</sup>, and it will be said; this is what you have been calling for<sup>55</sup>.
- 28. (قل . . . البم) Say thou: think! if Allah destroy me and those with  $me^{56}$ , or have mercy on  $us^{57}$ , who<sup>58</sup> will protect the infidels from an afflictive torment?
- 29. (قل . . . بين) Say thou: He is the Compassionate; in Him we have believed<sup>59</sup>, and in Him we have put our trust<sup>60</sup>. And soon<sup>61</sup> you will know who it is that is in manifest error.
- 30. (قل ... منين) Say thou: think! were your water to be sunk away<sup>62</sup>, who then<sup>63</sup> could bring you water welling-up?
  - 37. ——the only source of all sustenance——
  - 38. (instead of choosing the plain, smooth, path of reason and faith).

- 39. (from the truth).
- 40. (in paths of darkness and error, depriving himself of the light of God's guidance)
  - 41. (stumbling on the way all the while).
  - 42. (and more likely to get to the goal).
  - 43. (O Prophet!).
  - 44. So He ought to be our all-in-all.
- 45. i. e., how very ungrateful on your part then to turn away from Him and to use God-given gifts for altogether wrong purposes!
  - 46. Which end is to be constantly kept in view.
  - 47. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
  - 48. (to the believers, by way of ridicule and denial).
  - 49. (of the coming of the Judgment Day).
- 50. In the first preaching of Islam, 'the announcement of the Day of Judment is much more prominent than the Unity of God: and it was against his revelations concerning Doomsday that his opponents directed their satire during the first twelve years. It was not love of their half-dead gods but anger at the wretch who was never tired of telling them, in the name of Allah, that all their life was idle..... despicable, that in the other world they would be outcasts, which opened the floodgates of irony and scorn against Mohammed' (Hurgronje Mohammedanism, p. 34).
  - 51. (in answer, O Prophet!)
  - 52. (of the exact time of the Last Day).
- 53. Who has only to announce the fact of its coming, and not dating or timing it.
  - 54. (realising their terrible error too late).
  - 55. (and what you desired to hasten).
  - 56. (in the near future as you so keenly desire).
  - 57. (and preserve us from you, as He has promised us).
  - 58. (in either case).
  - 59. (and thus have ensured our well-being in the Hereafter).
- 60. (so we can very well take our sorrows and affliction in this world 15 mere trials).
  - 61. (when you find yourselves afflicted and ourselves safe).
- 62 (and lost underground, while sudden and complete cessation of all supply of water is sure to cause death).
- 63. (independent of the Almighty). So He alone is the source of all life, material as well as spiritual.

The Pen. LXVIII

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 52 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (ن . . . يسطرون) Nūn*4, By the pen and by what they 65 inscribe.
- 2. (ما . . . عجنون) Through the grace of thy Lord. thou art not mad
- 3. (دأن . . . منزن) And verily for thee will be an unending wage<sup>67</sup>.
- 4. (دانك . . . علم) And verily thou art of a high and noble disposition 43.
- 5. (نستمر و يصرون ) Soon<sup>60</sup> thou wilt see and they<sup>70</sup> will see<sup>71</sup> ——
- 6. ( بابكم المنترن ) Which of you is afflicted with madness72.
- 7. (ان . . . المعدين) Verily thy Lord is the best Knower of him who has strayed from the path and the best Knower of him who is the guided one<sup>73</sup>.
  - 8. (نلا . . . الكذين) So do not obey thou the beliers?4.
- 9. (ردوا . . نيدمنون) They would like that thou shouldst be a pliant<sup>75</sup>, so that they also will be a pliant<sup>74</sup>.
  - 10. (ولا . . . بهين) And do not obey thou any ignominous swearer**,
  - 11. (ماز . . . بندي) defamer, spreader abroad of slander,
  - 12. (نناع . . . الرام) hinderer of the good, trespasser, sinner,
- 64. نون, in addition to its other meanings, signifies 'an ink-horn.' See P. I. n. 28.
  - 65. i. e., the angels registering the Divine Decrees.
  - 66. (as imagined by thy calumniators, O Prophet !) See P. IX. n. 328.
  - 67. (commensurate with thy work of preaching).
  - 68. i. e., thou standest on an exalted standard of character, and thy life is a wonderful living illustration and explanation of the Qur'an itself.' 'The proper signification of the inner man,' is the moral character; or the fashion of the inner man,' (LL) 'His behaviour was now also the standard for his people after his death: inexorable against his enemies so long as they opposed him, yet he did not know revengefulness, he was gentle towards the vanquished, indulgent and tolerant to all unbelievers.' (Damer, quoted in Dr. Zaki Ali's Islam in the world, p. 13) See also P. IV. nn. 295-96.

- 69. i. e., in the Hereaster, and also in this very world.
- 70. i. e., thy detractors.
- 71. (through the logic of events; in the light of actual facts of history).
- 72. (and bereft of his senses).
- 73. (and will requite each accordingly).
- 74. (Just as Thou hast not obeyed them in the past).
- 75. (with them) i. e., thou wilt let them alone in their idolatry and other foul practices.
  - 76. (with thee) i. e., so that they will cease to revile and persecute thee.
- 77. i. e., one who on account of his habitual and false swearing is looked down upon.

- 17. (انا مسبحين) Verily We! We have tried them<sup>82</sup> even as We tried<sup>83</sup> the men of a garden<sup>84</sup> when they swore<sup>85</sup> that they would surely pluck it in the morning<sup>86</sup>,
  - 18. (د لا يستنون) and they made in the assertion no reservation *7.
- 19. (نطان . . نائمون) Wherefore there visited it an encircling visitation<sup>se</sup> while they slept.
- 20. (قاصبحت كالمريم) Then in the morning it became as if it had been plucked<sup>89</sup>.
  - 21. (فتنادوا مصبحين) Then in the morning they cried out to each other%.
  - 22. (ان . . صرمين) Saying : go out early to your tilth if you would pluck.
- 23. (نانطلقرا . . يتخانون) Then they went off speaking to each other in a low voice;
  - 24. (ان . . . مكين) Let there enter upon you no needy man today 91.
  - 25. (رغدوا . . . ندرين) And they went out early determined in purpose 32.
- 26. (نلیا . . . لمنالون) Then when they saw it<sup>93</sup>, they said: indeed we are gone stray<sup>94</sup>.
  - 27. (بل . . . مرومون) Alas<sup>95</sup> l it is we who have been robbed<sup>96</sup>!
- 28. (وَالْ . . . تَسَبَّحُونَ) And the most moderate of them<sup>97</sup> said: did I not tell you<sup>93</sup>: why do you not hallow Him<sup>99</sup>?
- 29. (قالوا . . . ظلمين) They said now in repentance on: hallowed be Our Lord! verily we have been wrong-doers.

base, ignoble, or mean; known by his baseness, ignobleness or meanness, or his evil character;.....the son of an adulteress or a fornicatress.' (LL) The particular person alluded to in the passage is generally taken to be Walid bin Mughaira, an inveterate enemy of Islam and the Prophet, who combined in himself the hateful qualities spoken of in the text.

- 79. i. e., the despicable fellow is such and such because he happens to possess wealth and children.
  - 80. See P. VII, n. 321,
- 81. i. e., set on his nose, the most prominent part of the face, some mark of the utmost ignominy. 'We will stigmatise him with indelible disgrace; the term مرطرم, which signifies the proboscis of an elephant, being applied to his nose because it is regarded as unseemly.'   - 121. (with shame and terror).
  - 122. (but they would not hear).
- 123. i. e., in full possession of the power of judgment and will, and living in this world,
  - 124. (and grieve not over the fate of such, O Prophet!)
  - 125. (to ultimate destruction, by giving them respite in this world).
- 126. (for the time being, so as to make them all the more forgetful of death, and then overtake them in their most heedless state).
- 127. (for thy preaching, O Prophet!) i.e., it costs the infidels nothing to hear the Prophet.
  - 128, (on that account, and are therefore loth with thee).
- 129. i. e., have they the knowledge of the Unseen and of God's ordinances, independent of thee, and without the mediation of a prophet.
- 130. i. e., so that they transcribe the same from the table of God's decrees and feel no need of the Revelation youchsafed to thee.

The Inevitable. LXIX

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 52 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (الحاقة ) The Inevitable Calamity I
- 2. ( ماالحاته ) What is the Inevitable Calamity!
- 3. (رما . . . مالحات) And what will make thee know<sup>112</sup> what the Inevitable Calamity is ?
- 4. (کذبت . . . بالقارعة) The tribes of Thamud and 'Aad belied the Striking Day.
- 5. (قاطاغة) As for Thamūd, they were destroyed by an outburst<sup>143</sup>.
- 6. (والما مانية) And as for 'Aad, they were destroyed by a wind, furious, roaring.
- 7. (مخرط . . . غاریة) to which He subjected them for seven nights and eight days in succession so that thou have seen men during it lying prostrate, as though they were stumps of palm ruined  $^{146}$ .
  - 8. (نهل . . . بانية) Dost thou see any remnant of them?
- 9. (رجاد من الخاطئة) And Fir awn and those before him and the overturned cities 147 committed sin.
  - 142. (O Prophet!).
  - 143. Or 'thundering noise.'

- 144. 'He sent it (the wind) upon them by force, or made it to prevail againsts them by his power, seven nights and eight days consecutively; an expression taken from the repetition of the act of cauterization, i, e, the act of the whence this word whence this word applied to anything made consecutive.' (LL).
  - 145. (if thou hadst been there, O reader!).
  - 146. The simile has in view the tallness of their stature.
  - 147. i. e, the subverted cities of Sodom and Gomorra.

- 52. (نسبح...المظم) So $^{182}$  hallow thou $^{183}$  the name of thy Lord, the Great $^{184}$ .
- 176. In Pre-Islamic Arabia, 'beside the poet (Shāir), and below him, was the Kāhin, or the soothsayer, and below him the 'arrāf', a kind of diviner. These, too, were under the influence of Jinn, but in a less exalted way. The Kāhins were soothsayers connected with a sanctuary...The Kāhins usually cast their oracles in verse.' (ERE. X. p. 136) See P. XXVII. n. 77,
  - 177. i. e., the holy Prophet.
  - 178. (thus causing his instantaneous death).
  - 179. Who will receive their punishment at its proper time.
  - 180. When the consequences of its rejection will become apparent to them.

408 Part XXIX

181. i. e., the very truth. Every truth is in itself certain, but certainty has degrees. First there is a certainty of reasoning or inference, known as علم البقين. Next there is a certainty of sense-perception, called عين اليقين. Last, there is a certainty, the highest degree of it, the absolute certainty, with no possibility of error, either of judgement or perception, and this is what is termed حق البقين.

- 182, i. e. in return for this great gift of Divine Revelation.
- 183. (O Prophet!)
- 184. The Author of this Book.

The Ascending Steps. LXX

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 44 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (سال ... رائع) A questioner has questioned about chastisement about to befall<sup>185</sup>,
  - دانم) the infidels<sup>186</sup> which is not to be averted,
  - 3. (من الله ... المارج) from Allah<sup>187</sup>, Owner of the ascending steps<sup>188</sup>.
- 4. (ترج... نرج.) Thereby the angels ascend to Him and also the spirit<sup>139</sup>; on a Day<sup>190</sup> whose space is fifty thousand years<sup>191</sup>.
  - 5. (نامبر . . . جميلا) Be thou<sup>192</sup> patient<sup>193</sup> with a becoming patience<sup>194</sup>.
  - 6. (انهم ... بعيدا) Verily they<sup>195</sup> see it<sup>196</sup> afar off.
  - 7. (وزاه نریبا) and We see it nigh.
- 8. (پرم . . . کلایل) It shall befall on a Day whereon the sky will become like dregs of oil<sup>197</sup>.
  - 9. (رتکرن...کالیون) And the mountains will become like dyed wool<sup>198</sup>,
  - 10. (رلا معبيا) and not a friend shall ask a friend 199,
- 11. (يامرونيم ) though they shall be made to see one another. The guilty<sup>200</sup> would like to ransom himself from the torment of that Day by<sup>201</sup> his children,

<sup>185.</sup> The person alluded to here is either Nudhar bin al Harith or Abu Jahl, both of whom had challenged the Prophet to bring upon them some dreadful judgment.

<sup>186, (</sup>on the Judgment Day).

- 187. i. e., being inflicted by Him.
- 188. By which prayers and righteous actions ascend to heaven.
- 189. i. e. the souls of the believers.
- 190. i. e., that judgment shall befall on a Day.
- 191. 'As it will appear to the unbelievers in the intensity of their agony'. (Th).
  - 192. (and bear their insults, O Prophet!)
  - 193. i. e., now that the judgment is certain,
  - 194, i. e., without a tinge of complaint.
  - 195, i. e. the scoffers.
  - 196. i. e., the Judgment Day.
- 197. Or 'like metal molten.' Cf. the NT:—'But the day of the Lord will come as thief in the night; in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up' (2 Pet. 3: 10).
  - 198, (scattered abroad).
  - 199. (concerning his condition),
  - 200. i. c., the unbeliever: the infidel.
  - 201, i, e,, at the price of.

- 12. (دماحته و اخيه) and his wife202 and his brother,
- 13. (دنسانه . . . تزیه) and his kin that sheltered him 203,
- 14. (رسن . . . ينجب) and all those on the earth<sup>204</sup>; so that this might deliver him.
  - 15. (کلا . . . نظر) By no means! It is a Flame,
  - 16. (نراعة للشرك) flying off the scalp-skin.
- 17. (تد مُواْ . . . تُولَى) It shall call<sup>205</sup> him who turns away<sup>206</sup> and back-slides,
  - 18. (رجسم فارهای) and amasses<sup>207</sup> and hoards<sup>208</sup>.
  - 19. (ان . . . مارعا) Verily man<sup>209</sup> is formed impatient<sup>219</sup>,
  - 20. (اذا . . . جزرعا) bewailing<sup>211</sup> when evil touches him,
  - 21. (واذا . . . منوعا) and begrudging باه. . . منوعا) and begrudging منوعا
  - 22. (الا الماين) Not so are the prayerful,
  - 23. (الذين . . . دا ثمرن) who are constant<sup>213</sup> at their prayers,
  - 24. (والذين . . . معارم) and in whose riches is a recognised right,
  - رالسائل والمعروم) for the beggar and the destitute214,
  - 26. (والذن... الدين) and who testify to the Day of Requital,
  - 27. (دالذين . . . مشفقرن) and who are fearful of their Lord's torment.
- 28. (ان . . . مامرن) Verily from the torment of their Lord none can feel secure<sup>115</sup>.
  - 29. (دالدين . . . منظرن) As also those who guard their private parts,
- 30. (الا . . مارمين) save in regard to their women<sup>217</sup> and those whom their right hands own<sup>218</sup>. So they are not reproachable.
- 31. (ننن . . المدرن) Add whoso seeks beyond that, then it is those who are the trespassers<sup>219</sup>.

<sup>202.</sup> الماحية literally is 'an accompanier.' This incidentally but clearly emphasises the fact that companionship is the essential factor of marriage,

- 203. i. e., in short, every one whom he held dear and near on the earth.
- 204. So unbearable will be the suffering!
- 205. i. e., draw and bring.
- 206. (from the faith while in this world).
- 207. (riches unlawfully).
- 208. (them out of convetousness and greed).
- 209. i. e., the unbelieving man.
- 210. i. e., one who does not sufficiently exert his will to believe.
- 211. (and full of complaint, beyond proper limits).
- 212. (in the performance of his duties and in the payment of his obligatory dues).
- 213. both as regards its timings and its proper conditions). Of the effects of the Islamic prayer writes a Christian convert to Islam: -- My ancestors were Roman Catholics.....My community.....hated Muslims. Protestants were considered upstarts, and Muslim renegades. In such an atmosphere I grew up. The foremost item that drew my attention was the idols and pictures of Virgin Mary and other saints kept for worshipping... But when the time for prayer comes I noted that a Muslim wherever he may be whether walking in the street, boarding a train, or a boat, spreads his cloth turns to Kaba, and starts his Namaz. No priest is required for him. He is at once in communion with his Creator quite oblivious to his surroundings, This appealed to me. I peeped into the mosques, and found no idol kept there. It did not take me long to find out that no difference is made in a mosque. All stand shoulder to shoulder without distinction of colour and rank. What a marvellous unity and brotherhood! Need I say that it melted my heart.' And observes a mordern Christian scholar: 'Perhaps the most gracious thing ever said about Moslem prayer is that it is an intimate converse with God. A creative feature in Islam; it has fostered a feeling of equality among believers, mitigating the rankling sense of superiority and caste, and opening a new inlet for the unity of mystical experience into the Moslem heart' (Jurji's Great Religious of the Modern World, p. 187). See also P. XVIII. n. 2.
- 214. Food, in Islam, observes a learned Christian, 'is given to any one who needs it, and charity is administered direct, and not by the circuitous means of a Poor Law system. Indeed from a Muhammadan, as also from the Buddhistic point of view, the giving of charity puts the giver into a state of obligation to the receiver, since it enables the former to cultivate his sense of benevolence.' (Dr. G. W. Leitner, M.A., Ph. D. Religious Systems of the World, London, 1905, p. 296)
- 215. i. e., none can presume to feel secure from it: it has to be reckoned with.
  - 216. i. e., keep themselves away from every kind of sex abuse.
  - 217. i. e., free women who are joined to them by regular marriage bond.
- 218. i. e., women taken captives but not raised to the status of legal wives. See P. XVIII. n. 8.
- 219. i. e. every other form of gratifying sexual passions is criminal. See. P. XVIII. n. 10.

- 44 (خاشمة من . . . بوعدون) Downcast shall be their looks, abjectness shall overspread them. Such is the Day they were promised.
- 220. i. e., those who fulfil all their obligations, whether financial or otherwise. Very remarkable is the sacredness attached to everyday trusts and convenants in Islam.

- 221. (at their proper time). See P. XVIII. n. 12.
- 222. (to deny thee and to accuse thee of imposture, O Prophet!)

- 224. t. e., of filthy seed, which bears no apparent relation or resemblance to the dignity of a man. So it is imperative that he who aspires to enter Paradise must perfect himself in faith and spiritual virtues, to fit himself for that place.
- 225. منارب and منارب in the plural signify the different points of the horizon at which the sun rises and sets in the course of the year. This completely repudiates the polytheistic idea of Loka palas or guardians of the world, presiding over the four cardinal and the intermediate points of the compass. Among the Hindus, for instance, Indra, the chief of the gods, was regarded as the regent of the east; Agni the fire, was in the same way associated with the south-east; Yama with the south; Surya, the sun, with the south-west; Varuna originally the representative of the all-embracing heaven or atmosphere, now the god of the ocean, with the west; Vayu, the wind, with the north-west, Kubera, the god of wealth, with the north; and Soma, with the north-east.' (EBr. III p. 1016). The Tibetan mythology also has a parallel set of deities for each of the four cardinal points. See ERE. VIII. p. 76.

Sūrah Nūḥ

Nuh. LXXI

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 28 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (נוֹן . . . ווֹק) Verily We I We sent forth Nūḥ<sup>23</sup> to his people saying: warn thy people<sup>23</sup> before there comes to them an afflictive chastisement<sup>23</sup>.
  - 2. (قال . . . مين) He said : my people!! am to you a manifest warner.
  - 3. (ان . . . اطيعرن) Worship Allah<sup>234</sup>, and fear Him, and obey me.
- 4. (ينتر ... تمليون) He will forgive you your sins<sup>235</sup>, and will defer you to an appointed term<sup>236</sup>. Verily the term of Allah<sup>237</sup>, when it comes, shall not be deferred<sup>238</sup>, if you but know.
- 5. (قال . . . نهارا) He said<sup>129</sup>: Lord! verily! have called my people night and day<sup>240</sup>.
  - 6. (نام . . . فرارا) And my calling has only increased their aversion<sup>241</sup>.
- 7. (رانی استکبار ) Verily whenever I call them, that Thou mayst forgive them<sup>242</sup>, they place their fingers in their ears<sup>243</sup>, and wrap themselves with their garments<sup>244</sup>, and persist<sup>215</sup> in their denial, and are stiff-necked<sup>246</sup>.
  - 8. (أم . . . جهاراً) Then<sup>247</sup> I have called them aloud<sup>248</sup>.

<sup>233.</sup> Which means that had they repented they would still have obtained mercy.

- 234. (to the exclusion of your idols).
- 235. (if you accept the true faith). من ذنو بكم is according to many commentators, redundant.
  - 236. i. e., the time of your death.
  - 237. i. e., the hour of death,
  - 238. (but the past sins are wiped off by the profession of the true faith).
  - 239, (after he had tried for long and had become exasperated).
  - 240. (preaching them true doctrine of monotheism).
  - 241. (from me).
  - 242. (on their accepting the true religion).
  - 243. (so that my words may not reach them).
  - 244. (so as to avoid me).
  - 245. (in their infidelity).
- 246. The مصدر is here used للتعليم, for magnifying, i. e., to add greater force to the verb.
  - 247. (in spite of their aversion).
  - 248. (addressing them collectively, in public gatherings).

- 9. (ثم . . . اسرارا) Then<sup>249</sup> I spoke to them<sup>250</sup> in public and in private I addressed them<sup>251</sup>.
- 10. (نقلت . غفارا) And I said: beg forgiveness of your Lord<sup>252</sup>; He is ever Most Forgiving.
  - 11. (برسل . . مدرارا) He will send down upon you rains copiously يرسل . . مدرارا
- 12. (נאבר אף) and the will increase you in riches and children and will assign to you gardens and will assign to you rivers.
- 13. (مالكم . . . وقارا) What ails you that you look not<sup>256</sup> for majesty in Allah ——
  - 14. (وقد . . . اطوارا) while He has created you by stages<sup>257</sup>.
- 15. (المرابطاتا) Do you not see how Allah has created the seven heavens in storeys<sup>258</sup>?
- 16. (رجال . . سراجا) And He has placed the moon therein for a light and has made the sun for a lamp<sup>259</sup>?
- 17. (الله ) And Allah has caused you to grow from the earth as a growth<sup>260</sup>.
- 18. (ثم . . . اخراجا) And hence He will cause you to return to it and He will bring you forth<sup>261</sup> completely.
  - 19. (دانه . . . بساطا) And Allah has made for you the earth an expanse,
  - 20. (اتسلكوا . . . نجاجا) that of it you may traverse the open ways.

SECTION 2

21. (قال . . . خسارا) Nūḥ said²٠٠: Lord I verily they have denied me and have followed him²٠٥ whose riches and children has only increased him in loss.

<sup>249. (</sup>in their individual capacity).

<sup>251.</sup> i, e., every possible method of persuasion I have tried, and all the resources at my command I have used.

- 252. (by believing in Him and in His Guidance).
- 253. i. e, He will send down upon you copious rain. 'The heaven' in the text is here synonymous with the rains.
  - 254. ——to instance some of His blessings in this world——.
- 255. i. e., endow you with all the sources of prosperity, both national and individual.
  - 256. (as is evident from your worshipping other gods beside Him).
- 257. i. e., by various steps or changes from the original matter till you became perfect men.
  - 258. (and there is no 'Sky-god' or 'Heaven god' beside Him).
- 259. (illuminating the day). These details merited special mention, as the organised pantheon of the Noahian people was to a large extent, astral.
  - 260. (of a special kind, O mankind!).
  - 261. (from your graves).
- 262. (after he had exhausted his patience in the thankless task of preaching and found his audience incorrigible.)
  - 263. i. e., the big ones of the community.

عَنْدَالْدِي، َ كَتُبَادًا ﴿ وَ قَالُوا لَا تَذَرُنُ الْهَتَكُمُ وَ لَا تَدَرُنَ وَدًا وَلا سُوامًا أَهْ قَلا يَغُونَ وَيَعُونَ وَلَمُوا ﴿ وَ قَلْ الْمُعَلِّمُ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ وَيَعُونَ وَلَمُوا ﴾ وَ قَلْ اللهِ اللهُ اللهِ اللهِ

- 22. (ومکروا ... کیارا) And they have plotted264 a tremendous plot.
- 23. (رَقَالِياً . . . أَسَرَا) And they have said<sup>265</sup>: you shall not leave your gods<sup>266</sup>, nor shall you leave<sup>267</sup> Wadd<sup>268</sup> nor Suwā<sup>269</sup> nor Yaghūth<sup>270</sup> nor Yaʻūq<sup>271</sup> nor Nasr<sup>272</sup>.
- 24. (رند . . . خلا) And surely they<sup>273</sup> have led many astray<sup>274</sup>. Increase Thou these wrong-doers<sup>275</sup> in naught save error<sup>276</sup>.
- 25. (ميا . . . انصارا) And because of their misdeeds they were drowned, and then made to enter the Fire. Then they did not find for themselves any helpers beside Allah.
- 26. (رقال مال ) And  $N \overline{u} h$  said<sup>277</sup>: Lord: leave not of the infidels any inhabitant upon the earth.
- 27. (انك . . . كنارا) For shouldst Thou leave them, they will<sup>278</sup> lead astray Thy bondmen and will surely beget sinning infidels.
- 28. (رب...تبارا) Lord I forgive me and my parents<sup>279</sup> and him who enters my house as a believer<sup>280</sup>, and all the faithful men and women<sup>281</sup>, and increase not the ungodly save in perdition<sup>282</sup>.
- 264. (against me and my Message, with ambitions to defeat God's Plan and Purpose). كبر is an intensive form of كبر and signifies 'excessively great.' (LL).
  - 265. (to the lesser men of their community).
  - 266. (of the national pantheon).
- 267. (in particular). The name of the five false gods and the symbols under which they were represented are as follows:—

Pagan god		Shap e	Quality represented
1.	Wadd	Man	Manly power
2.	Suwāʻ	Woma n	Mutability, Beauty.
3.	Yaghūth	Lion (or Bull)	Brute strength.
4.	Ya'uq	Horse	Swiftness.
5.	Nasr	Eagle, or Vulture, or	Sharp sight, Insight.
		Falcon	(AYA).

420 Part XXIX

268. 'Wadd, also pronounced Wudd, or Udd, i. e., "friendship," was, according to the Qurān, a god worshipped by the contemporaries of Noah. But it would be a mistake to conclude that his cult was obsolete in Muhammad's time, for we have sufficient evidence to the contrary. The poet Nābigha says once, "Wadd greet thee!" There was a statue of this god at Duma, a great oasis in the extreme north of Arabia. The name 'Abd Wadd occurs in a number of wholly distinct tribes.' (ERE I. p. 662). 'His erotic character is evident from a verse of Nābigha preserved by Ibn Habīb and cited by Wellhausen:—"Farewell Wadd, for sporting with women is no longer permitted us since religion is now taken seriously", i. e., since the introduction of Islam.' (ERE. VIII, p. 180).

- 269. 'He had a sanctuary at a place in the territory of Hudhail, but none, so far as we know, elsewhere. The meaning of his name is altogether obscure,' (ERE. I. p. 663). Wadd, according to the Oxford Assyriologist Dr. Langdon, was, in pre-Islamic polytheism of Arabia, the proper name of the moon-god. (Marston, The Bible Comes Alive, p. 273). An officer was deputed by the Prophet to destroy the sanctuary of this god in the land occupied by the tribe of Hudhail, (Hell. op. cit., p. 31).
- 270. 'The list of Arabian deities includes a Lion-god (Yaghūth) and a Vulture-god (Nasr).' Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites p. 226). 'An Arabic poet says, "Yaghūh went forth with us against Morād"; that is, the image of the god Yaghūth was carried into the fray.' (p. 37). 'That the Coraish worshipped Yaghūth we know from the names 'Abd Yaghūth and 'Obaid Yaghūth. But the Meccan religion was syncretistic, the cults of all the tribes that frequented the great fair being represented at the sanctuary; the local and tribal seat of the worship of Yaghūth lay elsewhere.' (Kinship and Marriage in Early Arabia, pp. 192-93). 'At a later period we hear of a god Yaghūth whose idol was an object of contention among the tribes of northern Yemen, and the name Abd Yaghūth occurs in various parts of Arabia, even in the tribe of Taghlib on the north-eastern frontier' (ERE, p. 663).
- 271. 'Ya'uc is said to have been god of the Hamdan or of the Morad or of both tribes...... Horses were worshipped by the Asbadhiyun in Bahrain, but the name is said to be of Persian origin, and if this is correct, the cultus also may be Persian,' (Robertson Smith, Kinship and Marriage in Early Arabia, p. 208). 'The name of the god Ya'uq......probably means "the Preserver", his cult seems to have been confined to Yemen.' (ERE, I, p. 663).
- 272. 'Nasr, the vulture god, was an idol of the Himyarites.....The vulture worship of the Arabs is attested by the Syriac Doctrine of Addai, p. 24.' (Robertson Smith, Kinship and Marriage in early Arabia, p. 209). 'The Talmud and the Syriac Doctrine of Addai, mention Neshrā, the Aramaic form of Nasr, as an Arabian god .....The Sabaeans likewise had a god called Nasr. Thus the worship of the Vulture-god was once widely diffused over the Semitic lands.' (ERE, I, pp. 662-663).

- 273. i. e., the elders and chiefs of the community.
- 274. (by their precept and example, and have spread extreme moral corruption).
  - 275. Who are only incorrigible reprobates.
  - 276. (justifying Thy sentence on them and drawing it nearer).
  - 277. (while uttering the imprecation upon his people).
  - 278. (in the future, as they have done in the past).
  - 279. Who were both believers.
  - 280. This excludes such members of his family as were unbelievers.
  - 281. (in general, and of the future generations).
  - 282. i. e., purge the world of their sin and wickedness altogether.

Sürat -ul-Jinn

The Jinn. LXXII

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 28 Verses)

In the name of Allah, th Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (نل...عجا) Say thou<sup>283</sup>; it has been revealed to me that a company of the Jinn<sup>284</sup> listened<sup>285</sup> and said<sup>286</sup>: verily we have listened to a Recitation wondrous<sup>287</sup>,
- 2. (احدا) guiding to rectitude; so we have believed in it, and we shall not by any means associate any one with our Lord.
- 3. (رائی . . . رائی) And He, exalted be the majesty of our Lord<sup>259</sup>, has taken neither a wife<sup>290</sup> nor a son<sup>291</sup>.
- 4. (دانه . . . شططا) And the foolish<sup>202</sup> among us were wont to forge a lie against Allah exceedingly<sup>203</sup>.
- 5. (נוֹצ... צוֹב) And verily we believed that neither man nor Jinn could ever forge a lie against Allah<sup>294</sup>.
- 6. (وانه . . . رمتا) And persons among mankind have been seeking<sup>295</sup> refuge with persons of the Jinn<sup>295</sup>, so that<sup>297</sup> they<sup>498</sup> increased them<sup>299</sup> in evilness<sup>300</sup>.
- 7. ( $v^{1}$ ) and indeed they $v^{301}$  imagined, as you too imagined $v^{302}$ , that Allah will not raise any one.
- 8.  $(l_2, ..., l_2)$  And we sought to reach the heaven<sup>303</sup>, then we found it filled with a strong guard<sup>304</sup> and darting meteors<sup>805</sup>.

- 284. See P. VII. n. 644; P. XXVI. n. 85.
- 285. (to the Holy Quran).
- 286. (to their community on their return to their abode).
- 287. i. e., so superior in its sublimity to all other discourses. ' نرآن with as distinct from النرآن (with the definite article الرآن), means 'a recital or a discourse.'
  - 288. (now, as guided by it).
  - 289. (foolishly violated by the polytheistic peoples in various ways).
- 290. (as implied in the conception of 'goddesses'). In the Hindu mythology, for instance, the male nature of the triad required each of the three gods to be supplemented by a female consort. See also P. V. n. 513; P. VII. n. 651.
  - 291. (as implied in all theories of the Fatherhood of God).
- 292. i. (or lightwittedness) here it is used in respect of religion not in that of wordly affairs.
- 293. i. e., ascribing to Him plurality, sonship, fatherhood, etc. Lis is 'an action, or affair, and a saying, that is extravagant, or exceeding the due bounds.' (LL).
  - 294. (involving as it does incredible audacity).
  - 295. (in their stupidity).
- 296. 'In the belief of the heathen Arabs ......nature is full of living beings of superhuman kind, the Jinn or demons......They have certain mysterious power of appearing and disappearing, or even of changing their aspect and temporarily assuming human form, and when they are offended they can avenge themselves in a supernatural way, i. e., by sending disease or madness.' (Robertson Smith, Religion of the Semites, pp. 119-120). In Arabia the demons were never the objects of a cult, in the strict sense of the word, but on certain occasions, as, for example, at the building of a house, it was thought prudent to conciliate them with some offering, lest they frustrate the work.' (ERE. I. p. 670).
  - 297. (by their acts of adoration).
  - 298. i. e., superstitious men.
  - 299. i.e, the Jinn.
- 300. i. e., conceit and folly, رهن is 'excessive disobedience' or 'foolishness, or stupidity,.....and ill-nature, or evil disposition.'
  - 301. i. e., unbelieving men.
  - 302. (before your conversion to Islam, O genii !).
- 303. (in conformity with our previous practice, to pry into what was transacting there). الس لى نلانا means, 'Seek thou for me such a one.' And the phrase in the text means, 'Verily we sought to reach heavens.' (LL).
  - 304. (of angels).
  - 305. See P. XIV. n. 32.

المعند.

و الكَّرُكُ اللَّهُ الللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ اللَّهُ

- 9. (رانا مددا) And we were wont to sit on seats therein to listen; but whosoever listens<sup>806</sup> now<sup>807</sup> finds for him a darting meteor in wait<sup>808</sup>.
- 10. (دانا) And we do not know whether evil<sup>309</sup> is boded for those on the earth<sup>310</sup>, or their Lord intends for them<sup>311</sup> a right direction.
- 11. (נון ... נון) And of us there are some righteous and of us are some otherwise; we have been following very diverse paths<sup>312</sup>.
- 12. (وانا مريا) And we<sup>313</sup> know<sup>314</sup> that we cannot frustrate Allah in the earth, nor can we elude Him<sup>315</sup> by flight.
- 13. (واتا . . . رهمًا) And when we heard the Message of guidance we believed in it, and whoso believes in his Lord, he shall fear neither diminution nor wrong.
- 14. (وانا . . رشدا) And of us some are Muslims<sup>316</sup>, and some are deviators<sup>317</sup>. Then whoso has embraced Islam —— such have endeavoured after a path of rectitude.
- 15. (واما . . . حطبا) And as to the deviators, they shall be firewood for Hell<sup>118</sup>.
- 16. (ران . . . غدةا) And had they<sup>319</sup> kept to the right path<sup>220</sup>, surely We would have watered them with plentiful rains.
- 17. (انفتهم معدا) That We might try them thereby<sup>321</sup>. And whoso turns aside from the remembrance of his Lord<sup>322</sup>, him He shall thrust into a vehement torment.
- 18. (دان . . . احدا) And prostrations are for Allahaza, so do not call along with Allah anyone.

<sup>306.</sup> i. e., attempts to listen.

<sup>308. (</sup>and all means of access to Divination are now closed). It is a fact too curious to be overlooked by history that a century or two before the birth of the holy Prophet, the ancient oracles found themselves gradually and automatically becoming dumb——a fitting prelude to the advent of Islam. Even the voice of the great Delphic Oracle, so well-known and so important in antiquity, became still. 'As a force in history it had long lost all power; in the first century after Christ. Delphi and Ammon had given place to Chaldaean astrologers, as Strabo and Juvenal agree in saying, and Plutarch wrote a treatise inquiring into the reason; and in the fourth century, when Julian sent to consult the Delphic Oracle, the last response was uttered for him; "Tell the king, to earth has fallen the beautiful mansion; no longer has Phoebus a home, nor a prophetic laurel, nor a fount that speaks: gone dry is the talking water". (DB, Extra volume, p. 155).

- 309. (in the physical sense) i. e., disaster, plague).
- 310. (by their going against this new Prophet.
- 311. (forthwith, and that therefore there will be no opposition to the Prophet).
  - 312. i. e., following divergent paths; some believing and some disbelieving.
  - 313. i. e., the believing genii.
  - 314. (as an article of faith).
  - 315. (anywhere outside and beyond the earth).
  - 316. i. e., have come to accept the doctrine of the Holy Quran.
  - 317. (from the right course).
- 318. At this point ends the discourse of the Jinn among themselves. See verse 1.
  - 319. i. e., the Makkan pagans,
- 320. (and followed the right course—to profit by the example of the Jinn).
- 321. i. e., as to which of them are grateful to God and which of them are not.
  - 322. i. e., true belief in Him.
- 323. (exclusively). ماجد here means, acts of adoration, not places of worship. (Th).

ناون. عَلَى عُوْهُ كَادُوْ الْكُوْنُوْنَ عَلَيْهِ لِبَدًا اللهِ الْمَا أَدْعُوا رَبِّنَ وَلَا الشِّرِكُ بِهَ اَحَدًا اللهِ اَكُلُوْ اللهِ اللهُ اللهِ اللهِ اللهُ اللهِ اللهِ اللهِ اللهِ اللهِ اللهِ اللهُ اللهِ الله

19. (دانه ما المانه) And when the bondman of Allah<sup>324</sup> stood calling upon Him, they almost pressed upon him stifling<sup>225</sup>.

- 20. (اعدا ... ان) Say thou<sup>326</sup>: I simply call upon Allah, and do not associate anyone with Him.
- 21. (آلی . . . رشدا) Say thou: ا<sup>عوم</sup> do not own for you power of hurt nor of benefit<sup>328</sup>.
- 22. (قل . . . ملحدا) Say thou: none can protect me from Allah<sup>329</sup>, nor can I find besides Him any refuge<sup>330</sup>.
- 23. (الأ . . . البدا) Mine is but preaching from Allah<sup>331</sup> and His messages<sup>352</sup>; and whosoever disobeys Allah and His messenger, his portion is the Hell-fire, abiding there for ever.
- 24. (حتٰی . . . مددا) They will go on denying until they³³³ see³³⁴ what they are promised³³⁵. Then they will know³³⁵ who³³¬ is weaker in protectors and fewer in number.
- 25. (قل . . . اسدا) Say thou: ا<sup>338</sup> do not know whether what you are promised<sup>339</sup> is nigh, or whether my Lord has appointed it for a distant term<sup>340</sup>.
- 26. (علم . . . احدا) He is the Knower of the Unseen and He does not disclose His unseen to anyone,
- 27. (الأ . . . رصدا) save to a messenger chosen<sup>341</sup>. And then<sup>342</sup> He causes to go before him and behind him a guard<sup>343</sup>.
- 28. (لبدلم معددا) that He may know<sup>344</sup> that they<sup>345</sup> have delivered<sup>346</sup> the messages of their Lord<sup>347</sup>. And He comprehends whatever is with them<sup>348</sup>, and He keeps count of everything numbered<sup>349</sup>.

- 325. The allusion is to the rough treatment which the Prophet received at the hands of the crowd at Tā'if. His attitude and behaviour on the occasion have won the admiration of even some of his hostile critics. 'Stirred up to hasten the departure of the unwelcome visitor, the people hooted him through the streets, pelted him with stones, and at last obliged him to flee the city, pursued by a relentless rabble. Blood flowed from both his legs.....The mob did not desist until they had chased him two or three miles across the sandy plain to the foot of the surrounding hill.....There is something lofty and heroic in this journey of Mohammed to At-Tāif; a solitary man, despised and rejected by his own people, going boldly forth in the name of God, like Jonah to Nineveh, and summoning an idolatrous city to repent and support his mission. It sheds a strong light on the intensity of his belief in the divine origin of his calling.' (Muir, op. cit., 109-113.
  - 326. (O Prophet!).
  - 327. —— far from being a godling or associate god—.
  - 328. i. e., of myself I am perfectly powerless.
- 329. (——were I to go against Him in any way, and to prove false to my mission——).
- 330. i. e., my only refuge from all kinds of trouble and difficulty is in Him; and I cannot but obey.
  - 331. (of His truths).
- 332. بلاغ implies general and public as opposed to individual and restricted preaching; while صالات, emphasises the total, as opposed to partial, preaching. (Th.
  - 333. i. e., the infidels.
  - 334. (with their own eyes).
  - 335. (and everything is seen in true perspective).
  - 336. i. e., discover for themselves.
  - 337. i. e., which of the two parties—the believing and the unbelieving.
  - 338. ——even I, the chosen apostle of God——.
  - 339. (and the coming of which is absolutely certain).
- 340. So irrespective of its approach or remoteness the coming of Judgement is certain.
  - 341. (and then even to him only such portion of it as He thinks proper.
  - 342. (to keep the secret well-guarded from the devils).
- 343. (of angels at the time the secret is revealed to the apostle). (to keep the secrets well-guarded from the devils).
  - 344. (demonstrably).
  - 345. i. e., the revealing angel and his associates.
  - 346. (to the apostle concerned).
  - 347. (absolutely faithfully; pure and far from any diabolical suggestions).
- 348. i. e., He has surrounded all their doings; He is well aware of all their states and conditions—their reliability, their sinlessness, etc.
- عدماً 349. So He preserves all His Revelations in the mind of the Prophet. عدماً is here used in the sense of مدرها, and is put in the accusative case as a denotative of state. (LL).

The Enwrapped. LXXIII

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 20 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- يا يها المرمل ) O thou enwrapped<sup>350</sup>!
- 2. (قم . . . قليلا) Keep vigil<sup>35</sup> all night save a little ——
- 3. (نصفه . . . قليلا) half of it, or a little less of it*52,
- 4. (اورد , , ترثیلا) or a little more. And intone the Quran with a measured intonation<sup>353</sup>.
- 5. (نئيلا) Verily We I soon We shall be casting on thee a weighty words*4.
- 6. (ان . . . نبلا) Verily the rising by night<sup>355</sup> is most curbing<sup>386</sup> and most conducive to right speech<sup>357</sup>.
  - 7. طویلا) Verily for thee is the day a prolonged occupation ان . . . . طویلا)
- 8. (دادکر . . . نبیلا) And remember thou the name of thy Lord** and devote thyself to Him*** exclusively.
- 9. (رب. . وكلا) Lord of the east and the west<sup>361</sup>! No god is there but He! so take Him for thy trustee.
- 10. (دامبر . . جميلا) And bear thou patiently with what they say<sup>162</sup>, and depart thou from them with a becoming departure<sup>328</sup>.

<sup>350. (</sup>in thy garments). The Prophet is addressed thus, as he sat wrapped up in his mantle, in a melancholy and pensive posture, being reviled by some of the Ouraish, in the early days of his ministry.

- 352. The usual practice of the holy Prophet was to stay up in prayer for long hours every night.
- 353. (in those night prayers as in all other prayers). is signified pronouncing the word or words with ease and correctness: this is the proper signification but the conventional meaning is, being regardful of the places of utterance of the letters, and mindful of the pauses, and the lowering of the voice, and making it plaintive, in reading or reciting. (LL).
- 354. i. e., the Holy Quran. J. like its verb, is also applied to an ideal thing, and signifies'.....momentous, formidable.' (LL).
  - 355. (for the purposes of prayer and contemplation).
- 456. (to passions, and best suited for prayers, recitation of the Qurān and other acts of devotion). Night-time, by reason of the absence of every noise and distracting object, is obviously the best time for meditation and prayer.
- 357. Cf. the OT:—'At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee because of thy righteous judgments.' (Ps. 119: 62). Also the NT:—'And at midnight Paul and Siles prayed, and sang praises unto God.' (Ac. 16: 25).
  - 358. (in both mundane and religious affairs).
  - 359. (at other times of day and night)
- 360. بيل إلى الله means, 'He detached himself from worldy things, and devoted himself to God;.....or he forsook every other thing, and applied himself to the service of God.' (LL).
  - 361. See n. 225 above.
- 362. i. e., the blasphemies they utter against God and the calumnies they utter against thee.
- 363. 'And avoid thou them, i. e., avoid thou associating with them in person, or speaking to them, or entertaining friendship for them in the heart, with an avoiding of a becoming kind.' (LL).

- 11. (زنرنی . . تاپلا) And let Me alone<sup>364</sup> with the beliers, owners of comfort<sup>365</sup> and respite thou them a little<sup>366</sup>.
  - 12. (ان . . . جبيا) Verily with Us are heavy fetters and Scorch,
  - 13. (وطاما . . . اليا) and a food that chokes and a painful torment,
- 14. (کرم...م) on a Day when the earth and mountains<sup>348</sup> shall quake<sup>349</sup>, and the mountains<sup>370</sup> shall become a sand-heap poured forth.
- 15. (الا . . . . الله) Verily We! have sent to you a messenger<sup>371</sup>, a witness over you<sup>372</sup>, as We sent to Fir awn a messenger.
- 16. (نىمئى . . . ويلا) Then Fir awn denied the messenger, therefore We seized him with a painful grip.
- 17. (نکیف . . . شیبا) How then, if you deny, shall you escape, on a Day that will make children grey-headed<sup>373</sup>,
- 18. (السياد . . مفتولا) and the sky will be split therein<sup>874</sup>. His promise is certainly to be accomplished.
- 19. (ان . . . يسيلا) Verily this<sup>274</sup>-A is an admonition; let him therefore, who will<sup>276</sup>, choose a way unto his Lord<sup>276</sup>.
- 364. i.e., busy not thy heart respecting them, and commit their case to Me as I alone can deal adequately with them.
- 365. (and plenty) i. e., rich in the pleasures of this life, who have special cause of gratitude to God.
  - 366. i. e. do not long for their immediate punishment.
  - 367. Like thorns and thistles.
  - 368. (apparently so still and motionless).
  - 369. (and fall into a state of violent commotion and convulsion).

- 370. (now cleft and scattered and fallen into pieces).
- 371. (to reclaim you from sin).
- 372. i. e., bearing witness against you on the Judgment Day.
- 373. (through extreme terror).
- 374. i. e., on that Day of calamity.
- 374-A. i.e., the Quran.
- 375. i. e., who is willing to be admonished and guided.
- 376. (by accepting this code).

المُنْ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ عَنْ مُنْ مُنْ فَعُنُوا اللّهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ

- 20. (رات ... رحم) Verily thy Lord knows that thou<sup>377</sup> stayest up near two-thirds of the night<sup>378</sup>, or a half of it<sup>379</sup>, or a third of it<sup>386</sup>, and also a party of those who are with thee. And Allah measures the night and the day<sup>381</sup>. He knows that you cannot compute it<sup>282</sup>; so He has relented towards you<sup>388</sup>. Recite now of the Qurãn<sup>384</sup> so much as is easy<sup>385</sup>. He knows that there will be among you some diseased<sup>385</sup>, and others shall be travelling in the land seeking grace of Allah<sup>387</sup>, and some others shall be fighting in the cause of Allah. Recite of it, therefore<sup>288</sup>, so much as is easy, and establish the prayer<sup>389</sup>, and pay the poor-rate, and lend unto Allah a goodly loan<sup>390</sup>. Whatsoever good you will send on for your souls<sup>391</sup>, you will find it with Allah, better and greater<sup>392</sup> in reward. And beg forgiveness of Allah; verily Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
  - 377. (O Prophet).
  - 378. (in prayer and meditation).
  - 379. (sometimes).
  - 380. (at other times).
  - 381. (and has the proper measurement of time).
- 382. (with precision and exactitude). In their inability to know exactly what part of the time had passed, some of the early Muslims used to watch the whole night, standing and praying, till their feet swelled.
- 383. (by making the matter easy to you and dispensing with your scrupuous counting of the hours of the night).
  - 384. (in the night prayer).
  - 385 (unto you, and do not tax yourselves too severely).
  - 386, (and infirm).
  - 387. i. e., seeking their livelihood.
  - 388. i. e., for those additional reasons.
  - 389. i.e., the five obligatory prayers.
  - 390. See P. II. n. 627.
  - 391. (by way of meritorious deeds).
  - 392. (then what you sent on during the life of this world).

Sūral-ul-Muddaththir

The Enveloped. LXXIV

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 56 Verses)

In the name Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (يايها المار) O thou enveloped المار)
- 2. (نم مانذر ) Arise<sup>894</sup>, and warn<sup>395</sup>.
- 3. (وَرِبْكُ نَكُمِ ) And magnify thy Lord 396.
- 4. (دثیابك فطیر) And purity thy raiment397.
- 5. (والرجز فاعجر) And shun pollution<sup>308</sup>.
   6. (ولاتمنن تستكثر) And do not bestow thy favour<sup>369</sup> that<sup>400</sup> to obtaining more<sup>401</sup> from them.
  - 7. (ولربك فاصير) And be thou patient for the goodwill of thy Lord.
  - 8. (ناذا . الناقور) Then when the horn sounds الناقور)
  - 9. (نذالك . . عبر) that shall be --- that Day<sup>404</sup> ---- a day hard.
  - 10. (على . . . يسير) for the infidels, not easy.
  - 11. (نرقی . . . وجیدا) Let Me alone with him<sup>405</sup> whom I created lonely.
  - 12. (رجملت . . . معدودا) And for whom 106 l assigned extended wealth,
  - 13. (و بنين شهردا ) and sons present by his side407,
  - 14. (رمهدت له مهيدا) and for whom I smoothed everything408,
  - 15. (غ . . . ازید) and who yet covets that I shall increase الم
  - 16. (کلا . . . غیداً) Certainly not<sup>412</sup> he has been a foe to Our signs.
     17. (مارهنه صورها) Soon<sup>412</sup> I shall afflict him with a fearful woe<sup>413</sup>.
  - 18. (اند. ندر) Surely he<sup>414</sup> considered <sup>115</sup> and devised <sup>116</sup>.
  - Perish he : how maliciously he schemed!

- 20. (غ... قدر) And again perish he! how maliciously he schemed!
- 21. (ثم نظر ) Then looked he417.
- 22. ( ٹر . . . بسر ) Then frowned he, and scowled 418.
- 393. (in thy cloak). The holy Prophet speaking of a break in his early Revelation has said: "(Once) whilst I walked, I heard a voice from heaven and I lifted my eyes—and there was the angel who had come unto me at Hira, sitting on a throne between heaven and earth. And he inspired me with awe, and I returned home and said: "Wrap me up! Wrap me up!" Thereupon Allah, the Most High. sent down: "O thou enveloped! Arise and warn"—to his words "and the pollution shun!" Thereafter the revelation became intensive and continuous.' (Bkh. I: 1).
  - 394. i. e., be steadfast in the duty which is being imposed on thee.
  - 395. This forms the beginning of the public career of the holy Prophet.
  - 396. (preaching His unity).
- 397. (from all uncleanness). 'Or, purify thyself from sins or offence; or, rectify thine actions or thy conduct.' (LL).
  - 398. (of idolatry).
  - 399. (on others)-
  - 400. i. e., in order that; with the object that.
- 401. (in return) i. e., serve God's creatures devotedly and whole-heartedly, not with a view to obtaining from them something in return.
- 402. i. e., endure patiently whatever may befall thee in consequence of thy preaching.
  - 403. (for the second time for congregating at the Resurrection).
  - 404. ——the Day of Reckoning and terrible Reality.
- 405. The allusion is to a particular infidel of the Prophet's time, named Walīd.
- 406. (without any merits on his part). All the blessings a man enjoys are gifts from God, not an outcome of his own merits.
- 407. (and not obliged, like most of the Makkans, to go abroad to seek their livings).
- 408. By facilitating his advancement to power and dignity. For the construction used in the text see n. 246 above.
  - 409. (in his insatiable greed).
  - 410. (My favours and blessings to him).
- 411. i. e.. the wretch is not at all worthy of further favours. The biographers of the holy Prophet have said that after the revelation of this passage Walīd's prosperity began to decline and continued to do so up to the time of his death.
  - 412. i. e., in the Hereafter.

- 413. مبود literally is 'an ascending road; a mountain-road difficult of ascent; a difficult place of ascent.' And الصود is 'A certain mountain in Hell, consisting of fire, which the unbeliever will ascend during a period of seventy years, after which he will fall down it, and thus he will do for ever.' (LL).
  - 414. i. e., the sworn enemy of Islam.
  - 415. i. e., employed his mind in respect of the Qur'an.
  - 416. (certain contumelious expressions to ridicule the Holy Qur'an).
- 417. (at the audience, as if deliberating whether he should share his obnoxious views with them).
  - 418. (as if in great aversion).

- 23. (غر . . . استكر) Then turned he back, and grew stiff-necked419.
- 24. (نقال . . . وز) Then he said: naught is this but magic from of old420,
- 25. (ان . . . الشر) naught is this but the word of man<sup>421</sup>.
- 26. (ساصليه سقر) Soon I shall roast him in the Scorching Fire 422.
- 27. (وما . . . غز) And what knows thou what the Scorching Fire is ?
- 28. (, ێ, , , ) It shall not spare any one guilty 423, nor leave 424.
- 29. (الماحة الشر) Scorching the skin425.
- 30. (عليها . . . عنر) Over it are appointed nineteen angels428.
- 31. (رما . . . البغر) And We have appointed none but the angels<sup>427</sup> to be wardens of the Fire<sup>428</sup>. And We have made this number only a trial for them who disbelieve, so that those who are vouchsafed the Book may be convinced<sup>429</sup>, and that the faithful may increase in faith, and that those who are vouchsafed the Book and the faithful may not dubitate, and that those in whose heart is a disease<sup>430</sup> and the infidels may utter: what does Allah mean by this description? Thus does Allah send astray whom He will, and guide whom He will. And none knows the hosts of thy Lord<sup>431</sup> but He. And this<sup>432</sup> is not but an admonition to man.

- 32. (کلا . . . والغر ) Nay I And by the moon,
- 33. (د اليل اذ ادر) and by the night when it withdraws د اليل اذ ادر)
- 34. (دالصبح اذ اسفر) and by the morning when it brightens.
- 35. (اتها ما Surely it is one of the greatest woes,
- 36. (نذيرا البشر ) a warning to mankind ——

<sup>419. (</sup>to show still more that he detested the Holy Qur'an from the bottom of his soul.)

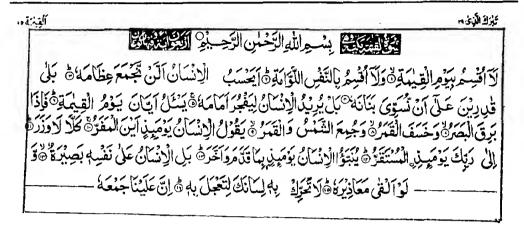

- 420. i. e., borrowed from others; transmitted from the writings of the former generations.
  - 421. (and not of God).
  - 422. See S. LIV. v. 48.
  - 423. i. e., show mercy by allowing anyone to escape.
  - 424. (anything unburnt).
  - 425. (and blackening it).
- 426. (angels). The number corresponds to the nineteen major articles of faith:—
  - (a) belief in the existence of,
    - (1) God.
    - (2) the perishability of the universe.
    - (3) the existence of His angels.
    - (4) His Books.
    - (5) His prophets.
    - (6) Predestination.
    - (7) the Day of Judgment.
    - (8) Heaven, and
    - (9) Hell;
  - (b) and belief in what is known as the five pillars of Islam, namely,
    - (10) His Unity, and the messengership of His Prophet.
    - (11) the commandment of Prayer.
    - (12) the commandment of Fasting.
    - (13) the commandment of Zakat, or poor-rate.
    - (14) the commandment of Hajj, or pilgrimage.
  - (c) and belief in the five well-known prohibitions, namely,
    - (15) the prohibition against blasphemous speech.
    - (16) the prohibition against theft.
    - (17) the prohibition against murder.
    - (18) the prohibition againt calumny.
    - (19) the prohibition against wickedness in general. (Th.)
- 427. Well-noted for their strength, and because they can have no fellow folling and compassion for the sufferings of men.
  - is not a companion, but an attendant. اصاب النار in صاحب
  - 429. (of the veracity of the Qur'an).
  - 430. i e., the disease of doubt and scepticism.
  - 431. ——countless as they are——
- 432. i. e., the description of Hell, apart from all consideration of the number of its wardens or attendants.
  - 433. i. e., as it retreats to depart.
  - 434. i. e., Hell.

The Resurrection. LXXV

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 40 Verses)

In the name of Aliah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (لا . . . النبة) I swear456 by the Day of Resurrection.
- 2. (ولا . ي الله الله) and I swear by the self-reproaching soul457,
- 3. (ایکسب . . . عظامه) does man imagine<sup>458</sup> that We shall not gather his bones<sup>459</sup>?
- 4. (الله منابه) Yes<sup>460</sup>! We are Able to put together evenly<sup>461</sup> his very fingertips<sup>462</sup>.
  - 5. (يل ... امامه) Aye I man desires that he may go on468 sinning464.
  - 6. (سئل . . القيمه) He questions465, when will be the Day of Resurrection ?
  - 7. (ناذا . . . البصر) When, then<sup>466</sup>, the sight shall be dazed<sup>467</sup>,
  - القبر) and the moon shall be eclipsed<sup>168</sup>,
  - 9. (رجمع . . . القبر) and the sun and the moon shall be joined469,
  - 10. (يقول . . . المانر) Man, on that Day, shall say 170: whither to flee ?
  - 11. (کلا لا وزر) Certainly no refuge on that Day.
  - 12. (الى . . . المنقر) To thy Lord  $^{472}$  that Day shall be the recourse.
- 13. (مِنْوَا . . . اخر) To man shall be declared that Day what he has sent on<sup>473</sup> and left behind<sup>474</sup>?
  - 14. (بل . . . به بيرة) Aye I man shall be an evidence against himself ابل . . . به بيرة)

- 15. (ولر . . . مناذره) though he may put forth pleas مناذره.
- 16. (4...) Move not<sup>477</sup> thy tongue therewith<sup>478</sup> that thou mayest hasten<sup>479</sup>.
  - 456. See P. XXVII. n. 405.
- 457. i. e., the soul that is ever conscious of having offended, or of failing of perfection, notwithstanding its endeavours to do its duty, and thus hoping to reach salvation.
  - 458. i. e., the infidel who denies the possibility of Resurrection.
  - 459. (after he is dead, and raise him again).
- 460. i. e., We shall surely reunite them. is here meant to convey reproof.
  - 461. (as they had been).
  - 462. i. e., even the smallest parts of the human body.
  - 463. i. e., go on sinning and committing abominations.
- 464. i. e., for all the time that lies before him, discarding the fear of Resurrection.
  - 465. (not by way of simple inquiry, but in a spirit of denial and defiance).
  - 466. i. e., let the scoffer note.
  - 467. (and dazzled, so that man shall not be able to see).
- 468. (and darkened). This express mention of the moon has particular reference to the high dignity of the moon-god in the Arab pantheon.
  - 469. (in the loss of their light).
  - 470, (in utter consternation).
  - 471. (shall he find no time or place of refuge).
  - 472. (and to none other).
  - 473. (of his own deeds).
  - 474. (of their example, good or bad, to be followed by later generations).
- 475. i. e., sufficient evidence apart from all records, his own conscience will testify to his guilt; every sin of his will be manifest unto him. Man is created self-conscious; he has in him the power of making or unmaking himself. The reference is here clearly to that inward judge—conscience—whose vigilance none can evade and from whose judgment there is no escape.
- 476 (to excuse himself falsely). It is the Holy Quran which, with all the lustre and brilliance of a newly discovered truth, awakened in man the idea of his accountability to God, and inculcated in mankind the doctrine of man's being a moral agent.
  - 477. (O Prophet).
- 478. i. e., with this Quran, repeating the revelations brought to thee by Gabriel, before he has finished the same. Says Ibn 'Abbas: The apostle of Allah was severely affected by the revelation, and was wont to move his lips......Thereupon Allah, the Most High, sent down "Move not thy tongue therewith that thou mayest make haste with it. Verily upon Us is the collecting thereof and the reading thereof"......And after that, when Gabriel came unto him, the apostle of Allah would (only) listen, and when Gabriel departed the Prophet would recite it as he (i. e., Gabriel) had recited it.' (Bkh. I. 1:6).

479. i. e., with a view to commit it to memory all the more quickly. 'Faced as he was with the tremendous responsibility of exactly reproducing the Word of God, the Prophet was afraid lest he should forget the words of the Revelation; he, therefore, used to repeat them rapidly while Gabriel was speaking.' (ASB. p. 21).

- 17. (ان . . . قرآنه) Verily upon Us<sup>480</sup> is the collecting of it<sup>482</sup> and the reciting of it<sup>482</sup>.
- 18. (مَانَا مَا اللهُ So when We recite الأهام follow thou the reciting thereof<sup>484</sup>.
  - 19. (غير ميانه) And thereafter upon Us is the expounding of it<sup>485</sup>.
  - 20. (کلا . . . الماجلة) By no means486! Verily you love the Herein487,
  - 21. (وتذرون الأخرة) and leave the Hereafter 488.
  - 22. (وجره . . . ناخرة) Faces on that Day shall be radiant,
  - 23. (الى . . . ناظرة) looking towards their Lord 490.
  - 24. (ورجوه من السرة) And faces on that Day shall be scowling الروجوه من السرة)
- 25. (تَعَانَ . . . عَانَ ) apprehending that there will befall them a calamity waist-breaking.
- 26. (کلا . . . التراني) By no means 493 I When it 494 comes up to the collar-bone 495,
  - 27. (وفيل . . . راق) and it is cried aloud496: where is the enchanter497?
  - 28. (وظن . . . الفراق) and he498 thinks that it is the time of parting499,
  - 29. (والتنت . . . بالساق) and shank is entangled with shank500.
  - 30. (الى . . . الماق) The drive that Day is unto thy Lord501.

- 31. (ملي . . . ملي) He<sup>502</sup> neither believed nor prayed.
- 32. (دلکن . . . وترای) Indeed, he belied and turned away هما ا
- 33. (ثم . . . يتعطلي) Then he departed to his family conceitedly.
- 34. (ارلي . . نادلي) Woe to thee<sup>508</sup>, woe I

- 35. (غم . . . فاراي) And again woe to thee, woe!
- 36. (انجسب مدی) Does man imagine that he is to be left uncontrolled ما المحسب مدی)
- 38. (ئے... نسوی) Then he became a clot; then Allah created  $him^{508}$  and formed  $him^{609}$ .
  - 39. (نجيل . . الأنتان) And He made of him the two sexes, male and female,
- 40. (اليس . . المرتى) Is not That One<sup>510</sup> then .\ble to quicken the dead<sup>51</sup>?
  - 480. i. e., incumbent upon Us.
  - 481. (in thy mind).
  - 482. i. e., teaching thee its true recital.
  - 483. (unto thee by the tongue of Our angel).
- 484. (silently and attentively without repeating it so that it may become firmly-rooted in thy understanding).
  - 485. (to the people, by thy tongue).
- 486. (can ye escape the inevitable Doom? O pagans of Makka!). The parentheses finished, there is reversion to the original theme.
- 487. i. e, the life of this world. الماجلة signifies the present hour or time, and the present dwelling, abode, world, life, or state of existence: countrary of الاجله (LL).
- 488. That it was really the enjoyment of this material life and material gains that was at the root of the obstinate pagan opposition to the teaching of the Qurān and the Prophet is recognised even by historians hostile to Islam. 'The more clearly they perceived that Mohammad's claims as a prophet might endanger their priestly position and their lucrative privileges as guardians of holy temple, the more fiercely did their anger burn, and the more vehement became their threats and abuses,' (HHW. VIII. pp. 115-116). 'The vehement opposition which Muhammed encountered is to be explained as due......partly to the desire of retaining certain material advantges which were inseparably connected with the local sanctuaries.' (ERE. I. p. 659).
  - 489. (of the faithful).
  - 490. (in joy and hope).
  - 491. (of the infidels).
  - 492. i e., with excessive contracted expressions of fear.
  - 493. (shall ye be able to escape the Doom).
  - 494. i. e., the soul departing from the body.
  - 495. (in the agony of death).

- 496. (by the attendants and the standers-by in despair).
- 497. (who can charm him out of death and thus save him at the last minute?)
- 498. i. e., the patient in the last stage of his disease; the man on his deathbed.
  - 499. i. e., the time of his departure from this world.
  - 500. (in extreme agony, as is usual with dying persons).
  - 501. (and His judgement).
  - 502. i. e., the infidel persons.
  - 503. (the Message and the messenger).
  - 504. (from the truth).
  - 505. (O thou infidel wretch!).
- 506. i. e., free to lead an aimless life, and with no responsibility for his actions.
- 507. i. e., a creature originally so insignificant. Incidentally, this repudiates the doctrine of the sanctity of human semen. Even Christian sects have been known to deify the seminal secretion. The Carpocrations, for instance, while forbidding procreation, 'divinized the spermatic fluid. It is quite probable that the Cathers were given to similar excesses, and specially that his disciples, the troubadours, were.' (Dr. Rongemont, Passion and Society, p. 111).
  - 508. (as a man).
  - 509. (with just proportions).
- 510. i. e., the All-Powerful Creator; the Doer and Performer of all these things.
  - 511. Which is a thing far easier than the original creation.

Sūrat-un-Nabā

The Announcement, LXXVIII

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 40 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (عم بسالون) Of what are they asking?
- 2. (من . . المطبي) Of the fateful Announcement2,
- 3. (الذي عنافرن) concerning which they differ.
- 4. (کلا سیملمون) No, indeed they shall soon know the truth.
- 5 (غ . . . سيملدون) Again, no indeed5, they shall soon Know the truth.
- 6. (الم . . . بهدا) Have We not made the earth an expanses,
- 7. (دالجال ارتادا) and the mountains as stakes?
- 8. (رخلتنكم ازراجا) And We have created you in pairs8.
- 9. (رجيلا . . . باتا) And We have made your sleep a rest*.
- 10. (رجلتا . . . الإسا) And We have made the night a covering 10.
- 11. (رجمانا . معاشا) And We have made the day for seeking livelihood11.
- 12. (بنیا . . . غدادا) And We have built over you seven strong heavens.
- 13. (رجملنا . . . رماجا) And We have set therein a lamp glowing.
- 14. (دائولاً... غُباجا) And We have sent down from the rain-clouds abundant water.

- 15. (لنخرج . . . ناتا) So that We bring forth from them corn and vegetation,
- 16. (وجنت الفافا) and gardens thick with trees 13.
- 17. (ان . . . ميناتا) Verily the Day of Decision is an appointed time ---
- 18. (یوم...انواجا) a Day whereon the Trumpet will be blown, and you will come<sup>15</sup> in multitudes<sup>16</sup>.
- 19. (رنتحت . . . ابرابا) And the sky will have been opened and it will have become as doors<sup>17</sup>.
  - 1. i. e., the pagans of Makka.
- 2. i. e., the Day of Resurrection. Us is not only 'tidings' but also signifies 'An announcement of great utility, from which results either knowledge or a predominance of opinion, and truth.' (LL).
- 3. (with the believers, and also among themselves some denying it altogether, others doubting it).
  - 4. (they cannot escape).
  - 5. (they cannot escape).
  - 6. (to lie upon, to sit upon and to walk and run upon).
  - 7. (to fix the earth). See P. XIII. n. 203; P. XIV. n. 33.
  - 8. i. e., male and female.
- 9. This stresses the biological fact that sleep is not something negative, a cessation of activities, a mere state of unconciousness, but a positive, potent factor in life——its recurring rejuvenator, its sweet restorer. Sleep is in fact one of the greatest Divine boons to man. It is sleep that gives millions of body-cells every opportunity to recoup themselves, get rid of the fatigue poison and get ready for the next period of wakefulness. Psychological research has revealed that lack of sleep kills humans and higher animals quicker than starvation. See also P. XXI. n. 131.
  - 10. As it covers or conceals everything by its darkness.
- 11. This gives expression, incidentally though, to a very profound scientific fact. 'The food of all living things comes ultimately from plants which, in the presence of sunlight, and only in that presence, and in virtue of its actions upon their green leaves, manufacture starch and sugar from the carbonic acid which exists in the air and water around them, whilst they are also thus enabled to take up nitrogen, and so to form their living substance or protoplasm. At night these particles or cells of the living protoplasm of plants which are furnished with transparent green granules, so as to entangle the sun-light, and by its aid feed on carbonic acid, cease this work. They necessarily repose from their labour because the light has gone. This is the simplest examples of the sleep of living things....This alternation of activities in day and night occurs even in the invisible microscopic vegetation of pools and streams. Animals even the most minute, only visible with a strong miscroscope—move about in search of "bits" of food—in fact, bits of other animals or plants—and they, too, are, with special exceptions, checked in their search for food by the darkness, for even extremely minute and simple animals are guided in their search by light, that is to say, by a more or less efficient sense of sight. (Lankester, Science from an Easy Chair, pp. 157-159). Thus even the most rudimentary forms of 'livelihood' are performable only in day time.

- 12. (is such a One, then, not Able to bring about Resurrection?)
- 13. Or 'of Distinction between good and evil.'
- 14. (heralding Judgment).
- 15. (to judgment, O mankind!).
- 16. Or 'in bands,' grouped as believers and infidels of various communities.
- 17. Perhaps for the angels to pass through.

المتان من المناف الله المناف المن المنظاف من من المنظلة المناف ا

- 20. (رسیرت) And the mountains will have been removed away<sup>18</sup>, and they will have become as mirage.
  - 21. (ان . . . مرصادا) Verily Hell is an ambuscade ----
  - 22. (الطاغين . . ما ما ) a receptacle for the exorbitant.
  - 23. (لبثين . . . احقايا) For ages20 they will tarry therein
  - 24. (الله ما They will not taste therein cool<sup>21</sup> or any drink,
  - 25. (الأ . . . غـانا) save scalding water and corruption<sup>22</sup>,
  - 26. (جزا. دفاقا) recompense fitted<sup>23</sup>,
  - 27. (انهم . . . حسابا) Verily they were wont not to look for a reckoning<sup>24</sup>.
  - 28. (وكذبوا . . . كذابا) And they belied Our signs totally 25.
  - 29. (بكل . . . كتبا) And We have recorded every thing in a Book26.
- 30. (ندر قرا . . . عذایا) Taste therefore 27. We shall only increase you in torment 28.

- 31. (ان . . . منازا) Verily for the pious is an achievement**.
- 32. (حداثق واعنابا) Gardens enclosed and vine-yards,
- 33. (وكواعب ازرابا) and full-breasted maidens of equal agean,
- 34. (وكاسا دماتا) and an overflowing cup<sup>81</sup>.
- 35. (いぶ...ソ) They will hear therein no babble or falsehood ——.
- 36. (برآ. . . ـ خاباً) a recompense from thy Lord, a gift sufficient,
- 37. (رب . . . خطابا) from the Lord of the heavens and the earth and of what is in-between<sup>32</sup>, the Compassionate with whom they<sup>33</sup> cannot demand audience<sup>34</sup>.
  - 38. (روم . . صوایا) The Day whereon the souls and the angels will stand arrayed<sup>26</sup>, they will not be able to speak<sup>37</sup>, except whom the Compassionate gives leave<sup>28</sup> and who speaks aright.

- 39. (دلك . . . غايا) That is the Sure Day. Let him who wills seek a way back to his Lord 40.
- 40. (1,7...1) Verily We have warned you of an imminent chastisement, a Day whereon a man will see what he has sent forth<sup>41</sup>, and the infidel will say<sup>42</sup>: would that I had been dust<sup>43</sup>!
  - 18. (from their place).
  - 19 (the angels whereof are lying in wait for the guilty).
  - 20, (Interminable).
  - 21. (refeshing or comforting to them).
  - 22. See P. XXIII. n. 465. غياق may also mean 'intensely cold.'
  - 23. (to their deeds)
- 24. The words imply that the offence was habitual, not isolated. The offenders disregarded the hard fact of their accountability wilfully and persistently.
  - 25. (by their words and deeds).
  - 26. (of records).
  - 27. This will be said to the inmates of Hell.
  - 28. i, e., every change in your torments will be only for the worse.
  - 29. i. e., supreme fulfilment of their hearts' desires.
  - 30. (with themselves, as companions). For جراب See P. XXVII. n. 374ff.
  - 31. (with heavenly drinks).
- 32. Even the atmosphere separating sky and earth has been held sacred, and worshipped either directly for itself or as animated by some special Deity, by several polytheistic communities. The 'invisible beings who are supposed to hover between heaven and earth, that is, whose proper abode is the circumambient atmosphere... are called Air-Gods,' and are described at length in the pages of the ERE. (I. p. 222 ff). Amulets of Shu, (the atmosphere in Egypt), were made in the XIIth dynasty and were common about the XXXth.' (Petrie Religious Life in Ancient Egypt, p. 3).
  - 33. i. e., any of His creatures however exalted they may be.
- 34. (or argument, as of right). This does away with the doctrines of Mediation' 'and Intercession' altogether.
- 35. i e.. the possessors of souls. الروح is here used in the generic sense, the singular standing for the class.

- 36, (with due reverance and awe of the Almighty).
- 37. Neither far themselves nor on behalf of others.
- 38. (to speak).
- 39. (to ensure his salvation).
- 40. (by embracing the true faith).
- 41. (of good and evil deeds, and will be face to face with absolute Reality).
- 42. (in extreme anguish).
- 43. (so that I had escaped the doom).

Sūrat-un-Nāziāt

Those That Drag Forth. LXXIX

(Makkan, 2 Sections and 46 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (والنزعت غرقا) By the angels who drag forth vehemently44.
- 2. (الشطت نشطا) By the angels who release 45 most gently 44.
- 3. (والبيحت سيحا ) By the angels who glide swimmingly47,
- 4. (قالسبقت سنقا ) and who then speed with foremost speed48.
- 5. (قالديرت احرا) and who then manage the affair decreed49.
- 6. (يرم . . . الراجنة) A Day shall come when the quaking will quake 51.
- 7. (تنميا الرادنة ) And there will follow it the next blast.
- 8. (قلرب . . . واجفة) Hearts 12 that Day will be throbbing 13.
- 9. (ابصارها خاشعة ) Their looks will be downcast**.
- 10. (يقولون . . . الحائرة) They<sup>55</sup> are saying<sup>56</sup>: shall we indeed be restored to our former state<sup>67</sup>,
  - 11. (ماذا من غزة) after we have become decayed bones58?
- 12. (قالوا . . . خاسرة) They are saying<sup>59</sup>: that indeed shall be a losing return<sup>60</sup>?
  - 13. (الأنما . . . واحدة) In fact, it will be only a scaring shout.
  - 14. (قادام بالسامرة) And lo! they all shall appear on the surface.
  - 15. (مل . . . موسلي) Has there come to thee the story of Mūsā?

- 16. (اد . . . طری) Recall when thy Lord called to him in the holy vale of Tuwā<sup>64</sup>.
  - 17. (انمب ما طفي) go thou<sup>65</sup> to Fir'awn; verily he has waxed exorbitant<sup>66</sup>.
  - 18. (نال من ترکی) Then say thou<sup>67</sup>: wouldst thou be purified<sup>68</sup>?
- 19. (رامدیك . . . تنخشى) I shall guide thee to thy Lord, so that thou shalt fear<sup>19</sup>,
  - 20 (فارئه . . . الكبرى) Then he showed him the great sign<sup>70</sup>.
- 44. (the soul of the infidels from their bosoms). The angel of death, with his assistants, will pull the souls of the wicked from the inmost parts of their bodies in a most rough and cruel manner.
  - 45. (the souls of the believers).
  - 46. i. e., with the utmost ease.
  - 47. (through the air, taking human souls with them).
- 48. (to execute the command of God respecting these souls). 'The angels that precede with the souls of the believers to Paradise and with the souls of the unbelievers to Hell.' (LL).
  - 49. (by God).
  - 50. (at the first blast of the trumpet).
- 51. (the whole universe, and the motionless bodies shall be in a state of violent motion).
  - 52. (of the wicked).
  - 53. (with great agitation and will be in a most disturbed condition).
  - 54. (with shame, humiliation and terror).
  - 55. i. e., the Makkan pagans.
  - 56. (in mockery and defiance).
  - 57. (after being raised from the dead).
- 58. Much like the whitened skeletons of dead camels which still strew the path of countless pilgrims in Arabia.
  - 59. (by way of sarcasm).
  - 60. i. e., a return full of loss to us.
  - 61. (compelling them to rise).
  - 62. (of the earth wide-awake).
  - 63. (O Prophet!).
  - 64. See P. XVI. n. 262.
  - 65. (as Our apostle). See P. XVI, n. 270.
  - 66. See P. XVI. n. 271.
  - 67. (to him, O Moses!).

- 68. (of sin and infidelity) i. e., hast thou an inclination, or will, to becoming pure? The phrase is elliptical. The commentators generally supply عبل after. The particle الله is here used in the sense of i, as it imports the meaning of invitation.
- 69. (Him, and lead a pious life). Note that even to an arch-rebel like Pharaoh, Divine guidance was easily available.
- 70. (of his prophethood). The word is used in a generic sense. Compare Sūrah Tāhā verse 56:—And assuredly We showed him Our signs, all of them, but he denied and rejected.'

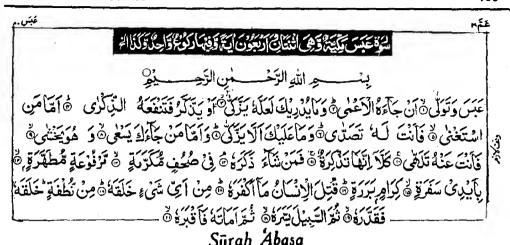

النهائة الله وَعَضَ أَلْمُ اللهُ مُكَالَمُ اللهُ عَصَلَمُ فَعَشَرٌ فَنَادَى فَ فَقَالَ انَارَجُكُو الْاَعْلَقُ فَاخَذَهُ اللهُ نَكَالَ الْاَحِرَةِ وَالْاُولُ فَيْ فَا فَرَادُ عَلَى فَاخَذَهُ اللهُ نَكَالَ الْاَحِرَةِ وَالْاُولُ فَيْ فَا فَا مُنَادًى فَيْ فَالْمَانَ وَعَلَمُ اللهُ مَكَالًا اللهُ حَرَةً فَلَا اللهُ وَاللهُ وَاللهُ اللهُ مُكَالًا اللهُ وَاللهُ اللهُ مَكَامُ اللهُ اللهُ مَنْ عَلَى اللهُ وَاللهُ اللهُ اللهُ وَاللهُ اللهُ وَاللهُ اللهُ اللهُ وَاللهُ وَال

- 21. (نكذب ر عمي) Yet he belied and rebelled 71.
- 22. (نم . . . بسمى) Then he turned back striving 72.
- 23. (نحشر ننادى ) Then he gathered his people? and cried aloud.
- 24. (نقال . . . الأعلى) And he said<sup>14</sup> : I am your Lord, most high<sup>78</sup>.
- 25. (ناغذه . . . الأولى) Thereupon Allah selzed him with the chastisement of the Hereafter and the present.
  - 26. (ان . . . يخنى) Surely herein is a lesson for him who fear 16.

- 27. (انتم . . . بنها) Are you harder to create or the sky He hath built?7 ?
- 28. (رام . . . فسرها ) He raised its height and perfected it.
- 29. (راغطش . . منحها) And He has made its night dark and its sunshine bright.
  - 30. (دالارض . . . د حها) And thereafter, he stretched out the earth?8.
- 31. (اخرج . . . مرعها) And He brought forth therefrom its water and its pasture.
  - 32. (دالجال ارسها) And He set firm the mountains ----
  - 33. (متاعل . . . لانامكم) a provision for you and your cattle,
  - 34. (ناذا . . . المكبرى ) Then when the Grand Calamity comes
- 35. (پرم . . . سري) the Day whereon man will remember what he had striven for.
- 36. (دبروت . . . يرى) And the Scorch will be made apparent to anyone who sees.
  - ا نا ما من طغی ) Then as for him who waxed exorbitant,
  - ع8. (دائر . . . الدنيا) and who chose the life of this world*1,

- 39. (قان . . . الماوى) verily the Scorch shall be his resort.
- 40. (د اما . . . . الهرى) And as for him who dreaded standing before his Lord, and restrained his soul from desires**,
  - 41. (نان . . . المادي ) verily the Garden shall be his resort.
- 42 (بستارنك . . . مرسها) They ** question thee ** regarding the Hour —— when will its arrival be ?
- 43. (نی . . . ذکرما) By no reason art thou concerned with the declaration . thereof<sup>55</sup> ?
- 44. (الى منتهما) Unto thy Lord is the knowledge of the limit fixed thereof.
- 46. (نجم ... نحما) On the Day whereon they<sup>38</sup> see it, it will appear to them as though they had not tarried<sup>89</sup> save an evening or the morning<sup>90</sup>.
  - 71. (the messenger of God).
  - 72. (against Moses).
  - 73. (the magicians).
  - 74. (in the vanity of his power as well as superstition).
- 75. The Pharaohs believed themselves to be the visible gods, begotten by God, and themselves the Divine begetters of their wives' children. Each of the Pharaohs, so long as he reigned, was considered to be the living image of and vicegerent of the sun-god, invested with the attributes of Divinity, and presumed to be of the like nature with the gods. 'While it easily happened that conspicuous individuals after death came to be regarded by a later generations as effective gods, the cult of the actually living king prevailed in both Babylonia and Egypt and royal statues were objects of worship. In the Amarna Letters (about 1400 B. C) the petty princes of Syria and Palestine address the reigning Pharaoh as "my sun-god" or "my god" (EMK, II. p. 1046) See also P. XIX. n. 182; P. XX. n. 207,
  - 76. (O pagans!)
- 77. This draws attention to man's insignificance in the vast scheme of God's Universe.
  - 78. (which had already been created).
- 79. Which 'are the main reservoirs for the storage and gradual distribution of water, the very basis for the life of man and the beast.' (AYA).
  - 80. (sorting out everything according to its true value):
  - 81. (denying the life to come altogether).
  - 82. i. e., from gratifying unlawful lusts.
  - 83. i. e., the Makkan pagans.

- 84. (O Prophet!).
- 85. It is not the business of any of His prophets to announce the exact hour and date of the Resurrection.
  - 86. i. e., one who announces its sure arrival, not its exact hour or date.
  - 87. i. e.. the Judgment-Day.
  - 88. (who are now clamouring for its immediate advant).
  - 89. (in the world).
- 90. The pronoun له refers to عشبة because the ضعبة and مشبة belong to the same day.

He Frowned. LXXX

(Makkan, 1 Section, 42 Verses,)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

SECTION 1

- 1. (عبس د نولی) He<sup>91</sup> frowned and turned away,
- 2. (ان . . . الاعير) because there came to him a blind man 92,
- 3. (رما . . . يزكى) How canst thou know<sup>93</sup>, whether he might be cleansed<sup>94</sup>,
- 4. (اد ... الذكرى) or be admonished 5, so that the admonition might have profited him 6 ?
  - 5. (اما . . . استننى) As for him who regards himself self-sufficient ---
  - 6. (نانت أ. . تصدى) to him thou attendestss ;
  - 7. ( $(x_1, x_2, \dots, x_n)$ ) whereas it is not on thee 99 that he 100 is not cleansed 101.
  - 8. (راما . . . يسمى) And as for him who comes to thee running ارداما . . . يسمى
  - 9. ( رهر يخشى ) and he fears المريخشي )
  - 10. نايع ) him thou neglectest<sup>104</sup>.
  - 11. (کلا . . . ندکرة) No Indeed 105! verily it 106 is an admonition 107.
  - 12. (ننن . . . ذکره) So whosoever wills108, let him be admonished with
  - 13. (ن . . . مكرمة) inscribed in honoured Writs<sup>110</sup>,
  - 14. (مرفوعة مطهرة) exalted<sup>121</sup>, purified<sup>213</sup>,
  - 15. (بایدی سفرة) by the hands of scribes,

it100_

- 16. (كرام بردة ) honourable, virtuous<sup>113</sup>.
- 17. اكتره) Perish man! how ingrate he is!
- 18. (من . . خاته) Of what has He created him?
- 19. (من . . . نقد ره) Of a drop of seed. He created him and set him in a proper form<sup>114</sup>.
  - 20. (ئى . . . بسر ) Then He made easy the way 115.
  - 21. (ع الرم) Then He caused him to die and be buried.
  - 91. i. e., the holy Prophet.
- 92. i. e., certain believer, named 'Abdullah ibn Umm Maktūm, a man 'of little consideration.' (Muir, op. cit., p. 66) Once the holy Prophet, while he was engrossed in earnest discourse with some of the principal Quraish whose conversion he had long cherished, was interrupted by a blind Muslim. The Prophet, habitually so solicitous for the poor and lowly, apprehended that at the moment the haughty Quraish would take umbrage at this importunity of a 'commoner' and would make it a pretext for their immediately leaving his company, and in the interest of Islam ignored the intruder and turned away his face from him.
  - 93. (with thy limited human knowlege, O Prophet!),
  - 94. (from his sins altogether by thy attending to his questions).
  - 95. (in regard to a particular affair).
- 96. (in either case). The obedient Muslim was in any case sure to profit by the precept of the Prophet.
- 97. (and therefore pays no heed to thy precepts). The allusion is to the haughty Quraish chieftains.
- 98. (from thy solicitude to strengthen the cause of Islam by enlisting the support of the influential members of the Quraish tribe).
  - 99. i. e., no responsibility rests on thee, O Prophet!
  - 100. i.e., the heedless, undutiful and arrogant person.
  - 101. (from the filth of infidelity).
  - 102. i. e., earnestly inquiring about matters of faith.
  - 103. (God and therefore has a will to learn).
- 104. (although impelled by the earnestness of thy zeal to convert the rich pagans).
- 105. (shouldst thou act thus in future). This incident shows the tender and ready perception by Mohammad of the slight he had offered, and the magnanimity with which he could confess his fault.' (Muir. op. cit. p. 66). Mohammad is justly praised for the magnanimous spirit shown in this passage. Throughout his career we rarely find him courting after the favour of the rich or the great, and he was ever ready to recognise merit in the poorest of his followers.' (Rev. E. M. Wherry).

Such is the verdict of anti-Muslims and Christians!

- 106. i. e., the Holy Qur'an.
- 107. (open to everybody). This is the Book which today is accepted by nearly four hundred million human beings as containing the Creator's final message to mankind. Its influence on the course of history has obviously been immense, and will as obviously continue to be extremely great. The Koran was the prime inspiration of a religious movement which gave rise to a civilization of wide extent, vast power, and profound vitality......No man seeking to live in the same world as Islam, and to understand the affairs of Islam, can afford to regard lightly or to judge ignorantly, the Book that is called the Koran. It is among the greatest movements of mankind, It surely deserves and demands to be more widely known and better comprehended in the West.' (Arbery's The Holy Koran, p. 33, Italics ours).

  - 137. (and they shall forget their mutual animosity).
  - 138. The biggest expanse of water.
- 139. (with fire). At the first blast of the Trumpet all seas shall flow forth one into another, and thus become one sea, and then shall be kindled and become fire.
  - 140. Now begin the happenings at the second blast of the Trumpet
- 141. i. e., united with their fellows; like will be joined with like; each sect, or party, shall be united with those whom it has followed.
- as soon as they were born, for the fear that they should be impoverished by providing for them, or should suffer disgrace on their account.' (Sale) 'At that time there were many survivals of barbarism among the inhabitants of central Arabia. For instance, the practice of burying newborn daughters alive was very general.' (HHW. VIII. p. 8) 'Amongst the Arabs before Mohammad.....sons were preserved, but daughters were usually buried alive.' (ERE. I. pp. 3, 4) 'At any rate in some places and sometimes, there was a strong pressure of publ.c opinion against sparing any daughter, even though she were the only child of her parents' (Robertson Smith. Kinship and Marriage in Early Arabia, pp. 129-30). In India the practice continued so late as the middle of the nineteenth century. 'Among all the races of India; there is none more noble than the Rajput; and among the Rajputs. the first rank belongs to the Chuhans......These people are numerous in the United Provinces. In the district of Mainpuri there are more than 30.000 of them, and not about sixty years ago it was discovered that among them was not a single girl. Every daughter that was born was killed. The higher the rank of the family the more constant and systematic was the crime......This is not rhetoric but the statement of a fact. In 1856 special inquiries were instituted. It was found that this practice of infanticide although especially prevalent among the Rajputs, was by no means confined to them, and it was common not only in the Agra province but in Oudh, the Punjab, and in parts of the Bombay Presidency. Numbers of villages were visited where there was not a single girl and where there had never been one within the memory of man..... In 1869 another investigation showed that there was little change for the better.' (Strachey, India, 4th Ed., pp. 433-34) Infanticide of female infants has been practised in India from unknown times amongst the ancient Gakkhar race in the Punjab, and it has been a constant custom, and continued in several parts of India down to the later third of the 19th century.' (EI. II. p. 397) As a matter of fact, wherever polyandry is in existence baby-girls are killed in large numbers.

- 143. (of record).
- 144. (so that every one would be able to see his record).
- 145. As the skin is plucked off a slaughtered sheep. Or, the phrase may mean, 'And when the heaven shall be removed from its place, like as a roof is removed from its place.' (LL) According to the OT, God has stretched out the heavens like a curtain. (Ps. 104:2)

  - 150. i. e., the Holy Quran.
- 151. (of God). 'The Glorious Koran, that inimitable symphony, the very words of which move man to tears and ecstasy' (Pickthall). 'The Book which was revealed to the Prophet......and is believed by Muslims to be the word of God as distinguished from Hadis, i. e. the saying of the Prophet.......The purity of its text is an established fact. It is in rhymed prose and is universally recognised as the finest production in Arabic literature.' (Hammerton's New Universal Encyclopedia, Vol. VI, p. 4888, Italics ours). The text of the book is sound; it can be read in 10 ways but in few cases do the variations make serious difference in the sense. (Everyman's Encyclopedia,' Vol. VII, p. 524, 4th Ed.).
  - 152. i. e., by the angel Gabriel.

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (نا منه When<sup>228</sup> the sky will sunder,
- 2. (واذنت . . . وحقت) and hearkens to its Lord, and is dutiful.
- 3. (واذا مند ت) And when the earth will be stretched forth<sup>229</sup>,
- 4. (بالقت . . . وتخلت) and will cast out all that is within it<sup>230</sup>, and will void itself.
  - 5. (واذنت . . . وحقت) and it hearkens to its Lord, and is dutiful230-A.
- 6. (مِيلَة . . . المِيلَة ) O man! verily thou art toiling towards thy Lord<sup>281</sup>, a painful toiling and is about to meet Him.
- 7. (ناما . . . يمينه) Then as to him who will be given his book<sup>238</sup> in his right hand,
- 8. (نـوف . . يـيرا) his account will presently be taken by an easy reckoning  $^{233}$ .
  - 9. (وينقلب . . . مسرورا) And he shall return to his people joyfully.
- 10. (رایا ، ، ، ظهره) And as to him who will be given his book<sup>235</sup> from behind his back<sup>236</sup>,
  - he will presently call for death منسوف . . . بورا) ا 11.
  - 12. ( ويطلى سعيرا ) And he shall roast in a Blaze.
  - 13. (انه . . مسرورا) Verily he was in this world joyful238 among his people.
  - 14. (انه . . . بحورا) Certainly he imagined239 that he would not revert240.
  - 228. (at the second blast of the Trumpet),
  - 229. (to accommodate all its inhabitants of whatever period).

- 230. i. e. disgorging everything of its contents, such as the bodies of the dead.
- 230-A. Cf. the NT:—'The day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heaven shall pass away with a great voice, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also, and the works that are therein shall be burned up.' (2: Pe, 3: 10) See also n. 174 above.
  - 231. i. e., either on the right or the wrong way.
  - 232. (of records).
  - 233. (and he shall receive ever more than his deserts).
- 234. i. e., those nearest and dearest to him, who themselves being true believers, shall be waiting to receive him.
  - 235. (of records).
  - 236, (and in his left hand).
- 237. (to fall upon him) i. e., in extreme agony he shall think of death as a blessing.
  - 238. (in utter neglect of the Hereafter).
  - 239. (in extreme self-complacency).
  - 240. (to his Lord, and will be called upon to account for his works).

The Big Stars. LXXXV

(Makkan, 1 Section and 22 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. البروج) By the sky adorned with big stars248,
- 2. (واليوم الموعود) and by the Promised Day<sup>250</sup>,
- وشاهد و مشهود) and by the witnessing day<sup>251</sup> and the witnessed day<sup>252</sup>,
- 4. (قتل . . الاخدود) perish the fellows of the ditch,
- 5. (النار ذات الوقرد) of the fuel-fed fire عالم أورد)
- 6. (اذم . . . قدر د) when they251 sat by it,
- 7. (دم . . . غود) and were witnesses to what they did with the faithful 255.
- 8. (رما . . . الحديد) And they persecuted them for naught save that they believed in Allah, The Mighty, the Laudable.
- 9. (الذى . . . غيد) Him, Whose domain is the heavens and the earth. And Allah is Witness over everything.
- 10. (ان الذين . . الحريق) Verily those who persecuted the believing men and women, and then repented not, for them shall be the torment of Hell<sup>256</sup>, and for them shall be the torment of burning.

<sup>250. (</sup>for judgment and requital). The occurence of that Day is not a matter of opinion, but a definite promise on the part of God.

253. The allusion is to a frightful persecution of the Christians by a Jewish king in Yemen. In 523 A.D. the throne was seized by a bigoted and dissolute usurper. A proselyte to Judaism, he perpetrated frightful cruelties on the Christians of the neighbouring provinces of Najran who refused to embrace his faith. Trenches filled with combustible materials were lighted, and the martyrs cast into the flames. Tradition gives the number thus miserably burned, or slain by the sword, at twenty thou-(Muir, op. cit., Intro, p. xciii). In the early part of the sixth century the Herbew religion had such a hold upon al-Yemen that the last Himyarite King dhu-Nuwas was a Jew....Rivalry between the South Arabian converts of the two newly introduced monotheistic religions led to active hostility. Evidently dhu-Nuwas representing the nationalistic spirit, associated the native Christians with the hated rule of the Christian Abyssinians. To this Jewish monarch is ascribed the famous massacre of the Christians of Najran in October 523. (Hitti, op. cit., p. 62). The event is of great historical importance, since it led to the intervention of the Negus of Ethiopia, at the instance of the Emperor Justinian, in the Yemen and its capture by him. The Jews too have a tradition of their own fiery persecution of an idolatrous king. (Cf. JE. II. p. 363).

- 254. i. e., the cruel persecutors.
- 255. (gloating over the agonies of their victims).
- 256. Which includes a multitude of torments.

- كَنْ مِنْ تَخْتِهَا الْأَنْهُلُوهُ ذَلِكَ الْفَوْزُ الْكَبِيْرُ ۚ إِنَّ بَطْشَ رَبِّكَ أَشَوْيَنَّ ۚ إِنَّهُ هُو يَبُوئُ ۗ الْفَوْرُ الْكَبِيْرُ ۚ إِنَّ بَطْشَ رَبِّكَ أَشُويَنَ ۚ إِنَّهُ هُو يَبُوئُ ۗ وَيُعِيْدُ ۗ وَهُوالْخَوْنَ إِنَّهُ هُوْلُوالْكَ الْفَاوُرُ الْوَدُودُ ﴾ وَهُوالْغَوْنَ إِنْ الْمَكِنْ الْمَهُونُ وَالْفَالِ اللّهِ مِنْ اللّهِ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلِيْ اللّهِ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُؤْولُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلِمُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلِمُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلِمُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلَمُونُوا ۚ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلَمُونُوا ۚ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكَا إِنْ مُعْلَمُونُوا أَنْ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ اللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مِنْ وَكُولُوا اللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ مُنْ وَاللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ الللّهُ اللّهُ الللّهُ ال
  - 11. (ن الكير) Those who believed and worked righteous works for them shall be the Gardens whereunder rivers flow; that is the supreme achievement<sup>257</sup>.
    - 12. افديد) Verify the grip of thy Lord is terrible.
    - 13. (المرابعة) Verily He! it is He Who begins and repeats.
    - 14. (وهو . . . الودود) And He is the Forgiving, the Loving.
    - 15. (در العرش المجيد) Lord of the Throne, the Glorious 269.
    - 16. (نمال . . . بريد) Doer of whatsoever He intends.
    - 17. (مل . . . الجنود) Has there come unto thee the story of the hosts,
    - 18. (نرعون ونمود) of Fir awn and the Thamūd ?
    - 19. (بل . . . نكذيب) Aye I those who disbelieve are engaged in denial<sup>261</sup>.
    - 20 (راته عيد) White Atlah is encompassing 262 from behind them 263,
    - 21. (بل . . . مجبد) Ayel It is a glorious Recitation<sup>261</sup>,
    - 22. (ق . . . عفرظ) inscribed in a Preserved Tablet165.
    - 257. Surpassing all the achievements of this world.
    - 258, (th ecreation).
  - 259. (without let or hindrance). His is absolutely sovereign will, unfettered by any conditions or restrictions. Nothing can come between His will and its execution. Unlike the head of many a pantheon, who is surrounded by fellow deities and whose will frequently clashes with their's and who must at times bow to the overruling Fate, the God of Islam is all-in-all. Sovereign in the absolute sense of the word. See also P. XII. n. 312.
    - 260. (O Prophet!),
    - 261. (of the Quran itself; so how can they profit by its narratives?).
    - 262. (enforcing His decrees).
    - 263. (so that they can by no means escape).

- 264. 'The critics hold fast to their belief in the divine nature of the text: here, indeed, all Muslims are united. If we do not share that belief, we can still acknowledge the extraordinary importance of the Quran for students of history and religions, its vast influence upon the minds and lives of peoples widely different in culture, and its peculiar interest as the work in which the last of the great Semitic prophets gave his message to the world.' (Dr. R. A. Nicholson, in Palmer's Translation of the Quran, Intro, p. XIX).
- 265. i. e., guarded from every sort of alteration or corruption. الرح محفوظ is the depository of all the Divine decrees, willed events ordained by God.

The Night-Comer LXXXVI

(Makkan, 1 Section and 17 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (والساء والطارق) By the sky and the night-comer266 ---
- 2. (رما . . . الطارق) and what will make thee understand what the night-comer is ?
  - 3. (النجم الثانب ) It is the star shining brightly 247.
  - 4. (ان . . . حانظ) No soul is there but has a watcher298 over it.
  - 5. (ناينظر . . . خاتی) So let man look<sup>269</sup> —— from what is he created?——
  - 6. (خان . . . دانق) created from a water dripping 270,
- 7. (خرج ، ، التراثب) that issues from between the loins and the breast-bones  $^{172}$ .
  - 8. (ائه . . . النادر) Surely He is Able to restore him,
  - 9. (يوم . . . السرائر) on a Day when secrets shall be out<sup>273</sup>.
  - 10. (نباله . . . ناسر) The man shall have no power274 nor any helper375.
  - 11. (وألسا. . . . الرجم) By the sky which returns,
  - 12. (والأرض . . . المدع) and by the earth which splits276,
  - 13. (نعرا) verily<sup>277</sup> it is a discourse decisive<sup>278</sup>.
  - 14. (رما . . . بالهزل) And it is not a frivolity<sup>279</sup>.
  - 15. (اعر ... کبدا) Verily they<sup>280</sup> are plotting a plot<sup>281</sup>,
  - 16. (راکید کیدا) and I am plotting a plot<sup>282</sup>.
- 17. (نبهل . . رویدا) So<sup>283</sup> respite thou the infidels<sup>284</sup> —— a gentle respite<sup>785</sup>, literally is 'Anything coming by night; one who comes by night being thus called because of his (generally) needing to knock at the door! And الطارق

- is 'the star that appears in the night, or the morning star, because it comes (or appears) in the end of the night.' (LL).
  - 267. The word may mean any bright star without restriction.
  - 268. i. e., a recording-angel.
  - 269. (in anticipation of resurrection).
  - 270. (A creature so insignificant in his animal nature!).
  - 271. (of men).
  - 272. (of women).
  - 273. i. e., everything will appear in its true Reality.
  - 274. (in himself to defend himself).
  - 275. (from outside).
  - 276. (with all its hardness, to let forth corns and vegetables).
  - 277. i. e., the Holy Quran.
  - 278. (between what is true and what is false).
  - 279. i. e., composed with lightness,
  - 280. i. e., the opponents of Islam.
  - 281. (to frustrate My designs).
  - 282. (for their ruin). For  $\Delta S$  see P. XXVII, n. 103.
- 283. i. e., now that the vengeance of God, at its proper time, is absolutely certain.
  - 284. (O Prophet!).
  - 285. i. e., for a while.

The Most High. LXXXVII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 19 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (سیح . . . الاعلی) Hallow thou<sup>286</sup> the name of thy Lord, the Most High,
- 2. (الذى . . . نسرى) Who has created<sup>287</sup> the universe and then proportioned it<sup>288</sup>,
  - 3. (والذي . . . نهدي) and Who has disposed289 and then guided it290,
  - 4. (ر الذي . ر المرعى) and Who brings forth the pasturage291.
  - 5. (نجمله . . . احوى) Then He makes it202 dusky stubble203.
- 6. (سَنَقَرَتُك . . . تنسى) We shall enable thee to recite<sup>294</sup>, and then thou shalt not forget it<sup>295</sup>,
- 7. (الآ . . . يخنى) save what Allah may will<sup>296</sup>. Surely He knows the public and what is hidden<sup>297</sup>.
  - 8. (ونيسرك البسرى) And<sup>298</sup> We make easy unto thee<sup>299</sup> the easy way<sup>300</sup>.
- 9. (نذکر . الدکری) So admonish thou<sup>301</sup> : surely<sup>302</sup> has admonition profited.
  - 10. (سيذكر . . . يخشي) Admonished is he indeed who fears 308,
  - 11. (ويتجنبها الاشقر) and the wretched shuns it -
  - 12. (الذي . . . الكبرى) he who shall roast into the Great Fire,
  - 13. ميلي) wherein he shall neither die nor live اثم . . . محيلي).
- 14. (ند . . . ترکی) He indeed has attained bliss who has cleansed himself 308,
- 15. (دذگر . . . نصلے) and who remembers the names of his Lord, and then prays.

- 16. (بل . . . الدنيا) Aye: you<sup>306</sup> prefer the life of this world,
- 17. (والأخرة من whereas the Hereafter is far better and more lasting.
- 18. (ان . . . الاول) Verily this 307 is in ancient Writs 308 —
- 19. (مسحف مرسلي) Writs of Ibrāhīm809 and Mūsā810,
- 286. (O Prophet!).
- 287. i. e., brought into being.
- 288. i. e., endowed with due order and proportion, proper forms and faculties.
- 289. i. e., determined His creatures to various ends, and ordained for them proper laws and decrees.
- 290. (the rational by reason and Revelation and the irrational by instinct). The allusion is also to the special spiritual faculties of man.
  - 291. (for the cattle).
  - 292. (as it decays).
  - 293. i. e., dried up, and black by reason of oldness.
  - 294. (Our Revelations, O Prophet!).
  - 295. (any portion thereof).
  - 296. (in His infinite wisdom to abrogate and blot out of thy memory).
- 297. So whatever He does is in accordance with His universal knowledge and wisdom.
  - 298. (similar to the retention of the Quran in thy memory).
  - 299. (in every respect).
  - 300. i. e., the religion of Islam.
- 301. (thy people and mankind, one and all, O Prophet!) God's message is to be proclaimed to all.
  - 302. نا (in) is here synonymous with نا (inna).
  - 303. (his Lord) Such a one alone profits by the admonition.
  - 304. (a life worth living).
  - 305. (of infidelity).
  - 306. (O infidels!).
  - 307. (admonition).
  - 308. (and is therefore all the more important),
- 309. There must have been some Testament of Abraham, which like so many other Scriptures is now lost to the world. A book said to be 'apocryphal,' entitled the Testament of Abraham was translated from the Greek original and published for the first time in 1892, at Cambridge, by M. R. James. 'Ethiopic, Salvonic and Rumanian versions also have been found, and some of them published.' (JE, I, p. 93)
- 310. i. e., the original Scripture of Moses, of which the present Pentateuch is a surviving recension.

- 319. (as evidence of Great Design and Mercy on His part).

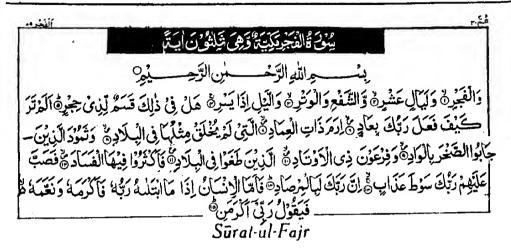

320. Of all the domestic animals the utility of the camel is perhaps the greatest. Of economic importance to the cultivator and of considerable use to the Defence Department in war time, in general, it is of incalculable value to the Arab countries, parts of Africa, and parts of India (i. e., the Punjab, Sind, Baluchistan and the Rajputana states). In desert warfare camels are more serviceable than any mechanized unit. 'Of animals the most characteristic of Arabia is undoubtedly the camel, the ability of which to go without water twenty-five days in winter and five days in summer, working hard all the time, renders it of unique service in the desert.' (DB. I. p. 133) 'In the ancient literature of Arabia, just as in practical life, the camel has a pre-eminent position....There is not a single poet of the desert but sings the praises of his camel, and...compares his mistress to it, often carrying the analogy to minute details. Snouck Hurgronje recalls the cry of women lamenting a dear husband: "O my son, my eye, my camel," interpreting it in the sense of "O thou who wast my help in supporting life's burden." (ERE. III. p. 173). It will carry a load of 500 to 1000 lb. 25 miles a day for three days without drinking.' (EBr. IV. p. 657) 'That the camel has been associated, as a characteristic domestic animal; with the Arabs in general and the nomad Bedouins in particular, is not a fortuitous circumstance. Neither the horse nor the cow, not any other animal that is known to be associated with the life of other pastoral peoples, could take its place in the arid steppes and deserts of Arabia. ....This animal alone is adapted, by virtue of its peculiar qualities to the geographical conditions of Arabia....No animal puts its owner to less expense and trouble for its keep....The value of the camel for the Arabs in general and the nomads in particular, cannot be overestimated; and it is far from easy to enumerate and exhaust all the possible ways in which it is made use of.' (Inayatullah., op. cit., pp. 57, 58, 60), 'The camel is certainly from the nomad's point of view the most useful. Without it the desert could not be conceived of as a habitable place. The camel is the nomads nourisher, his vehicle of transportation and medium of exchange....It is the Bedouin's constant companion, his alter ego, his foster parent....To him the camel is more than "the ship of the desert"....The part which the camel has played in the economy of Arabian life is indicated by the fact that the Arabic language is said to include some one thousand names for the camel in its numerous breeds and stages of growth.' (Hitti, op. cit, pp. 21-22). In the hard desert and waterless countries the camel is perhaps the greatest friend of man. Nor has it lost its importance even in the modern mechanical warfare. Observe the following enconiums lavished upon it by a military writer in the year 1943:—

- One of the oldest forms of transport known to man—the camel—is playing its part side by side with tanks and high-speed modern trucks in the Allied drive for victory.
- The camels mostly come from the Punjab. Hundreds of zilladars from there are bringing along their camels to help India's war effort.
- Camel transport units are now a regular part of the RIASC. Zilladars are being encouraged to produce more camels and a Government breeding centre is proposed.
- Complaining, but never unwilling, camels can pull a 20-maund cartload with ease, equivalent to the work of four draught mules. Four camels can take a load equal to that of 20-cwt. lorry—and take it to a lot of places no motor could go.
- For length of service the camel stands alone. Properly cared for, its average life is 18 years. Few army mechanized vehicles last even half that time. The camel is not fussy about its food, and is far less liable to injury than the horse, mule or even motor truck.

- 18. (رالى . . . راست) and at the sky, how it is raised 321?
- 19. (والى . . . نصبت) and at the mountains, how they are rooted 22?
- 20. (دال . . . سطحت) and at the earth, how it is outspread<sup>323</sup>,
- 21. (نذکر منکر) Admonish thou then<sup>324</sup>; thou art but an admonisher.
- 22. (لست . . . عصطر) Thou art not over them<sup>325</sup> a warden.
- 23. (الآ . . . كـنر) So whoever will turn back and disbelieve ——
- 24. (نيمذيه . . . الأكر) Allah shall torment him with the greatest torment<sup>326</sup>.
- 25. (ان . . . ايا يام) Verily unto Us is their return.
- 26. (مرابع Then unto Us is their reckoning.
- 321. See P. I. n. 92.
- 322. Note that it is only the quality of firmness and stability of mountains that the Holy Quran makes mention of Compare and contrast this with the attitude of fetishistic religions towards mountains worshipping them and regarding them as god. Parvats (mountains) in the Indian religions are well-known deities.
  - 323. See P. I. n. 91.

The Dawn. LXXXIX

(Makkan, 1 Section and 30 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. ( والنجر ) By the dawn,
- 2. (ولال عشر) and by the ten nights327,
- 3. (والشغم والوتر) and by the even and the odd والشغم والوتر)
- 4. (راليل . . . بسر) and by night when it departs,
- 5. (مل ً. . حجر ) indeed in them is an oath of sense.
- 6. (الم . . . باد) Did thou<sup>351</sup> not see how thy Lord dealt with the •Ād<sup>332</sup>.
  - 7. (الماد ) and the people of many-columned lram<sup>333</sup>,
  - 8. (التي . . . اللاد ) the like of which was not built in the cities,
- 9. (رثود . . . يالواد) and with Thamūd who hewed out rocks in the vale<sup>835</sup>?
  - 10. (وفرعون . . . الاوناد) And with Fir awn, owner of the stakes منافر الاوناد)
  - 11. (الدن. . . البلاد) who all waxed exorbitant in the cities ;
  - 12. (فاكثروا . . النساد) so they multiplied corruption therein,
- 13. (نسب . . . مناب) So thy Lord inflicted on them the scourge of His chastisement.
  - 14. (ان . . . لالرصاد) Verily thy Lord is in an ambuscade<sup>337</sup>.
- 15. (قالم .... آر من) As for man<sup>238</sup> when his Lord tries him<sup>239</sup> and honours him, and is bountiful to him, he says<sup>240</sup>: my Lord has honoured me<sup>341</sup>.

<sup>327.</sup> i. e., the first ten dates of Zul-Hijja, or the month of Pilgrimage, a period of peculiar sanctity.

- 328. (date) i. e., the 10th of Zul-Hijja, the day of the sacrifice.
- 329. (date) i. e., the 9th Zul-Hijja, the day of staying at 'Arafāt.
- 330. (sufficiently strong).
- 331. (O Prophet!).
- 332. 'The ancient poets knew 'Ad as an ancient nation that had perished, hence the expression, "since the time of 'Ad." Their kings are mentioned in the Dīwān of the Hudhailites and their prudence in that of Nābighā' El. I. p. 121).
- 333. ارم ذات العمال is, literally, Iram possessing lofty structures supported by columns. The reference is to the Earthly Paradise built by Shaddad, son of 'Ad, and one of the greatest kings of his dynasty.
  - 334. (in firmness and dimensions).
  - 335. (with houses).
- 336. The epithet, in Arabic idiom, is expressive of power, arrogance and obstinacy. The stakes may also refer to those to which the tyrant bound his victims.
  - 337. Whence He watched the doing of the wicked.
  - 338. i. e., the ungrateful man.
  - 339. (by prosperity).
  - 340. (in pride and exultation).
  - 341. (and this prosperity is my due).

- 16. (والما . . . المانن) And when his Lord tries him<sup>342</sup> and stints unto him his provision, he says<sup>343</sup>: my Lord has despised me<sup>344</sup>.
  - 17. (کلا . . . الیتم) No indeed345! But you do not honcur the orphan346,
  - 18. (دلا . . . السكين) nor urge upon each other the feeding of the poor.
  - 19. (ناکارن...) and you devour the inheritance<sup>347</sup> greedily<sup>848</sup>,
  - 20. (رنحبون . . . جما) and you love riches with exceeding love.
- 21. ( 🕉 . . . . 🖄 ) No indeed 1 When the earth is ground with exceeding grinding 250,
  - 22. (رجأد . . . منا) and comes thy Lord and the angels, rank on rank,
- 23. (رجای . . . الذکری) and Hell that Day is brought near. Man on that Day shall remember, but how can remembrance avail him then?
- 24. (يقرل . . . لحياتي) Man will say*52: would that I had sent before this life of mine 354.
- 25. (نیومنڈ . . . احد) So on that Day none shall torment any like His torment<sup>355</sup>,
  - 26. (دلا . . . احد) nor shall bind any like His bond<sup>356</sup>.
  - 27. (المامنة) O thou peaceful s57 soul!
- 28. (أرجمى . . . مرحية) Return unto thy Lord, well-pleased³58 and well-pleasing³59.
  - 29. (نادخلی . . . عبدی) Enter thou among My righteous bondmen<sup>360</sup>,
  - 30. (وادخلی جنق) and enter thou My Garden<sup>361</sup>.

<sup>342. (</sup>by adversity).

<sup>344. (</sup>while I ought to have been honoured).

<sup>345. (</sup>it is a true test of merit). Worldly prosperity or adversity is not a certain mark either of favour or disfavour of God.

<sup>346. (</sup>and are heartless concerning his rights, O pagans!).

- 348. (by not allowing women or young children to have any share in the inheritence of their husbands or parents).
  - 349. (shall ye escape the doom).
- 350. (at the blast of the Trumpet). 'The مصدر is used with its verb for the sake of علي (strengthening) or الله (magnifying) i. e., to add greater force to the verb. 'For still greater emphasis the masdar may be repeated.' (WGAL. II. pp. 55-56).
  - 351. i. e., shall manifest Himself in some special manner.
  - 352. (in despair and anguish).
  - 353. (good works).
- is not only 'life' but 'everlasting life in the world to come.' And so the phrase may mean, 'O, would that I had prepared, or laid up in store, for my everlasting state of existence.' (L1.).
  - 355. i. e., none shall be able to chastise the wicked as He shall chastise.
  - 356, i. e., none shall be able to bind the wicked as He shall bind.
- 357. i. e., in complete satisfaction; free from all pain and sorrow. The address is to the man who in his life-time made his peace with the Creator by means of his faith and good work.
  - 358. (with Him),
  - 359. (to Him).
- 360. (and devotces). The saintly soul will find himself in the company of other excellent souls, thus making his life still more pleasant, and not lonely or isolated.
- 361. Notice the significance of 'My.' It is God's own Paradise——the highest stage of bliss.

The City362. XC

(Makkan, 1 Section and 20 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful,

- 1. (الله) I swear by this city<sup>363</sup>,
- 2. (دانت . . . اابلد) and thou shalt be allowed in this city ——
- 3. (دوالد . . . ولد) and by the begetter365 and what he begat366,
- 4. (نند . . . کبر) assuredly We have created man in toil<sup>367</sup>.
- 5. (ایحسب...احد) Does he<sup>368</sup> think that none can overcome him.
- 6. (بغول . . . لبدا) He says: I have squandered abundant riches 369.
- 7. (اعسب . . . احدا) Does he suppose that no one has seen him<sup>370</sup>?
- 8. (الم . . . عنين ) Have We not made for him two eyes371?
- 9. (وأسانا وشفتين) and a tongue372 and two lips273,
- and shown to him³74 the two highways³75 ? (وُمَدينه النبدين)
- 11. (فلا . . . النفية) Yet he does not attempt the steep<sup>976</sup>.
- 12. (رما . . . الدّبة) And what shall make thee understand what the steep
- is ? — 13. (نك رتة ) It is freeing the neck<sup>277</sup>——
  - 14. (او . . . مسنبة) or, feeding in a day of privation,
  - 15. (بتيما . . . مقربة) an orphan of kin,
  - 16. (اد مسكيناً ذا مترية) or a poor man, cleaving to the dust.
- 17. (غم . . . بالمرحمة ) Then he became one of those who believed and enjoined on each other steadfastness and enjoined on each other compassion.
  - 18. (اوانك . . . المينة) These are the fellows of the right-hand.

- 19. (دالذين) And those who disbelieved in Our signs —— they are the fellows of the left-hand.
  - 20. (عليهم . . . مؤصدة) Over them shall be the Fire closing round.
- 362. Muir quotes this Surah, 'in which are set forth the two paths of virtue and vice, and the difficulties of the straight way' as illustrating the Prophet's 'honest striving after Truth.' (op. cit., p. 41).
- 363. (of Makka). بلد is any city or territory, but البلد (with the definite article) is a name applied to the sacred territory of Makka.
- 364. (free-hand; full control; O Prophet!). In this sense the words are spoken of prophetically, conveying a promise of that absolute power which the Prophet ultimately attained on the taking of Makka.
  - 365. i. e., the first progenitor of human race——Adam.
  - 366. i. e., entire human race
- 367. Even his control over the forces of nature, unless accompanied by a parallel growth of control over himself, leads eventually to his own undoing. Human life, says a distinguished modern biologist, 'is unthinkable without tragedies, without the tragic element. The more highly developed and the nearer to perfection man is, the greater are the possibilities for tragic conflicts....Most fearful are the tragedies which are deeply rooted in man's own nature. These are far more hopeless because up to the present time it has been extremely difficult to eliminate them.' (Nemilov, Biological Tregedy of Woman, pp. 13-15).
  - 368, i. e., the ungrateful man.
- 369. (in ostentation and vanity, and to oppose the true faith). The allusion is to certain antagonists of Islam in the Prophet's time.
  - 370. (and that God is oblivious of his doings).
  - 371. (enabling him to see).
  - 372. (enabling him to taste and to speak).
  - 373. (enabling him to speak).
  - 374. (both by reason and Revelation.).
  - 375. (of good and evil, virtue and vice).
  - 376. i. e., the difficult path of duty.
- 377. (of a slave from his slavery). نك ربن, literally he loosed the neck, means, he emancipated [the slave]. (LL). This passage seems to tell forcibly against those Muslims who pursue the slave-trade. This disposition to free the slave is here said to be a sign of man's being a true believer. Muhammad himself practised the precept here enunciated.' (Rev. E. M. Wherry).

The Sun. XCI

(Makkan, 1 Section and 15 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (والشمس وضعها) By the sun and its morning brightness,
- 2. (والقبر . . . تلها) and by the moon when it follows it علما المراقبة علم المراق
- النهار . . جلها) by the day when it glorifies the sun<sup>379</sup>.
- 4. (واليل . . . بنشها) by the night when it envelops the sun
- 5. (والسيا. . . . بنها) by the sky and Him Who built it,
- 6. (والارض . . . طحها) by the earth and Him Who stretched it forth,
- 7. (وناس . . . سواها) by the soul and Him Who proportioned it<sup>386</sup>,
- 9. (لقرير) surely blissful is he who has cleansed his soul385,

<sup>378.</sup> i. e., when she appears in the sky after the sun has set.

<sup>379.</sup> i. e., when it shows forth the sun's splendour to its full,

<sup>380.</sup> i. e., made it to be adapted to its exigencies.

- 381. (as the Author of His Universal scheme).
- 382. i. e., the human soul.
- 383. Which comes through the devil, and is developed to a responsible human act by man's own free-will.
- 384. Which comes through angels, and is developed to a responsible human act by man's own free-will.
  - 385. (by good works, in exercise of his free-will).
- 386. (under evil works, in the exercise of his free-will). All this clearly repudiates, on the one hand, the Paulinish doctrine of an original, hereditary sin, and, on the other, the Hindu and Buddhist determinism known as Karma. Sin is nothing more, nothing less, and nothing else than a man's wrong use of his free-will, just as merit is its right use.
  - 387. (their Prophet).
  - 388. i. e., by reason of; impelled by.
  - 389. (with his accomplices to slay the she-camel). See P. VIII. n. 542-57.
  - 390. i. e., the prophet Sālih (peace be on him!).
  - 391. i. e., miraculously given by Him to His prophet.
  - 392. i. e., the punishment.
- 393. (unto all) i. e., He made the punishment common or universal, as they had all shared in the crime.
- 394. Islam knows no such thing as the 'repentance' of God and His 'grief' over His own actions, as portrayed by the Bible;—'And it repented the Lord that he had made men on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart.' (Ge. 6:6).

The Night XCII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 21 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (دالیل . . . یغشلی) By the night when it envelops 393,
- 2. (والنهار علي by the day when it appears in glory,
- 3. (ر ما . . . الانتي) by Him who has created the male and the female,

  - 12. (ان . . . لايدى) Verily on Us is the guidance 103.
- 13. (כוני... פוליב) And verily Ours is both the Hereafter and the present life 405.
  - 14. (قاندرتکم . . . تاهی) Wherefore I have warned you of a flaming Fire.

  - 16. (الذى . . . وتولى) who denies and turns away.
  - 17. (و سيجنبها الاتق) And the pious shall avoid it altogether.

- 18. (الذى . . . يتزكى) he who spends his substance407 that he may be cleansed408.
  - 19. (رما. . . بجزى) and who has no favour from any one to pay back<sup>409</sup>.
- 20. (الأعلى) but only seeks the goodwill of his Lord the Most High.
  - 21. (دلسوف يرضلي) And soon he shall be well-pleased<sup>410</sup>.
  - 395. (all things with darkness).
  - 396. (O mankind!) i.e., your aims in life are directed toward diverse ends.
  - 397. (in the way of God).
  - 398. i. e., the true faith.
  - 399. (in the way of God).
  - 400. (of His ordinances, considering himself self-sufficient).
  - 401. 'We will smooth his way to punishment and a difficult case.' (LL).
  - 402. (and falls headlong into Hell).
  - 403. (and We have already clearly shown the Way).
  - 404. i. e., in Our hands.
  - 405. (So We shall requite everyone according to his deserts),
  - 406. i e., the deliberate rejectors of the truth.
  - 407. (in the way of God).
  - 408. (of his sins thereby).
- 409. i. e., the giving of his wealth is absolutely in the way of God, not in return for some past favour from someone or in expectation of some future reward.
  - 410. i. e. amply satisfied with the reward he will get in the Hereafter.

The Morning Brightness. XCIII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 11 Verses)
In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (والفنحي) By the morning brightness411,
- 2. (واليل . . . سجلي) by the night, when it darkens<sup>412</sup>.
- 3. (ما منائي) Thy Lord has not forsaken thee<sup>413</sup>, nor is He displeased<sup>414</sup>.
- 4. (والاخرة... الأولى) And the Hereafter is indeed better unto thee than the present life 415.
- 5. (ولسرف, , , فترصلي) And soon<sup>416</sup> shall thy Lord give unto thee<sup>417</sup> so that thou shalt be well-pleased<sup>418</sup>.
- 6. ( $(1, \dots, d^{10})$ ) Did He not find thee an orphan<sup>419</sup>? so he sheltered thee<sup>190</sup>.
- 7. (ورجدك . . . نهدى) And He found thee<sup>421</sup> wandering<sup>422</sup>, so He guided thee<sup>423</sup>.
  - 8. (روجد . . . فاغذلي) And He found thee destitute, so He enriched thee.
- 9. (ناما . . . تغير) Wherefore 424 as to the orphan, be not thou overbearing unto him.
  - 10. (راما . . . نتير) and as to the beggar, chide him not ;
- 11. (وأما . . . فلت ) and as to the favours of thy Lord, discourse thou thereof<sup>425</sup>.

<sup>411.</sup> The word properly signifies the bright part of the day, when the sun shines full out, some three or four hours after it has arisen.

<sup>413. (</sup>O Prophet!). The implication is that God never forsakes His devoted servants, much less His true prophets. And thus the verse contradicts the reported cry of agony of Jesus. 'My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken mc.' (Mk. 15:34; Mt. 27:46).

- 414. (with thee, ever in this world). In the beginning of the ministry there was a period during which the holy Prophet received no Revelation, and the pagans began to mock him as one forsaken by his God.
  - 415. So then thou shalt be raised to still greater ranks.
  - 416. i. e., in the Hereafter, as also in this world.
  - 417. (rich and abundant reward).
- 418. 'Illumined by the divine light, endowed with an inflexible will-power and an ardent spirit, tempered by compassion, charity and tenderness, he undertook the difficult mission and the stupendous struggle connected with it, and he did not rest until he had attained what he wanted: until Arabia professed his Faith.' (Daumer, quoted in Zaki Ali's Islam in the World, pp. 12-13).
  - 419. Orphan's condition was specially deplorable in pagan Arabia.
  - 420. (thee providentially out of His solicitude for thee).
  - 421. (in thy pre-prophetic life)
- 422. (in the way of God, born as thou wast in the midst of worst idolatry) i. e., struggling to find thy way; in search of the true light. That the character of the Prophet was even in his youth exemplary and exceptional in the most tempting environment of Makka is borne out by hostile biographers. 'It is quite in keeping with the character of Mohammed that he should have shrunk from the coarse and licentious practices of his youthful friends. Endowed with a refined mind and delicate taste, reserved and meditative, he lived much within himself, and the ponderings of his heart no doubt supplied occupation for leisure hours spent by others of a lower stamp in rude sports and profligacy. The fair character and honourable bearing of the unobtrusive youth won the approbation of his fellow-citizens; and he received the title, by common consent, of Al-Amin, the faithful.' (Muir. op. cit., pp. 19-20).
- 423. (thee to the very source of Light, by making thyself the recipient of Revelation). See also P. XIX. n. 144.
  - 424. (to express thy gratitude in action and deed).
- 425. Compare a remarkable tribute paid to the spiritual genius and constructive greatness of the holy Prophet paid by an unfriendly Christian:—'Muhammad's career is a wonderful instance of the force and life that resides in him who possesses an intense Faith in God and the unseen world...he will always be regarded as one of those who have had that influence over the faith, morals, and whole earthly life of their fellow-men, which none but a really great man ever did, or can exercise, and as one of those whose efforts to propagate a great verity will prosper.' (Rodwell, 'The Koran.' Preface, pp. 14-15).

Sūrat-ul-Inshirāh The Opening Forth. XCIV

(Makkan, 1 Section and 8 Verses)

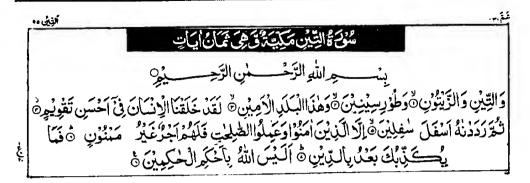

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful-

- 1. (الم . . . صدرك) Have We not opened for thee thy breast426?
- 2. وزرك) And We have taken off from thee thy burden أورضمنا . . . وزرك)
- 3. نظهرك) which weighed down thy back428.
- 4. (زرنعنا من خارك ) And We have exalted thy fame 429.
- 5. (اقان . . . بسرا) Verily then along with every hardship is ease.
- 6. (أن ... يسرأ) Verily along with e /ery hardship is ease43".
- 7. (ناذا . . . نانصب) Toil then431 when thou art relieved432.
- 8 (والى . . الرغب) And attend433 thou to thy Lord.
- 426. (by disposing and expanding it to receive the Truth and wisdom, and by freeing it from ignorance and uneasiness, O Prophet!).
  - 427. (by making thy soul fully illumined).
- 428. (in thy pre-prophetic period). In all he did and wrote 'Muhammad, was actuated by a sincere desire to deliver his countrymen from the grossness of its debasing idolatries...that he was urged on by an intense desire to proclaim that great truth of the Unity of the Godhead which had taken possession of his own soul.' (Rev. Rodwell, The Koran, Preface, p. 13).
- 429. So much so that even the anti-Muslim Christian scholars have to acknowledge the greatness, almost super-human, of the holy Prophet. 'One of the most remarkable men in history of the world,' (Drinkwater op. cit., I. p. 146). To mention another tribute, Mr. Charles Issawi of New York City, writing under the caption Muhammad's Historical Role', says at the end of his article....'It does no steem too much to say that if any one man changed the course of history that man was Muhammad.' (The Muslim World, Hartford, for April, 1950, p. 95) The man', says Draper, who 'of all men, has exercised the greatest influence upon the human race.' (Intellectual Development of Europe, I. p. 329). The verdict is endorsed in one of the recent editions of the Encyclopaedia Britannica which refers to him as 'that most successful of all prophets and religious personalities.' (EBr. XV. p. 898 11th Ed.) In the words of vet another Christian: 'Compare Mohammed with the long roll of men whom the world by common consent has called "Great"..., Take him all in all, what he was and what he did, and what those inspired by him have done, he seems to me to stand alone, above and beyond them all.' (Bosworth Smith, op. cit. pp. 339-340). And to come to an estimate still later:—'Within a brief span of mortal life Muhammad called forth out of unpromising material a nation never united before, in a country that was hitherto but a geographical expression; established a religion which in vast areas superseded Christianity and Judaism and still claims the adherence of a goodly portion of the human race; and laid the basis of an empire that was soon to embrace within its far-flung boundaries the fairest provinces of the then civilized world.' (Hitti, op. cit., pp. 121-122). See also P. IV. n. 212; P. XXVI. nn. 107, 333; n. 425 above and n. 580 below.

512 Part XXX

- 430. The passage revealed at the moment of the greatest difficulties in the life of the holy Prophet, when he was derided and shunned 'must have struck the disbelievers as ridiculous. It...'speaks of future events as accomplished, as is usual in the Koran, the revelation coming from a plane where time is not. Verse 4. speaking of his fame as exalted, must have seemed particularly absurd at that time of humiliation and persecution. But to-day, from every mosque in the world, the Prophet's name is cried, as that of the messenger of God, five times a day and every Muslim prays for blessings on him when his name is mentioned. (Pickthall). See also nn. 580, 581.

- 448. (although thou art not learned in reading actual scripts, O Prophet!) 'The primary duty of a Prophet, in contrast with that of any other spiritual leader is not to produce images and ideas born in his own mind; it consists only in the reading out of the unseen book of Divine Truth and the reproducing of its meaning to mankind without additions or substractions. In the word "Read!" which opened the first revelation to Muhammad his call to Perfect Prophethood is already fully expressed. The law of God, the Eternal Truth behind the perceptible things, was laid bare before him, waiting to be understood by him in its innermost meaning.' (ASB. I. p. 19).

<sup>501.</sup> i. e., horses making a hostile incursion. The spirit and swiftness of the Arab horse are 'proverbial. The Arab horse is an almost exclusively war animal, and an Arab is prepared to take endless trouble on its account, because it serves him as a weapon of war.' (Inayatullah, op. cit, p. 67). An Arab could take better care of it than even of his own children. 'He milks first for his mare and would pour out the last drop from the water-bag for the pampered animal, while the children are crying for water.' (p. 66). 'Renowned for its physical beauty, endurance, intelligence and a touching devotion to its master, the Arabian thoroughbred is the exemplar from which all Western ideas about the good-breeding of horseflesh have been derived...In Arabia...its possession is a presumption of wealth, Its chief value lies in providing the speed necessary for the success of Bedouin raids, It is also used for sports: in tournament-coursing and hunting.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 21) Arab horses 'are accustomed only to walk and to gallop:...no sooner do they feel the touch of the hand on the stirrup than they dart away with swiftness of the wind, (GRE, V, p. 315). There have also been even outside Arabia, several war horses famous in history. For example, the charger of Alexander; the stallion of Napoleon; and the favourite of Caligula. See also P. X. n. 93.

502. (the enemy camp). This picture 'of a cavalry charge in a morning fray is as spirited as any in the Arabic literature.' (Inayatullah, op. cit', p. 68). 'The gusto and pride, with which the Arab warrior poet describes the fine points of his valued mare and the martial exploits performed on its back, are well known to all readers of Arabic poetry' (ib). 'It is much easier to make or repel an attack on horseback than when mounted on a camel. The power and prestige a tribe enjoys is proportionate to the number of horses it can bring into the field.' (pp. 67, 68).

503, 504. i. e. in that early hour. The Arabs generally chose the early morning to fall upon the enemy tribe.' (Bell).

Canst thou make him afraid as a grasshopper? the glory of his nostrils is terrible. He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength; he goeth on to meet the armed men.... He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage,' (Job. 39: 19-24).

- is 'One who blames, upbraids, reproaches, or finds faults with others, much, or habitually.' (LL). 'One who habitually attacks the honour and character of others.'
  - 532. (with excessive greed).
  - 533. (every now and then out of his love for money).
  - 534. (as is apparent by his conduct and behaviour).
  - 535. Or 'his opulence will perpatuate him.'

- 536. علمة 'A vehement fire that breaks in pieces everything that is east into it. Hence العطمة a name of Hell, or of Hell-fire, or as some say, the fourth stage of Hell.' (LL).
  - 537. (by Him, and therefore shall not be extinguished by any).
  - 538. (of those who shall be cast therein).
  - 539. (as an enclosed vault above them).

Surat-ul-Fil

The Elephan t540. CV

(Makkan, 1 Section and 5 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Mercifu'.

SECTION 1

- 1. (الم تركيف . . . الفيل) Has thou not seen how thy Lord dealt with the fellows of the elephant<sup>643</sup>?
  - 2. (الرب تصلير) Did He not set their stratagem at naught<sup>542</sup>?
  - 3. (الرسل . . . المايل) And He sent against them birds in flocks.
  - 4. (ترميهم . . . سجيل) They hurled upon them clay stones.
  - الجملهم ماكول) Then He rendered them as stubble devoured<sup>513</sup>.

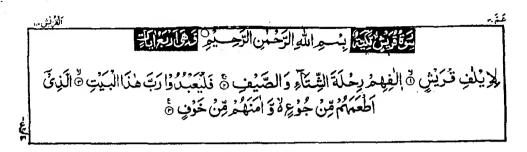

540. The chapter is remarkable for its allusion to an incident in the history of Makka, as an example of how God deals with those who oppose His will. About fifty days before the birth of the Prophet, Abraha the Abyssinian viceroy of Yemen, Christian by religion, proceeded against Makka, at the head of a large army, with the object of destroying the Kaba. He had with him, one or more elephants, and the invading army was deemed invincible. The Makkans in their despondency retired to the neighbouring hills, leaving the Lord of the Kaba to protect it. Suddenly a large flock of birds, like swallows, came flying from the sea-coast and pelted the invading army with stones. Panic-stricken they made a hasty retreat in disorder and dismay, and there was an outbreak of smallpox in the camp. Scattered amon gthe valleys, and forsaken by their guides, everyone of these perished, including Abraha himself, and the Holy K'aba was miraculously saved from destruction. 'The incident is said to have taken place in the year of the birth of the Prophet (570 or 571), which year has been dubbed 'am al-fil' the year of the elephant, after thee lephants, which accompanied Abraha on his northward march and which greatly impressed the Arabians of Al-Hijaz, where elephants had never been seen. The Abyssinian army was destroyed by smallpox, "the small pebbles' (sijjīl) of the Qorān'. Hitti, op. cit., p 64). This Abraha had 'built in San'a, now the capital. one of the most magnificent cathedrals of the age' called by the Arabian writers al-Qalis. The cathedral, of which little is left to-day but the site, was built from the ruins of ancient Ma'rib (Hitti, pp. 62-63).

541. (by disappointing Abraha's magnificent and elaborate preparation in a manner totally unexpected and unforeseen, O Prophet!). 'The passage is a glorified description of an epidemic of smallpox—also termed "small stones" in Arabic—which is historical. The Abyssinian army retreated and Abraha died at San'a of the foul disease. The news that the Kaba had been protected by divine intervention must have spread far and wide, and greatly enhanced the sanctity of the shrine and the prestige of the Kaba.

542. (and failure).

543. (by cattle).

Sūrah Quraish

The Quraish 514. CVI

(Makkan, 1 Section and 4 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (لايان قريش) For<sup>545</sup> the protection of the Quraish<sup>845</sup> A,
- 2. (النام . . والمينة) for certain protection in the journey546 in the winter and the summer547——
  - 3. (نلیمبد وا . . . البیت) let them worship the Lord of this House البیت
- 4. (اللّٰذى . . . من خوف) Who has fed them<sup>513</sup> against hunger<sup>550</sup>, and has rendered them secure from fear of being waylaid<sup>551</sup>.
- 544. The Quraish, among whom the Prophet was born, was a tribe held in great esteem as the guardians of the K'aba by the Arabs. The tribe was a branch of the Northern Arabs, was of the purest stock, and formed the aristocracy of Hijāz.
  - 545. i. e., in gratitude of.
- 545-A. Originally nomads, they had been settled in Makka for about two hundred years, wielded full authority and were even the de facto ruling tribe of the city.
- 546. i e, their setting forth of the caravan of merchants. 'Mecca is placed almost at an equal distance, a month's journey, between Yemen on the right, and Syria on the left hand. The former was the winter, the latter the summer, station of her caravans; and their seasonable arrival relieved the ships of India from the tedious and troublesome navigation of the Red Sea...The lucrative exchange diffused plenty and riches in the streets of Mecca; and the noblest of her sons united the love of arms with the profession of merchandise.' (GRE, VI, p. 202). The extent and degree of business actively carried by means of these caravans were truly astonishing. 'Few caravans set forth in which the whole population, men and women, had not a financial interest'...On departure the caravans carried leather, speices precious essences, and metals, particularly silver from the Arabian mines.' (Lammans, op. cit., p. 16). 'On their return every one received a part of the profits proportionate to his stake and the number of shares subscribed. The dividend was never less than 50 per cent and often amounted even to a double.' (ib).

- 547. (to Yemen and Syria respectively). 'Makka owed its economic prosperity to its geographical position and to its relations with the important trade route to India...From Babylonia, from the ports of the Persian Gulf as well as from the Yemen, flowed the rich products of the Middle East and of India: from Syria those of the Mediterranian world. We see Makka opening negotiations with the neighbouring states, obtaining safe-conduct, free passage for her caravans, and concluding the equivalent of commercial treaties with Byzantium, Abyssinia, Persia and the Emirs of Yemen. (Lammans, op. cit., p. 13).
- 548. i. e., K'aba, 'This temple, which Abraha al-Ashram had wished to destroy, had been throughout the ages the object of the greatest veneration; it was looked on as a present made by Jehovah to the Arab race to bear witness to its condition privileged beyond all others. It was the oratory of Abraham and Ishmael, the house of Allah...The Sabians, the fire worshippers, sent their offerings to it; even the Jews showed a deep respect for this revered spot. The guardians of the temple, the Koreish clan, had a sort of religious authority which was willingly recognised by all.' (HHW. VIII. p. 112) 'Though in an inhospitable and barren valley with an inclement and unhealthy climate this sanctuary at Makka made Al-Hijaz the most important religious centre in North Arabia.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 101).
  - 549. ——dwellers of arid desert as they are——
  - 550. (by means of the aforesaid caravans).
- 551. (in the course of their journeyings, by making them respectable and esteemed in the eyes of others as guardians of the Holy House). The blessings of satiety and security, welcome everywhere, were particularly more so in a country so poor in natural resources as Arabia.

Sūral-ul-Māūn

Common Necessaries. CVII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 7 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (اربت . . . الدن) Hast thou seen 552 him who denies 553 the Requital?
- 2. (نذلك . . . النيم) It is he who pushes away the orphan554,
- 3. (ولا . . . المكين) and does not does not the feeding of the poor the poor the poor المكين)
- فريال المماين ) So<sup>558</sup> woe be to such performers of prayers,
- 5. (الذين . . . ماهون) as are heedless of their prayers559 ---
- 6. (الذين . . . يرازن) they who would be seen<sup>660</sup>;
- 7. (رپمبرن الباعرن) and who withhold<sup>561</sup> even the common necessaries from others<sup>562</sup>.
  - 552. (O Prophet!).
  - 553. (in word and deed).
- 554. (in his hard-heartedness, and treats him with harshness, roughness, or violence).
  - 555. (far from himself feeding the hungry).
  - 556. (even upon others).
- 557. i. e., who are, in short, altogether negligent of the rights of their fellow-beings.
- 558. Evil as it is the negligence of the rights of human beings, far worse is the negligence of the rights of the Creator.
- 559. i. e., those who are not regular in their prayers; those who do not observe the proper conditions of prayer.
- 560. (of men, when they pray at all). J. signifies: 'He acted ostentatiously; i.e., he did a deed in order that men might see it; or J.; signifies making a show of what one does to men, in order that they may see it and think well of it.' (LL).
  - 561. (in extreme niggardliness).
  - 562. (to neighbours).

Sūrat-ul-Kauthar

Abundance of Good. CVIII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 3 Verses)
In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (انااعطينك الكوثر) Verily We have bestowed on thee 563 Kauthar 364.
- 2. (نصل دواغر) So<sup>565</sup> pray thou to thy Lord<sup>568</sup>, and sacrifice<sup>567</sup>.
- 3. (ان الابني) Truly it is thy traducer568 who shall be childless569.
- 563. (O Prophet!)
- is literally 'A large quantity, or number. الكوز of property, or cattle.' And الكوز, as a proper name, signifies 'A certain river in paradise, from which flow all the other rivers thereof, pertaining specially to the Prophet.' (LL).
- 565. i. e., in recognition of Our great favour to thee both in this world and the Next.
  - 566. (with fervency and intense devotion).
  - 567. i.e., slay the victims, as a counterpart to these acts of devotion.
- 568. (taunting thee with the absense of a male issue). Some of the leading pagans rejoiced in the fact that the Prophet had no son, and therefore none, they argued, to uphold his religion after him.
- 569 (and cut off from all future hope). Apart from the superstitious pagans, the Jews also have considered it as the greatest curse for a man to remain childless. 'Since the days of Abraham, to possess a child was always considered as the greatest blessing God could bestow; and to be without children was regarded as the greatest curse. The Rabbis regarded the childless man as dead; while the Cabalists in the Middle Ages thought of him who died without posterity as of one who had failed in his mission in this world.' (JE. IV. p. 27).

Sūrat-ul-Kāfirun

The Infidels. CIX

(Makkan, 1 Section and 6 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful

- 1. (نا الكنرون) Say thou<sup>570</sup>: Infidels<sup>571</sup>!
- 2. (لا . . . نسدون) I worship not what you worship 572,
- 3. (عدا اعبد) Nor are you<sup>578</sup> the worshippers of what I worship,
- 4. (ولا . . . عدم) and I shall not<sup>574</sup> be a worshipper of what you have worshipped.
  - اوبلا . . . ما اعبد) Nor will you be the worshipper of what I worship<sup>578</sup>.
- 6. (کم . . . د ن ) Your requital shall be yours  $^{576}$ , and my requital shall be mine  $^{577}$ .
  - 570, (O Prophet!)
- 571. Some of the leading pagans of Makka had proposed to the Prophet a compromise between Islam and the ancient faith such as they conceived it, whereby he would concede to their gods an honourable place. This chapter indignantly repudiates all such suggestions. And 'It (this surah) breathes aspirit of uncompromising hostility to idolatry.' (Muir op. cit., p. 74).
  - 572. (on the other hand I deny and repudiate your gods).
  - 573. (at present).
  - 574. (in future).
- 575. (so long as you cling to your views of Godhead; so that their can be to common ground between the worship of the One and the many——monotheism and polytheism).
  - 576. i. e., recompense due to you as polytheists.
  - 577. i. e, recompense due to me as a monotheist.

Sūrat-un-Nasr

Succour<sup>578</sup>. CX

(Madinian, 1 Section and 3 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. والغنم) When there come the succour of Allah and victory داداً . . . والغنم)
- 2. (درایت ما انرایا) and thou finds the mankind entering the religion of Allah fin crowds 681,
- 3. (نسبح . . . تواباً) then hallow the praise of thy Lord, and ask forgiveness of Allah<sup>582</sup>. Verily He is ever Relenting.
- 578. The chapter is only Madinian in the sense that it was revealed during the Madinian period of the Prophet's life. It was actually revealed at, or near, Makka when the Prophet was there on the occasion of his farewell pilgrimage.
- 579. (causing thee to prevail over thy enemies and to enter the city of Makka in triumph, O Prophet!) Only too often, in this world, success is the criterion of right and truth. It is no wonder then that after the ascendancy of Islam was assured the Arabs who had hitherto held aloof, 'now hastened to give in their allegiance to the new religion.' (Arnold, Preaching of Islam, p. 38). 'Delegations flocked from near and far to offer allegiance to the prince-prophet....Tribes and districts which had sent no representatives before, sent them now. They came from distant 'Uman, Hadramaut and al-Yemen. The Tayyi' sent deputies and so did the Hamdan and Kindah. Arabia, which had hitherto never bowed to the will of one man, seemed now inclined to be dominated by Muhammad and be incorporated into his new scheme. Its heathenism was yielding to a nobler faith and a higher morality.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 11).
- 580. A detractor, not an admirer, of the holy Prophet and his teachings thus sums up the chief characteristics of the religion of God:—One characteristic is its uncompromising monotheism; its simple enthusiastic faith in the rule and fatherhood of God and its freedom from theological complications. Another is its complete detachment from the sacrificial priest and the temple. It is an entirely prophetic religion, proof against any possibility of relapse towards blood sacrifices. In the Koran the limited and ceremonial nature of the pilgrimage to Mecca is stated beyond the possibility of dispute, and every precaution was taken by Muhammad to prevent the deification of himself after his death. And a third element of strength lay in the insistence of Islam upon the perfect brotherhood and equality before God of all believers, whatever their colour, origion or status.' (Wells, Short History of the World, p. 165). To us, in the fourteenth century of the Hijri era, the doctrine of monotheism might well look almost as a truism, but in the pagan world of the sixth century of the Christian era it had all the elements of shocking and rebellious innovation. To preach such a moral doctrine to a world such as that in which the Prophet lived, required a rare amount of courage and heroism. It was a work in which success was impossible without Divine help and support. That it succeeded and succeeded so well, is in itself a convincing proof of its Divine origin.

- 581. The almost instantaneous expansion of Islam is one of the stupendous miracles still bafflin githe intellect of many a student of history. Gibbon refers to it as 'one of the most memorable revolutions which have impressed a new and lasting character on the nations of the globe,' (GRE. V. p. 311). And says a modern rationalist: 'The expansion of Islam is the most miraculous of all miracles, The Roman Empire of Augustus, as later enlarged by the valiant Trojan, was the result of great and glorious victories, won over a period of seven hundred years. Still it had not attained the proportions of the Arabian Empire established in less than a century.' See also n. 429 above.
- 582. The verse gave a clear hint to the Prophet of the approach of his death, as it announced that his work of preaching had been finished.

Sūrat-ul-Lahab

Flame. CXI

(Makkan, 1 Section and 5 Verses)

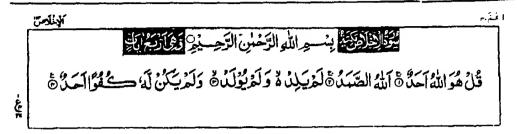

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (نبت . . . وتب) Perish the two hands of Abu Lahab<sup>582</sup>, and perish he<sup>584</sup>!

  - 3. (سيمللي . . . الهب) Soon<sup>588</sup> he shall roast in a Fire, Flame,
  - 4. (وامراته . . . الحطب) and his wife also589; a fuel carrier.
- 5. (نه مند) Around her neck<sup>590</sup> shall be a cord of twisted palm-fibres<sup>591</sup>.
- 583. Abu Lahab (literally, 'The Father of Flame') was the surname of Abdul 'Uzza, an uncle of the Prophet, and a bitter and powerful opponent of Islam. 'He made it his business to torment the Prophet, and his wife took a pleasure in carrying thorn bushes and strewing them in the sand where she knew that the Prophet was sure to walk barefooted.' (Pickthall). 'Until his death he sided with the most resolute adversaries of Muhammad in Makka.' (EI. I. p. 97). The two hands of Abu Lahab may mean his hopes both in this world and the next.
- 584. 'The news of the bad issue of battle (of Badr) threw him in such an anger that he betook himself to violent acts against the bearer of the news and his wife. Shortly afterwards (7 days according to Ibn Hishām) he died of smallpox...His sons feared to touch his corpse, which they let to become corrupt, and when they were ordered to remove it, it got an unworthy burial.' (EI, I, p. 97).
  - 585. i. e., his capital.
  - 586. (which great wealth he had set apart for opposing Islam).
  - 587. (by way of profit on his capital).
  - 588. i. e., immediately at his death.

589. Known as Umm Jumail, a daughter of Harb and a sister of Abu Sufian, she was the miserable creature who had often strewn thorns in the Prophet's path. 'She showed much hostility to the Prophet and stirred against him her husband's antagonism.' (El. I. p. 97). 'She used to tie bundles of thorns with ropes fo twisted palm-leaf fibre and carry them and strew them about on dark nights in the paths which the Prophet was expected to take, in order to cause him bodily injury.' (AYA).

590. (in Hell) جيد is generally a beautiful neck. Here the use is ironical.
591. The phrase in the text is also said to mean: 'A chain seventy cubits in length, whereby the woman upon whose neck it is to be put shall be led into hell, firmly twisted of iron; as though it were a rope of iron strongly twisted (LL).

Sūrat-ul-Ikhlās Purity<sup>592</sup>, CXII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 4 Verses)

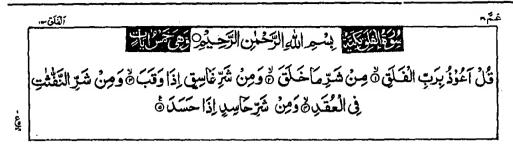

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (نار . . . احد) Say thou<sup>593</sup> : He is Allah, the One<sup>594</sup>.
- 2. (الله الصمد ) Allah, the Independent595.
- 3. (لم يولد) He begets not<sup>596</sup>, nor was He begotten<sup>597</sup>.
- 4. (علم الماري) And never there has been anyone co-equal with Him<sup>598</sup>.
- 592. اخلاص properly signifies. The asserting oneself to be clear, or quite, of believing in any beside God.' (LL). The chapter is rightly held to contain the essence of the Holy Qurān; and, according to a saying of the Prophet, it is equal in value to a third part of the whole Book.
  - 593. (O Prophet!).
- 594. (and only) i. e., One in person and nature. ' as an epithet, is applied to God alone, and signifies The One; the Sole; He Who has ever been one and alone; or the Indivisible; or He Who has no second to share in his lordship, nor is his essence nor in his attributes.' (LL). The polemic is aimed not at the pagans alone, but also clearly at the trinitarian Christians.
- 595. (of everyone and everything, and yet besought of all) i.e., lacking in nothing, and wanting none to complement Him; the Absolute; the Eternal. and and wanting none to God, signify 'A lord; because one repairs, betakes himself, or has recourse, to him, in exigencies, or, when applied to God, because affairs are stayed, or rested, upon Him and none but He accomplishes them; ...or the Being that continues, or continues for ever or is everlasting; or the Creator of everything, of whom nothing is independent, and whose unity everything indicates.' (LL). The verse strikes at the root of the pagan and Christian conception of incomplete God.
- 596. (as believed in by the Christians and many polytheistic peoples). Compaer and contrast the Christian creed:—'God the Father, the First Person of the Blessed Trinity...is Truly Father as He begets a co-eternal and co-equal Son, to whom He imparts the plenitude of His nature and in Whom He contemplates His own perfect image.' (CD. p. 360) According to popular Hinduism, the creation was brought about by Brahma's incest with his daughter. See ERE. II. p. 811.

597. (as believed in by several polytheistic religions). In Vedic India, for example, the father Heaven and the mother Earth 'were regarded as the parents not only of men but of the Gods.' (FWN. I. P. 23). In the Vedas, the gods themselves 'had been the earliest products of creation. They were semi-anthropomorphised forces of nature.' (Tara Chand, Influence of Islam on Indian Culture, p. 4). 'The account which became popular was that the primeval being created the waters on which floated the golden egg, he then entered it, and was born from it as Brahma, the first of created things. Brahma then created gods, heaven, earth, sky sun, moon, universe and man.' (ib. pp. 2-3). Many of the Hindu gods are the results of 'the union of a male divinity with a female being, conceived almost always as irregular, and very often incestuous.' (Barth, Religions of India, p. 27).

598. (in nature, person, or attributes). i. e., least of all He is an anthropomorphic God: 'In this uncompromising monotheism, with its simple, enthusiastic faith in the supreme rule of a transcendent being, lies the chief strength of Islam as a religion.' (Hitti, op. cit., p. 129). 'The Vedic pantheon was peopled with gods that lived in the heavens or in the atmosphere or upon earth, their number was reckoned as thirty-three, but those to whom the greatest number of hymns were devoted were Indra, Agni, and Soma....Later Siva and Visnu attained the predominant position and joined with Brahma formed the great Trinity.' (Tara Chand, op. cit., p. 5). For Christolatry see P. VI. n. 261; P. XXII, n, 307.

Surat-ul-Falag

Daybreak . CXIII

(Makkan, 1 Section and 5 Verses)

In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful.

- 1. (قل . . . الهائة) Say thou<sup>600</sup>: I seek refuge with the Lord of the daybreak,
  - 2. (من . . . خلق ) from the evil of what He has created 601,
- 3. (ومن مرتب) and from the mischief of the darkening when it comes  $^{802}$ ,
- 4. (ودن . . البقد) and from the mischief of the women blowers upon the knots<sup>603</sup>.
  - 5. (وون . . . حسد) and from the mischief of the envier when he envies.
- 599. The chapter is really a prayer for protection, teaching mankind the way of asking protection from fears proceeding from the unknown.
  - 600. (O Prophet!).
- 601. (that He may deliver me from its mischief). The verse implies that everything is a creation of God the Almighty, and nothing, neither the devil nor anything else, has got the power to hurt anyone.
  - 602. (with its dreary-fear inspiring hours).
- 603. i. e., enchantresses who used to tie knots in a cord and to blow on them, muttering over them magical formulae in order to injure their victims.

الناس... عَوْلَ اَعُوْذُ بِرَتِ النّاسِ فَ مَلِكِ النّاسِ فِي اللهِ الرّحِفُونِ الرّحِيْدِ وَمَعْ مَدِيْ الْوَسُواسِ الْآفِيَاسِ فَ الّذِي عُورُ النّاسِ فَ الّذِي عُورُ النّاسِ فَ الّذِي عُورُ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَ عَنْ الْمُعَدِّدُ وَ النّاسِ فَ عَنْ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَ عَنْ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَ عَنْ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَا النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَ النّاسِ فَا النّاسِ فَالْسُلّاسِ فَا النّاسِ فَا النّاس

  - 2. (ملك الناس) the King of mankind وملك الناس)
  - 3. (اله الناس) the God of mankind607
  - 4. (من . . . الخناس) from the mischief of the sneaking whisperer608,
  - 5. (الذي . . . الناس) who whispers600 into the breasts of mankind,
  - 6. (من . . . الناس) whether of jinn or of mankind<sup>610</sup>.
  - 604. (O Prophet!).
  - 605. i. e., the Maker, Cherisher and Sustainer of man.
  - 606. i. e., the Ruler, Legislator, Governor of human race.
  - 607. i. e., the only Being entitled to worship.
- 608. (that God may deliver me from Satan's mischief) اللي means 'The devil; an epithet applied to him, because he retires, or shrinks, or hides himself, at the mention of God.' (LL).
  - 609. (evil suggestions).
  - 610. i. e., the tempter may belong either to the species of genii or men.
